Two Seek $300,000 for False Arrest, Jail

Lippincotts Charge Kingston, Catskill Police Are at Fault

Claims alleging false arrest and imprisonment and totaling $300,000 were filed with the Common Council Tuesday night.

Both Kingston and Catskill are named in papers filed for Harold Clayton Lippincott, 58, of 59 St. James Street, and his son, Harold Clinton Lippincott, 28, of the same address, by Attorney William P. Curran. The claim seeks $150,000 for each.

It is claimed that the father was first brought in on the charge and that the police "acknowledged that they had made an error" in the arrest. It dates back to last Feb. 12. It was also reported that the son had pleaded innocent to the charge and hearing is still pending. The error, it was reported occurred in Kingston.

Both Want Money

It is the apparent claim of their counsel that both are entitled to collect for damages because of the alleged error. Papers filed give notice of suit in Supreme Court if settlement is not reached in 30 days.

The claim as filed and referred to Corporation Counsel Harry Gold Tuesday night, said it is made "on the grounds and basis of false arrest and false imprisonment." It alleges Kingston and Catskill police were involved.

The charge, it said, was filed by Jeremiah Dederick, of 206 West Bridge Street, Catskill, against one Harold Lippincott. A warrant was executed in Kingston and the son as defendant was taken to Catskill.

Went Together

A Feb. 13 report said Harold Lippincott, 28, of 59 St. James Street, was due to appear before Justice of the Peace James Batisti at Catskill, and had been released in the custody of his attorney. No mention was made of two being involved, but it was since learned that the father went with the son at the time of arraignment.

It was alleged that the Dederick car had been struck on West Bridge Street, Catskill Feb. 9, and the driver of the offending vehicle left the scene.

Another claim referred to the corporation counsel involves a reported "clerical error" in the handling of payroll deductions. It was filed by Officer Anthony Turck, of the local police force, and is for $279.45.

Turck claims that because of the error, Blue Cross and Blue Shield insurance were voided. When the error was discovered and corrected he said, he was able to rejoin both hospitalization plans in 1963, but before the policies again became effective, his wife became ill and was hospitalized. He claims full responsibility rests with the city.

Court Studies Allowing Red Talk at School

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Court of Appeals has under study a Saratoga County man's request for a decision that would keep a Communist speaker from addressing students at the University of Buffalo.

The state's highest court Tuesday heard an attorney for the university declare that the case raised the vital question of whether free speech should be denied to those supporting unpopular ideas.

Asks Reversal

The court reserved decision on the request of William Egan of Ballston Lake. He seeks reversal of a lower court decision holding that Herbert Aptheker, a member of the national committee of the Communist party, could speak.

John C. Crary, attorney for the university, said that such suppression would "commit us to the very ways of the totalitarianism we all deplore."

Egan Contention

William Roberts, representing Egan, contended that New York taxpayers should not be required to provide a forum for Communist doctrine at the same time their federal taxes were helping to finance fights against communism throughout the world.

Egan was a candidate for Congress—in a contest he subsequently lost—when he brought the court action to bar Aptheker.

A student group at the university had invited Aptheker as one of a series of speakers on political philosophies. Those who spoke included Sir Oswald Mosley, the war-time Fascist leader in Britain. His appearance prompted demonstrations but did not lead to court action.

Unit of University

The Buffalo school is a unit of the State University.

Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond questioned Roberts extensively on the issue of academic freedom, particularly on the point of whether the students would be susceptible to any efforts to indoctrinate and to recruit them.

Desmond asked, "Shouldn't students hear all points of

Boice, Keator Named To Terms; Vacant Job For Stern-Montagny

Voting was extremely light Tuesday when approximately 2,100 persons showed up at the voting places in the Kingston School District, Consolidated, to fill three seats on the board of education. Considering there are some 32,000 eligible voters in the area, the vote Tuesday was almost a token vote. Last year the vote was approximately 3,800.

Elected to the board according to unofficial tabluations:

Richard P. Boice, Lake Katrine, 1,773.

Harold E. Keator, Lake Katrine, 1,799.

Francis Stern-Montagny, Hurley, 1,561.

Everette Hodge, Kingston funeral director and president of the Ulster County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, polled 653 votes. He also had the endorsement of the Ulster County Ministerial and Laymen's Alliance.

Voting took place between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. in the 18 districts of the Consolidated School district.

Will Meet Tonight

Howard Fox and Benson A. Krom, incumbent members, did not seek re-election. The third vacancy on the board came about through the resignation of Trustee Gifford Beale, who moved from the district last December. Three years of his term remains to be served.

The board of trustees will meet tonight at 8 o'clock to make an official canvass of the vote and will also hold its regular meeting at that time.

There was a scattered "write-in" in various districts but no concerted effort to oppose any of the designated candidates.

All Three Endorsed

All three trustees elected had the backing of the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee.

Richard P. Boice operates a dairy farm and resides at Lake Katrine. Harold E. Keator, also a resident of Lake Katrine, is a distribution superintendent for the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in the Kingston district, and Francis Stern-Montagny of Hurley is a senior engineer employed at the Kingston IBM plant.

Boice and Keator will fill the two five year terms and Mr. Stern-Montagby will serve out the three years of Mr. Beal's term.

Mrs. Bertha Connelly, wife of Attorney Vincent G. Connelly of Kingston, was the leading contender in the "write-in" category, receiving over half a dozen votes in scattered areas. Mrs.

Russia May Build 7-10 Atom Subs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union may be building atomic-powered submarines at a rate of seven to 10 a year, U.S. sources estimate.

This would appear to about match the American production schedule.

Available records show that in the last full year, the United States constructed nine nuclear-engined submarines, either Polaris or attack ships.

This was below the planned average of one commissioning per month. That plan was upset by new and tighter construction safety requirements, established after the loss of the Thresher a year ago.

Two or Three Years

The U.S. program carries construction through only about another two or three years, when building of 41 Polaris and 44 attack submarines will have been completed and the last of them put into fitting-out yards for final work.

The Soviet Union has given no indication of a termination date for her atomic submarine program.

As the Soviets have progressed into the atomic submarine field, they appear to have eased off on some of the supersecrecy which surrounded their effort at the outset of the attempt to catch up or surpass the United States.

In Eastern Atlantic

From time to time, Soviet nuclear-powered submarines are seen surfaced, whereas before they probably operated close to home or in arctic waters immediately north of the Soviet homeland. Those reported as sighted, up to now, have been in the eastern Atlantic region.

The estimated production rate for the Soviets is not broken down between missile-firing and attack submarines.

The British publication, "Jane's Fighting Ships," says in its latest edition that the Soviet Union had by the latter half of last year 26 atomic-powered submarines in operation. At that time, the United States had about 30 in commission.

Heritage Flags Are For Parade

Frank T. Rodell, chairman of the 1964 Memorial Day Parade, has announced that Troop 18 sponsored by St. Mary's Church Catholic Youth Organization will carry three historic flags in the parade this year.

This year the Boy Scouts of America are emphasizing "American Heritage." In observance of this, Troop 18 will have an American Heritage troop in the annual Memorial Day parade with several flags well known during Revolutionary days.

Flags being made by Mrs. Andrew Grier, Mrs. Salvatore Romano and Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald of St. Mary's Mother's Club are the Bunker Hill, Continental and Moultrie standards.

The Bunker Hill Flag, as the name implies, was a New England color standard carried by the Colonial troops who opposed the British regulars at Bunker Hill on June 17, 1775.

The Continental Flag was all red with the left quarter of the flag white and bore a green pine tree figure. It is interesting to note that the pine tree was used as a symbol of an appeal to Heaven.

First in South

The Moultrie Flag was the first distinctive American color standard to be displayed in the South. It was made famous by Colonel William Moultrie when he defended successfully against the British Navy at Sullivan's Island which guarded the channel to Charleston, S. C.

The flag is blue representing the color of the uniform worn by the garrison with the word "Liberty" printed along the bottom. In the upper left is a crescent representing another part of the garrison uniform.

"It is hoped that these flags will help keep the image of our American heritage bright and possibly give a little patriotic inspiration," Roedell said.

Wallace Stirs Up Problems in Defeat

Taft, Bud, Barry Win In Confusing Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once again voters have proved how much they like a famous name —and George C. Wallace, Alabama's states' rights governor, has proved he can stir up problems for Democrats even while losing.

Seven widely scattered primaries were held Tuesday in which:

—Robert Taft Jr. and Bud Wilkinson scored landslide victories;

Glenn Does Well

—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. ran well in a race from which he had withdrawn;

—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona picked up Indiana's 32 convention votes in his chase after the Republican presidential nomination;

—Wallace lost to President Johnson's man in Indiana, Gov. Matthew E. Welsh, but with around 30 per cent of the votes he claimed victory.

"We shook the eye teeth of the liberals in Washington," Wallace said.

"Wishful thinking," Welsh said.

It was a big primary day, and often a thoroughly confusing one.

Take Indiana. While Democrats were trying to figure out how many of Wallace's votes were really votes against Johnson, the Republicans were having their difficulties, too.

Fourth for Stassen

Goldwater had been expected to breeze in, with Harold E. Stassen supplying minimum opposition. But the former governor of Minnesota picked up around a fourth of the votes cast for his finest showing in years.

Write-ins are illegal in Indiana, and Stassen collected the windfall. In New Hampshire, where Henry Cabot Lodge won with write-ins, Stassen ran a bad sixth and last, with a trifle over one per cent of the vote.

Or take Ohio. Here Rep. Robert Taft Jr. made his first move toward taking over the Senate seat held by his late father, the "Mr. Republican" of his party. Taft won the GOP nomination with a knockout victory over Secretary of State Ted Brown.

But Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young, a bouncy 75-year-old who wants to keep his job, found the voters like John H. Glenn Jr. even though a bathroom fall had taken him out of the race. Glenn's name stayed on the ballot, and about one-third of the Democrats voted for him anyway.

Other Developments

Elsewhere around the country there were these developments:

OKLAHOMA — Former football coach Bud Wilkinson was an easy winner in his try for the GOP senatorial nomination. His opponent was to be decided in a runoff between the incumbent Sen. J. Howard Edmondson and State Sen. Fred Harris.

ALABAMA — No question about a Wallace victory here.

Hodge Scores Small School Vote, Apathy of Negroes

In assessing the results of the school board election Everette Hodge said today that he felt the showing in the community as a whole was very fair.

"I would have been surprised if I had won and am not sorry that I lost," he said. However, he scored the lack of interest in the community as a whole and the Negro community in particular.

The voting gave him an opportunity to observe both the Negro community and the white community and he found it most significant that the vote was 6 to 1 in the white community while the Negro community showed absolutely no interest.

Hodge, a Negro, said this lack of interest accounts for much of the Negro situation in economic and educational areas.

He considered the showing at the polls "extremely good" in view of the fact that he ran as an independent, and feels that he has gained a great deal. If in running he had served as "a catalyst to motivation and stimulation" strides have been made, he said.

An advocate of trade school programs to eliminate drop-outs, Hodge expressed appreciation to The Freeman for its fair coverage of his candidacy.

$12,000 Approved Toward Arterial Property Payment

A budget note for $12,000 was approved Tuesday night by the Common Council for payment, in part, of money advanced by the state in acquiring properties for construction of the Washington Avenue arterial, which included razing of the nearly half-century old viaduct.

Total cost of acquiring several properties in the area was $120,000. The city has 10 years in which to pay its half share.

The council recessed subject to call of Alderman-at-Large Joseph F. Carroll Jr., to consider consolidation of bond issues prior to sale, and possibly to act on urban renewal, which is due for public hearing May 13.

Left with the railroad and bus committee was an application of Statewide Airport Transit Inc., of Port Chester, for permission to use certain city streets for operation of bus service between Kingston and the LaGuardia and John F. Kennedy airports in New York.

The local terminal is to be at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Statewide was recently granted permission to operate the service by the Public Service Commission.

Among several local organizations asking favorable action on the Broadway East urban renewal project were the Building Trades Council and Ulster Chapter, New York State Society of Professional Engineers. Other organizations previously went on record in favor of the project.

Alderman-at-Large Carroll and Majority Leader John Machione (R) 12th Ward, were hopeful of an impressive attendance at the hearing, which is due to start at 7:30 p. m. May 13 in the Common Council Chamber, City Hall.

Machione emphasized that the hearing provides final opportunity for the aldermen and others to express their opinions on ur-

Will Sign Contract 11th For Ellenville Hospital

The official contract signing ceremony for the $1.49 million hospital for the greater Ellenville area will take place next Monday, May 11, at the Fallsview Hotel in Ellenville.

This announcement was made today by Benjamin Lonstein, president of Veterans Memorial Hospital, who said that special plaques will be given donors who have contributed $2,500 or more to the building fund.

Monday's contract signing is scheduled for 5:30 p. m. with a reception and smorgasbord to follow.

The 65-bed facility, scheduled for construction on the 13-acre Gleary-Resnick site on Route 209 between Ellenville and Napanoch, would replace the present 40-bed facility in Ellenville.

The Ellenville Hospital representative have been assured of federal aid under the Hill-Burton Act of $466,666. This was approved in April of 1963. A fund drive, which ended in 1963, was successful in obtaining pledges of more than $800,000 for the hospital campaign.

Thirty-seven contracting firms submitted bids for the six phases of construction for the hospital in March and the low bid aggregated $1,225,000, which reportedly was close to the estimate.

Ellsworth McDole, of the McDole Construction Co., co-chairman of the hospital's building committee, said the three low bids for general construction without alternates were: Hambley Construction Co., Middletown, $719,000; Vincent J. Smith, Ossining, $719,197; I. O. A. Slutsky of Hunter, $743,800.

Plumbing — J. & K. Plumbing and Heating, $114,000; Bank Brothers, Accord, $117,657.

Heating and ventilating—J. & K Plumbing and Heating, $189,000; M. Kramer, Albany, $190,660.

Electrical work — Economy Electric Co. of Ellenville, $165,700; Field Electric Co., $174,890.

Water distribution work — Kelly Sand and Gravel, Ellenville, $17,714; S. and S. Construction, Falisburgh, $23,104.

The bids were referred to the building committee and architect for further study.

Lonstein pointed out today that during Monday's ceremony donors of $2,500 will receive silver plaques and those who have contributed $5,000 or more will receive bronze plaques.

Hospital officials and contractors, who will handle the construction, will be present during the program to offer first-hand information concerning the building program.

Dr. John J. Bourke, of the Division of Hospital Review and Planning, New York State Department of Health, is expected to be present signalling the actual go-ahead of construction.

Tariff Talks Get Green Light; U. S., Common Market Agree on 50 PC Basis

GENEVA (AP) — The drive that President John F. Kennedy started to free world trade got a green light today from the chief negotiators at the 75-nation Kennedy Round talks.

The world's trading giants—the United States, Britain and the European Common Market—agreed to negotiate on the basis of a 50 per cent, across-the-board reduction in tariffs. But that is only a goal, and the final cuts won't average that much.

When negotiations are concluded, in 1965 or 1966, the result should be more business for all and a brake on rising prices. This is the purpose of the Kennedy Round of trade negotiations, which the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade—GATT—opened in Geneva this week.

Even some Communist countries will go along in this attempt to improve trade. Czechoslovakia already is a member of GATT. Poland is working hard for greater participation.

American officials were pleased to pin down the 50 per cent figure, even as only a basis for work. President Charles de Gaulle's government, fearful of toughter foreign competition for France's growing industry, had opposed setting this reduction, the maximum allowed by American law, as the official aim of the talks.

U.S. tariffs, though twice cut in half over the last 30 years, still are in many cases much higher than the tariffs of other countries.

A rule is to be worked out that will cut these higher American tariffs by the full 50 per cent and reduce the corresponding European tariffs by a lower margin, perhaps 25 per cent.

Each country involved also will submit lists of exceptions for items which must be dealt with separately. A deadline of Sept. 10 was set for these lists. That is when the tough bargaining will start.

The New York Times reported today that the Soviet Union, which has repeatedly denounced the Common Market, has put out tentative feelers about establishing relations with the West European economic bloc

A Times dispatch from Geneva said Western diplomats are speculating that the Russians soon will accredit a mission to the Brussels headquarters of the Common Market.

"The Russian interest appears to be an application of the maxim: If you can't lick them, join them," the Times said.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I just had a telephone call from Alfred P. Marquart of 72 Crane Street. He told me in looking for some clippings, he found a Freeman of Nov. 9, 1948, in which they describe the last Hudson Dayline boat to come up to Kingston Point. It said something to the effect that after 85 years of service, on Oct. 31, 1948 they would no longer stop at Kingston Point. I also had an item from the May 12, 1957 Sunday Herald Tribune in which they say that in 1948, George Sanders bought the line from descendants of the original owners, and that he discontinued service beyond Poughkeepsie, and reduced the fleet to keep it going. In 1957 there was a Jubilee trip to Albany and return, June 1 and 2 to celebrate Robert Fulton's voyage. In 1957 the season opened with the last side-wheeler, Alexander Hamilton on the river. It was one of the few in the U.S.A. at the time.

Sometime ago Tom Walsh, of 37 Boulevard, who collects books and other items on the Hudson Valley and Catskill Mountains gave me an 1872 Kingston Business Directory. I see some 92 years ago, four brickyards are listed in Kingston: J. H. Cordts and Co. at Livingston near Kingston Point; P. J. Gurnee, at the Steeple Rocks Road near Kingston Point; Nickerson and Stephens, also in that section, and Terry Bros. around that location of Steeple Rocks Road and Kingston Point. The brick industry has given many a family their livelihood, and Kingston City some of their finest and handsomest buildings, which have stood up through the years in fine and foul weather. Streets were paved with them, and driveways made, and they stood up well under the pounding of horses' hoofs, and wheels. Our good old Ulster County bricks, now they are not good enough for our public buildings. Why?

Back in 1858 and later the cooper's craftsmanship was much in demand to make barrels. In 1858, William Murphy living near The Bridge is listed, and also James F. Brodhead, Calder near Wurts Street in Rondout, and of course there were many more.

I just received The Log of Mystic Seaport of the Marine Historical Assn., Inc., Mystic, Conn. I see they are building a cooper shop at their museum. While we take down, little by little, the authentic, original stone and historic buildings in our midst, in the name of progress, in the hope that it will inspire visitors to Kingston, N. Y., Mystic is upping their admission from $2 to $2.50 for adults, and folks from all the states and foreign countries are bringing their gold there. They even have individual books for each state, and one for foreign visitors and one for children.

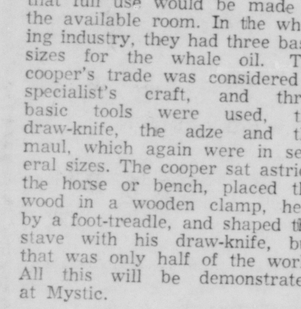
This little booklet tells about their new cooper shop, and the demand of the barrels and casks, which were used for flour in Philadelphia, salt pork and beef in New York and Albany, molasses and sugar in the West Indies, dried beans and dried fruits in Jersey and Delaware, fish and clams in New England, beer in the midwest, wines in the Canaries and Madeira. They further describe how the barrels and casks for the water, flour, molasses, raisins, salt, provisions, had to be made to fit in the hold of a ship. These were made in different sizes so that full use would be made of the available room. In the whaling industry, they had three basic sizes for the whale oil. The cooper's trade was considered a specialist's craft, and three basic tools were used, the draw-knife, the adze and the maul, which again were in several sizes. The cooper sat astride the horse or bench, placed the wood in a wooden clamp, held by a foot-treadle, and shaped the stave with his draw-knife, but that was only half of the work. All this will be demonstrated at Mystic.

A Few Probably Broke It

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—Elko residents can breathe easier now that the law no longer requires them to wear flu masks when out in public. The city council passed the ordinance during the flu epidemic of 1918. Now, 46 years later, the law has been repealed.

The Jordan River begins in a sacred grove high on the 9,232-foot Mount Herman on the Syrian-Lebanese border, runs down to Israel's Lake Huleh and on to the Sea of Galilee.

matter of Fact



The Rocky Mountain chain extends 2,200 miles, 1,290 of which are in the United States. Its greatest width is in Utah and Colorado where it is 350 miles across. In Colorado, there are 55 summits surpassing 14,000 feet in height and more than 250 mountains between 13,000 and 14,000 feet.

Count Winners to See Pitfall

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is a hand from the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament that illustrates the paramount importance of counting your winners and losers and then asking yourself the question, "How can I make this contract?"

Your first count shows that you can make your four diamond tricks if the ace has to take the first or second lead. You also have two spades and a heart and will need two club tricks to make your contract.

Opening lead—♠ 3

Now you see that you will have to take the club finesse eventually.

Your next mental question is, "Can I make this hand if I can only gather in two diamond tricks?" The answer is a qualified yes. Four clubs, two diamonds two spades and one heart adds up to nine.

Now you are ready for actual play. You lead the eight of diamonds and overtake with dummy's ten. This holds the trick and since you must take a club finesse sometime you take it right now.

When the club finesse works, you lead your nine of diamonds and overtake with dummy's queen. This holds the trick also. (It wouldn't do East a bit of good to take his ace.) Now you take another club finesse, lay down the ace of clubs and lead another club.

East wins the trick and leads another spade, but you have established your last club as your ninth trick.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Casablanca, village center property holders, recently spent a week at Indian Rocks on the Gulf coast of Florida.

Francis Waters, former downtown Kingston resident who now makes his home at the Ben Van Wagenen farmhouse, Lomontville, was a local caller last Wednesday. He was well known here as a young man when with his big team of horses he was engaged in getting out railroad ties and other timber in the Shokan area.

Maureen Throneburgh was a weekend visitor at the Maurice Decker home in Mitchell Hollow, Greene County.

Birthdays May 10 include that of John Phelan who with his family resides in one of the Ruckert bungalows in the village center.

Neighboring Delaware County despite the heavy influx of summer residents who have bought many of the big farms up there, still is maintaining its reputation as one of the foremost dairying sectors of New York State. There are 1,700 families engaged in producing milk, and a large percentage of the stores and other business concerns depend largely on the dairying industry for their livelihood.

Callers in the village center Wednesday included Mr. and Mrs. John Daley. They went to school together when both resided in New York City. The World War II veteran lived for several years on the west side of the Esopus Creek at Boiceville; while in the Army he was in the same outfit in North Africa with Dr. David Barry who has a summer place on Winchell Mountain here. Daley is now employed as one of Sheriff Claude Bell's deputies in Kingston.

She Wants It in Writing

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — City Editor Jim Petterson of the Topeka Capital reports in his column, "Street Sounds," of receiving a telephone call from a woman who wanted to give a club notice as a "news item." "I heard that on a radio program this morning before I came to work," Petterson told the caller, implying she should have called earlier. 'I know," she replied, "but we keep a scrap book and those radio announcers are sort of hard to clip out."

FICTITIOUS NO MORE

It is scarcely original to note that science keeps overtaking science fiction, especially in the field of space. On occassion, however, this phenomenon is brought to mind so forcefully that comment seems appropriate again.

This is the case now that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has revealed some details of its orbital space laboratory project. It was less than seven years ago that the first man-made satellite, about the size of a basketball, was placed in orbit. Now engineers in NASA are zeroing in on a variety of plans to keep a manned space laboratory aloft for periods of up to a year or more.

"Manned," in this connection, does not mean simply one or two men hunched in a whirling capsule scarcely big enough to hold them. The Air Force's projected manned orbiting laboratory is about that — a cylinder, 10 feet in diameter, in which two men would operate instruments for up to a month before returning to earth in an attached Gemini vehicle. But that is only the starting point for NASA plans.

The next step is likely to be a stripped-down Apollo craft that could keep three technicians aloft for a couple of weeks. Following that there may be a capsule in which a crew of six, changed at regular intervals by space ferries, could carry on tests for a year. Thus far the biggest dream is of a wheel-shaped laboratory with about 67,000 cubic feet of inside space.

This sort of thing is old stuff to science fiction readers. But the gap between fiction and reality is swiftly narrowing.

MOMENT OF TRUTH

A word, now, to those who intend to trim down but don't seem able to get started: The moment of truth is coming. The moment of truth will be at hand when, having ventured to the beach for the first dip of the season, one must tug on a swim suit and appear before the multitudes.

This presents no problem to lissome maids and sturdy lads; youth is on their side. To the more mature, especially those who have whiled away the winter months dining not wisely but too well, this can be a mortifying test.

Clothing provides a facade; the arts of the tailor and dressmaker gloss over signs of all but really gross indulgence. But these arts are no longer any help when one is crammed into swimwear. Then the rolls and bulges become all too apparent — are even emphasized, bespeaking more than enough food and not enough exercise.

So try on your swim suit and take the mirror test. If the mirror says, "Ten pounds of excess baggage," act accordingly. There may just be time before the moment of truth arrives.

ART COMES ON WHEELS

An interesting thing has been going on in the back hills of Arkansas. A big white and blue trailer truck, dubbed an artmobile, has since late in 1962 brought fine paintings to areas where such works had never before been seen.

The vehicle has trundled along narrow country roads, stopping for a few days to display an exhibiton of 17th century Dutch paintings at small communities in each of the state's 75 counties. The show has been seen by some 184,000 rural Arkansans. On the whole, the response has been impressively favorable.

The possibilities, in other states as well as Arkansas and Virgina (which has two artmobiles) are striking. The idea of giving all Americans some chance of contact with the glories of art appeals to all who know how such contact can enrich life and extend the horizons of the spirit.

SILLY BUT STUFFY

The silly season has taken rather an odd turn this spring. It used to be that college boys went in for such gaieties as goldfish swallowing, panty raids, phone booth packing and bedstead races. This year word has come from Edinburgh, Scotland, that the lads at St. Andrews University are being silly in an academic way.

It seems that 10 students have put in a claim for the world's record in uninterrupted play reading. They read parts of 35 drama classics, and kept it up for 48 hours and 11 minutes. Who is to dispute them? But it all seems rather stuffy, compared with the zanier goings-on of yesteryear.

Laotians ignore the government crisis and celebrate arrival of the rainy season. Over there, "Into each life a little rain must fall" is a happy saying.

American auto makers are stepping up sales campaigns in Europe. Over here we've hit the saturation point — in parking space.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

JOHNSON HAS AN INSIDE TRACK ON CUBA

The Republican Critical Issues Council, headed by Milton Eisenhower, earned its salt the other day when it issued a report urging Washington to lift its curbs on anti-Castro raiders and to recognize a free Cuban government in exile. But, knowing Lyndon Johnsons "can-do" propensities, it is exremely likely that if there is any Election Day yardage to be made by disposing of the Fidel Castro threat without risking nuclear war, the Administration will move in time to get that benefit for itself. In which case, Milton Eisenhower would probably not even be thanked for an assist on the play.

While I have no means of knowing what goes on in Lyndon Jonhson's mind when he thinks about Castro, I do know that anti-Castro forces have had easier access to "Johnson men" in the White House than they ever had to Kennedy men. Last fall, the Cuban refugees were entirely without hope; they were even talking about forming a "Cubans for Goldwater committee. But this sort of rebellion has died down. Now there are stories, no doubt leaked by CIA people, that underground activity will soon move from a clandestine phase to a more open one inside Cuba, and that the U. S. will look the other way as supplies are dropped to them from the air or smuggled in over the beaches.

This may be pure rumor, but it stands to reason. But when will anything decisive really begin to happen? The question of dealing with Castro, given Lyndon Johnson's habit of moving only after all the hazards have been counted, will certainly be one of timing. The State Department, ever timorous, worries about Khrushchev's attitude. The big fear of John F. Kennedy was that Khrushchev might counter in Berlin if anything were to be done about Castro in Cuba, and there was reason for this fear. However, since the missile crisis the Russians have had to reckon with the peasant's agricultural slow-down, the rupture of good relations with Red China, and the seething unrest in East Europe, which has forced Khrushchev's switch to "goulash" diplomacy. Khrushchev is not in a position to adventure anywhere.

It would be quite in line with Lyndon Johnson's character, then, to time a move against Castro after the evidence of the next Russian and East European harvests is in. The prospects are that these harvests will be poor. The Soviets are undertaking an agonized reappraisal of their farm policies. Debating all manner of means of getting more out of the peasants and the Kolkhoze managers short of a restoration of capitalistic farming, at the February meeting of the Soviet Central Committee on Agriculture, Khrushchev asked for drastic measures to halt a mass migration to the cities of skilled Russian farmers. This sort of thing does not betoken a problem that can be solved overnight. The onportune time for a move against Castro would thus be after the Soviets have had to appeal once more to the West for shipments of wheat, which should come sometime after next August and conveniently before the U. S. November election.

What the Republicans are up against in their efforts to use foreign policy items against Johnson is that they are dealing with a man who has uncommon strategical sense. The L.B.J. style in the Senate was to make exceedingly accurate estimates of strength and weakness before moving. Bobby Baker, Johnson's Chief of Staff in those days, may be in bad repute now, but as one of Bakers friends still insists, "at least Bobby could count." The L.B.J. predilection for advisers who can do accurate strategical arithmetic will certainly manifest itself in any dealings with Castro.

So Milton Eisenhower and the Republicans may well gnaw their nails. They are right in urging that we let the anti-Castro Cubans go to work, but L.B.J. is in a position to steal the Republicans' thunder at the precise time when it is calculated to do the Administration the most political good.

Trichinosis, Long Known, Still Takes Heavy Toll

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When the cause of a disease and effective preventive measures have been known for more than 100 years, it should come as a shock to learn that some 27 million persons in the United States have that disease. Yet this is the case with trichinosis, an infestation with a microscopic worm. Fortunately, it is so mild in most of the victims that they don't know they have it.

In man it is caused by eating raw or inadequately cooked products from hogs which are infested with trchinae.

The worm in a resting stage becomes encysted in the animal's muscles and, when the pork is eaten, the digestive juices dissolve the cysts and the worms become active in the intestinal tract. Although they do not harm directly they leave behind myriads of youngsters (larvae) that penetrate the intestinal wall and are carried in the blood or lymph stream to the muscles of the victim.

There they in turn go into a resting stage but if there are enough of them they set up an inflammatory reaction. This causes the victim to have fever, weakness, headache and soreness in the involved muscles. A massive infestation may even cause death or death may be caused by a high concentration of the parasites in the heart muscle.

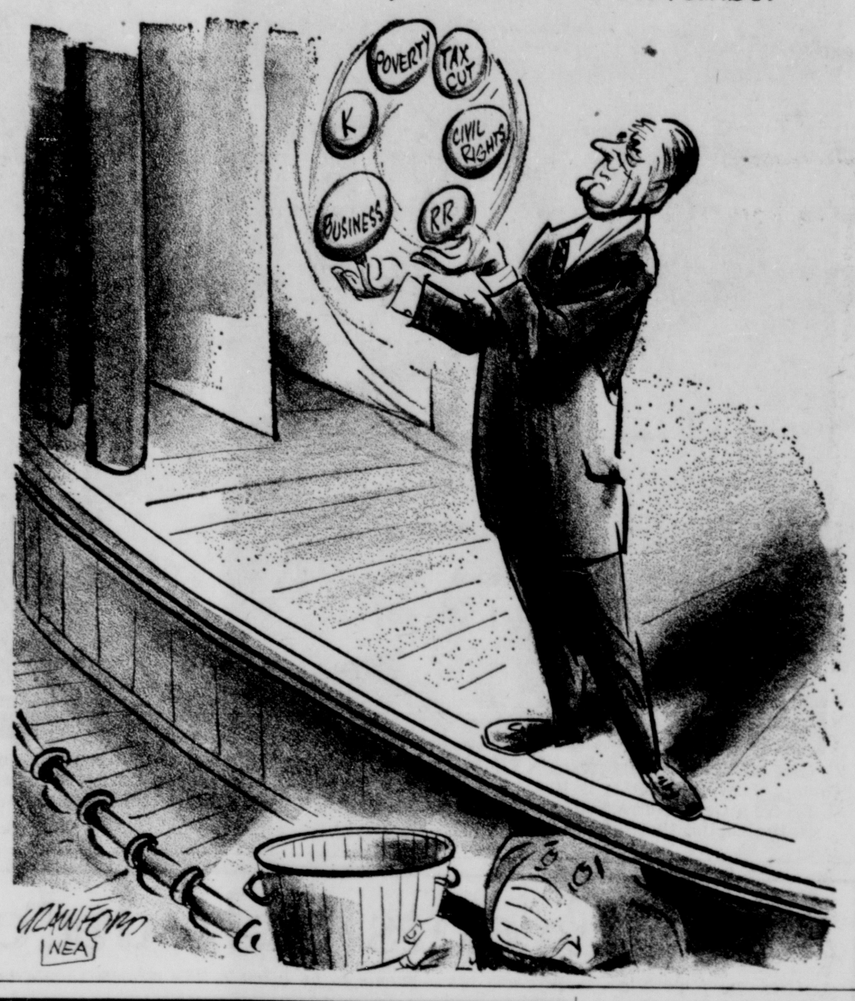
Until recently there was no cure for this disease but thiabendazole, a drug that has long been used to treat a variety of infestations in animals. It has now been tried on a human subject with excellent results. The best treatment, however, is still prevention and this consists of refusing to eat any pork products that have not been thoroughly cooked. Of course, pork found on government inspection to be infested is condemned.

There are still some persons who have a decided preference for raw pork and even they can protect themselves by storing the meat in a deep freeze at 0 degrees for 24 hours or a 5 degrees for three weeks.

Q—I have been taking Orthonovum pills for 3 months and have noticed that I have to urinate frequently. Does this drug harm the kidneys?

A—Orthonovum is a synthetic steroid hormone. With the proper dosage it causes no serious side effects in normal persons but if urinalysis shows that you have a kidney disease you should discontinue its use as it may aggravate the condition.

"Maybe He'll Drop One Before November"



Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Studies by startled U.S. scientists reveal that the Soviet Union is putting 50 per cent more effort than the United States into learning how to control the energy that's in the H-bomb.

The United States now has 365 scientists on controlled thermonuclear research. The Soviet Union has 600 on this potentially tremendous source of power.

The Russians are investing heavily in new research buildings and in high-powered equipment. The Kurchatov laboratory in Moscow is the largest in the world in fusion research.

The Communist party has ordered that controlled fusion research be put on the first priority list and all monetary ceilings removed.

SOVIET SCIENTISTS ALREADY HAVE moved so fast in one crucial fusion control problem, reports a highly placed U.S. nuclear physicist, that their results have sparked a whole series of new ideas in the United States.

Until recently, U.S. scientists have been confident that we were well ahead of the Russians. That may still be true, for the big Soviet push is less than four years old. But with this new Soviet effort, U.S. superiority could disappear in less than five years. Some scientists believe the U.S.S.R. is already ahead.

If the Soviets get there first in fusion control, it would bring a bigger worldwide shock than the first Sputnik. As one scientist puts it, "In the long run it is much more important to solve (the) energy (needs of) mankind forever than just to put a satellite up."

The major problem in controlled fusion is learning how to contain large amounts of the interacting hot gas particles, bring them toward temperatures equaling those on the sun's surface and concentrate or contain these gasses (plasma) in a small enough space with sufficient stability so that fusion will take place continuously.

Scientists have been able to do this only with very small amounts of plasma for tiny periods of time.

SOME STARTLING, ABSOLUTELY NEW developments were discovered recently during a trip to the Soviet Union by a group of top-flight U.S. government thermonuclear experts. The new developments included:

1. One of the major problems in controlling thermonuclear reactions is to keep the plasma mixture stable so that the production of energy will continue.

U.S. scientists were impressed by an ingenious Soviet development "whereby as soon as the plasma begins to get unstable you reverse some of the magnetic field within about a millionth of a second, so that the conditions are reversed and it becomes stable again. Then, in another millionth of a second, you do it again."

2. Getting the plasma mixture hot enough for fusion to take place is a second major problem. At Kharkov the Americans found the Russians in a key experiment had managed to heat plasma about eight times hotter than we have.

3. Keeping the plasma mixture from escaping is a problem with gasses so hot they can "burn" through any container. One way of doing this is by means of a mirror machine, which uses a magnetic field to reflect the escaping gases (plasma) back into the mixture. A Russian mirror machine, similar to one at Livermore, Calif., produces about three times the magnetic field with much simpler apparatus.

But what impressed the U.S. scientists most was the tremendous influx of bright young scientistes and engineers into the Soviete-controlled thermonuclear research program.

Obeying Law Is Difficult In This 'Era of Confusion'

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — This period may go down in history as the "era of confusion." For many people do not seem to know from one day to another just what is the law of the land. Nor is it clear any more what laws have to be obeyed. The Methodist Church, for instance, at its General Conference has just approved a report declaring that Christians, when called upon to obey unjust or immoral laws, should instead follow their consciences and "obey God."

Similar sentiments have been voiced by two Negro preachers of prominence, Martin Luther King and Rep. Adam Clayton Powell. But when Govs. Barnett, of Mississippi, and Wallace, of Alabama, decided to ignore a court order and act according to their consciences, they were immediately denounced as "racists" or "extremists" or as "lawless" individuals.

The resolution adopted by the Methodists was offered by the Rev. Harold A. Bosley, of New York, and his committee on Christian social concerns. It reads as follows:

"In some instances, where legal recourse is unavailable or inadequate for redress of grievances from laws or their applications that, on their face, are unjust or immoral, the Christian conscience will obey God rather than man."

Resistance to law has been frequent in the racial controversy in recent months. Disobedience has been encouraged in the form of street demonstrations, sit-ins, stall-ins and lie-ins. It has been openly asserted by the leaders of various groups that an individual has a right to decide for himself what is an unjust law. He, of course, takes the consequences when he is finally punished for disorder, but even this hasn't deterred the demonstrators because the main objective has been to get publicity in their efforts to dramatize their cause.

Much of the difficulty, it has been said, will be erased if the civil rights bill is passed, because many of the points hitherto not covered by law with respect to racial discrimination will be subject to enforcement by the Federal authorities. But here, too, many difficulties present themselves, for the courts will take some time before they will pass upon the constitutionality of many of the provisions of the civil rights bill when it does become law. Meanwhile, every individual has the right to test any law as to its constitutionality. If he is wrong, he must be punished, but this doesn't deter even governors of states from taking the risks involved.

With respect to desegregation of public schools, for example, the action taken by the Supreme Court of the United States this week in a case involving racial imbalance in the public schools of Gary Ind., has produced some disappointment among the ranks of Negro leaders, because racial imbalance was not ruled to be illegal or unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court refused to review the case and thus it let stand the ruling of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals that there was no obligation to abandon the neighborhood school to attain a better racial balance. The school authorities in Gary had transferred students from overcrowded schools and in one instance there were 120 Negroes among the 140 students transferred from a predominantly Negro school to a predominantly white school. But this was not considered adequate by the Negro organizations which took the case to court.

The plaintiffs had based their case, in the words of the Circuit Court opinion, "on their fundamental theory that their right to be integrated in school is such an overriding purpose that little, if any, consideration need be given to the safety of the children, convenience of pupils and their parents, and costs of the operation of the school system."

The plaintiffs also argued that in the 1964 desegregation decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, segregated public education was held to be incompatible with the requirements of the 14th Amendment. But in the Gary case, the Circuit Court of Appeals agreed that "there is no affirmative U. S. constitutional duty to change innocently arrived at school attendance districts by the mere fact that shifts in population either increase or decrease the percentage of either Negro or white pupils."

Many instances of racial imbalance have been noted in public schools in different parts of the North as well as in the South and the Gary case is an example of where schools were predominatly one race or the other by natural circumstances and there were no efforts made, in districting the schools, to discriminate by reason of race or color. While the Supreme Court itself has held that segregation in public schools solely on the basis of race is wrong, it has as never ruled in favor of compulsory integration to correct imbalance.

Spokesmen for the Negro organizations say that, while they have not gained their point in the Gary Case, they hope that, in some other case which they will bring before the high court, a different decision may be handed down.

That is why in this "era of confusion" it is difficult from one day to another for the citizens to know exactly what the law of the land is likely to be on racial questions, and maybe this is one reason why the street demonstrations have not been abandoned.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa—The day of the week. They cured city sits like a sardonyx stone mounted in an emerald ring. On one side is a valley so rich that the soil is like devil's food cake and the shade of the old trees softens the sparkle of the Iowa River. Here, in a place called Amana, pure Communism was tried before Karl Marx wrote Das Kapital.

A group of Germans, led by Mr. Christian Metz of Buedingen, had broken from the Lutheran Church and had come to America to seek the utmost in simple Christian life. They believed that some men are inspired by God, and they called themselves Inspirationists. Buffalo, New York, was their first stop, but it was too materialistic so they found this valley in Iowa and moved a thousand people into it.

It was called Amana, a word from the Song of Solomon, which means to "remain true." Metz and his industrious Germans desired to remain true to the simplicity of Christ, to live apart from the rest of the world in stark piety. The elders formed a group called The Amana Society, and incorporated it in 1855.

In time Amana prospered and had 25,000 acres and seven villages along the river bank. No man was paid for his work; each one labored for all. The crops were good, the cattle were fat. The trustees of the corporation gave money to a man who had to have a doctor, or a dentist, and it doled out money for clothing.

A woolen mill was built; a flowing stream was dug from the river to the mill and Amana harnessed the water at a little waterfall. They baked their own bread on hearths, built their own slaughter house opened butcher shops and general stores. Each family was ordered to live in a given village, a given house. There were no kitchens and no living rooms in these houses—just sleeping quarters.

The communal kitchens fed everyone, and everyone was well fed.

In good times and bad, Amanaites ate about five meals per day, and averaged 4,800 calories per person. The people were plump and oldfashioned. When a boy became serious about a girl, the trustees moved them as far apart as possible—seven miles. The boy was then told that if he truly loved the girl, he would not mind sweating in the fields all day, and walking seven miles to see her at night.

The elders believed that love could survive this ordeal for one year. If it did, the elders sanctioned marriage. The girl dressed in black; so did the boy, and they touched the palms of their right hands together before the elders' table in the temple. Words of marriage were pronounced over them.

Divorce is unheard of among the Amanaites. So is crime. In 109 years, there has never been a murder, a rape, a felonious assault or a holdup. Juvenile delinquency is nipped in the bud in school. Discipline is important to adults as well as children. The people never had a crucifix in their church, never listened to music except the gutteral sound of their own hymns. They worked hard, and obeyed their Elders.

The food they ate consisted of seven main dishes, one for each hams Westphalian style, and bacon too. They even made their own furniture of native cherrywood. The elders laid down 24 rules for Amana living, and everyone had to live those rules or face excommuication in church.

The community protected everyone from the cradle to the grave. The Amana cemetery, on a hillside, is screened by huge pines. The headstones are all of one size. People are buried chronologically, by date of birth. Families are not buried together. The entire plan was Christian Communism, executed perfectly.

It died a violent death in 1932. There was a depression. The neighboring city of Cedar Rapids began to flaunt its cars and radios at Amana. The young members became restive. Forty-seven of the younger men appeared before the elders and demanded a new corporation, a hybrid of socialism and capitalism. They called it "cooperative." The elders were forced to surrender. The total worth of Amana was only $2,500,000 after 77 years of work, and the population was only 1,400. Many members had left because they felt that Communism was too harsh.

I walked through an Amana village today. It was warm and the trees are in leaf again. The fields are tilled. Amana has socialized medicine, dentistry, funerals and hospitalization. The big industries are still owned by the corporation. But the people live as capitalists.

The houses are now individual family homes. The men keep what they earn. Television antennas grow from chimneys. Radios enunciate Rock 'n Roll. The young people drive roadsters. Drinking and smoking is permitted. Under capitalism, the corporation is now worth $16,400,000.

PHOENICIA NEWS

Cub Scout Events

PHOENICIA — Cub Scouts of Pack 60 just completed a busy week. Wednesday evening was pack night with their annual inspection, Friday evening was Court of Recognition held at the Bennett School auditorium and Saturday afternoon the boys participated in a kite flying contest held on the Riseley field at Mt. Pleasant.

At the pack meeting Cubmaster Hefferan presented advancements and awards to the following boys: David Maxwell, wolf badge with gold arrow and silver arrow under wolf; Timothy Short a silver arrow under wolf; Alberto Mousset a silver arrow under lion; John Ford a two year pin, Christopher Maxwell a two year pin and Daniel Smith a three year pin. Two new Bobcats were inducted into the pack. These were Wayne Wranovics and Timothy Malloy.

Following the awards an inspection was made by Troop 60 Scoutmaster Cliff Segelken of the cubs in each den.

The Court of Recognition presents each cub in the pack who has advanced in rank during the preceding year. Pack 60's share proved to be better than average.

The real fun for the boys and their dads came on Saturday with the kit flying event. A race was held, each boy and his dad had ten minutes to get his kite up the highest after the word go. Danny Schutis won first place with Davis Maxwell second and Chris Maxwell third. Chris Maxwell, however, won first in getting a "message" up to his kite as well as first for the most original kite.

Future cub events include a movie Kings of the Sun May 19. Cubs will sell tickets. The pack will march in the Memorial Day parade.

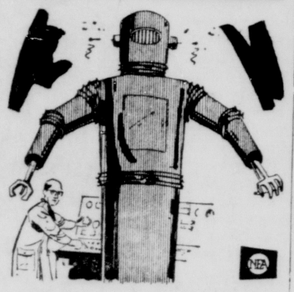
Start Train

The bride should have someone "start" her train when she goes down the asile. It should be held up at arm's length, billowed with air, then allowed to float down the asile after her.

matter of fact



"Robot" is a word long used in many languages. Derived from the Czech "robota," it came into popular use after 1923 through the play "R.U.R. (Rossure's Universal Robots)" by the Czech writer Karl Capek. In this play a society is described which depends on mechanical workers that can do physical and mental work, and then develop intelligences and revolt against their employers.

Ayer Cup Picks Newburgh News Among Winners

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Lebanon (N.H.) Valley News was named winner today of the 34th annual Ayer Cup for excellence of typography, makeup and printing.

The 1964 winner, an afternoon newspaper with a circulation of 6,911, has the smallest circulation of any daily newspaper ever to win the Ayer Cup since the competition was originated by N.W. Ayer & Sons Inc., in 1931.

A total of 815 newspapers entered the competition this year.

The Chicago Daily News won first honorable mention among newspapers of more than 50,000 circulation, with the Binghamton (N.Y.) Evening Press second and the Louisvillle (Ky.) Courier-Journal third.

The Twin City Sentinel, an evening newspaper of Winston-Salem, N.C., took first honorable mention among 387 entries for newspapers of 10,000 to 50,000 circulation, largest since classification in the judging. The Newburgh (N.Y.) Evening News won second honorable mention and the Iron Mountain (Mich.) News third honorable mention.

First honorable mention among newspapers of less than 10,000 circulation went to the Bennington (Vt.) Banner, second honorable mention to the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette, and third honorable mention to the Troy (N.Y.) Record.

Newsday, of Garden City, Long Island, N. Y., was the first honorable mention winner among tabloids, regardless of circulation. It was the seventh time Newsday has been among the winners in Ayer Cup competition and the fifth time it has taken the top award for tabloids.

Survey Shows Loss

PASCO, Wash. (AP)—Pasco city officials should have quit while they were ahead.

About a month ago they ordered a new head count hoping for a substantial increase in the per capita distribution of state liquor and gasoline taxes to cities.

The census, which cost $1,567, showed a population loss of 823 since last year, down to 15,677. As a result, Pasco stands to lose about $13,100 this year in state funds.

Charges Discrimination

Editor, The Freeman:

This is a letter that has long awaited writing but for some reason has remained unwritten.

Some months ago Mayor Schwenk wrote a letter to Washington expounding on the wonderful relations between Negro and White in the City of Kingston. I do not know where the Mayor received his information but in this writer's view he was somewhat misled.

Shortly after and even before his letter was mailed, a Negro teacher encountered a great deal of undercover resistance in moving into a home which had just undergone negotiations for purchasing.

Today a Negro was denied her right to vote for the candidates of her choice for the Board of Education. Since this denial was done by a principal of an elementary school, it appears to me that a great deal of discrimination is practiced in the City of Kingston.

It appears that the Mayor took an awful lot for granted when writing his letter to Washington. Hereafter, I suggest that he check with some authority before making such broad statements. This information can be attained by observation of the entire population only and not by conversation with a few isolated individuals.

Kingston is not as pious as many would like to pretend.

Yours truly,
PHILIP R. BROWN

19 Firms Cited For Safety, 5 Are From Ulster

Nineteen firms, including five in Ulster County, received awards at the annual safety campaign award and Ladies Night banquet of the Mid-Hudson Industrial Association at the Hellenic Center, Poughkeepsie, Monday night.

Awards engrossed with the winner's name and handsomely "pyraglassed" are given for distinguished safety performance. A grand award was presented to the Lumb Woodworking Company, Inc. for working the greatest number of manhours in its particular group and section without a lost-time accident. A ten-year award was presented to the De Laval Separator Company, light machine work dept., for accident-free participation in the campaign for 10 consecutive years. There was also one nine-Year Award, two eight-year Awards, two six-year Awards, 13 100 per cent Awards and five certificates of achievement. One-hundred per cent awards are given to participants completing the entire campaign accident-free and Certificates of Achievement to participants with less than perfect records but with an accident frequency rate lower than the average accident rate for his group and section.

Donald V. Hock, a former mayor of Allentown, Pa., was the principal speaker and presented a facetious discussion of the human race, Don't Resign From The Human Race.

The awards were made by Stephen P. Becker, president of Fargo Mfg. Company, Ind, and a former president of The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association.

Becker was assisted by Clarence W. Spangenberger, member relations director of Associated Industries of New York State, Inc. Spangenberger spoke on the year by year reduction of accidents due to the emphasis on these quarter-yearly safety campaigns. Mr. Spangenberger stated that each year there has been an increase in the number of firms who participated in the state-wide campaign and pointed out that the 1964 campaign had more than 1,500 entries across the state.

Carl E. Cummings, professional director of Texaco, Inc., and president of The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association, presided. The speakers were introduced by Henry J. Schwellenbach, vice president-production of the New York Trap Rock Corp., vice president of The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association and chairman of its Forum Committee.

Ulster County firms cited were:

Callanan Road Improvement Co,. Plant 3, Kingston, eight-year award.

New York Trap Rock Corp., Nytralite Aggregate Plant, Kingston, 100 per cent award.

Channel Master Corp., Ellenville; International Business Machines Corp., Kingston and Hercules Powder Co., Inc., Port Ewen, certificates of achievement.

Young GOP Is To Meet Tonight

The monthly meeting of the Ulster County Young Republicans will be held at the Elks Lodge in Kingston tonight at 8 o'clock. Among the items to be discussed, as announced by President John Van Steenburgh, are proposed amendments to the local club constitution, amendments to the state constitution and the presentation of slates for the upcoming year by the nominating committee.

Egypt Polishes For Nik's Visit

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

CAIRO (AP) — Ex - King Farouk's royal railway carriage has been polished up to carry Soviet Premier Khrushchev around Egypt when he arrives this weekend for a visit. A couple of gingerbread palaces have also been prepared for his stay.

Grateful to Khrush

"We are grateful to Khrushchev and we are going to show him so," a ranking member of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's inner circle told an American friend.

In Egyptian eyes, the Soviet leader helped them break the Western arms embargo in 1955, got them past post-Suez economic sanctions from the West and financed the prestigious dam at Aswan. Either of these would have earned Khrushchev a warm welcome. The three together rate much more, and Khrushchev's reception here will show it, officials say.

Hand Still Out

He is expected to stay in Egypt 20 or more days and Egyptians are hopeful nothing will mar his visit, his first to Africa. There are no major issues threatening relations between the Soviet leader and Nasser, one high-placed spokesman said, and Nasser was pictured as ready to do everything possible—except surrender his neutrality — to make Khrushchev's trip rewarding.

In return, of course, Egyptians would like to get pledges for new economic assistance toward their coming second five-year plan. As a starter, $120 million would do.

Warmth has not always existed between Nasser and Khrushchev. Despite his neutralism and occasional pro-Soviet positions, Egypt's Socialist leader has engaged in loud arguments with Khrushchev.

Training Course Held For Area Librarians

The first in a series of five training courses for area librarians is now being offered at the Middletown headquarters of the Ramapo Catskill Library System. The subject of this first course of the series, which meets during April and May is Library Management — how to manage the books and materials, the staff, student helpers and the Board of Library Trustees. Miss I. Marie Gustafson, a consultant of the New York State Library, is the instructor.

Libraries sending one or more of their staff to the current course in Library Management are: Bloomingburg, Chester, Greenwood Lake, Cragsmoor, Town of Crawford, Ellenville, Florida, Josephine Louise Public Library in Walden, Liberty, Maybrook, Monroe, Montgomery, Port Jervis and Rock Tavern.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is Hollywood Boulevard—

Looking for a copy of a song you loved years ago? Chances are you could find it at Ring's sheet music store on Cherokee Avenue just around the corner from the Boulevard.

For 20 years the shop has been operated by Stanley Ring, a man who is short of stature and long of memory. Necessarily so, in order to hunt up songs from among the 450,000 different titles he stocks.

"How many songs do I know? Goodness, I have no way to figure," he says. "But I can find most requests, once I get the title straight. Trouble is, people give me the wrong titles."

The narrow store seems Dickensian with its dim lights, water-stained walls and carton upon carton of old sheet music stacked in every corner. Ring, 64 fits the premises well; he is cheery-eyed, with cheeks that puff up when he smiles and spectacles that keep sliding down his long nose.

Born in San Francisco, he started his long career with songs as a singing newsboy in New York City. He debuted in an Elsie Janis show at 10 and spent years in vaudeville with comedy sketches. When vaudeville died, he turned to a sheet music store in Los Angeles and it did well until a fire consumed his total assets.

He wanted to open a shop in Hollywood, but his fire insurance agent had skipped. Although he had no knowledge of horses, Ring placed $2 bets on longshots with bookies all over downtown L.A. In 30 days he had made $400, enough to start the Hollywood store.

"This place has turned a profit from the day I opened on Nov. 15, 1943," said Ring. The reason appears to be that his collection of old sheet music is unique.

Sacred Concert Set Tonight at Alliance

Palmer Vaadeland of Park Rapids, Minn., will be heard in a sacred concert, at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church tonight.

Norwegian in background, Mr. Vaadeland sings with spirit and devotion. His well-trained voice has been heard in a number of foreign countries and he has sung his way across America in a series of sacred concerts. His accompanist will be the regular organist at the Alliance Church, Gilbert Cicio.

The service, open to the public, will be held 7 o'clock.

AP Business News Analys

NEW YORK (AP)—Business will go on for several months being better than a year ago. But how much better than it is right now, that's the rub.

Expectations of a leveling off are based now on a number of things that will be glossed over by the official statistics yet to come which will picture how good things were in March, April and May.

Steel Levels Off

Steel production has leveled off, for the time being at least. And the summer's normal slowdown seems as sure as anything can be in that cyclical industry. Steel's spring boom could make any summer doldrums harder to bear.

Auto production will continue strong, as dealers build up inventories prior to the wage talks due in early summer, and to the model changeovers which

Construction spending hit a may come early this time and be more noticeable than a year ago.

Retail trade is flourishing in May as Americans deck themselves out for spring and summer and refurnish their homes. But any big pickup traceable to more take-home pay from the federal tax cut has yet to show. Many retailers are reported counting on only a modest pickup from this source at best. They expect to beat year-ago figures, but chiefly because of population changes and other factors under way before the tax cut.

Change on Bishops

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The general conference of the Methodist Church has changed the maximum retirement age for bishops from 74 to 72.

The conference also voted Tuesday night to allow a bishop to retire at 65. His full salary and housing allowance, however, will continue only if he agrees to be available for assignment by the Council of Bishops.

Martha Washington's watch had two cases, one enamel and one gold.

peak in March and held level in April. Good weather in May should keep it high. But the new confidence that business is proclaiming in announcing future expansion plans probably won't hit the brick and mortar stage before autumn or later.

But Americans who have been encouraged to expect a real spurt in the economy just around the corner may have to be patient. And those who expect all the problems to be solved quickly are likely to be disappointed.

IT'S TRADE 'N' TRAVEL TIME AT YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER'S

Five different lines of cars—forty-five different models to choose from. Come early and trade great!

Now that spring's in full swing, you'll find new Chevrolets perfect for picking.

Luxury—First, there's the big Jet-smooth Chevrolet. Sumptuous and soft riding with a fat coil spring at all four wheels to smother bumps. Over 700 sound stoppers throughout the car to blot out wind and road noise. Interiors luxuriously done up in the newest and softest vinyls.

Trade what you're driving for one of these, and you won't want to trade seats with anybody else on the road.

Spirit—Next, Chevelle. The beautifully in-between size car that combines small car handling oomph with big car comfort. Order to your liking in sedan, coupe, station wagon and convertible body styles. Eleven different models that you can equip with just about any extra-cost option you can imagine. No place to go this summer? Get a new Chevelle—you'll think of something.

Economy—Chevy II—the car that takes to inexpensive vacations naturally. It just goes and goes, and where it stops nobody knows. But for all its thrift, it's anything but under-furnished. Did you know that the Super Sport Coupe has bucket seats and door-to-door carpeting? Eight models to pick from, including wagons with enough room to swallow up an eight-foot Christmas tree. (Plan ahead, we always say.)

Fun—Then there's Corvair. The fun one with the engine in the rear for unbelievable traction. Spring mud, summer sand, winter snow—nothing stops it. You'll even think they're now paving highways with adhesive tape the way Corvairs cling to them.

Corvette. The enthusiast's car. Sting Ray Sport Coupe and Convertible. Still America's only true sports cars. Pick either one and you'll find it does for your driving what holidays do for kids.

Performance—And with any new Chevrolet you choose, you can get the standard engine for all the power you need in everyday come-and-go driving. Or you can pick from a wide, wide range of extra-cost engines for maximum performance.

Either way, whether you've got some place special to go this summer or not, when you trade for one of Chevrolet's five great highway performers—you'll travel!

Goodfellow Retires As UNICEF Officer

George Goodfellow, who during the early 1940's served as general secretary of the Kingston YMCA, recently retired after 16-years' service as administrative officer of the United Nations International Children's Fund.

Goodfellow, who has many friends in Kingston, is still active in civic affairs assisting Governor Hughes of New Jersey with the school dropout problem and serving with the Church World Service in New York on international disasters. He also is active in the Bolivarian Society of New York.

Goodfellow resigned as local YMCA secretary to enter the armed forces. Under his administration, the local "Y" had been more of a community center than ever before in its history. He also inaugurated the Day Camp during the summer vacation months for the children of the city.

GEORGE GOODFELLOW

In addition to his duties as YMCA secretary, he found time to devote to civic affairs. In 1941 he served as a member of the executive committee of the USO and chairman of the Kingston Salvage Committee. He also served on the Board of Governors of Kingston Rotary Club, a member of A. H. Wicks Engine Company and a member of the social hygiene committee of the Ulster County TB Association. He was a member of the Mendelssohn Club and of the Masonic fraternity.

Praised by Colleague

In the United Nations Secretariat News, there apears the following commentary by a UNICEF Colleague on Goodfellow's retirement:

A good many people think that George Goodfellow, who retired at the end of Februray after more than 16 years with UNICEF, has a wider range of friendships than anyone else they are likely to meet. This was reflected in a farewell luncheon for him which included colleagues from virtually all sections of the UN and a large group of persons from the outside.

In one important way, however, the luncheon was quite unrepresentative since except for Pearl Mesta, an old friend who came to prove the hostess touch, there were no ladies invited. But this was more than made up at a UNICEF farewell party the next day which was attended by more former UNICEF secretaries than any other party in the history of UNICEF. One of them was the former Jane Wallace, whom Mr. Goodfellow married in April 1958 when she was secretary to the UNICEF Executive Director, Maurice Pate.

Served Around the World

After joining UNICEF in November 1947, Mr. Goodfellow was a field representative in Greece and later Deputy Chief of UNICEF county offices in Poland and Brazil. During the height of the Palestinian crisis in 1948, he was loaned to the mediator's staff to expedite the movement of large shipments of foodstuffs to refugee areas. Since 1954 he has been at UNICEF Headquarters as an administrative officer, with the exception of short-term assignments in Central America and Europe. Before commencing duty with the UN, he served as European director of the United Seamen's Service of War Shipping Administration and earlier he was active in YMCA work.

Combined with a deep interest in helping people is a warmth, honesty and informality which has worked wonders in breaking down the obstacles of red tape. George will be missed for these qualities not only at headquarters but by UNICEF staff in the field.

Using his new home in Brielle, N. J., as a base George expects to be active in community affairs, including working with the Governor's Committee on Youth Problems. He also will do freelance work as a consultant to convention organizers and this summer he will be coordinator for the reception of dignitaries at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City.

Economy Pleases President, Others Show Concern

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said today he is pleased with the direction the nation's economy is headed but is concerned with some other aspects of America, including diseases, poverty and civil rights.

He urged the Advertising Council in a prepared speech to get in the front lines in the war on poverty.

Moral Challenge

"There is hardly a community in this country where poverty does not have some beachhead, and the hardest battles are going to be fought right in your home town," Johnson said.

He said the war on poverty makes good sense economically, estimating that $1,000 invested in salvaging an unemployable youth can return $40,000 or more in his lifetime.

"But it's almost insulting to urge you to enlist in this war for economic motivations. This is a moral challenge that goes to the very roots of our civilization and asks if we are willing to make personal sacrifices for the public good," Johnson said.

"I can say the same thing about the civil rights legislation now before Congress. Those who say this is a political gimmick are doing a gross injustice to the basic convictions of a democratic society: that men cannot live unto themselves alone; that the right kind of democracy is bound together by the ties of neighborliness."

Surely, he said, enlightened businessmen believe that all members of the public should have equal access to public facilities, be equally eligible for federal benefits financed by the public and should have an equal chance to vote for public officials and to send their children to good public schools and to contribute their talents to the public good

'Great Persuaders'

"These are the goals of this bill—and these are the moral objectives," he said.

Calling the advertising executives "the great persuaders," Johnson asked their help to communicate the urgency of these programs. "Help us to persuade the frightened, the skeptical, and the cynical that the American society is in the balance and the future of our land at stake," he said.

Johnson said that as long as business, labor, and government operate in an atmosphere of mutual trust, "I see no reason why the expansion should not continue."

He said almost every day brings good news about the economy and that many people have been surprised by what the free enterprise system is doing.

Only this morning, Johnson said, Chairman Walter W. Heller of the Council of Economic Advisers told him private nonfarm residential construction outlays rose slightly in April. The preliminary figures estimated outlays to be 10 per cent above a year ago.

Johnson spoke of "tragic, terrible diseases" such as cancer and multiple sclerosis, but told the advertisers that "the most dangerous sickness of all, especially in a democracy is public apathy."

Saugerties Man Killed at Ravena

RAVENA, N.Y. (AP) — Kenneth Young, 38, of Saugerties, was killed today in an accident at the Atlantic Cement Co. plant. State Police said Young, a driller, apparently was crushed to death under falling rocks.

Carrier, Destroyer Ram at Sea

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The aircraft carrier Lake Champlain and the destroyer Decatur collided 150 miles east of Cape Henry today during anti-submarine warfare operations.

Atlantic Fleet Headquarters reported no one was injured.

A fleet spokesman said the Decatur's superstructure was damaged heavily in the collision. There was no apparent damage below her main deck.

One airplane aboard the Lake Champlain was damaged.

The collision occurred as the destroyer was moving away from the carrier after refueling, the spokesman said. Visibility was four miles and seas were moderate.

The Decatur, accompanied by the destroyer Gearing, headed slowly toward Norfolk, where she is expected to arrive Thursday morning.

The Lake Champlain resumed operations at sea.

Linn Sentenced To Life Term As Cop Killer

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—"I do not know why I did it," said Harold P. Linn as he was sentenced today to life imprisonment for the shotgun-slaying of an Albany police sergeant last January.

Linn, 55-year-old ex - convict from Hudson, had pleaded guilty to first-degree murder in the death of Sgt. Thomas P. McAvoy. Under a new state law, the life sentence was mandatory.

Linn shot McAvoy in the kitchen of an Albany home when the 44-year-old officer arrived to investigate a telephone report of a holdup. Linn had entered the home and held the occupants at gunpoint.

In a statement read in county court today by his lawyer, Linn said:

"I do not deny this accusation. The tragedy has left not one but two broken homes. I thank the court for its indulgence."

County Judge Martin P. Schenck pronounced sentence.

Linn was arrested in a hospital in Cicero, Ill., eight days after the shooting. He had become involved in a minor accident there.

Linn, a handyman, lived in Hudson with his wife for seven years. Previously he had lived in Albany.

In 1931, he was sentenced for 30 years to life for the fatal shooting of John Conlin, of Queens, whose wife Linn had been seeing. Linn was paroled after serving 21 years and was discharged from parole in 1962.

Fund Appeal Is Made of Industry By Mental Health

Business and industrial concerns in Ulster County are being contacted by letter requesting financial support for the work of Ulster County Association for Mental Health.

Chairman of fund raising is C. Kenneth Taber, of Milton, and manager of both the Federal Land Bank Association of Kingston, and the county office of the Farm Credit Service Association of Middletown.

Taber's assistant in this campaign is William J. Mathews Jr., of Kingston, of the WGHQ staff.

The goal of the association is to raise $8,000, in order to carry out the expanded program, which includes contributing to research on a national level, promotion of local treatment facilities and in particular the Ulster County Mental Health Center in Kingston, working for improved legislation as relating to mental illness, and the conducting of an extensive and specialized educational program in the county. Two examples of the latter are the Clergymen's Seminar in Pastoral Counseling, which was recently held at the Benedictine Hospital in Kingston, and the half-day workshop set for June 24, which is being conducted in cooperation with the County Departments of Welfare, Public Health, and Probation.

The association is supported entirely by local voluntary contributions. Taber and Mathews both said they are hoping for a fine response to this appeal, and are confident that many businesses and industry in the county recognize the importance of this work, and will give accordingly.

Contributions are being received by the executive secretary of the association, Mrs. Diana M. Geiger, at the office at 27 East O'Reilly Street.

Fulbright Will Be Given Greek's Side of Dispute

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—U.S. Sen. J. W. Fulbright arrived today to hear the Greek government's side of the Cyprus crisis threatening to weaken the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's eastern flank.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he had no solution for Cyprus to offer in talks scheduled tonight with Greek Premier George Papandreou. The senator said he came to listen and learn.

Fulbright flew from London where he launched on Tuesday his fact-finding mission for President Johnson. The senator conferred with Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, other British officials and Harold Wilson, leader of the opposition Labor party.

Fulbright pays a one-day visit Thursday to Ankara, Turkey, where Premier Ismet Inonu declared Tuesday that a dangerous situation exists in NATO because of the communal violence on Cyprus and Greece's backing of the island's Greek Cypriot government.

Gunfire erupted at three widely separated parts of Cyprus today, bringing Irish and Canadian U.N. forces into action to block threatening moves by both Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Wagner Is Not Seeking, But Not Running Away

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner said today he was not seeking the Democratic vice presidential nomination, but he would not turn down an offer for the position.

The mayor, mentioned as a possible choice for the nomination, was asked by newsmen at Kennedy Airport about the prospects of his being named.

"I have no idea," he replied. "I am not doing anything about the nomination. The selection is up to the President."

He added that he would not refuse such an honor if it were offered, and "very few people" would.

Wagner, 53, now is in his 11th year and third term as mayor.

Death of Whites Blamed on Group Given to Attacks

NEW YORK (AP)—The fatal stabbing of a white woman shopkeeper in Harlem has spurred police investigation of reports that a gang of Negro youths, dedicated to crime and attacks on whites, has been formed.

The slaying of Margit Sugar, 45, in her second-hand clothing store last Wednesday, apparently was unprovoked. Coupled with the deaths of three other whites in Harlem recently it gave rise to reports of a racial vendetta.

The New York Times quoted an unidentified source today as estimating the size of the gang at 400 and saying the youths had been trained by dissident members of the Black Muslim sect. Other published reports have placed the size at 60 to 80 members.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm declined to confirm or deny that such a gang exists. He said police would have no statement "until we have something on which we can take some action, until we really know what we are talking about."

James 67X, a spokesman for the group of former Black Muslims who broke away from the parent sect with Malcolm X, professed to have no knowledge of such a gang.

Other Harlem sources said they either knew nothing about the group or had merely heard rumors about it.

The lizard can replace its tail any number of times.

Won't Affect Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new dispute over work rules ruffled the railroad labor front today, but all sides agree the situation will not affect last month's White House rail settlement.

The new ruckus involved a charge by the railroads that the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen was about to strike several railroads.

The union is one of the five train operating brotherhoods involved in the recently ended national railroad strike threat.

The railroads went into U.S. District Court Tuesday and obtained a 10-day temporary restraining order barring strikes on any individual railroad pending a hearing next Monday.

Voting on One CR Amendment May Come Late Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 49 days of talk in the civil rights debate, the Senate finally reaches the voting stage today on one of the dozens of amendments pending to the bitterly disputed bill.

Only an informal agreement has been reached for this initial test. But supporters and foes of the measure said that at least one vote would be taken, probably late in the afternoon.

The vote, on a jury trial amendment of Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., will not be especially meaningful except possibly as an ice-breaker in the marathon debate.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he was hopeful his colleagues would go ahead promptly and take all of the votes needed to dispose of the jury trial issue, finishing with it tonight or Thursday.

But he pointed out there is no assurance that this can be done.

Ordinarily when the Senate begins voting on amendments to a major bill, the leaders have obtained an iron-clad agreement fixing an hour for the roll call or limiting debate on each amendment to an hour or two.

But nothing of the kind has been possible on the House-passed civil rights bill. Thus a vote can come only when the 19 Southerners fighting it fall silent and permit the test.

Levitt Foresees $250-Million Gap

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Comptroller Arthur Levitt foresees a $250-million gap between income and spending next year in New York State.

Levitt said Tuesday that income in the current year included $216 million in accelerated taxes and $29 million in one-time revenues under a new borrowing procedure for financing expansion of the State University.

"This portends a quarter-billion gap next year, when there will be no more taxes left to accelerate," the comptroller said.

He commented in announcing the publication of his preliminary annual report for the fiscal year that ended March 31. The figures in it were announced previously.

The comptroller, a Democrat, has been a continuing critic of the fiscal policies of Gov. Rockefeller, a Republican.

150-foot Dredge Sinks at Hudson, Ships Still Pass

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — Engineers said the way was clear today for resumption of ship traffic on the Hudson River where a 150-foot-long dredge sank off this city south of Albany.

All 32 men aboard reached shore safely when the multi-ton dredge went down Tuesday.

A spokesman for the Army Corps of Engineers, which is supervising the dredging project, said the barge was not blocking the shipping channel.

The engineers scheduled a meeting today to discuss raising the barge.

Passage of large ships was held up briefly yesterday until it was determined that the dredge was not an obstruction.

The channel is clear for a width of about 240 feet at the spot where the dredge rests on the bottom, its funnels and some of the superstructure protruding above the surface, the spokesman said.

He said the sinking occurred when the large pump on the dredge was being repaired, and a suction device was raised from the bottom of the river so the pump intake could be opened.

Somehow, he said, the suction device plunged back toward river bottom, leaving the pump intake open and allowing water to flow into the barge.

Lace Is In

The use of lace in sportswear is among the big news for spring. You'll see it in swimsuits, beach jackets and casual overblouses. There are even at-home pants in stretch lace.

Will Halt Bronx Job if Walkout Is Not Stopped

NEW YORK (AP)—The city's public works commissioner says all construction on the $25 million New York Terminal Market in the Bronx will be halted in 10 days unless a walkout of 41 white plumbers is ended.

The walkout started last Thursday when the plumbing contractor hired four non-union plumbers, three Puerto Rican and one Negro, to work at the project. The plumbers again walked off the job today.

The city's Human Rights Commission contends the dispute is racial. Officials of Plumbers Union Local 2, however, claim members left their jobs because the new workers were non-union.

Efforts to settle the dispute have broken up in disagreement.

One union man, who declined to give his name, said of the dispute: "If they were blond and blue-eyed, we still wouldn't work with them. In fact, if they were whites, they'd probably get their heads busted."

High Falls Man Succumbs

Joseph Hartman of 99 Center Road, High Falls, an employe of Hercules Powder Company, was taken ill this morning at approximately 7:10 and was conveyed from the plant to the Kingston Hospital by the A & A Ambulance Service. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital. Mr. Hartman had been under treatment for a heart ailment for some time.

The portrait of George Washington appears on the U. S. $1 bill.

Fordham Club

To Honor Supple At May 24 Fete In Poughkeepsie

Members of the Mid-Hudson Fordham Club, a chapter of the Fordham University Club of New York, are sponsoring a Fordham night in Poughkeepsie on Sunday, May 24, in which Supreme Court Justice Leonard J. Supple will be honored.

William J. Ciolko, acting president and Dr. Richard Kentrimas are co-chairmen of the event. Justice Supple is a Fordham graduate, Class of 1927.

Dinner is scheduled for 8 o'clock with cocktails set for 7 p. m. Dancing until midnight will follow the dinner.

Since facilities at the tennis club are limited to only 200 persons, requests for tickets must be made as soon as possible. Alumni are urged to purchase tickets before May 18.

Honorary chairmen for the dinner are Dr. James J. Toomey, Frank V. Mylod, Vincent W. Grady, Dutchess County Surrogate; Thomas D. Mahar, chairman, Dutchess County Board of Supervisors; Raymond C. Baratta, Dutchess County District Attorney.

Vice chairmen are Robert V. Frei, John B. Garrity, Robert L. Ostertag and John A. Wolf.

Justice Supple was appointed to the New York Supreme Court by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey on Sept. 10, 1954 to succeed former partner J. Gordon Flannery.

He served as Supervisor of the Town of Fishkill from 1934 to 1954 and was Chairman of the Board from 1942 to 1954.

Justice Supple is a veteran of World War 1, serving overseas with the 320th Infantry from May, 1917 to May, 1918.

He is past Post and County Commander of the American Legion; a member of the BPOE, member of the Bar Assn. of both Dutchess County and New York State.

A native of Beacon, he attended public schools in that city before graduating from Fordham Law School.

Service Changes In Post Office, Routes Outlined

The vast majority of the residents of Kingston will not be affected by the recently announced adjustment in parcel post and post office window services, Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk said today.

Newkirk explained his statement was prompted by some misunderstanding about the scope of these changes.

Saturday Service

Recapping the local postal situation, the Kingston postmaster pointed to these facts.

The following window service will be available on Saturday, at Main Office 8 a. m. to 12 noon; Rondout Station 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon. and Uptown Station 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon for stamps, register, COD, general delivery, including the mailing of parcel post.

Parcel post packages may be picked up on Saturday during window hours where notices have been left by carriers. No money orders will be issued Saturdays at Kingston Post Office including Uptown Station and Rondout Station. Money orders may be obtained at Contract Branch No. 1, Vincent Street, Kingston, and the St. Remy Rural Station.

Rural carriers will continue to take applications for money orders on Saturdays, and will also continue to give all service usually rendered postal patrons on RFD routes six days a week including the delivery of parcel post.

Delivery by Trucks

Parcel post delivery by truck adjustments in Kingston will affect 2¼ routes and on these routes no parcel post delivery will be made on Saturday. Small parcels weighing less than two pounds and not larger than a shoe box will be delivered by the foot carriers six days a week. Mounted route carriers will continue the delivery of parcel post six days a week.

At the same time, Newkirk said he has received information on the national scope of the service adjustments which indicate very little overall effect is anticipated from the order, which started Monday.

"Many of our local people who send mail to other points—many who visit other cities and transact postal business in those areas—and many others who will be in other communities at vacation time will be interested," he explained.

He released the followng national findings on the overall effect of the adjustment.

Parcel Post

1. Parcel post deliveries are not affected at all on 24,934 city routes where the carriers are "mounted" (on vehicles), on 32,299 rural delivery routes and on 7,802 contract (star) routes delivering mail. On 78,576 city delivery foot routes, parcels up to two pounds (and not bigger than a shoe box) will be delivered. About one-fourth of all parcel post packages are two pounds or less.

2. Service is affected only on parcel post routes (about 16,000 full and parttime routes) which will be in service five instead of six days a week. Postmasters will adjust service to local parcel volumes and only an estimated 6 to 8 per cent of total parcel post will be affected in any way.

3. More postal personnel are being assigned weekend duty at many post offices, and parcels will be speeded throughout the postal system for local deliveries at all points, including Kingston. This and other actions to eliminate delays will largely or entirely offset any delays that would otherwise result from the adjustment, and it is expected overall service will be improved.

4. About 28,000 smaller and medium-size post offices do not have any parcel post routes now and their service is not involved at all.

Window Service

1. The only principal service affected by the consolidation of window services into one window on Saturday mornings at some post offices (about 12,000 large offices) is domestic money order service.

2. Money order sales on Saturday will — with very few exceptions — continue in about 7,000 contract postal stations (typically located in suburban shopping center drug stores), providing domestic money order service in virtually every city where orders are not sold at the post office on Saturdays.

3. Consolidated windows will continue to provide all essential services—stamp sales, parcel post transactions, registry, COD services.

4. Post Office lobbies normally open on Saturday will not be "closed down." Lobbies will be open for lock box services, stamp dispenser service, mail deposit.

5. Postmasters at most smaller post offices will sell and rural carriers will continue to take applications for money orders on Saturdays. Postmasters can sell the orders if they can do so without change in manpower usage. Rural carriers serving out such offices will dispatch money orders received on Saturdays on the same day; otherwise if they serve out of larger city offices, their rural money order applications will be handled early Monday.

6. Window services in at least 20,000 post offices which have never had more than one window open on Saturdays are, of course, unchanged.

Kingston Library Presents Exhibit Of Watercolors

Kingston City Library will present an exhibition of the watercolors of John G. Ernst from May 6 to May 16. Ernst, a former resident of Woodstock, is now living in Kingston.

Born in Sao Paulo, Brazil of American parents, Ernst studied at the Bistram School of Fine Arts in Los Angeles, at the Art Students League in Woodstock and at the Saxon-Fells School of Art in Kingston. His works have been shown at Gallery East in New York City, in the Greenwich Village show, at Highland Park Gallery in Los Angeles and at the Artists' Association Gallery in Woodstock. His next show will be at the Shell Blick Gallery in Woodstock this summer.

"Ernst has never painted like Jackson Pollack or Robert Motherwell," said novelist-poet, Dachine Ranier, in an article in the Deer and Dachshund. "He seems impervious to the existence of Picasso. He derives as much pleasure from picture postcards and magazine covers as he does from the stuff that hangs around galleries. As a result unlike most young painters today, he is in a fair way of evolving a very personal style. His sensitivity, his imagination and his energy put him in a direct line towards becoming a major talent. His paintings soar with a most excited and unleashed imagination and a fervor and reverence for art that is boundless."

Deaths

HYATTSVILLE, Md. (AP)—Howard Zahniser, 58, executive director of the National Wilderness Society, died Tuesday. Zahniser was born in Franklin, Pa.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Herman E. Bakken, 71, a vice president of Aluminum Co. of America and general manager of the firm's refining division until his retirement in 1958, died Monday. Bakken was born in Faribault, Minn.

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Josiah J. Moore, 78, a pathologist and a member of the Chicago Board of Health since 1952, died Tuesday. Moore served as treasurer of the American Medical Association 15 years, retiring in 1958, and was a former president of the Chicago Medical Society.

Show-Off

MIAMI (AP) — A lary alligator in Everglades National Park has become a real show-off. The nine-foot 'gator wiggles to the top of a three-foot wall, pauses for the benefit of tourists, then plops into a pond. Chief naturalist Ernest Christensen said, "this little lady is delighting more people than a trained bear."

Andrew Jackson's portrait appears on the U. S. $20 bill.

Strong Armed

MIAMI (AP) — Al Kimball, pool manager of a Miami country club, was the victim of a "strong arm" robbery. Someone stole a 125-pound barbelll and got away by tossing it over a fence.

Nursery Registration

Dr. George Bond, principal of the New Paltz Campus School, has announced that registration for the Campus School Nursery School program will be held Friday for children who will be four on or before December 1, 1964.

Dr. Bond explained that parents must be accompanied by the child and bring with them a birth certificate and evidence of a successful vaccination. Registration will be held in rooms one and three of the Campus School from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p. m.

ChurchRummageSales

NEW PALTZ — St. Andrew's Church, 163 Main Street, New Paltz, will hold its annual spring rummage sale Thursday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., and Friday from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Available this year will be baby furniture, books, kitchen utensils, matching dishes and the usual large selection of clothing for all members of the family. There will be a separate section set aside for clothing in unusually good condition.

The Dutch Reformed Church, Huguenot Street, New Paltz will hold its annual spring sale under the auspices of the Women's Guild for Christian Service Friday and Saturday, May 15 and 16 in the church education building.

For sale will be old things, new things, furniture, toys, clothing, and articles too numerous to mention. A surprise is in the offering this year and will be made public at a later date. Anyone wishing to donate and needing transportation, may contact either Mrs. John Shand, chairman, or Mrs. Roy Upright.

Mission Speaker Slated Tonight At Willow Church

The Rev. Harold Johnson, missionary to Japan since 1952 will speak tonight 7:30 at the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Route 212, Willow.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson, who returned to the states with his family in the summer of 1963, is engaged in deputation work among the churches of the denomination.

The Johnsons, who are missionaries of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of America, have been cooperating with the Immanuel Church of Japan, an indigenous denomination with which the Wesleyan Church is federated. Their work has been in the Bible school in Tokyo and in evangelism.

He will describe the picturesque country he serves, its people and the work of the mission there. Colored slides will be shown.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson together with his wife and four children expect to return to Japan upon the completion of their furlough.

Public may attend.

Ice Cubes Sizzle

COXSACKIE, N.Y. (AP)—The ice cubes at Mrs. Marie Barus' house are cloudy white, and when you pop them into a glass of water they sizzle noisily.

The reason, confirmed by laboratory tests, is that the water in her back-yard well is naturally carbonated. Tiny bubbles in the water cause the unusual effect.

Mrs. Barus finds the water delicious—and so do her friends and neighbors. She gives them all they want, free.

Many Could Have Aided Girl, 18

NEW YORK (AP) — Police have unfolded details of what they term a second case of shocking indifference by New Yorkers to young women being attacked.

Drew Blank Stares

The latest instance involves an 18-year-old Bronx telephone operator. Police said she drew only blank stares from a crowd of onlookers in broad daylight as she screamed she had been raped and still was being attacked in the vestibule of an office building.

"Forty people could have helped that girl, but none of those jerks helped her," Patrolman Norman Brown said in Bronx Criminal Court Tuesday. He and another patrolman heard the screams as they passed the building.

Father of Two Held

George Coughlin, 26, married and the father of two children, was held in $7,500 bail as the alleged rapist of Miss Olga Romero Tuesday. He worked in the same building as did the slim, five-foot victim.

Coughlin denied the girl's charges. He said he found the girl naked and unconscious on the floor of the second-floor office and placed a jacket around her.

Miss Romero had blackened eyes, a bleeding mouth and neck bruises. She said the injuries were inflicted by her assailant, who stripped her and raped her.

The Bronx case recalled the fatal stabbing of Miss Catherine Genovese on March 13 in Kew Gardens, Queens. Detectives later discovered 38 persons had seen the attack on Miss Genovese during a 35-minute period without aiding her or summoning police.

March 1 is St. David's Day, the feast day of Wale's patron saint.

3 Arrests Solve Paltz Burglaries, Troopers Report

Arrest of Clayton Willie Witted, 18, of Hudson Street, Newburgh, and two juveniles Tuesday by State Trooper P. M. Luongo may have cleared up a series of recent burglaries in the New Paltz area, state police report.

Witted was arrested on a third degree burglary charge, arraigned before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly of Town of Ulster and after waiving examination was held for grand jury action and committed to jail. The two juveniles will be petitioned to Family Court.

State Police reported a series of burglaries in the New Paltz area in recent time, among them was the Benson's Men's and Boys' Clothing and Furnishings Store; Schuman's Army and Navy Store; Pine's Gift Shop and Esposito's Cleaners and Dyers Store, all on Main Street, New Paltz.

Valor Awards Go To Carrier Boys For Heroic Feats

KIAMESHA LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—The New York State Circulation Managers Association has presented valor awards to three young Buffalo Evening News carrier boys.

The awards, presented for lifesaving feats performed by the boys while they were on their routes, were announced Tuesday at the association's meeting here.

Durward Hutchinson, 15, of Akron, N.Y., was cited for saving a drowning girl who was stuck in the mud under water.

Charles Van Arsdale Jr., 14, of Castile, was named for rescuing a youth trapped under a snowdrift.

And Mark Usewitz, 16, of Buffalo, was cited for rescuing an elderly woman he found unconscious in a gas-filled house.

Capital Newspapers, publishers of the Times-Union and the Knickerbocker News in Albany, won the association's top award for Newspaper Boy Day promotion.

Wreckage Bares 10th Yank Body

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The body of a 10th American was found today in the charred wreckage of a U.S. Army transport plane which crashed while taking off Tuesday from Tan Hiep, 25 miles south of Saigon.

An Army spokesman said the Americans were two Army officers, a Marine offieer, an Army warrant officer and six soldiers. Six Vietnamese military personnel also were killed.

A military source said the crash still was being investigated. Most eyewitness accounts indicated mechanical failure, the source said, but there were some unofficial reports of ground fire in the area at the time the plane's left engine burst into flames seconds after takeoff.

Both Parties Had Their Chances

Two Sorest Points in Our Foreign Policy: Cuba, Viet

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two sorest points in American foreign policy now are the dilapidated condition of the war in South Viet Nam and Fidel Castro's continued survival in Cuba.

The Republicans will make them major talking points unless these conditions change before the presidential campaign. They're already doing it.

If the opposite happened—the Vietnamese war improved or Castro fell—President Johnson's political chances would take a great leap forward. He has a stake in both.

For this reason, while Viet Nam remains unchanged, special interest fastens on rumblings now heard that Cuban exiles are planning some action against Castro.

The Republicans didn't solve the Vietnamese war although they had a try at it. This country poured aid into South Viet Nam through President Dwight D. Eisenhower's last four years.

They had two years under Eisenhower to try their luck with Castro who took charge in Cuba at the beginning of 1959. He remained calmly unbudged.

The Democrats didn't do any better. They had more than three years under the administrations of President John F. Kennedy and Johnson to win in Asia and eliminate Castro.

But the Republicans are now in effect calling the Democrats namby-pamby on Cuba and Asia and demanding action while remaining vague on what kind.

The Democrats would escape the burden of having to explain if somehow they could find some solutions or make the Republicans share their burden.

They did manage to get Henry Cabot Lodge, who could wind up being the Republican presidential candidate, involved in Viet Nam by making him the American ambassador there. But he can't do anything by himself. He can only recommend.

It's doubtful Johnson can find a Vietnamese victory without far more direct American involvement than Democrats or Republicans have wanted to risk, since war with Red China could follow.

So the Vietnamese problem may drag on unchanged. But that's far away. Cuba and Castro, being closer, are more painful in some ways.

This government got burnt in 1961 when Kennedy backed the disastrous invasion of Cuba by Cuban exiles but wouldn't support them when they were smashed on the beaches. The whole business was a fiasco and a national embarrassment.

The United States not only hasn't tried anything similar since but even stopped the exiles from using this country as a base for raids on Cuba. It tried to content itself by trying to ruin Castro by a boycott on trade with him.

This hasn't been successful, either, because the Allies ignore the boycott and keep on selling to him.

Now come rumors that the exiles are going to use some Latin-American country as a base for trying to destroy Castro through raids or sabotage or harassments. That may take some doing, if they try it.

No matter how much the Johnson administration denied any complicity in this, the first of the world would probably be unconvinced. It almost certainly couldn't happen without the Central Intelligence Agency knowing about it.

State Department officials—according to the phrasing of diplomatic reporters — appeared unanimous in negative reactions to reports that the exiles were getting ready to move against Castro.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said, "I would not anticipate in the near future overthrow of Castro himself by the action of Cubans taken there." He said Castro's internal control measures seem solid.

But it would take some of the Republican heat off Johnson if some kind of action was taken against Castro, no matter how indirectly.

White House Reports:

President's Heart Good Despite Whirlwind Pace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite the whirlwind pace he's been keeping, President Johnson's heart—the heart that suffered an attack in 1955—is apparently still doing fine.

That was the indication from the White House today in answer to a query concerning the state of the President's health.

The query was motivated by the fact the President, ever since he took office, has maintained a fast and vigorous working schedule—ranging from sudden airplane trips to fast-paced on-the-hoof news conferences held on the quarter-mile driveway behind the White House.

At least one published report has said some of Johnson's associates have been worried about his energetic pace — in view of his history of having had one heart attack.

However, there are indications the President knows how to mix rest and relaxation with his fast-stepping work day.

The White House said Johnson's latest electrocardiograph examination—a test of his heart function—showed a normal finding. The same is true of his pulse, blood pressure and breathing rate.

Furthermore, there is "no enlargement of the heart," the White House said. It was the first technical word on Johnson's health since Dec. 4, shortly after he took office.

None of Johnson's own doctors—and he has them in various parts of the country as well as the White House—were available for interviews on the subject.

But one doctor outside the White House—who has nothing to do with President Johnson's case—told a reporter the information given out by the White House, together with the obvious fact that Johnson has been leading a fast work pace, add up to this, in his opinion:

"The fact that he has been able to maintain the pace gives reassurance that his coronary attack of 1955 was well-healed."

The doctor said the medical details given out by the White House could be interpreted this way:

1. "Normal" EKG: Means that the electrical-conducting system that makes the heart work was not damaged permanently by Johnson's coronary thrombosis in 1955.

2. "Normal" pulse: Means that Johnson's heart is responding well to its work-load—that is, it's not going too fast, or too slow.

3. "No enlargement of the heart": Means for one thing that the area of heart muscle damaged when a clot blocked Johnson's coronary artery during the 1955 attack has healed well. It also means that unaffected muscle in the heart has been able to carry the heart's work-load without becoming enlarged.

Signs that the President knows how to taper off from a hard-driving schedule include the following:

During his walkathon in the White House backyard last Saturday he told reporters he is usually in bed by 11 p.m. — and watches television or reads until about 2 a.m.

He is awake by 6:45 a.m.—automatically, and without any alarm clock, he indicated—but he stays abed a couple of hours after that, reading, or just resting.

Thus, he indicated, he rests up to 10 hours, even though he's not sleeping that long.

Moreover, he swims before lunch—and takes a nap every afternoon.

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market inched toward new highs early this afternoon after an uncertain morning.

Most of the gains were extremely narrow. Trading was active with first hour volume at the busiest pace of the week.

Steels, utilities, chemicals and oils showed slightly higher trends. Autos, mail order-retail, aircraft-and airline and rail issues were irregular.

At noon The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was ahead .5 at 306.0, close to the all-time high of 306.7 recorded last month. The industrial component added .4, rails .6 and utilities .5. At the same hour the Dow Jones industrial average was up .44 at 827.07. The closing high was 827.33 on April 17.

Steels led the ragged advance, replacing the oils which showed the way Tuesday. Jones and Laughlin gained close to 2.

Sears Roebuck, up about 6 in the last two sessions, fell back around a point while Woolworth advanced almost 1½.

Profit taking continued in two of the market's recent leaders, Curtis Publishing and Texas Gulf Sulphur. The former fell about ½ and the latter double that.

American Stock Exchange prices edged higher.

Bond prices were mostly unchanged.

License Suspended

A 10-day suspension of the restaurant liquor license held by Sangi's Bowlero, 20 Cedar Street, was reported Tuesday by the New York State Liquor Authority. The suspension is from May 4 to 14 and the listed violation was "sale of alcoholic beverage to a minor." The authority announced disciplinary action against 17 licensees in various areas of the state. Two licenses and one permit were canceled.

Taft, Bud

His slate of unpledged electors won by a lop-sided margin over a pro-Johnson ticket. Once more Alabama Democrats are in full revolt against the national party.

In Macon County, Ala., scene of racial unrest, three out of four Negroes seeking office appeared to have won Democratic nomination.

FLORIDA—Spessard L. Holland, a senator for 18 years, won the Democratic nomination for a fourth term.

Six Democrats were running for governor. Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville and Mayor Robert King High of Miami won spots in the May 26 runoff.

NEW MEXICO—Land Commissioner E. S. Johnny Walker had a narrow lead over State Sen. Fabian Chavez in their race for the Democratic nomination as U.S. representative.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA—Purely local stuff here. The Rev. E. Franklin Jackson, former district chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, won with his slate for Democratic party offices.

Indiana Breakdown

Getting around to the scorecard on some of the major races, here's the breakdown on Indiana:

With 4,240 of 4,416 precincts counted, Welsh had 355,632 votes to Wallace's 165,437.

Goldwater led Stassen by 248,986 to 99,535.

In Ohio, with 10,637 of 13,311 precincts reporting, Taft had buried Brown, 505,551 to 139,985.

Young was ahead of Glenn, 388,131 to 169,118.

Oh, yes. Everyone knows the gist of what a candidate says when he wins and when he loses, but what of the candidate who runs well in a race from which he officially withdrew?

Down in Houston, Tex., John Glenn said his only hopes now are for improving health.

"Just plan to get better," he said. "My progress is coming along pretty good."

Firemen Avert Serious Blaze at Phoenicia Station

Excellent work by members of the Phoenicia Fire Department Monday prevented a very serious fire at the Alamo Service Station on Main Street, Phoenicia.

At approximately 6:30 p. m., while a Mobile truck from Newburgh was filling the station gas tanks, fire broke out in a vent pipe attached to the service station. The driver of the truck immediately drove his truck from the area and firemen were summoned.

Before the blaze, which is of undetermined origin, was out there had been some $500 to $600 damage done to the station. The fire apparently was started by some unknown cause in fumes from the vent pipe. The interior of the gas station, which is operated by James Gardner, was damaged considerably. Gardner was at home to dinner when the fire started. Firemen were at the scene for close to an hour before the recall was sounded. No one was injured.

Criterions Corps Announces Ties With Legion Post

Announcement this week that the Criterions have affiliated with Kingston Post 150 of the American Legion continues a long-standing interest of the local post in drum and bugle corps.

The Criterions will carry the flag of the Kingston post in all of the parades and competitions in which they will appear this season, and it will be displayed at the 10th annual Pageant of Champions, sponsored by the Hudson Valley corps at Dietz Stadium on Memorial Day at 8 p. m., it was announced today by James Gilpatric, commander of the local post.

Kingston Legionaires organized their own fife, drum and bugle corps in 1927, a 50-man unit composed entirely of members of Post 150. The corps was under the direction of Morton Finch, and appeared in its first state Legion convention competition at Schenectady in 1928. The Kingston corps captured third place.

A singular distinction was accorded the Kingston Legion unit at San Antonio, Texas in 1928 when they were selected to lead the national Legion parade. A year later they made their second appearance in a national convention when they paraded at Louisville, Ky. Subsequent national convention performances included Boston in 1930 and in New York City in 1937. They also appeared at New York State conventions during the time they were organized.

It was at the Buffalo convention that the famed Doodle Dorfer band was organized, comprised of members of the Legion corps.

During the World War II years, when both the Port Ewen and Kingston Post corps ranks were depleted, they joined forces to appear in the Memorial Day parade.

The affiliation of the Criterions with the Kingston Post was described by Commander Gilpatric "as an unanimous decision by our membership to become associated with a corps that has distinguished itself in this area and whose annual pageant at the stadium is one of the outstanding entertainment events of the year."

The Criterions on the holiday night at the stadium will present five of the leading corps from the Eastern Seaboard in competition, and a special exhibition by the Hawthorne Cabelleros, winners of the American Legion title for six straight years.

Fire at 86 B'way Blamed on Short, 2 Floors Damaged

A fire started by a short circuit in an electric line burned a pile of cotton batting and damaged a third-floor area in the four-story building housing Andy's Furniture Company, 86 Broadway, Tuesday afternoon.

Fire damage was on the floor occupied by the Dana Safety Heater Co. The furniture company occupies the first floor, the Arlene Dress Company is on the second floor, and the fourth is vacant. Slight water damage was reported on the first and second floors.

Units from Central and Cornell stations, Wicks and Rapid companies, with Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard in charge, answered a call at 2:06 p. m. Two pump streams were used.

The building is owned by Benjamin and Lena Magaldino, of 10 Schryver Court.

A coffee pot handle ignited this morning in a house at 26 Post Street occupied by Major Hardin causing a slight fire. Units from Central and Cornell stations and the Wicks Company answered a call at 10:18 a. m.

Israel Tests Project

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel has started testing its Jordan River diversion project to channel irrigation water into the Negev Desert.

Officials said if several weeks of tests are satisfactory, the project will go into operation this summer.

Leaders of the 13 Arab states have warned they will oppose the project under "the legitimate right of self-defense." They are making plans to divert headwaters of the rivers.

No License Is Charged

Leon Washington, 19, of 238 East Union Street, involved in a two-car mishap near 74 Broadway Tuesday night, was charged with driving without a license. He is due for city court hearing Thursday. The other car was driven by William Wolfeil Jr., 43, of 13 Second Avenuue. Washington was treated at Kingston Hospital for injuries of the right leg and left eye. Officers George Dougherty and Charles Diers investigated.

Corporation Counsel Harry Gold notified the council by letter that the planning board had adopted its code of sub-division regulations and he submitted it for consideration of the aldermen. It was left with the laws and rules committee.

Mayor John J. Schwenk, Corporation Counsel Gold and City Engineer Thomas J. Wickman were granted permission to attend the New York State Mayors Conference in New York City June 14 through 18.

Three members of the Kingston City Laboratory were granted permission to attend the annual meeting of the Blood Bank Association in New York May 15, and the New York State Public Health Laboratory annual meeting in Binghamton May 21. The laboratory employes due to attend the meetings were not named.

Requests by Fire Chief James M. Brett and Edmund T. Cloonan, water department superintendent, and Edwin L. Wetterhahn, water department cashier and assistant secretary to the water board, to attend meetings out of the state, were left with the finance committee.

Chief Brett asked permission to attend the annual meeting of the International Association of Fire Chiefs at Houston, Texas in October, and Cloonan and Wetterhahn, asked approval of their attendance June 1 through 5 at the annual meeting in Toronto, Canada, of the American Water Works Association.

Ask Police Action

Two aldermen, Leonard Van Dyke (D) Sixth Ward, and Anthony J. Alecca (R) Fifth Ward, asked for a police check on speeding and reckless driving in downtown areas.

VanDyke said driving appeared to be most reckless in his ward over weekends. His car, he said, was recently damaged by a hit-and-run vehicle and others were damaged over past weekends.

Alecca said he had received early morning telephone calls complaining of drag racing in the Delaware Avenue and North Street areas.

The city clerk's office was directed to inform Police Chief Robert F. Murphy by letter of the requests for special police attention.

The aldermen were invited by a letter from Frank T. Roedell, chairman, to attend the Memorial Day parade arranged by the Kingston Veterans Association.

Reject Reorganization

TOKYO (AP)—The pro-Communist Pathet Lao rejected "any reorganization or expansion of the Laotian coalition government," the New China News Agency said today.

The Red Chinese broadcast apparently was Pathet Lao Prince Souphanouvong's answer to proposals presented him by neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma at a meeting Tuesday of the two Laotian leaders.

Prince Souvanna flew to the Pathet Lao headquarters at Khanh Khay, 110 miles north of Vientiane, in another effort to get Souphanouvong to rejoin the coalition government, which the 1962 Geneva conference on Laos set up.

How Lonely Widow Can Add $300 Annual Income

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am a widow, alone, and unable to work. My only income is from my stocks which include 184 shares American Telephone; 108 Bank of America; 50 Union Oil of California. I need a little more income. Do you advise switching any of these?"—G. H.

A) I am always pleased to help some one in your lonely position.

I would suggest no switches at all, except to supply you with additional income.

In your particular circumstances, I believe you are holding too much American Telephone. Much as I like the stock, the yield is only 2.8 per cent and you can do better than that — with some sacrifice of growth.

I would sell 84 shares and place the proceeds in equal dollar amounts of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass, yielding 4.7 per cent, and Continental Can, offering a 4.6 per cent return. I would switch Union Oil into General Motors.

These changes would add over $300 annually to your income.

Q) "I am interested in exchanging my series E bonds for series H to get current income. The bonds I hold matured some years ago. What about the interest they have accrued? Also, can I cash these H Bonds whenever I need funds?" — J. C.

A) I think you are very wise to stay with savings bonds. They are the safest and most stable of all investments.

As soon as you make an exchange application, your E bonds are evaluated as to total principal and interest accruals to date. This amount is rounded off into minimum units of $500 — the lowest H bond denomination.

Income tax liability on accrued interest on all E bonds exchanged may be deferred until maturity or redemption of H bonds. These yield 2½ per cent in the first 18 months and 4 per cent thereafter to maturity.

H bonds are redeemable at par after 6 months of holding and upon one month's written notice.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Rondout Valley Elects 5, Votes $2,053,197 Budget

Five trustees for the Rondout Valley Central School were re-elected Tuesday and the voters of the district also approved a $2,053,197 budget for school operation for 1964-65.

The budget was approved by a vote of 370 in favor and 96 opposed. There were 12 blank and void ballots, for a total of 478.

The vote for the five positions on the board was:

Three-year term — George Stockin 345. Sidney Gray 127. Blank and void 3.

Three-year term — Percy Greene 290. John Phillips 176. Blank and void 10.

Three-year term — Clarence Coogan 288. Myrtle Strong 167. Blank and void 21.

One-year term—Bruce Miller 417. Blank and void 52. There were 7 write-ins. Miller fills the term left vacant by the resignation of Kevin Reynolds, a former president of the board, who moved out of the district.

Two year term. John Schoonmaker Jr., 428. Blank and void 41. There were seven write-ins. Mr. Schoonmaker fills out the term of Franklin Kelder, who was serving as president of the board when he resigned to become supervisor of the town of Marbletown and was succeeded by J. Richard Shiel as president of the board.

Marlboro Passes Propositions for Expansion Plans

Voters of the Marlboro Central School District yesterday approved two propositions submitted, one for acquiring a new site for a junior-senior high school and the second for an appropriation for an addition to the Marlboro Elementary school. Both were approved by overwhelming votes.

Marlboro Central School District will hold its annual meeting during the third week of June.

Authority to acquire a 42-acre tract of land on Plattekill Turnpike, approximately a mile west of Marlboro was voted 964 to 312. The proposition calls for acquiring the property at $1,100 an acre and not to exceed $51,000 for purchase of real property and all costs. It was the third time that the proposal to acquire property had been submitted to the voters, the first vote on the present site.

The vote on the propsal to make available $269,000 for an addition to the Marlboro elementary school was passed by a vote of 1161 to 147. Plans, which have not been finalized, call for additional class rooms and necessary facilities.

Highland Defeats $1,439,000 for School Expenses

A proposed budget of $1,439,000 was defeated by the voters of the Highland Central School District No. 3, Tuesday by 7 votes. The vote was 108 in favor of adoption and 101 against.

An official of the school district today said no plans were immediately available as to the next move for financing the school costs for the coming year. The board of education will take that matter under consideration. Whether the budget will be resubmitted or a new budget presented is not decided.

Voters in the district were voting today for two members of the board of trustees. The five-year terms of Charles Andola and Leo Rizzo expire and they do not seek re-election.

Seeking to be elected to the term of Andola is Louis Canino and Nicholas Marone. Candidates for the term of Rizzo are Joseph Alfanso and Joseph Costantino.

Late-Hour Vote In Ellenville Blow to Budget

Lateness of the hour at which a vote was taken on the matter of approval of a school budget for the Ellenville Central School District, was called by some residents the cause for defeat of the proposed $1,903,330 budget which was presented at the board meeting Tuesday night at the Maple Avenue School.

It was approximately 12:15 a. m. this morning when a vote was called for an the tentative budget was defeated by a vote of 241 to 212. It was reported that some 100 other persons who had been at the meeting had left before the vote was taken.

President Ben Miller presented the budget after it had been read. A vote was called for at approximately 10:15 p. m. but the motion for the vote was called out of order until the entire budget had been read.

The proposed $1,903,330 budget showed an increase of approximately 3 per cent over the previous budget.

No announcement as to whether the present tentative budget will be re-submitted or a revised burget prepared.

The board will meet again on May 26, at 7:30 p. m. to present the budget proposal again.

Approve $2,401,635 School Budget; Down 20-Mile Limit

A budget of $2,401,635.50 was approved 153 to 37, and a proposal to extend the transportation of pupils to non-public schools to a 20-mile limit was defeated 158 to 81 at Tuesday night's annual meeting of Saugerties Central School District taxpayers.

If estimated stat aid and total assessed valuation figures hold or are confirmed as higher, a decrease in the basic tax rate can be anticipated.

Decrease Seen

The estimated basic rate figure listed in the preliminary budget is $82.884 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. This is a decrease of $1.627 under last year's basic rate of $84.511.

The actual rate cannot be determined until the estimated income is confirmed.

The total appropriations approved last night indicates an increase over last year of $240,868.91.

The estimated revenues include state aid $1,471,658.15; estimated balance $81,827.77; teacher retirement withheld 1964-1965 $73,703.50; athletic receipts $3,000; incidental receipts $4,000, and federal aid $3,500 for a total of $1,571,080.04.

This leaves a preliminary figure of $830,555.46 to be raised by taxation. The estimated assessed valuation on which the rate is based is $10,020,608.

See 3,591 Enrollment

The budget listed an anticipated enrollment for 1964-1965 of 3,591 and a staff of 165.

The major budgetary increases include principal and teachers' salaries, including new teachers and increments, pensions, social security and retirement, $72,332; supplemental retirement $14,507.31; transportation $2,800; health insurance (changeover to state plan) $8,692; other salaries $5,276; miscellaneous operation of schools $22,396.60; bonds and interest $103,335, and grounds and building $11,530.

One of the items questioned from the floor was a $7,000 figure for the paving of the parking area at Mt. Marion School. The old parking area was ripped up for the extension being constructed. The bid for paving the parking area was $4,000. However the budget was made up prior to the bidding and the job was estimated at $7,000.

Also questioned was an increase of $8,464.10 for repairs to buildings. Business Manager Gerald L. Snyder explained that a certain number of windows in each classroom must be changed to meet new state safety regulations which become effective September 1.

President Herb and Dexter O. Arnold, superintendent of schools answered several inquires from the floor.

Presents Resolution

Perry Bunyar presented a resolution asking for the extension of transportation to non-public schools from the 10-mile limit to 20 miles. Although not stated, it had been reported that transportation is being sought for high school pupils wishing to attend St. Ursula's Academy, Kingston and St. Patrick's Academy, Catskill.

Discussion of the matter brought out that about 40 additional students are involved. About 125 are now being transported to Kingston. An estimated cost figure of from $6,000 to $7,000 was reported. An extra bus would be required for the run to Catskill.

It was assumed that the present service to Kingston could absorb the additional students coming within the 20-mile limit.

After lengthy discussion the proposal was defeated 158 to 81 with two blanks. A total of 241 persons voted.

Attorney Daniel N. Lamb was elected chairman of the meeting.

Board of Education President Robert Herb read the usual letter from Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr.

Attorney Morris Rosenblum presented the resolution moving for the adoption of the budget. The vote was 153 to 37 with one blank. Only 191 voted in comparison to the earlier vote on the 20-mile limit.

Election Is Today

Election of school board members is being held today from noon to 9 p. m. at Main Street School.

Three seats on the board will be filled by the district voters.

Henry Breitenbach of High Woods and Edwin Olsen of Katsbaan, both incumbents are running unopposed.

The contest for the seat vacated by Steve Stycos includes the following candidates:

Mrs. Carolyn C. France of Barclay Heights (former District 10), a former correspondent of the Freeman and prominent in P-TA activities; Harry C. Hoffman of Churchland Road, a former board member, and Mrs. Anna F. Karashay of Division Street, who is well-known for her CYO activities.

School Orchestra, And Band Concert Program Listed

The program for Saugerties Central Schools' band and orchestra concert Friday at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium was announced today.

The program will include a violin solo by Elizabeth Farquharson; trumpet solo by Richard Kudlacik; trombone solo by Phyllis McLaughlin, and a trumpet solo by Richard Curtis.

The senior band and orchestra will present a variety of selections.

The dance band will present some of the selections which they plan to play during their appearance at the Worlds Fair.

W. Camp Church Slates Family Day on Sunday

On the occasion of Mothers Day, a family service will be held Sunday at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp at 10 a. m. Sunday school classes will be suspended and the pupils will attend the worship service.

An exploratory meeting to determine the interest in establishing a youth fellowship in the church for young people 16 years and over, will be held Wednesday 7:30 p. m. in the parish hall.

If enough interest is shown by the young people, five members of the Church Council will serve as advisers, a name for the group will be chosen, a meeting night set and plans for election of officers will be announced.

Lutheran Church Lists Activities

Coming activities at Atonement Lutheran Church, Market Street, Saugerties, were announced this week by the Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor.

Lutheran World Action Sunday will be observed at Atonement Lutheran Church in conjunction with all Lutheran Churches of the United States and Canada to support a budget for world action and relief of some two million dollars.

Tuesday, May 12, at 8 p. m. the church council will meet at the church. The group will consider the selection of a delegate to attend the annual meeting of the New York Synod at Jamestown, June 1 to 4. There will be reports by the building, evangelism youth and stewardship committees as well as the pastor.

New Gothic style lamps have been installed in Atonement Lutheran Church in the nave, narthex and rear primary room. The lamps of sextagonal in shape, with blue and red decorative glass jewels reflect symbols of the vine and branches. The fixtures are finished in gold bronze, with white glass. They are three-phased permitting variation of volume to suit needs and purposes. They were installed as part of the Atonement improvement drive with funds contributed by the membership.

Atonement Lutheran Church Women will meet Thursday, May 14 at 8 p. m. in the church basement. Devotions will be in charge of Mrs. Edward Junker of Partition Street. The topic "From Continent to Continent" will be given by Mrs. Charles Gippert of Robinson Street. Mrs. Harry Knaust and Mrs. Raymond Kropp of Spaulding Lane, Saugerties, will be the hostesses for the evening. Mrs. William Goetz of Mt. Marion Park will preside. A report will be made on the purchase of new dishes for the church, the purchase and installation of new curtains for the basement Sunday school room. A report will be given on plans for the mother and daughter dinner to be held Thursday, May 21 at 6 p. m.

Commendation Awarded Dargan

A gold seal of commendation has been awarded by the Automobile Club of New York to James J. Dargan, Saugerties Dodge-Plymouth dealer, in recognition of its contributions to the high school driver education program during the 1963-64 school year.

In a letter to Dargan, Charles J. Murphy, the auto club's director of traffic engineering and safety, praised the dealer for its "outstanding community service" in providing a new Dodge dual-control training car for use by students enrolled in the driver education course at Saugerties Central High School. This participation, he said, will go a long way in helping reduce accidents on the highway.

This is the third consecutive year that the dealer has made a car available on loan to the school.

The high school driver education program, pioneered by the AAA since 1936, offers both behind-the-wheel and classroom instruction to teenagers. This year, more than 12,000 high schools in the country are training some 1,333,000 students.

Congregational Church Announces Activities

The Day of the Christian Family will be observed at the 11 a. m. Sunday worship service at First Congregational Church, Main Street, Saugerties.

The senior members of the congregation will be appropriately honored with loving recognition and a brief reception in the church school rooms following the service.

Mrs. Charles Walker, chairman of the dedication committee will be in charge,

The foodless food sale started in April by the Women's Fellowship is still in progress. Those wishing to participate may speak with any member of the group. The program started to secure new dishes for the church is moving slowly, it was reported.

A rummage sale will be held by the group at Johnstone's store, Main Street, May 14, 15 and 16.

FlatbushScoutingNotes

Members of Cub Pack 39 and Troop 39 of Flatbush Reformed Church have scheduled a visit to Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh on May 16 on the observance of Armed Forces Day. They will view an air show at the field.

Cub Pack 39 will hold its annual picnic at Cubmaster B. M. Piastro's beach picnic area.

Registration Not Needed to Vote in Saugerties Today

Several inquiries have been received from new residents in Saugerties Central School District regarding eligibility to vote in today's election of board of education members.

The polls at Main Street School, Saugerties close at 9 p. m.

It is not necessary to register prior to the election. Those voting sign a register at the school before receiving a ballot.

A voter to be eligible must be a citizen of the United States, and at least 21 years of age, a resident within the district for 30 days prior to the election and must possess one of three qualifications:

Owns or is the spouse of an owner, leases, hires, or is in possession under contract of purchase of real property in the district, excluding lodgers or boarders.

Is a parent of a child of school age, provided such a child shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks during the year.

Or has permanently residing with him a child of school age who has attended for at least eight weeks.

Centerville Vols Cover 5 Alarms During Tuesday

Cedar Grove and Centerville volunteer firemen of Centerville Fire Department responded to five alarms within 15 hours Tuesday.

In addition to those reported yesterday, both Centerville and Cedar Grove units responded to a brush fire at the old Saugerties railroad station about 5:05 p. m. No damage was reported.

At 10:42 the volunteers answered an alarm on the Fish Creek Road where they extinguished a brush pile which became ignited.

Earlier, Malden-West Camp Fire Company responded to a call near Canoe Hill in the Centerville District and were fighting the blaze when Cedar Grove volunteers responded.

Centerville and Cedar Grove units extinguished a house fire at High Woods about 8 a. m. The unoccupied two-story frame dwelling is owned by Thomas Woerthman of Saxton. The blaze was contained to the kitchen and utility room.

Shortly after returning to station the vols were called to extinguish a brush fire near the Hanser Motel on the Quarryville hill, Route 32.

Flatbush Church Notes

The youth group of Flatbush Reformed Church will serve a smorgasbord dinner June 20 in Loughran Hall at the church. The public is invited.

A meeting of the Flatbush Reformed Church congregation will be held May 17 immediately following the regular worship service. The meeting will be held in Loughran Hall.

Palatines Dinner

West Camp Palatines dartball team will hold its annual banquet Thursday, May 21 at 6:30 p. m. in Mt. Marion Inn.

Those planning to attend should make reservations for themselves and their guests with Frank Sloboda or Al Cawein by Sunday, May 17.

Town Notes

Mrs. Rita Troiano went to New York to visit some of her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton A. Jehle and their two daughters, Diane and Linda, of West Babylon, L. I. made a stop at their parents house over the weekend. On their way home they will stop at Camp Matta-Wacca in Bear Mountain. Linda expects to spend some time there with the Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Robert Compitello, Mrs. Eugene Patryk and daughters, Doreen and Judy, spent the weekend of April 25 at Avon, Geneseo.

On April 25, Mrs. Compitello and Mrs. Patryk attended a Rebekah Secretarial School, in Avon and were only 10 miles from Geneseo State University, where Andrea Patryk is a student. They spent the weekend at the girls dormitory.

Judy Patryk celebrated her birthday at this time. A surprise party was given to her by the girls at the domitory.

Concerning Methodist Conference

2 Bishops Differ on Law About Race of Membership

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Northern bishop and a Southern bishop held differing interpretations today on a new Methodist Church law saying persons of any race are eligible to worship or hold membership in any Methodist church.

Bishop John Owen Smith of Atlanta, Ga., said the key word is "eligible." He said that doesn't mean persons of any race must necessarily be admitted to any Methodist church.

Bishop James K. Mathews of Boston, said it is his feeling that Methodist churches are under a "compulsion of faith" to abide by the intent of the law and thus are obligated to throw open their doors to everyone.

The church's general conference, holding its quadrennial meeting in Pittsburgh's Civic Arena, adopted the new law Tuesday night. Approval came on a show of hands and without debate.

The law reads: "The Methodist Church is a part of the church universal. Therefore, all persons, without regard to race, color, natural origin, or economic condition, shall be eligible to attend its worship services, to participate in its programs, and to be admitted into its membership anywhere in the connection."

Bishop Smith was asked to give his interpretation of it.

He said: "All people are eligible. Eligible means they are free to go and should be admitted. I don't know if that makes it binding on them to be let in."

If a person would be kept out of a church, the bishop added, it would not be a matter of prejudice but a matter of custom, particularly in the South.

Bishop Mathews said it appeared to him it is the responsibility of pastors to see that the intent of the new law is fulfilled. But the job of enforcement would fall to bishops if disputes arose, he said.

The law was drawn up by the Committee on Membership and Evangelism. It was placed in the church's discipline (law) in a chapter entitled "Church Membership."

ChargesDismissed In Albany Case Brought by Strike

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Charges against three men accused of violating Albany's anti-strikebreaker ordinance have been dismissed because the complainant declined to press prosecution.

Police Justice Ralph S. Leonard dismissed the charges Monday. They stemmed from a strike last January at the parking lot of the Albany Medical Center Hospital.

The charges were the first brought under a city ordinance, adopted last Dec. 16, that prohibits use of professional strikebreakers.

The defendants were Charles W. Easter, 32, of Milton, Mass., president of Fitz-Inn Parking Inc., operator of the hospital lot; Charles A. Hunt, 42, of Westfield, N.J., the lot manager; and John W. Christman, 35, of Castleton.

They had been arrested on the complaint of Dean Fox, business agent of Teamsters Local 895, which picketed the parking lot in a dispute over union affiliation of lot employes.

Bonn Seeks Fugitive

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany formally asked the United Arab Republic today to extradite fugitive Nazi Hans Walter Zech - Nenntwich. But West German officials said they doubted the request would be granted.

The Bonn Foreign Ministry said the request for Zech-Nenntwich's extradition was made by the ambassador in Cairo.

The former SS lieutenant, convicted of taking part in a wartime massacre of Polish Jews, escaped April 23 from the Brunswick prison four days after he was sentenced to four years in prison. A jail warden, once his crony in the Nazi labor organization, has admitted he let Zech-Nenntwich slip out.

Library Extends Hours; Sets Fair For August 8th

At the April meeting of the Rosendale Library Association Mrs. Anna M. Auchmoedy made public the decision of the board of trustees to increase the hours the library would be open.

Starting May 5, the library will be open Monday through Friday from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. The feeling of the Board of Trustees in making this announcement was that additional service to library users should be made at least on a trial basis, a period not to exceed six months.

It was also made known at this time the provisional charter was extended for another five years, the new service would meet the requirements of this charter. George Mollenhauer, president, in his announcement said that Mrs. Thomas Burns would serve as assistant to Mrs. Auchmoedy Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Mid-Hudson Libraries recently publicized its new gift-book program whereby all libraries in the system will receive up to four gift books a month. The new gift books for Rosendale are: Hemingway, Moveable Feast; Remarque, Night in Lisbon; Packard, Naked Society; O'Connor, I was Dancing; Knebel, Convention. Mrs. Auchmoody showed the group a most unusual newspaper now being received semi-monthly of interest to antique lovers, called the "Antique Trader."

Through the efforts of the association's successful Christmas bazaar, a donation of $90 was made to the board of trustees for the purchase of a book cart and for various other expenses. It was explained here that the Library Association and the Rosendale Library operate as two separate units. The sole purpose of the association is to foster interest in the library, help as volunteers in the operation of the library and to endeavor to raise money for its various needs. The Library Board of Trustees run the library by way of its finances and policies.

Aug. 8 is the date for the annual Library Fair. General chairmen for this year are Mrs. Patrick Donnelly, Mrs. Edward Huben, and Mrs. Arthur Mulligan. Committees will be announced at a later date.

The final story hour program for this season was given on April 24 with an attendance of nearly 100 children. These programs have proved a high success and a great deal of thanks goes to the Junior League of Kingston and to those members in the league participating in this phase of community service.

Reports were given on a science workshop attended by Mrs. Auchmoedy, Mrs. Ira Ingram and Mrs. Arthur Mulligan at the Kingston Library which conveyed the importance of purchasing the right books to meet the demand of the space-age.

A summer reading incentive program is planned and further details will be announced at a later date. The program is directed to the children and is something new for this library.

Legion Meeting

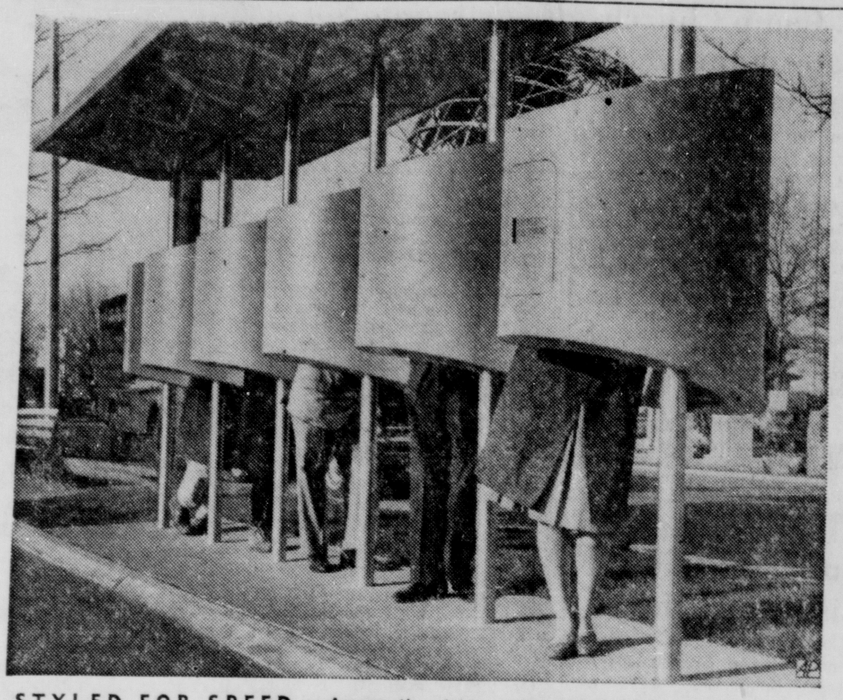
The Rosendale - Tillson Post 1219 of the American Legion will hold a meeting at the Post Home, Tillson, Thursday evening. This will be an annual meeting to nominate officers for the coming year.

CYO Car Wash

St. Peter's Church CYO will hold a car wash on the church grounds, Rosendale 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Saturday, May 16.

Why We Say--

HARMFUL: A potato is called a "spud" for an odd reason. At one time in the 19th century it was thought that potatoes were harmful in the daily menu. For this reason the Society for the Prevention of Unwholesome Diets was formed. The abbreviation was SPUD.



STYLED FOR SPEED — Among the sights within the New York World's Fair grounds are these cubicles which are a modernistic refinement of the usual telephone booths.

Area Presbytery Takes Stand on Integration Plan

A firm stand of policy on integration of church membership was taken by the Presbytery of Hudson River at its meeting in the Irvington Presbyterian Church Saturday, for the guidance of officers and Sessions of its 111 churches in seven counties.

In a series of four resolutions presented by Elder Bruce Faulkner of Bedford, chairman of the commission on religion and race, it reaffirmed the policy of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, that segregation of races is a violation of the gospel of Jesus Christ; that every minister, elder and deacon is expected to fulfill his ordination vow of sharing God's love for all men regardless of race and that "any person who seeks to leave a Church that is integrated because he is unwilling to worship with persons of another race is committing open sin; that any such person should be urged by the Session of the Church with which he seeks to unite to search his heart in the light of the Gospel, to repent of his sin and to return to his former Church; and that no Session should knowingly accept such a person into membership without first counseling with him and reminding him that all United Presbyterian Churches are committed to the same goal of a non-segregated Church in a non-segregated society. Further, that every Church in the Presbytery of Hudson River should seek to bring into its fellowship persons of all races."

Defeated by a vote of 81 to 79 was another resolution that the Presbytery officially propose to the forthcoming 176th Annual National General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church that a "Great Assembly" be convened to consider amending the Constitution of the Church regarding form of government and the catechisms in order to fit them more adequately to present demands. In opposing the resolution Dr. Merle S. Irwin of Poughkeepsie and Dr. William C. Schram of Huguenot Memorial Church, Pelham, stressed the fact that the national body of the Presbyterian Church was well aware of the human and social transitions in American life and already had as many as ten teams engaged in such studies with reports and recommendations due to be made at the General Assembly meetings later this month and in 1965 and that any such petition as the proposed one might only confuse and delay the desired results.

Health for All

'TAIN'T FUNNY, SONNY!'

Suppose, for argument's sake, that one out of every four or five people you passed on the street had some clear evidence of illness or injury. Say a swollen face, maybe a severe limp, or a marked nervous twitch. Wouldn't that give you a jolt?

Of course it would. One of man's chief graces is his ready concern for the hurts of his neighbor. He may listen nonchalantly to reports of an overseas catastrophe costing the lives of tens of thousands. But let the fellow next door slip and crack his collarbone and your ordinary citizen will be in there summoning his doctor, running his errands, cooking his prunes, even holding down his job for him if need be.

Oddly enough, there's one trouble spot where this healthy team spirit doesn't seem to operate. We show almost tearful solicitude over our friends' toothaches and falling hair, but we seldom bat an eye when confronted with a certain really serious, potentially dangerous symptoms of disease—namely, a chronic cough. Tradition requires that we dismiss this with a flip reference to "smoker's cough." And that's mostly what we do.

Symptoms of illness aren't immediately visible in one out of every four or five people you meet. But roughly that proportion of cigarette-smoking population does have a chronic cough. And medical science has nailed down the fact that chronic coughers and chronic cigarette smokers are most numerous among people who come down with chronic respiratory diseases.

Instead of whimsey about "smoker's cough," your Christmas Seal association has a different suggestion. Next time you come across one of those chronic coughers, take him on a personally conducted tour to his doctor for a look-see. The suggestion goes double if the cougher happens to be yourself.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

NEW YORK (AP) — The weather show has been developed into a curious institution. All that viewers really want to know is what to expect. That vital information can be passed along in a few concise sentences.

But television feels it must be visual. So the weather girls and boys are equipped with maps, chalk, pointers, cartoons, moving arrows and illustrations of rain, snow, sun, clouds and even hurricanes.

Television is also a commercial medium, so the weather show is dragged out to a length that will support two or three messages from the sponsor. This is accomplished by describing highs, lows, troughs, pressure systems, rain or snow patterns from coast to coast. Then, at the end like the climax of a dramatic show, come the words we've been waiting for—whether to plan on rubbers or sunshades the next day.

Jack Benny soon will be leaving CBS for NBC, but devoted fans will still be able to see him at the same number on the dials. Re-runs will be broadcast by CBS late on Sunday afternoons next fall. His new programs will be seen on NBC Friday evenings.

Raymond Burr will make one of his occasional appearances outside his "Perry Mason" show on May 12, playing a lawyer on "The Red Skelton Show."

Dear Abby . . .

Play It Straight, Lady!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We were married 14 years and I never dreamed that anything was wrong with our marriage. Suddenly my husband started to take an interest in poker. Last March he went to a poker game that lasted all week. At the end of the week, a woman called me three times in one day telling me that she and my husband were "in love" and he didn't have the nerve to ask for a divorce. I told her if my husband wanted a divorce he would have to ask me for it. He still hasn't asked me, and I am keeping my mouth shut. But he still "plays poker" all night twice a week. I am 33, she is 29 and my husband is 35. If he gets up the nerve to ask me for a divorce, it will tear up two sets of children. Ours are 5, 7, 10 and 12. Hers are 4, 3 and 10 months old. What should I do?

WAITING

DEAR ABBY: Get some counseling from either your clergyman or your family service association and try to put your marriage back on the track. Find out why it became necessary for your husband to seek female companship elsewhere. You may not like what you learn, but it could save your marriage. Good luck.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: When I had my marriage announcements printed, I had the following message placed at the bottom: PLEASE — NO GIFTS! I did it for three very good reasons: (1) I do not need anything. (2) I have no room in my small apartment to store anything. (3) I have no time to write "thank you notes." In spite of this, the gifts poured in. Why can't people be more considerate and oblige?

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Aw c'mon. Ingrained responses aren't easily changed. Surely you can find something other than your friends' generosity to "annoy" you.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: If that 16-year-old girl, whose drinking father hocked her boy friend's ring, wants to get the ring back, all she has to do is go to the pawn shop and demand it. If they do not deliver up the ring, she can get the cooperation of the police in recovering stolen property (her father DID help himself to the ring, she stated). Otherwise, she can (through a lawyer) replevy the ring by legal process. It all depends on how far the girl wants to go in making things uncomfortable for her father. In my book, anyone who hocks property he does not own is no better than a common thief.

ANONYMOUS LAWYER (HARTFORD)

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I agree with your answer to "PUNISHED ENOUGH." Twice I've had to call my parents because I was going to be home later than I said I would, and it sure helped to give them confidence in me. One night I ended up an hour and a half late, because of car trouble. But just because I called home and told them, they weren't even mad! I shudder to think of what would have happened if I hadn't called them.

Sentencing Is Due May 11 on Having Narcotic

When New York counsel for Warren Dawson again failed to appear at the 2 p. m. adjourned time Tuesday, imposition of sentence in the case was adjourned by County Judge Raymond J. Mino to May 11 at 10 a. m.

Dawson was found guilty of illegal possession of a narcotic after a trial by jury in County Court. Dawson had been charged with possession and sale but the jury was unable to agree on the charge of sale and after returning the guilty verdict on the possession charge, was dismissed.

Imposition of sentence was postponed pending receipt of a pre-sentence probation report. When the case was called on the adjourned date Attorney Findley of New York City failed to appear and the matter was adjourned to May 5 at 2 p. m. Findley failed to appear at that time and Dawson was remanded to jail and the matter adjourned to May 11.

The same disposition was made in the case of Howard Dawson, who along with Warren is charged under another indictment with conspiracy. The brothers were both remanded to jail pending disposition of the conspiracy charge.

Mahoney Appeals For More Funds On Canal Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney of the New York State Senate appealed to Congress today to provide funds to continue a survey to determine whether a new canal connecting Lakes Erie and Ontario is warranted.

Mahoney is a leading advocate of construction of an "all-America" canal in the Western New York area.

At present, the Welland Canal, in Canada, is the only link between the two lakes.

Mahoney said that the St. Lawrence Seaway "will never justify both the optimistic hope of its advocates and the enormous expenditure of funds by the United States and Canada until a new, modern, fast, efficient, toll-free canal is built...."

He commented in a statement prepared for a hearing of the public works subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee.

Mahoney said the Welland Canal was a bottleneck obstructing the natural development of the seaway and a new canal would "not only be a vital link in our national defense but also a great economic stimulus to both the Niagara Frontier and the entire Great Lakes area."

Estimated costs of a new waterway range into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Grand Union Sales Up

EAST PATERSON, N. J. — Sales of the Grand Union Company for the four-week period ended April 25, 1964 totaled $52,054,303, it was announced today by the Eastern food chain. This represents an increase of 5.5 per cent over sales of $49,342,158 in the comparable period of 1963. For the first eight weeks of the company's current fiscal year, through April 25, sales were $104,169,929, an increase of 6.9 per cent over sales of $97,449,125 in the corresponding period a year ago.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CUBA: Undersecretary of State George W. Ball says the United States policy of boycotting Cuba economically is succeeding.

Short of war, the State Department's No. 2 man told the National Advertising Council Tuesday, "most effective by far is the effort to seal off Cuba economically—a policy of economic denial."

While the economic crackdown might not topple Fidel Castro's communist regime, Ball said, it has been very effective and "the Cuban economy is in a mess."

LBJ WALKS: A day after a seven-lap strolling news conference, President Johnson held a walking business conference Tuesday with Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board.

The President and Martin hiked several laps around the chief executive's back yard as they conferred about the nation's economy.

JOHNSON-STUDENTS: President Johnson told 800 students from 71 countries Tuesday that the United States is "an unfinished society" which must do a lot to eliminate racial discrimination and poverty.

Observing that the great strength of the United States is that it has never observed "a single, rigid ideology," the President said no man or nation is wise enough to prescribe a single economic dogma or system of government for all of the peoples of the world.

The students, who will soon complete a year of study in the United States, had been invited to a White House garden party by Mrs. Johnson.

Sailor Shot to Death

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—An American sailor was found shot to death today aboard the U.S. destroyer Gridley, docked here on a goodwill visit.

The Gridley's public information officer said the sailor died of a self-inflicted wound. An investigation was under way to determine whether the death was accidental or suicide.

Mrs. Mary Harrison, 85 Prospect St., Binghamton. "For St. Mary's Church, we saved for a refrigerator and a stereo which took several hundred books of Blue Stamps. I myself would like to save for a trip to Bermuda."

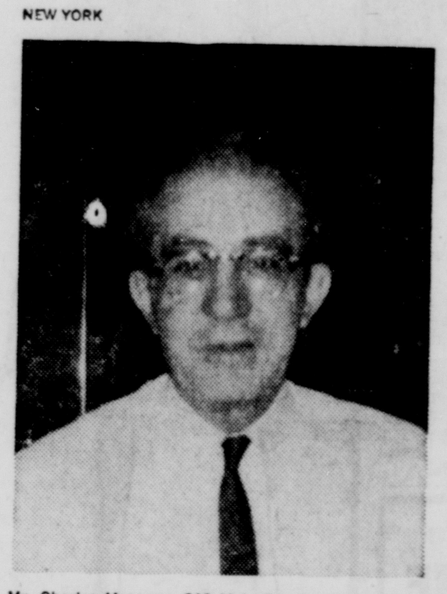
NEW YORK

Mrs. Beverly Rosenberg, 30 Columbus Circle, Eastchester. "I usually look through the latest catalog to decide what to save for. I've redeemed Blue Stamps for a hassock, bedspreads, linens, a dictionary for my children and all sorts of things. This time I came for a 40-cup Cory Percolator. It's 14¾ books."

CONNECTICUT

Mrs. Leonard Zwack, 83 N. Union Ave., West Haven. "The selection of gifts at the Triple-S Redemption Center is out of this world. You couldn't ask for better quality. Last year I did all my Christmas shopping with Blue Stamps. It saves a lot of money."

NEW YORK



Mr. Charles Mancuso, 642 Main St., Poughkeepsie. "I like to shop only where the Triple-S Blue Stamps are given. When redeeming my stamps, you have such a wide selection of gifts. I have no difficulty finding my needs. I do not receive this kind of service at your competitor's stores."

NEW JERSEY

Mrs. Dorothea Patterson, 4 No. Christie St., Bergenfield. "What I prefer most about Triple-S Blue Stamps is the quality of the premiums. I think it's much better than any other stamps. I think I'm more careful of my Blue Stamps than I am of my money."

NEW YORK

Miss Laura Alexander, 65 Allen Drive, Great Neck. "I've been saving Triple-S Blue Stamps about 5 or 6 years with my sister and my mother. We've got blankets, sheets, spreads, silverware, glassware, quite a few things. They're very nice quality. It's very interesting what you get with just one-half book, too."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Cathryn Boni, 2 Leach Ave., Albany. "I've gotten snack tables and a stroller and hampers and sheets and, mainly, my Corning Ware. I try to make a point of getting things I wouldn't go out and buy."

NEW JERSEY

Mrs. Katherine Trach, 59 Bayshore Mobile Manor, Highway 36, Keyport. "I am now an enthusiastic Triple-S Blue Stamp saver. Realized what I was missing when shown one of your beautiful catalogs with the wide selection of unusual gifts, many for as little as ½ to 3 books."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Kay Keough, 145 Hazelhurst Ave., Syracuse. "Our church has a bazaar once a year and each parishoner is asked to donate a book of Blue Stamps to fill a hope chest which is raffled off. I also saved to help furnish my son's apartment at college."

NEW YORK

Mr. Francis Law, 1064 Woodycrest Ave., Bronx. "I like the value we get out of Blue Stamps. I think the quality of the merchandise is good, there's a good variety to pick from, and the stores that carry Triple-S Blue Stamps are the stores that my wife and I like to trade in."

CONNECTICUT

Mrs. Aurora C. Pelletier, 35 Main St., South Windsor. "I like Triple-S Blue Stamps because you get more courteous and friendly redemption service. I like the outstandingly beautiful catalog. And I like the way you get so many more gifts so much faster if you save only Triple-S Blue Stamps."

CONNECTICUT

Mr. Milton N. Ives, 53 Mohigan Ave., Waterbury. "I believe the Blue Stamps saving system benefits the everyday shopper because of the simple way of saving for something you need above your budget. The redemption centers are very conveniently located and display attractive looking merchandise."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Ve Lane Bookhaut, R.D. 1, Maryland. "I like to save Triple-S Stamps because the Speedy Large stamps take so little effort, and when you redeem them you get 'the best for less'—that is the best merchandise for less stamps."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Clara Tischer, 106 W. Central Ave., Spring Valley. "I save Triple-S Stamps exclusively, since I have found them to be easier to redeem for the items I want. The salespeople are more courteous and the gifts more attractively displayed than at some other redemption centers."

NEW YORK

Mrs. John Van Duzer, 11 Noel Dr., Newburgh. "I have a complete nursery full of Blue Stamp items. And usually we get our entire Christmas gifts through Blue Stamps. That saves tremendously, believe me."

THAN TRIPLE-S?

MASSACHUSETTS

Mrs. Nancy D. Cross, 37 Metcalf St., Worcester. "I like Triple-S Blue Stamps because it means getting something for nothing, so to speak. Our home has many little extras that it ordinarily wouldn't have. The catalog provides a wonderful selection of all kinds of household needs, as well as tickets for the World's Fair!"

NEW YORK

Mr. Vincent La Paglia, 408 Eagle St., Utica. "We've got quite a few things for the house. I like the courteous service I get at the Redemption Center. Right now we're saving to go to New York for the World's Fair and we want to stop at Mama Leone's."

MASSACHUSETTS

Mrs. Frances A. Chiz, 167 Woodcrest Rd., Springfield. "To me, the merchandise I receive from Triple-S Blue Stamps is far superior than any other stamp plan. There is a greater selection and 'the price is right'! I enjoy looking through the beautiful catalog. I seem to find something different in it each time I pick it up."

NEW JERSEY

Mrs. Dolores Greene, 314 Franklin Ave., Wyckoff. "We saved 168 books of Triple-S Blue Stamps and took our trip to Nassau. It was just glorious. Since then, I've saved for another trip, and next January we plan to go to Puerto Rico."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Lillian Bennett, 210 W. 230th St., Bronx. "I've saved Triple-S Blue Stamps at least 7 years. I have blankets, lamps, kitchenware of all kinds. I've compared and I find that the value is much greater with Triple-S Blue Stamps."

NEW JERSEY

Mrs. Ruth Wentink, 282 Lincoln Ave., Hawthorne. "The Muchachos' Auxiliary has been very happy in its association with Triple-S Blue Stamps. This is the second experience with group saving. They have been most courteous and very helpful with our problem."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Anna Papadakis, 35 Chester Ave., Brooklyn. "It's like a year 'round Christmas with expensive gifts. Like getting a bonus every time. I must commend Triple-S on its most colorful, descriptive magazine. Imagine dreams coming true, with all the presents given away cordially."

NEW JERSEY

Mrs. Jean Harris, 689 Walsh Ave., Orange. "I feel you get better value by saving Triple-S Blue Stamps instead of many of the others. I particularly like the idea of getting a greater number of gifts with only ½ to 3 books of Blue Stamps."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Betty Stephans, 1314 Hicks St., Bronx: "Blue Stamps are the only stamps I save. I've gotten numerous baby articles—bouncing chairs, bottles, diapers, playthings for the children. I also get a lot of things for the house—pots and pans and name brand articles."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Kay La Velle, 404 Baty St., Elmira. "I've been saving Triple-S Blue Stamps since my marriage 8 years ago, and consider them money in the bank for rainy day needs. Blue Stamps premiums are the finest in well known brand names and in quality."

CONNECTICUT

Mrs. Shirley C. Fletcher, 9 Saddle Rock Rd., Danbury. "I enjoy going to the Triple-S Redemption Center in Danbury—it's like visiting old friends. The staff is most courteous, and all ready to help in your selection. I have redeemed my Blue Stamps for many, many things and have always been completely satisfied with everything."

Mrs. Dominic Ferraro, 6 Alta Terrace, Rutland. "Shopping the Triple-S Blue Stamp way is not only time-saving, but thrifty. It's more enjoyable, too, in the convenience of your own home through the lovely Triple-S Blue Stamp Catalog, which offers an endless variety of beautiful gifts."

CONNECTICUT

Mrs. Shirley Pelletier, Ridge Road, Bethel. "Shopping with Triple-S Blue Stamps is fun—no hustle, no bustle, just stop and shop. They are reliable with everything from A to Z. Fill your books with Blue Stamps and your home with elegant gifts. Do as I do—Stop, Shop and Save."

MARYLAND

Mrs. Wanda Toms, 219 Roessner Ave., Hagerstown. "I like saving Blue Stamps and obtaining so many valuable gifts. I spend hours looking through the catalog. It helps me stay within my budget. These stamps have been very helpful for our church and school organizations."

NEW YORK

Mrs. George Hanley, 68 Kenwood Rd., Garden City. "I save only Triple-S Blue Stamps. I have a teen-age daughter and I usually save for her. Her room has been furnished through Blue Stamps, and I would say the things I put in it would have cost at least one hundred dollars."

FLORIDA

Mrs. James Duan, 2919 W. Acapulco Drive, Miramar. "I prefer Triple-S Blue Stamps because they're so much easier to save. It's only twelve-hundred stamps to a book, and an excellent selection of gifts. And I've never wanted anything that they didn't have in stock at the Redemption Center."

Indication in Warm Words Between Thant and French

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and President Charles de Gaulle of France seem to be having what the one would call a reconciliation and the other a rapprochement.

So it appears from the warm words Thant exchanged with French officials on a four-day visit to Paris last week.

The words haven't always been so warm. For years, France has been standoffish toward the United Nations while in the minority here on such questions as independence for Algeria, France's base in Bizerte, Tunisia, and U.N. intervention in the Congo.

France refused financial support to the U.N. force in the Congo. French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville boycotted the General Assembly. The French delegation, while attending, remained silent during debate.

On April 11, 1961, De Gaulle announced that France would not contribute men or money to future undertakings of the "disunited nations." He called the United Nations "riotous and scandalous" and said its officers had "the ambition to intervene in all kinds of matters."

The late Dag Hammarskjold was still secretary-general then. But Thant managed to offend the French after he succeeded Hammarskjold in November 1961.

Thant blandly commented last September that "French foreign policy is based on the conviction that there is no danger of the Soviet Union launching a nuclear attack on Western Europe." He said France felt the North Atlantic Treaty Organization might not be needed and, if NATO was needed, U.S. participation might not be.

In Paris, French sources replied that Thant had no business commenting on a member government's policy.

But when De Gaulle learned Thant was coming to Paris for a coordination meeting with executives of U.N. - affiliated agencies, he invited him to lunch. De Gaulle's prostate operation kept them from meeting, but they exchanged warm notes.

Thant lunched with Premier Georges Pompidou and dined with Foreign Minister Couve de Murville. In a toast, Couve de Murville credited Thant with "a sense of reality" and said France "is gratified at the cooperation that has been established between you and us."

Thant replied that French policy was based on humanity and realism.

Two days later, Thant told French diplomatic correspondents that he wasn't worried about France's Congo bill because France was showing confidence in the United Nations.

On troubled Southeast Asia, Thant sounded like De Gaulle himself, explaining that a military solution had failed and political means were needed.

When Thant was Burma's U.N. ambassador, he advocated a neutralized Viet Nam. Now De Gaulle is proposing the same idea.

Council Votes Amsterdam Tax On 3 Utilities

AMSTERDAM, N.Y. (AP)— The Amsterdam City Council voted Tuesday night to impose a three per cent consumer utility tax on telephone, telegraph and electric services.

The council estimated the tax would bring an additional $50,000 to $60,000 annually into the city's treasury.

The measure was approved by a 6-2 vote. All five Republicans and one Democrat voted in favor of the bill and two Democrats voted against it.

Industrial firms are exempted from the tax on electric services but must pay a use tax on telephone and telegraph service.

To become effective, the bill requires a public hearing and the mayor's signature. The mayor, a Republican, is expected to sign the measure.

Resume on Ocean Cable

TOKYO (AP)—The American cable ship Long Lines has resumed laying the last link of the U.S.-Japan telephone circuit after fishing up and repairing a deep-sea cable which broke Monday.

Japanese officials said they received word the ship found the broken cable 68 miles east of Japan and lowered an anchor-like device to retrieve it from a depth of 4,000 feet.

The accident is not expected to delay the opening of the Japan-Hawaii circuit scheduled for June 19.

Heart Institute For Nurses Will Meet Here Friday

The third session of the Heart Institute for Nurses dealing with the subject of "Stroke" will be held Friday, May 8th at 7:45 p. m. at the Brigham School Auditorium, O'Neil Street and Smith Avenue.

To present the phase of "aphasia" will be John K. Duffy, Ph.D. Dr. Duffy is Associate Professor at Brooklyn College of the City University of New York and chief audiologist and speech pathologist of the Speech and Hearing Center of the Lenox Hill Hospital, New York City.

He is also the consultant in audiology, speech pathology and speech and hearing therapy to the United Cerebral Palsy Associations of Orange, Ulster, Sullivan and Rockland Counties.

His past experience has been associated with the Borden General Hospital, Oklahoma and University of Wisconsin.

He is the author of many articles dealing with hearing and speech problems.

Mrs. Dorothy Quick, R.N., president of the Registered Professional Nurses Association of Greene County, will preside.

Sister Mary Charles and Miss Helen Geneis, co-chairmen of the Institute's Planning Committee, urges all nurses to attend as this session promises to be very informative and worthwhile.

The Heart Institute for Nurses is being sponsored by the Ulster and Greene Counties Heart Associations with the cooperation of the New York State Nurses Association, District 11.

Any nurse desiring further information regarding the Institute, please contact Miss Katherine A. Bower, Executive Director of the Ulster County Heart Association, which is located at 268 Fair Street, Kingston.

Today in History

Today is Wednesday, May 6, the 127th day of 1964. There are 239 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1942, Gen. Jonathan Wainwright surrendered Corregidor, marking the end of major resistance to the Japanese conquest of the Philippines. For 150 days, American troops had withstood assault by crack enemy forces, heavy artillery and wave after wave of bombers. Defeat was inevitable and Wainwright concluded nothing could be gained by continued resistance.

On this date

In 1777, General Burgoyne took command of the British army at Quebec.

In 1840, the first postage stamp was issued in England.

In 1937, 36 persons were killed when the dirigible Hindenburg crashed in flames at Lakehurst, N.J.

In 1941, Joseph Stalin became premier of the Soviet Union.

In 1944, American bombers were attacking transportation centers in Romania.

Ten years ago—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) led an attack by Democratic leaders on administration foreign policy, indicating an end of bipartisanship.

Five years ago — President Eisenhower took his White House guest, Sir Winston Churchill, on a tour of the Gettysburg battlefield and the nearby Eisenhower farm.

One year ago—The military junta in South Korea agreed to hold an election for a civil government in the fall.

$130 Million Hydro Project

Area Labor Leaders Back Con Ed's Cornwall Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven labor leaders from New York's Hudson Valley have endorsed the Consolidated Edison Company's proposal to build a $130-million hydroelectric project near Cornwall, N.Y.

Conservation groups and some local governments oppose the firm's plan to string overhead transmission lines down the valley to carry power from the project to New York City.

Would Provide Jobs

But the labor leaders said the project would provide full employment in a chronically depressed area, promote economic development and provide Cornwall with a good water supply.

In testimony at a Federal Power Commission hearing on Consolidated Edison's application, Edward R. Sager of Newburgh said the project would have little or no lasting effect on the scenic beauty of the Hudson highlands. Sager represented local 631 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

William P. Mims of Newburgh, business agent and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers, also said his union supports Con Edison.

Other labor leaders who supported the project:

Other Supporters

Larrio Diorio, Kingston, business representative of the Hod Carriers Union Local 17; James Hopkins, Liberty, president of Local 445, International Brotherhood of Teamsters; George Shafer, Middletown, president of the Orange County Building and Construction Trades Council;

Bernard H. Murray, Newburgh, business representative of the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters and Henry P. McArdle, business representative of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 825.

A resolution from the Newburgh Chamber of Commerce endorsing the project also was submitted for the record.

The transmission lines would be strung down the east side of the valley.

Byrd Named to Head Area Fresh Air Fund

Robert Byrd has been appointed chairman of the Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund in the Ellenville area. The fund, which is sponsored by B'nai B'rith in the community, places deprived city children with families in country homes, for two weeks or more during the summer. The children are selected on a nonsectarian basis, without regard to race or creed.

Those interested should contact Robert Byrd, Ellenville, or Evelyn Greenberg, Kerhonkson.

Name N.Y. Cop To Head State Crime Data Unit

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A veteran New York City police official has been named to supervise the establishment of a system designed to provide instantaneous information to crime fighters.

Robert R. J. Gallati, an assistant chief inspector on the city's force, was named head of the Identification and Intelligence System Tuesday by Gov. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller told the 1964 Legislature he envisioned the criminal-intelligence system as "a most vital tool of criminal law enforcement."

Data from law enforcement agencies throughout the state will be stored in computers, and each contributing agency will have access to the information.

The current state budget contains a $500,000 appropriation for establishment of the system.

Gallati will take a leave-of-absence from the New York city force, which he has served since 1940.

The new position pays $21,000 annually.

Christian Science Services on Sunday

"Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potter's clay." This verse from Isaiah (29-16) will be a major theme at Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Adam and Fallen Man," and the responsive reading opens with Genesis (1:27): "God created man in his own image." The lesson will conclude with these lines from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible; for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright and Godlike" (p. 200).

Sunday services in Woodstock begin at 11 a. m. The Christian Science Reading Room is open to the public Tuesdays and Saturdays from 2 to 4 and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9.

Program Listed For Bell Ringers

The program for the Berlin Bell Ringer concert scheduled Saturday, May 9, at 7:30 in the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church has been announced by Mrs. Muriel Davis, conductor of the group.

The program follows:

Group I—hymns and carols—Vesper Hymn, Rejoice, Ye Pure in Heart; Good King Wenceslaus; There Is a Green Hill and Jesus Christ Is Ris'n Today.

Group II—original bell music composed for Berlin Bell Ringers: Allegro, Campabile, Variations and Chorals, Tintinabula, and Trilogy—1. Matins, 2. Carillon and 3. Evensong; and Variations on a Nursery Tune.

Group III—Bells, voice (soprano soloist, Linda Knapp) and organ: Bell Symphony, Purcell; I Wonder as I Wander, Appalachian carol; and the following Bach chorales: Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring, God My Shepherd Walks Before Me, Come All Christians, Praise the Lord, I Call to Three; My Heart Is Filled with Longing and In Thee Is Great Joy.

Craft Executive Final Lecturer In Guild Series

William J. Barrett, president of the American Craftsmen's Council (ACC) will give the concluding lecture - discussion Sunday, May 10, at 3 p. m. in the Kleinert Gallery in Woodstock. This program is the last in the series sponsored by the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen and the Festival Committee. His topic will be "Crafts, the Contemporary Scene."

Shortly before accepting appointment in 1963 as ACC president, Barrett retired from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company with the rank of vice president. He had served with the Metrpolitan since 1923.

Barrett received his Master's Degree in business administration from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. He also holds a B. S. from M.I.T. On loan from the Metropolitan he has participated, at the request of the federal government, in the Industrial Advisory Board, NRA; the organization of the War Resources Board in 1938; and in 1940, the Raw Materials Division of the Advisory Commission to the Council for National Defense.

With Foundation

His other activities include: trusteeship in the American Heritage Foundation, American House, and Old Sturbridge Village; a member, personnel committee, National Council, Boy Scouts of America; personnel committee, Commerce and Industry Association; and the Life Insurance Association of America.

Other speakers in this series have been: Bartlett Hayes, director of the Addison Gallery, Andover, Mass.; Miss Irene Brynner, sculptor-jeweler, New York City; Joe Rothstein, president, New York Mineralogical Club; and Miss Berta Frey, nationally known weaver of Bearsville who will conduct classes under Guild sponsorship at Woodstock this summer.

The lecture series has been part of a guild effort to supplement existing educational facilities in the area, which includes the highly successful painting classes for young children given during the winter set up for this summer by Miss Berta Frey.

Another Major Prize Awarded Helen Gerardia

Helen Gerardia, painter and printmaker, has been awarded the Medal of Honor in Graphics and the Isabella Banks Markell Prize in the Annual of the National Association of Women Artists at the National Academy Galleries, 1083 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

The exhibition opens to the public on Thursday, May 7, and continues daily and Sundays through Sunday, May 24, from 1 to 6 p. m. (closed Saturday, May 16).

This is the second time Miss Gerardia received the award. The previous time was in 1961. An oil painting is on exhibition in the main gallery on the second floor also.

The artist is giving a demonstration on the techniques of lithography on May 17 at 2 p.m. in the print room of the exhibition, where Another Planet, the award winning print is being shown for the first time.

During the month of May two sections of Miss Gerardia's prints are being shown at the University of Kansas in Kansas City, Mo. and the Jacksonville University in Fla. Group shows during the month include Western State College, Gunnison, Colo.; St. Vincents, Latrobe, Pa.; and Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, Calif.

Test Pupils in O.C.S. District

Students of the Onteora Central Schools were tuberculin tested last week under the program sponsored and administered by the Ulster County Department of Health, the Ulster County TB and Health Association, and the Ulster County TB Hospital. More than 800 children were tested in the last annual test of a five-year testing program.

The program was developed and testing scheduled by E. Robert Johnson, executive director of the TB and Health Association, program coordinator. The effectiveness of the total testing project was implemented by the close consultation and cooperation of Onteora School Nurse-Teachers Mrs. Hazel Osborne, Mrs. Ruth Bark, Mrs. Elizabeth Rose and Mrs. Elizabeth Korzendorfer; and Miss Helen Geneis, director of Public Health Nurses, and Mrs. Helen Hildebrandt, Supervisor of Public Health Nurses of the county Department of Health.

Use Two Teams

Two teams administered the tests to the students of the first, fifth, sixth and twelfth grades on two testing days. Members of Tuberculin Testing Team 1 included Dr. L. S. Arany of the TB Hospital and Dr. Paul LePaige, school physician at Woodstock, Mrs. Nancy Jenson, Public Health Nurse and Miss Carey Jordon, training Public Health Nurse of the Department of Health, Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Korzendorfer, School Nurse-Teachers; Miss Almena Porter, R.N., Miss Mabel Robinson, R.N., and Mrs. Marie V. D. Johnson, all volunteer members of the TB and Health Association. The group tested children at the West Hurley school, morning and afternoon sessions and all scheduled groups at the Woodstock school.

The second Tuberculin Testing Team was composed of Dr. Charles A. Quinn and Dr. Norman N. Burg; Mrs. Maria Broekema and Mrs. Doris Arneson, Public Health Nurses of the Department of Health, Mrs. Hazel Osborne, Mrs. Ruth Bark, and Mrs. Elizabeth Korzendorfer, School Nurse-Teachers; Miss Almena Porter, R.N. and Miss Mabel Robinson, R.N., and Mrs. Marie V. D. Johnson, volunteer members of the TB and Health Association. The team completed the scheduled Tuberculin Testing at the Onteora High School and the Bennett School morning and afternoon sessions. Serving with both day's testing programs also were Mrs. Helen Hildebrandt, Supervisor of Public Health Nurses and Mr. Johnson, Program Coordinator.

A similar Tuberculin Testing Program was conducted last week in the schools of the Saugerties Central System.

Buffalo Wowan in Post

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Miss Lillian C. Milanoff of Buffalo has been appointed by Gov. Rockefeller to the Advisory Council on Farm and Food Processing Labor.

Miss Milanoff, a social worker, succeeds Mrs. Frank Montero, who resigned. She will serve a term at the pleasure of the governor.

The job carries no salary.

No Theatre Smoking

LONDON (AP)—The London County Council voted 77-37 Tuesday night to ban smoking in the British capital's 154 movie theaters.

The ban was proposed by a Conservative, Lady Petrie. She confessed later she usually smokes cigars.

A new species of primitive man has been discovered in Tanganyika and named Homo habilis, meaning "able" or "having ability."

Miss Florence M. Bruneau, David Lovgren Are Wed at Port Ewen Church on April 26

Miss Florence May Bruneau, daughter of Ethel W. Reilly of Albany Avenue Extension, this city and Albert J. Bruneau of Sanford, Fla. exchanged vows with David Francis Lovgren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murel Lovgren of 160 Second Avenue Sunday, April 26 at the Port Ewen Methodist Church.

The Rev. Cecil L. McFarland, pastor, officiated and John Bates was organist. Soloist was Thomas Tierney.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Francis P. DeNault of Salem, N. H. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta in floor length. The lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt was of lace with a full marquisette ruffle at the hemline. Her veil of wide English illusion was shirred to a crown of tiny seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white pompons.

The matron of honor was Barbara Lovgren, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. She wore a gown of white lace over blue taffeta with three-quarter length sleeves and bell shaped cocktail length skirt. She wore a matching stylized headpiece with veil and carried white carnations tipped with blue.

Bridesmaid was Betty Van Valkenburgh of 12 Lincoln Street. She wore a gown of white lace over yellow taffeta, with matching headpiece and carried white carnations tipped with yellow.

Rick Lovgren of 160 Second Street was best man for his brother. Usher was Murel Lovgren of 150 Third Avenue, brother of the bridegroom.

A niece of the bridegroom, Cynthia Lovgren was flower girl. She wore a blue nylon dress with headpiece to match and carried white carnations tipped in yellow and blue.

Approximately 50 guests were received at the Ulster Hose No. 5 Hall after the ceremony.

For traveling the bride wore a yellow nylon dress with matching accessories. Upon their return the couple will reside at 21 East Road, High Falls.

The bride attended Kingston High School and is now employed at Shoe-Giant.

Mr. Lovgren is a graduate of Kingston High School Class of 1961 and is employed at Shop-Rite in Kingston.

Edwards-Whittaker Wedding

Margaret Edwards and John Whittaker were married April 27, 1964 by Robert Stedge, justice of the peace. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rappleyea.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker now reside at 16 Stahlman Place, Kingston.

Language Teacher Wins Scholarship; Will Study Russian

Richard Cowin, currently teaching Latin and Russian at the Kingston High School, has been awarded a second level NDEA Summer Student Scholarship at Indiana University and in the Soviet Union.

With the support of the National Defense Education Act of 1958, Indiana University will conduct a ten week advance institute for 60 secondary school teachers of Russian from June 19 to August 28, 1964. The participants will spend five weeks of study at Indiana University and five weeks of intensive Russian language practice in the Soviet Union. The program of the institute is designed to assist the participants in acquiring a command of the Russian language, to develop further their skills in the use of new methods and materials for the teaching of Russian, and increase their understanding of Russian culture and of Soviet reality. All participants will live in the Russian language house at Indiana University and during the five weeks on campus they will attend classes, eat, study, and enjoy recreation together in a Russian language atmosphere. During the evenings there will be Russian folk singing, Russian movies, and a series of lectures in Russian by distinguished scholars.

After five weeks of study at Indiana University, all the participants will fly by chartered plane from Indianapolis direct to the Soviet Union. The second part of the Institute will be conducted in two groups, each with three Institute staff members in charge. The five-week program will be designed to make the most intensive use possible of the Soviet Union as a living language laboratory. The two groups will use tourist-class accommodations in hotels managed by the government travel agency Intourist. The daily program will include a Russian language class, a group sightseeing tour, and as much free time as possible in which each member of the Institute will be expected to practice his Russian through contacts with native Russians in stores, in parks, on the streets, and elsewhere. The daily language class will provide explanations of language difficulties, corrective drills, vocabulary preparation for each day's group activities, and lectures by the Institute leaders on the cultural, historical, and political significance of the places to be visited each day.

Mr. Cowin has been a language teacher at the local high school for the past eight years.

COURT SANTA MARIA BREAKFAST—Among principals attending the annual communion breakfast of Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America Sunday at the Governor Clinton Hotel are (seated l-r) Miss Jane Madden, co-chairman and trustee of the court; Mrs. Jacob Schatzel, vice grand regent; the Rev. Conrad Goulet, SSS, guest speaker; Miss Helen M. Purpose of Vatican Council Is Outlined At Catholic Daughters Annual Breakfast

Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America held its annual communion breakfast Sunday at the Governor Clinton Hotel following Mass at St. Peter's Church.

The welcome was extended by Miss Helen M. Barry, grand regent of the Court.

An almost record attendance heard the informative talk which was given by the Rev. Conrad Goulet, SSS of the Blessed Sacrament Fathers, Eymard Preparatory Seminary at Hyde Park who was introduced by Mrs. Frank Herd, breakfast chairman. He spoke on the Vatican Council, why it was called, what it has achieved and the hopes for the future. Father Goulet had spoken on this subject at a meeting of Lutheran pastors and remarked about the "atmosphere of friendship" which is steadily developing between Catholics and non-Catholics. Within the last several months it has not been uncommon to hear priests as guest speakers at Jewish and Protestant gatherings and likewise, non-Catholic clergy speaking at Catholic functions. There is even a trend towards combining communion breakfasts of Catholics and non-Catholics following separate religious services of each group.

Actually, the Council's purpose has been and will continue to be the Christian Unity of all religious people, as well as the "updating" of the Catholic faith, he said.

Following his talk Father Goulet led the members in the prayer of Grace after meals.

Mrs. Thomas D. Brocco sang, Ave Maria, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robert Liscom.

Miss Barry, grand regent, announced that a scrapbook containing pictures and writeups of past social and charitable accomplishments of the Court was ready for viewing by the membership.

She requested the members to complete a spiritual bouquet which would be extended to the State Regent and State Chaplain at the convention.

Miss Barry reminded the members that Saturday was Mary's Day and all the members were requested to attend Mass, wear the Miraculous Medal on that special day.

A 50-year pin was presented to Miss Margaret Howard.

Mrs. Herd extended a thank you to her co-chairman, Miss Jane Madden and the members of her committee which included Mrs. Daniel Halloran, Veronica Hanley and Joan Woinoski, and to all the prospective members who attended the breakfast.

All those attending received a Holy Infant Jesus of Prague memorial as souvenir. Decorations included a centerpiece of giant daisies and white gladioli with a large robed statue of the Infant of Prague in the center.

The breakfast closed with the group singing, Holy God We Praise Thy Name.

The centerpiece was then placed on the Blessed Mother's altar at St. Peter's' in memory of all the living and deceased members of the Court.

Art Display Set In Conjunction With Annual Horse Show

An art exhibit will be held at the Lowlands Ranch Clubs annual horse show June 7. The exhibit will be of original oils done by Mrs. Lois Williams of Tillson.

Mrs. Williams specializes in pony and horse painting, her oils hang in many homes here in the valley as well as her home state of New Jersey. She was born and educated in Bergenfield, N. J. At the age of 12 she had saved enough money to buy a horse of her own. This horse was more then a riding companion, it was a model for her sketches and painting. Upon completion of high school, she entered State Teachers College at New Paltz, majoring in art. While at college she painted the realistic rather then the modern.

Mrs. Williams is married to Jesse Williams and is the mother of two daughters Norleen and Laureen.

Wallkill Choral Concert Scheduled Friday

Friday 8 p. m., in the Wallkill Central School Auditorium the Wallkill High School Choir will present its annual choral concert under the direction of Rocco Autorino.

Highlighting the program will be a presentation of Gabriel Faure's Requiem. Soloists for the Requiem include Chris Grismer, Yvonne O'Connor, James Dolan, Paul Nevin and Robert Terwilliger.

The second part of the program will include light show tunes and several comedy skits. Soloists for the second half will include Yvonne O'Connor and Dawn Vogt.

The public may attend. There will be no admission charge.

BELATED CHURCH WEDDING

Q: In February the firm my fiance works for sent him to Paris. He was told that it might take six months to a year to complete the job. Because we did not want to be separated from each other for so long, we were married quietly at home by a judge and immediately after the ceremony we left for Paris. He completed the job sooner than expected and we arrived back in the states last week. I would like now to have the church wedding and reception I had planned on having before this unexpected turn of events. Officials of my church said it will be all right. What do you think about this?

A: Since you did not have a religious ceremony the first time, it would be quite all right to have a second ceremony now in church but it should be very simple. To have a large church wedding with all trimmings after having been married for several months would be in very bad taste. There are, however, no restrictions concerning the size of the reception. Your parents may give as large a reception as they wish in honor of your marriage.

* * *

The Feminine of 'Dear Sirs'

Q: When writing to an organization run by women, how does one address them? "Mesdames" seems absurd but so does "Dear Sirs" and "Dear Ladies" certainly isn't correct. Is there an acceptable salutation?

A: "Mesdames" is French and not correct when writing in English. "Dear Madams" is the correct solution when addressing an organization run by women.

* * *

Inviting Priest to the Reception

Q: I am going to be married shortly and would like to invite the priest who performs the ceremony to the reception. Should I send him an engraved invitation such as the other guests will receive or should I invite him personally.

A: Invite him personally.

Chekhov Production Scheduled by Bard College Drama Group

As its second production of the spring season, Bard College Drama Department will present Chekhov's The Three Sisters in the college theatre from Saturday, May 9 through Tuesday, May 12. Admission is free, all seats being reservable by mail to Box 284, Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson. Performances begin at 8:30 p. m.

The Three Sisters is one of the three great plays of Chekov's maturity and is, of course, a classic of the modern theatre. A family of three sisters and a brother wander through their ordinary lives in a Russian provincial garrison town, feeding on false dreams of Moscow and all that it might bring them in fulfilment, and entertaining the officers of artillery stationed there, as a diversion from frustration or boredom. a deliberately drab life seen through the sharply objective and sympathetically ironic eyes of the author; a funny, touching slice of the comedy of the human race.

Subscription Campaign Now in Progress For Community Concerts Series Here

Among the artists to appear in Kingston for the Community Concert Association series next season will be Rosalind Elias, talented young Metropolitan Opera mezzo.

ROSALIND ELIAS

Of Lebanese ancestry, Miss Elias was born and grew up in Lowell, Mass. While still in her teens, her vocal ability caused teachers to predict early success for her. She soon entered the New England Conservatory and later performed with the New England Opera as well as the Boston Symphony. She won three scholarships to Tanglewood.

Hoping to further her career, she entered the Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air. Long before the finals were scheduled, she was the proud possessor of a Metropolitan contract.

Only in her eighth season at the Metropolitan, she is one of its youngest stars having made her debut in 1954. She is a favorite soloist with leading orchestras such as the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Chicago Symphony and at the important European music festivals as well as in opera. She has attracted such critical attention for her remarkable voice and outstanding stage presence, she was chosen to sing the pivotal role of Ericka in the American opera "Vanessa," by Samuel Barber and Gian-Carlo Menotti at the world premiere in 1958 at the Metropolitan, for which she received rave notices.

Among Miss Elias' engagements last season were appearances with the Youngstown, El Paso and Tri-City Symphonies. With the Philadelphia Orchestra she sang the Bach B-Minor Mass both in New York and Philadelphia. She was also a favorite with audiences on the Metropolitan Opera's seven city spring tour.

The annual membership campaign is now in progress for the Community Concerts Series. Detailed information may be obtained from Mrs. Bernard Forst, Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, or by calling the Community Concerts desk at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Vassar College Art Exhibit Features Avant-Garde Works

The opening of the exhibition of contemporary art, Directions, 1964, took place in the Art Gallery of Taylor Hall, Vassar College, Monday afternoon.

The exhibition, which consists mainly of works done during the year 1963-64, represents the two main currents of avant-garde art now being produced in the United States and Europe: so-called New Realism, a broad term which includes pop art; and what is generally termed hard-edge abstraction, canvasses containing simple areas of color in purified shapes.

The artists represented range in fame and experience from Robert Rauschenberg, already—in his mid-thirties—an "older master," to a young painter, Robert Huot, whose first one-man show in New York will coincide with the Vassar Exhibition.

Among the artists represented are Robert Indiana, who combines geometric sign-forms with terse American phrases; Eleanor Mikus, whose white gesso tablets suggest geographic or biomorphic surfaces; George Segal, plaster casts of real people in real situations were recently shown at the Sidney Janis Gallery in the exhibition. Four Environments by Four New Realists and Jules Olitski, whose latest works emphasize pure color fields and large scale.

Also included are works by the French Neo-realiste, Arman, who constructs his pictorial statements from rubbish, waste and scrapped manufactured goods; Spoerri, another member of the same group, who tries to fasten down chance occurrences to a fixed surface in his "trap'pictures;" Wayne Thiebaud, best known for his paintings of cakes and pies; and Andy Warhol, creator of serial images of American objects and events. A lyrical and breezy abstraction by Robert Goodnough and a tenser and more angular one by Lukin will also be shown.

Most of the works included in the exhibition have been lent by New York art dealers and are for sale.

Two Local Nurses Attend Workshop On State Membership

ALBANY — Miss Eileen Reis, RN, and Miss Collette McCullough, RN, both of Kingston, attended a New York State Nurses Association workshop here Tuesday, May 5 to preview a statewide NYSNA membership drive to be launched this fall.

The campaign will be aimed at recruiting 20 per cent more registered professional nurses for the district and state associations of the American Nurses' Association. There are more than 88,000 RNs in the state who may be eligible for membership.

Miss Reis and Miss McCullough are on the Membership Committee of NYSNA's District 11 Nurses Association, which encompasses Greene and Ulster Counties. There are more than 1,100 nurses in this area.

The feature speaker at the Albany workshop was Mrs. Judith G. Whitaker, RN, executive director of ANA. She told representatives from the 18 districts of NYSNA that "all registered professional nurses have a professional responsibility to belong to their three-for-one association."

"Her "three-for-one" reference was to the district, state, and national levels of ANA. The powerful 170,000-member ANA is a federation of 54 constituent associations from the 54 states and territories. These, in turn, encompass 817 district associations.

Mrs. Whitaker told the group that nurses should form a strong front to meet the challenges facing their profession, and that this could be best done through their one profession association.

Other speakers at the workshop included Miss Cora E. Pike, RN, president of NYSNA; Miss Eileen Bonner, RN, campaign chairman; and Sister M. Damian, CSJ, vice chairman of the campaign.

ROSARY SOCIETY HAS BREAKFAST—In attendance at the annual communion breakfast of St. Peter's Altar Society of Rosendale Sunday are (seated l-r) Miss Florence Buckley, co-chairman; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Vincent dePaul Mulry, pastor, and Mrs. Arthur O'Leary, president of the society; (second row) Mrs. Joyce Crawford, secretary; Mrs. Arthur Newmann, vice president and Mrs. Mary Duffy, treasurer and co-chairman. The event was held at Williams Lake Hotel with the Rev. James Quinn of St. Peter's Parish, Poughkeepsie, as guest speaker. (Freeman photo)

Breakfast Speaker Scores Public for 'Non-Involvement'

Approximately 160 women attended the annual communion breakfast of St. Peter's Rosary Altar Society of Rosendale Sunday morning and heard the guest speaker score the apathy of American people concerning the suffering in the world.

The Rev. James Quinn of St. Peter's Parish, Poughkeepsie, reminded his listeners of a recent murder on Long Island where 38 people witnessed the tragedy from their homes and not one went to the aid of the victim or called the police because "they did not wish to become involved."

He also cited the reaction of a group of wealthy Los Angeles girls who when told that three quarters of the world's population goes to bed hungry replied "oh they are used to it — they do not know any better."

Father Quinn explained that a human being never gets used to suffering no matter how long he suffers. In speaking of the cruelties of the Communists, he said he was not trying to show the evils of the system but rather what can happen when people "do not wish to become involved."

The breakfast was held at the Williams Lake Hotel after Mass at St. Peter's Church, Rosendale.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Vincent de Paul Mulry, pastor, the Rev Joseph Irwin, assistant pastor and Mrs. Arthur O'Leary, president of the society spoke briefly. Miss Florence R. Buckley, co-chairman of the breakfast was toastmaster.

Major May Greens

Escarole, endive, spinich, and 17 other dark leafy green vegetables arrive for market throughout the year. Among the 17, those available during May are broccoli rabe, collards, dandelion greens, kale, mustard greens, and turnip tops. The season for most of these wanes during the summer. Spinach is in full season during both May and June, while endive and escarole are available in fairly steady amount the year around.

Fresh greens are quite perishable thus a fast, short trip to market helps assure quality. The local season for escarole and endive from nearby New Jersey and Long Island begins in volume in June; that for spinach and other greens has already arrived.

Prices for fresh spinach vary greatly in and out of season with lows for the year coming in May and June when local supplies are large. Less spinach is available during July and August when prices usually rise to their annual peak. Spinach has two seasons a year. The second occurs in the fall when prices once again decline.

Either the popular 10-ounce package of fresh spinach of the 10-ounce frozen package yields 3 servings per unit. To judge cost differences, shoppers may note the original prices of these units, or compare the cost per serving by dividing the price of each by the number of servings expected.

In a local market surveyed recently, fresh spinach cost more per serving than frozen spinach. This cost difference will probably narrow as the season for fresh spinach progresses. Fresh spinach in the large 1-pound-4 ounce package was somewhat less expensive than that in the smaller 10-ounce package.

Our shift toward eating greens in frozen form relates to the downward trend in the local supply of fresh greens. For the country as a whole, our use of frozen spinach increased somewhat between 1953 and 1962, and our use of other frozen greens tripled. Consumption of fresh and canned spinach and of other greens decreased during the same period.

Accord Couple Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelder of Accord, were entertained at an open house reception by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelder and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelder at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelder on April 26 in observance of their Golden Anniversary. The couple were married on April 28, 1914 at Accord.

Approximately 75 guests attended. In the center of the table was a tiered wedding cake, baked for the occasion by Mrs. Edsel Osterhoudt. The couple were presented a money tree by relatives and friends, along with many other gifts.

In addition to their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Kelder have two grandchildren.

Local Girl Scouts Hold Arbor Day

April 24, Arbor Day, was observed in traditional fashion by the Junior Girl Scouts of the West Hurley School. The girls, members of Troops 176 and 79, conducted two programs, one for the morning and one for the afternoon sessions of the school. Each group presented and planted a forsythia bush on the school grounds.

The girls who participated in the morning program as members of troop 79 were Jill Behringer, Jackie Coleman, Linda Crosby, Janet Deeds, June Garrison, Michele McGrane, Deborah Mayer, Patricia Rose, Donna Schmidt, Linda Shultis, Carol Stapleburg, Linda Yeaple. The leaders of Troop 79 are Mrs. David Fox and Mrs. G. Holzman.

The girls taking part in the afternoon program from Troop 79 were Cheryl Bird, Ann Coleman Kathleen Finke, Jane Garrison, Lorraine Holzman, Kathleryn Lyle, Barbara Lowe, Janet Rion, Deborah Robbins, Maureen Ryan. Those in Troop 176 were Kathy Kerby, Kathy Vilas, Alison Heermans, Corinne Hutchinson, Judy Hevesi, Pierette Williams, Ann Dutcher, Maureen Waters, Mardi Klinger, Janice Bilsback, Bonnie Baker. Leaders of Troop 176 are Mrs. M. Hutchinson, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Dutcher.

Troop Notes

In preparation for the May 2, Day at Camp Wendy, Troop 176 has lately learned to make foil dinners, handle jack knives and build fires. On April 15, Mrs. Fisher, neighborhood chairman, visited the group to teach the girls to make Kaper Charts which they will use on their work day at Camp Wendy.

LBJ Schedules Family Day for His Press Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson adds a new dimension today to his reputation for doing the unexpected. He has invited reporters to bring their families to a late afternoon news conference on the White House lawn.

The affair, at 4:30 p.m. EDT, was to be carried live by major radio and television networks.

More than 1,000 reporters holding White House credentials were eligible to attend, and bring their children, wives or husbands.

Close Watch Kept On Woodlands Still Smoldering

PETERSBURG, N.Y. (AP)—Firefighters kept close watch today on smoldering woodlands near the New York-Massachusetts line, where a major forest fire burned for more than six hours before being brought under control.

A Conservation Department spokesman said Tuesday night the flames had raged over 100 acres, about 50 in New York State and 50 in Massachusetts.

Firemen used a double-chair lift at the Petersburg Pass ski area to send men and water-filled fire extinguishers to the top of the mountain ridge where the fire was concentrated.

No one was reported injured, and no buildings were burned.

About 200 persons, from five fire companies and from Williams College in nearby Williamstown, Mass., fought the flames.

The Conservation Department spokesman said the fire apparently broke out in an area where a logging operation was under way on the Massachusetts side of the mountains. The flames spread up the steep slope into New York State.

Woods and fields throughout the area are considered unsually dry for early spring because of lack of rain.

TROOP 18 RECEIVES FLAG—Kingston Post 150, American Legion this week presented an American flag to Boy Scout Troop 18, sponsored by St. Mary's CYO. The post is indebted to Troop 18 for the many years of service of the troop which places American flags at the graves of veterans at St. Mary's Cemetery prior to Memorial Day. At the presentation ceremonies at the Legion Home are (l-r) Commander James F. Gilpatric, Joseph Conger and Gerard Grier of the troop, and Scoutmaster Edward Conger. (Freeman photo)

Lead Cut to 3,001

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno has picked up a net 149 votes to cut Genevieve Blatt's lead to 3,001 in their race for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Official returns from six counties show Musmanno gaining 164 votes in Lackawanna County and 64 in Bucks County. Miss Blatt, who lists 20 votes in Union on the official count, added 99 in Cambria. Northumberland and Snyder had the same official figures as the unofficial returns.

Unofficial returns have been tabulated in all but 10 of the state's 9,261 precincts.

Pack 9 Inspection

The April Pack meeting was held at Redeemer Lutheran Church, sponsors of Pack 9. Lion cubs presented colors and led the audience in the Pledge Allegiance. Participating were Jeffrey Huth, Wayne Freer, David McDonough and Charles Schoonmaker.

Cubmaster Blankschan presented a candle light opening ceremony with Den Chief Stephen Ryan assisting.

The theme for April was Naturalist and Charles Beehler from the Conservation Department was to give a talk on conservation and seedlings. Due to illness he was unable to appear but sent seedlings which were handed out to each club.

The following announcements were made: A trip to Stewart Air Force Base during May, a field trip in June. Family picnic during July and Cub Day at Tri-Mount in August. An appeal for new committee men was responded to by Joseph Fay, John Hoskin, Jolin, James Freer, Joseph Berryann and Chester Fox.

Cubmaster Blankschan introduced new cubs and families. Mr. and Mrs. Newton Madison with son, Gary and daughter, Brenda; Mrs. Constance Glaser with sons, Kevin and Kirk; also Mrs. Glaser's father, Percy Krom; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bittner Jr. and son, Danny III. Mrs. Bernard Donnelly and sons, Bernard, Patrick and Thomas. Mrs. Frank Matthews with sons Timothy and James. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fox and son Edward.

Assistant Cubmaster Harold Burger read a Nature story with sound effects by the audience.

Richard Waltman, district commissioner, presented the new Pack Charter to Committee Chairman Frank Mayer. New cards were issued to Cubmaster, two assistant cubmasters, five Den Mothers, four Committeemen, and 35 Cub Scouts. The cubs were inspected by Mr. Waltman and the pack received a 96 average.

Seven new bobcats were admitted into the Pack 9 Circle with a branding ceremony at which each cub was branded on the ankle "Pack 9 brand B.S.A.". The new bobcats are Gary Madison, Kevin and Kirk Glaser, Danny Bittner III, Bernard Donnelly, Timothy Matthews and Edward Fox.

Webelos Leader Harold Burger as Akela welcomed eight Lion Cub Scouts into the Webelos Den, with an impressive ceremony held around an artificial campfire, with lion cubs smoking Akela's Peace pipe. Den Chief Lawrence Wonderly assisted. The new Webelos are Glenn Stoutenburg, Wayne Fatum, Richard Wells, Richard Rockwell, Douglas Aho, David McDonough, Charles Schoonmaker and Frank Hoppe.

Pack 9 welcomed a new Den into their circle. Mrs. Jeanne Bittner is the new Den mother of Den 5 with Danny Bittner III, Bernard Donnelly, Timothy Matthews, and Edward Fox the new Cubs.

The following advancements were made Den 1, Den Mother Mrs. Lillian Cameron, Joseph Berryann received a one-year pin and a gold arrow under Wolf. Richard Wells a silver arrow under Lion, Richard Rockwell a silver arrow under Lion, Joseph Fay Jr. a silver arrow under Wolf. Robert Burhans a silver arrow under Wolf. Douglas Rockwell a Wolf Badge, and gold arrow under Wolf. James Cameron a silver arrow under Wolf.

Den 2, Den Mother Mrs. Marion Blankschan has Glenn Stoutenburg receiving a gold and two silver arrows under Lion. Drew Wonderly receiving a Bear Badge and a gold arrow under Bear, Wayne Fatum a Lion Badge, gold and two silver arrows under Lion, Alan Lenza a Wolf Badge and a gold arrow under Wolf. Den 3, Den Mother Mrs. Doris Herring has David McDonough receiving a Bear Badge and a gold arrow under Bear. Lion Badges to David McDonough, Douglas Aho and Charles Schoonmaker, Donald Herring Jr. advanced to Wolf with a gold and silver arrow under Wolf. Den 4, Den Mother Mrs. Betty Huth received a two year pin, David Barger a silver arrow under Wolf, Wayne Freer a silver arrow under Bear.

A nature closing was held by Den 1 with James Cameron, Robert Burhans, Joseph Fay Jr., Richard Rockwell, Douglas Rockwell, Gary Madison, Richard Wells and Joseph Berryann participating.

Refreshments were served by Den 3.

Pack 26 Cubs

Indians and their handicrafts carried the theme First Americans into the Port Ewen School, April 29 as Pack 26 Cub Scouts held their monthly pack meeting.

Parents, Cubs and friends were welcomed by Cubmaster Fred Kirk, who announced that Assistant Cubmaster - Webelos Leader Ronald Latz Sr. had been hurt in an auto accident that afternoon. The Pack as a whole wished him a speedy recovery.

Announcements were as follows: Six leaders from the pack attended leader training sessions held in April by the Rip Van Winkle Council.

Saturday, May 2, Pack 26 took part in a conservation project planting seedling trees at the 4-H camp, Rifton.

May 18 — Roundtable at Bethany Hall, Old Dutch Church, Kingston, 7:45 p. m. Pack 26 has closing ceremonies and it is hoped many from the pack will attend.

May 6, Pack leaders meeting at Regina Sass Home, 170 Main Sreet, Port Ewen, at 7:30 p. m.

May 30, Cubs will meet at the Grand Union in uniform to march in the Port Ewen Memorial Day Parade.

June 3, Pack meeting at the Port Ewen School, 7 p. m. All are to appear in Mardi Gras costume.

June 13, Pack 26 trip by chartered bus to Scout Museum in New Brunswick, N. J.

Cubmaster Kirk led those assembled in the pledge of allegience to the flag, followed by opening ceremonies by Den 2 — Wilma Lemister, Denmother, Regina Sass, Asst. Denmother. The ceremonies carried on the "First American" theme.

Commissioner Robert Tremper gave the Cubs uniform inspection by Dens while the movie Achievement Plan was shown to parents by Cubmaster Kirk and Committee Chairman Sylvester Brown.

Kirk then led those assembled in the singing of Cub Scout songs and gave those assembled a tree test which the cubs enjoyed. The poem Cause My Paw Said So by Edgar A. Guest was read and made a hit with the boys.

Den 4 — Frances Giles, Denmother and Doris West, Asst. Denmother gave an impressive Indian skit on Little Bears' initiation to become a medicine man. Cubs were dressed in full Indian dress.

Award ceremony was conducted by Cubmaster Kirk: Bobcats inducted into the pack were Robert Thomas and Larry Mac Farland whose parents were welcomed into the group. Wolf Badges went to Gary Galewaller, Burt Ellis Jr., Edward Ellsworth, Douglass Bell, and Brian Shelightner. Bear Badge went to Thomas Farrell. Lion Badges went to Michael Soura, and Kevin Rathjen. Gold Arrow under Wolf went to Burt Ellis Jr. Two silver arrows under Wolf went to Martin Jordan. Denner stripes to Thomas Farrell. Assistant Denner stripes to Burt Ellis Jr. One-year service stars went to Henry Modeen, Keith Rathjen, Edward Ellsworth, Michael Provenzano.

The parent attendance flag went for the third time to Den 4 —Frances Giles, Denmother and Doris West, Assistant Denmother.

Closing ceremonies were by Den 3 — Louise Cornish, Denmother and were on the Cubbing Uniform. All Cubs sang Good-Night Cub Scouts and Dens 6 and 7 served refreshments.

Commissioner Robert Tremper announced that the pack received a 95.8 per cent on their uniform inspection.

Tommies Break Out of Village, Pinned 12 Hours

THUMAIR, South Arabian Federation (AP)—British paratroopers broke out of a desert village Tuesday night after being pinned down for 12 hours by Bedouin rebels. Two Britons and at least six tribesmen were killed.

The British struck at nightfall and seized hills where Bedouins armed with rifles, machine guns and mortars had been sniping at them all day under the broiling 110-degree sun.

Ten other members of the 120-man British company were wounded in the fierce fighting with the tribesmen. The casualties were flown to the British Middle East base at Aden, 50 miles to the south.

The paratroopers are part of a British force trying to clear about 600 rebels from the road between Aden and Khala, 60 miles to the north. Britain has about 2,000 men battling dissident tribes in the South Arabian Federation of British-protected sheikhdoms stretching across the southern end of the Arabian Peninsula.

The British have accused neighboring Yemen and the United Arab Republic of supplying weapons to the rebels. There were unconfirmed reports that Yemen was trying to infiltrate 300 soldiers to help the Bedouins.

McKinney Sets Record

Ellenville Trackmen Top New Paltz, 64-53

New Paltz High trackmen captured eight of 14 events and set one new school record Tuesday, but the final tally showed Ellenville High, 64½, and New Paltz, 53½.

The Huguenots dominated the running and the Ellies showed their greatest strength in the field events.

Bruce McKinney of New Paltz, a double winner in the high jump and shotput, raised his own school record in the 12-pound shot event with a toss of 44 feet, 11 inches. It was eight inches longer than the 44', 3" record he set a week ago.

The summaries:

180 Low Hurdles—1. David Slutsky, 2. Rampe, 3. Tenedini, NP; time: 23.6 seconds.

100 Yards—1. Bob Zaccheo, NP; 2. Skeens, E; 3. Savago, NP; time: 10.8.

Triple Jump—1. Winkler, E, 2. Myers, E; 3. O'Neil, NP; distance: 41 feet ,5 inches.

Pole Vault—1. Pittelli, E; only entrant: 7 feet, 9 in.

Discus—1. Brian Ranici, E; 2. Mostransky, NP; 3. Hunter, NP; distance: 112 feet, 6 inches.

Broad Jump—1. Nissenbaum, E; 2. Winkler, E; 3. Zaccheo, NP; distance: 20 ft., 7¾ inches.

Shotput—1. Bruce McKinney, NP; 2. Tanich, E; Mostransky, NP; distance: 44 feet, 11 in.

High Jump—1. Bruce McKinney, NP; 2. O'Neil, NP; 3. Maddex, E; height: 5 feet, 2 inches.

Ferraro Posts .460 Average After 12 Games

Mike Ferraro and his Fort Lauderdale teammates are off to red hot starts in the Florida State League.

The Kingston resident is banging the ball at a .460 clip over the first 12 games, having 23 hits in 50 trips to the dish. Included are half a dozen doubles and four stolen bases.

Fort Lauderdale is perched on top of the circuit with a 9-3 record, which includes games to last Saturday.

The former Kingston High athlete, signed two years ago as a bonus player, is playing third base and hitting in the cleanup spot for the Yankee farm team.

Roosevelt Wins, 6-5, Over SHS

Though they scored five runs in the sixth inning, the Saugerties High Sawyers still fell a run short and lost a 6-5 DCSL decision yesterday at Roosevelt.

In other circuit action, Beacon was whitewashed, 6-0, by Our Lady of Lourdes and Wappingers trimmed Arlington, 7-5.

Standings

Team	W.	L.
Wappingers	3	0
Lourdes	2	1
Beacon	2	1
Saugerties	1	2
Roosevelt	1	2
Arlington	0	3

Some loose play on the part of the Sawyer infield combined with timely hitting on the part of Roosevelt, combined to give the home side a 6-0 lead starting the sixth.

Earl Martin began the rally by reaching base on an error. On a fielders choice play, Martin was out and John Luchkowec reached second base. Then starter Pete Ferenz lost his control, walking the next four batters.

A sacrifice fly by Bob Gilmore, a passed ball and relief pitcher Andy Wood's triple accounted for the other runs. Wood remained on third, thus thwarting the final SHS chance to knot the score.

The visitors put the tying run on third base in the seventh but again failed to bring him home.

The defending DCSL champions will meet Lourdes Friday at the SHS diamond. They need a win to stay in the pennant chase.

Saugerties LL Adds Two Teams

Two teams have been added to the Saugerties Little league, making a total of 14 set to play in the circuit.

Action will begin on May 18 at 6:30 p. m. at the Saugerties Lions Club Little league field. Beginning May 30, games will begin at 7:30 and will be played under the lights.

More than 200 boys registered for play this year and the league is appealing to Saugerties residents to donate at least $1 in an effort to help buy equipment for the league.

Raymond Woods' Bridge Winners

Mrs. Raymond Wood of Woodstock posted a 59 per cent game to capture first place in the Esopus Valley Bridge Club's Fractional point game at Deanie's in Woodstock.

Tied for second place with 52½ per cent scores were the teams of Mr. and Mrs. DuBois of Woodstock and Miss Dorothy Maroon and Edward Jordan of Saugerties. Fourth place went to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Korol of Hurley with 50 per cent.

The club has a Fractional point game scheduled tonight at 8 o'clock at Deanie's.

Hawks Beaten For 6th Time In 7 Contests

Playing the part of perfect hosts, the Hawks of State University at New Paltz made nine errors and had their hurlers give up 13 base hits while dropping a 13-3 decision to visiting Oneonta State yesterday.

The upstaters started the day with a six run surge in the first inning and then coasted as the Hawks dropped their sixth game in seven outing.

Coach Al Miller used three hurlers and they were all hit hard as the winners collected two doubles and a homer in their array.

New Paltz had six safeties with Dick Mandia stroking a double and Richie Lotze a pair of singles.

The Ulster County school hits the road Saturday, playing at Albany State.

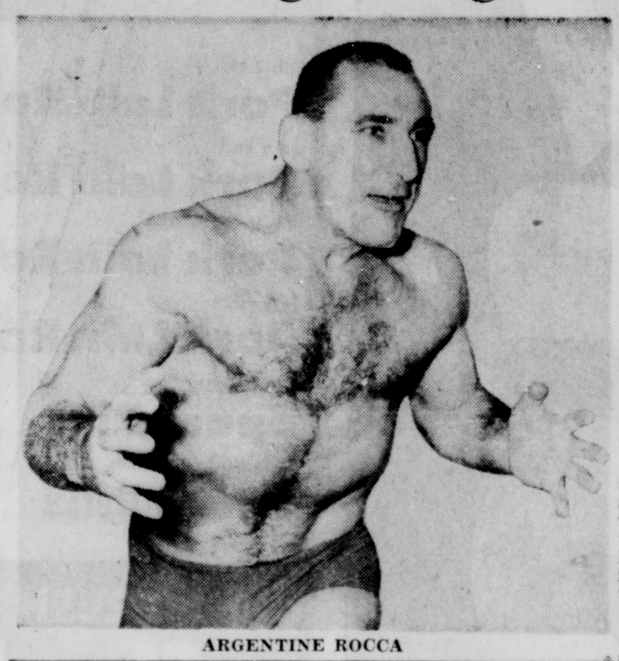
Most Famous Wrestler

Argentine Rocca Will Head Wrestling Program May 16



ARGENTINE ROCCA

Sport's Biggest Draw to Battle Killer Sttile

The greatest wrestling box-office attraction in history—Antonio (Argentine) Rocca—headlines the next wrestling program, May 16, at the municipal auditorium.

Rocca, who is an international favorite and holds attendance records for every major city in the world — will take on Killer Attile in a bout to the finish.

Fred Davi of Glasco, recent winner of the VFW Citizen of the Year award, is promoting the show in conjunction with the World Booking Agency of New York.

Rocca is head of the wrestling syndicate which is distinct and separate from the organization which brought Bruno Sammartino and Prof. Jerry Graham to Kingston last week, when 1700 fans stormed the municipal auditorium.

Tag-Team Event

The semi-final event will be a tag-team affair between the Von Hess brothers of Germany and the Texan Brothers from you know where.

Several other supporting bouts will be announced later, Promoter Davi said.

Rocca, the only millionaire wrestler in history, has invariably attracted SRO crowds to the municipal auditorium. His return to Kingston after an absence of many years is expected to draw another sellout.

Reservations may be made at the Tommy Maines Sports Shop in Kingston.

Highland Wins, 9-0, Over OCS

Tom Gruner was almost a one-man show as Highland blanked Onteora, 9-0, in a UCAL contest yesterday at the Southern Ulster diamond.

The big right hander, headed for St. Lawrence this September, hurled a two-hitter. He banged out twice as many safeties himself, going 4 for 4. Included were a pair of singles, a double and a 350-foot home run in the sixth inning.

Highland knocked out starter Linden Frasier in the second inning and continued the assault on relief hurler George Loveless. The winners had at least one run in every frame.

Gruner surrendered singles to Hugh Spoljaric and Frasier. He walked only one batter and set down nine via the strikeout route.

Coach Lem Atkins' club is slated to host Roosevelt this afternoon and will oppose visiting Pine Bush Friday in a UCAL contest.

Marlboro Nips Wallkill, 2-1

Marlboro's defending UCAL champions are having their troubles getting runs. Yesterday, the Dukes were forced to go nine innings before getting the winning marker on a wild pitch as they nipped visiting Wallkill, 2-1, in a UCAL thriller.

The victory keeps coach Jack Kroh's club in a tie for first place with Rondout Valley.

Lefty Vince Caserto did his usual masterful job for the winners. He hurled a two-hitter, walked three and fanned 11. Dennis Mullen was almost as good for the visitors, pitching a nine-hitter and striking out five.

The winners broke the 1-1 deadlock when Neil Fino and Jim Fino singled. After a fielders choice, Neil Fino came scampering home on a wild pitch.

Marlboro plays a pair of non-league games this week, hosting Cornwall today and Monroe-Woodbury on Friday.

Bird Bonus Baby Wins 1st Game

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Wally Bunker nodded his okay to eager Baltimore Oriole scouts last summer and signed a $70,000 bonus contract with the Orioles, he probably never dreamed that he'd be deceived into stardom.

But that's just what happened to the 19-year-old pitching prodigy Tuesday when Manager Hank Bauer sent him out to the mound against the Washington Senators.

The youngster hadn't worked since the Orioles' final exhibition game and Bauer told him he'd go just four or five innings against the Senators. After five innings Bunker had allowed just one hit and Bauer was about as far away from the bullpen phone as a manager could be.

Four innings later Bunker had his first major league victory 2-1 on a brilliant one-hitter and Bauer another starter for his pitching rotation.

Chuck Hinton managed Washington's only hit off the young right-hander in the fourth inning when the Senators scored their run.

Yankees Win

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees blew a lead in the ninth inning but came back to nip the Detroit Tigers 4-3 in 10 innings; Los Angeles stole some of Kansas City's home run thunder and whacked the Athletics 8-1 and Boston blanked Cleveland 4-0, Minnesota and Chicago were not scheduled.

Whitey Ford was coasting with a 2-0 lead through seven innings when Dick McAuliffe's eighth-inning homer closed the gap for Detroit. Four straight hits put the Tigers on top in the ninth and knocked out Ford.

But New York rallied to tie it in their half and then won it in the 10th on Tony Kubek's triple and a first-pitch single by Bobby Richardson.

Joe Adcock slammed two home runs and Bobby Knoop hit one as the Angels ripped Kansas City. It snapped the Athletics' winning streak at three.

Dean Chance saved it for Barry Latman who won his first game for Los Angeles.

Eddie Bressoud stretched his hitting streak to 16 straight games in Boston's victory over Cleveland. The Indians made it easy for the Red Sox, committing five errors, three of them by Woodie Held.

Dave Morehead picked up the victory with a five-hitter, fanning 10.

Jaycees Set June 28-29 Dates For Annual Golf Tournament

Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce has set the dates of Sunday, June 28 and Monday, June 29, for its annual New York State Jaycee qualification rounds at Wiltwyck Country Club.

As in the past, the golf program will consist of series of clinics, a driving contest and the 36-hole qualifier. Play starts at 2 p. m. both days.

The driving contest is slated for the evening of Friday, June 26. There is no activity scheduled for Saturday.

In 19th Year

The Jaycee golf program is now in its 19th year. It is estimated that 535,000 youngsters have reached the local and state level through clinics and tournaments. Perhaps the best known golfer in this group is Jack Niclaus, who won the National Jaycee title in 1957.

Any young man who has not reached his 18th birthday on August 16 is eligible to compete. Application forms may be obtained starting May 11 from any of the local sport shops and high schools.

The Jaycee tournament committee is headed by Ed Baldyga and Bob Gholson as co-chairmen; assisted by Bob Brown, Emil Buhler, Pat Jordan, Bob Kelder, Jim Marone and Gustaf Jingleheimer.

Tegeler's 1-Hitter Stops PB

Sophomore Tom Tegeler came within one out of a no-hitter in hurling Rondout Valley to a 10-0 whitewashing of Pine Bush yesterday at the Stone Ridge field.

A bloop single by Gene Arthur with two outs in the top of the seventh deprived Tegeler of his no-hit performance. He then retired the next batter to complete the shutout and keep the Ganders deadlocked for first place in the hectic league chase.

Coach Hal Ross' Ganders peppered starter Larry Weed and brother Dean for 10 safeties. Chip Schoonmaker had a double, Pete Green stroked a triple and two singles and John Blanchard and Jerry Craig rapped a pair of singles each.

Tegeler had some control trouble, walking six batters. He fanned seven.

Rondout will host Ellenville this afternoon and has a pivotal UCAL clash Friday against visiting Wallkill.

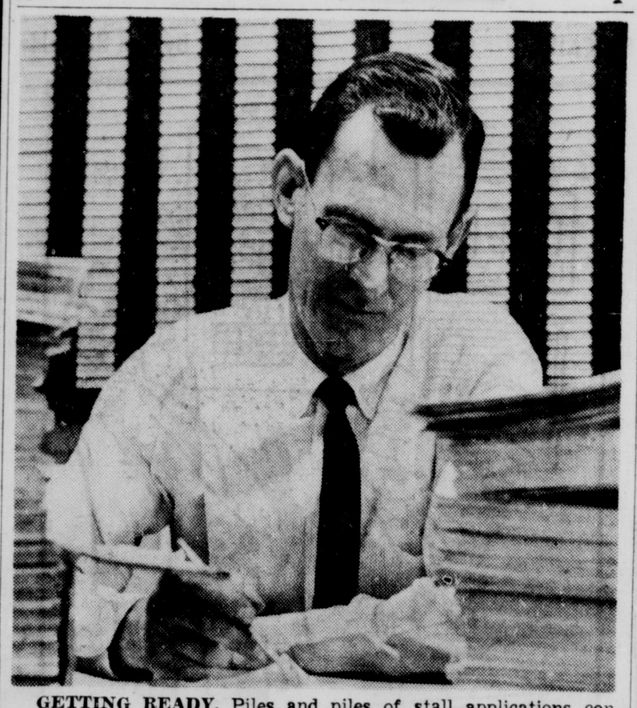
DRINK SAFE WATER

MOST WILDERNESS STREAM WATER IS SAFE TO DRINK. NEVER DRINK FROM OTHER STREAMS, EVEN IF THEY CONTAIN FISH, UNLESS YOU PURIFY WATER FIRST. SPRING WATER, RIGHT AT ITS SOURCE, IS THE SAFEST SUPPLY WITHOUT PURIFICATION.

TO BE SAFE, OTHER WATERS SHOULD BE PURIFIED BEFORE DRINKING, EITHER BY BOILING IT FOR A MINUTE OR MORE, OR WITH PURIFICATION TABLETS. A 2½% SOLUTION OF IODINE MAY ALSO BE USED: USE 8 DROPS PER QUART OF WATER; SHAKE AND LET IT STAND 10 MINUTES BEFORE DRINKING.



GETTING READY. Piles and piles of stall applications confront racing secretary Ed Parker as he gets down to the herculean task of filling Monticello Raceway's 700 stalls in preparation for the harness track's seventh season, which gets underway May 28. A record number of applications deluged Parker's office, making the job that much toughter. (Raceway photo)

Washburn Debuts in Good Style

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We couldn't want him much better," said St. Louis Manager Johnny Keane. "It means an awful lot to us to have him back."

Keane was talking about pitcher Ray Washburn, who Tuesday night made his first start since returning from the minors and scattered seven Philadelphia hits before needing ninth-inning relief help in the Cardinals' 2-1 victory over the Phillies.

Washburn has purposely been brought along slowly by Keane, who feels the young right-hander figures heavily in the Cardinals' National League pennant chances. A healthy Washburn would give St. Louis a starting staff that also includes Ernie Broglio, Bob Gibson, Curt Simmons and Roger Craig.

Patience Rewarded

Apparently, Keane's patience is going to be rewarded.

Washburn had a two-hit shutout for six innings, but seemed to tire in the eighth when Tony Gonzalez homered, and Ron Taylor came on in the ninth to finish up.

At San Francisco, meanwhile, Giants' Manager Al Dark took an extra precaution with Willie Mays, pulled him out of the line-up because of the cold weather and let the Alou brothers, Matty and Jesus, lead the way to a 2-1 decision over Houston.

Elsewhere in the National League, Milwaukee's Warren Spahn stopped the New York Mets 6-0 with a four-hitter for the 63rd shutout of his career and Frank Robinson hit two homers in Cincinnati's 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh. The Los Angeles Dodgers and Chicago Cubs were not scheduled.

The Cardinals jumped on Phillies starter Jim Bunning for four hits and both their runs in the fifth inning. Johnny Lewis' leadoff double and a single by Phil Gagliano produced one run. Singles by Curt Flood and Bill White then brought in the clincher. The loss was the fourth straight for the Phillies.

With Dark protecting Mays' pulled leg muscle in the cold weather, Matty Alou played center field and came up with three hits. His brother, Jesus, collected two. Together they produced the decisive run in the fifth when Jesus singled, stole second and scored on Matty's single. Jack Sanford was the winner with Bob Shaw's relief help.

Good Sign

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(NEA)—If the 41st National Collegiate Swimming Championship meet, held in the Yale pool, is any indication, the United States should fare very well in the Olympic swimming competition in Tokyo next October.

A check of records shows that for the first time in the history of the sport, every NCAA mark was broken in one meet. Not only was the record book rewritten, but a total of 41 individuals and teams turned in performances that bettered previous records.

In one event, the 100-yard breast stroke, each of the six point winners broke the former meet record. The first five finishers in the 200-yard individual medley also bettered the old record while four performers in the 200-yard freestyle and the 1,650-yard freestyle blitzed the old mark.

Amell's Wins Booster Honors

Amell's won the championship of the Kingston Booster league with a 63-42 record. Individual highs were a 255 by Sonny Carpino and a 621 by Ted Goddard. Team records without handicap were 982 and 2664 by the champions. Team marks with handicap were 936 by Kingston Oil No. 1 and 2710 by Schryver's

The league, which just completed its 25th year of operation, will hold the annual banquet on Saturday, May 19 at the White Eagle Hall.

Archeologists have long thought the Vikings visited America some 500 years before Columbus' voyage.

matter of fact

The cony or coney is a name originally applied to the rabbit, and still sometimes used for it, notably in the fur trade. The cony of the old world and of the Bible is a different animal altogether, a hoofed mammal better named the hyrax.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Most employes engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and at least one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for hours worked after a maximum workweek of 40 hours, unless specifically exempt. Also, most employes in certain large retail, service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce, who have been entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.00 an hour since September 3, 1961, must be paid overtime pay of not less than one and one-half times their regular rates for all hours worked after a maximum workweek of 44 hours, unless specifically exempt. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. 10452 WYandotte 2-1235.

Argentina Mulls Envoy Expulsion, Leaving Sunday

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A resolution is before the Argentine Senate requesting the government to expel U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock because of a comment he made about the cancellation of Argentime contracts with U.S. oil companies.

The resolution, submitted Tuesday night by five leading senators from President Artur Illia's Peoples Radical Civic Union, accused the ambassador of interfering in Argentina's internal affairs.

McClintock had planned to leave Argentina Sunday. He is being replaced by Edwin Martin, former U.S. assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs.

The senators were irate over an article Saturday in the newspaper El Territorio, of Posadas, which quoted McClintock as saying U.S. investments in Argentina would end because of the oil contract cancellations.

The U.S. Embassy on Monday corrected the statement to read that "the climate for North American investments in Argentina has been adversely affected by the annulment of the oil contracts."

2 Killed, 40 Injured

Tornadoes Rake Midwest Sectors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A rash of tornadoes and severe thunderstorms struck areas in six Midwestern states Tuesday killing two persons, injuring more than 40 and causing extensive property damage.

Heavy rain, hail and tornadic winds swept secctions of Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Kansas. The severe spring storms struck after temperatures had climbed to summer levels—mostly in the 70s and 80s.

Nebraska Takes Brunt

Nebraska appeared the hardest hit. A series of tornadoes struck several small communities and farm areas in the central part of the state. Two persons were killed and 12 others injured when a tornado ripped through a farm area between Bradshaw and Benedict in the south-central region. At least 24 persons in Nebraska suffered injuries.

A twister which slammed into Wolbach's main street, damaging about 90 per cent of the business establishments in the town of nearly 400 and 70 per cent of the homes. Eight persons were hospitalized. Other tornadoes caused property damage in Tilden, St. Edward and near Petersburg.

More than a dozen persons were injured and between 25 and 30 homes damaged as a tornado and strong winds swept across Fairmount, N.D., a town of about 700. Property damage also was reported at nearby Breckenridge, Minn., where five persons were hospitalized. Tornadic winds lashed the Pelican Rapids, Minn., area about 50 miles northeast of Fairmount, injuring seven persons.

Tornadoes, High Winds

Tornadoes and high winds skipped across a wide section of northwest Iowa, injuring at least five persons and damaging scores of farm buildings. Considerable property damage also was reported from twisters which swept along a 2-3 mile-wide path east of St. John in Stafford County, Kan. No injuries were reported. Strong winds buffeted eastern South Dakota and southern Minnesota during the night with wind gusts up to 72 miles an hour in some areas.

Lodge Decision May Hinge on 2 Primary Results

ROME, N.Y. (AP)—The possibility of Henry Cabot Lodge announcing his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination before the GOP national convention in July could hinge on the outcome of the Oregon and California primaries, Lodge's brother says.

John D. Lodge, brother of the ambassador to South Viet Nam, told reporters Monday night that "we'll know more (about such an announcement) after the Oregon and California primaries."

Lodge was in Rome for the seventh annual meeting of the Rome Junior Achievement Inc.

At a news conference, he also reminded reporters that the ambassador had said through his son, George, that, if nominated, he would accept "humbly, greatfully and enthusiastically."

Lodge said he did not know if his brother would consider running again as a vice presidential candidate.

In his speech, Lodge warned that the federal government had become so large that it was "virtually beyond the control of the Congress."

Call on Catskill Officials to Hire Negro Teachers

The Catskill-Coxsackie Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has called on the Catskill public school officials to hire Negro teachers.

Myrtice Goree, NAACP branch president, reported the local chapter unanimously directed that a letter be sent to the Catskill superintendent of schools urging employment of Negro teachers. The letter expressed willingness to meet with the superintendent of schools and board members.

Goree said, "If we are to equalize educational opportunities for all children, there must be the provision of an active democracy in our educational systems. Without this provision, not only do children of the minority group receive damage from not having adequate motivations to develop them culturally, guide them professionally and adjust them normally for their environment, but the white child also is denied his right of not seeing in his community an active democracy whereby he might learn the true meaning of democracy which will help him adjust normally in the changing community."

Paltz Youth Is Held for Jury On Auto Charge

Robert Anthony Stegen, 16, of New Paltz, who was arrested early Tuesday by Trooper Craig Bremer of the Lake Katrine substation on Route 28 on a first degree grand larceny charge, was later arraigned before Justice Robert Harp of New Paltz and held for grand jury action. Stegen was picked up by Trooper Bremer and turned over to Senior Investigator Frank Staincamp on a charge of taking a 1961 For car which was reported stolen April 30 by Wirton Morrison of 106 Main Street, New Paltz.

Before Justice Harp, Stegen waived examination and was committed to jail to await grand jury action.

Fish Kills May Force Choice on Farmer or River

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Huge fish kills on the lower Mississippi by potent insecticides may force a choice between the farmer and the river.

Scientists from the U.S. Public Health Service told a pollution investigating committee Tuesday that Endrin and similar pesticides are the villains.

The kills, involving millions of fish, have hit the lower Mississippi and the Atchafalaya River, which branches off the Mississippi through Louisiana.

The problem is: Banning the pesticides would make life more difficult for farmers, who use them to destroy pests that prey on crops.

Some scientists, and spokesmen for manufacturers of the insecticide, deny charges that the chemicals are responsible for the river damage.

The PHS, scientists testified before representatives of pollution control agencies from Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee.

Two Seek $300,000 for False Arrest, Jail

Lippincotts Charge Kingston, Catskill Police Are at Fault

Claims alleging false arrest and imprisonment and totaling $300,000 were filed with the Common Council Tuesday night.

Both Kingston and Catskill are named in papers filed for Harold Clayton Lippincott, 58, of 59 St. James Street, and his son, Harold Clinton Lippincott, 28, of the same address, by Attorney William P. Curran. The claim seeks $150,000 for each.

It is claimed that the father was first brought in on the charge and that the police "acknowledged that they had made an error" in the arrest. It dates back to last Feb. 12. It was also reported that the son had pleaded innocent to the charge and hearing is still pending. The error, it was reported occurred in Kingston.

Both Want Money

It is the apparent claim of their counsel that both are entitled to collect for damages because of the alleged error. Papers filed give notice of suit in Supreme Court if settlement is not reached in 30 days.

The claim as filed and referred to Corporation Counsel Harry Gold Tuesday night, said it is made "on the grounds and basis of false arrest and false imprisonment." It alleges Kingston and Catskill police were involved.

The charge, it said, was filed by Jeremiah Dederick, of 206 West Bridge Street, Catskill, against one Harold Lippincott. A warrant was executed in Kingston and the son as defendant was taken to Catskill.

Went Together

A Feb. 13 report said Harold Lippincott, 28, of 59 St. James Street, was due to appear before Justice of the Peace James Batisti at Catskill, and had been released in the custody of his attorney. No mention was made of two being involved, but it was since learned that the father went with the son at the time of arraignment.

It was alleged that the Dederick car had been struck on West Bridge Street, Catskill Feb. 9, and the driver of the offending vehicle left the scene.

Another claim referred to the corporation counsel involves a reported "clerical error" in the handling of payroll deductions. It was filed by Officer Anthony Turck, of the local police force, and is for $279.45.

Turck claims that because of the error, Blue Cross and Blue Shield insurance were voided. When the error was discovered and corrected he said, he was able to rejoin both hospitalization plans in 1963, but before the policies again became effective, his wife became ill and was hospitalized. He claims full responsibility rests with the city.

Court Studies Allowing Red Talk at School

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Court of Appeals has under study a Saratoga County man's request for a decision that would keep a Communist speaker from addressing students at the University of Buffalo.

The state's highest court Tuesday heard an attorney for the university declare that the case raised the vital question of whether free speech should be denied to those supporting unpopular ideas.

Asks Reversal

The court reserved decision on the request of William Egan of Ballston Lake. He seeks reversal of a lower court decision holding that Herbert Aptheker, a member of the national committee of the Communist party, could speak.

John C. Crary, attorney for the university, said that such suppression would "commit us to the very ways of the totalitarianism we all deplore."

Egan Contention

William Roberts, representing Egan, contended that New York taxpayers should not be required to provide a forum for Communist doctrine at the same time their federal taxes were helping to finance fights against communism throughout the world.

Egan was a candidate for Congress—in a contest he subsequently lost—when he brought the court action to bar Aptheker.

A student group at the university had invited Aptheker as one of a series of speakers on political philosophies. Those who spoke included Sir Oswald Mosley, the war-time Fascist leader in Britain. His appearance prompted demonstrations but did not lead to court action.

Unit of University

The Buffalo school is a unit of the State University.

Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond questioned Roberts extensively on the issue of academic freedom, particularly on the point of whether the students would be susceptible to any efforts to indoctrinate and to recruit them.

Desmond asked, "Shouldn't students hear all points of

Boice, Keator Named To Terms; Vacant Job For Stern-Montagny

Voting was extremely light Tuesday when approximately 2,100 persons showed up at the voting places in the Kingston School District, Consolidated, to fill three seats on the board of education. Considering there are some 32,000 eligible voters in the area, the vote Tuesday was almost a token vote. Last year the vote was approximately 3,800.

Elected to the board according to unofficial tabluations:

Richard P. Boice, Lake Katrine, 1,773.

Harold E. Keator, Lake Katrine, 1,799.

Francis Stern-Montagny, Hurley, 1,561.

Everette Hodge, Kingston funeral director and president of the Ulster County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, polled 633 votes. He also had the endorsement of the Ulster County Ministerial and Laymen's Alliance.

Voting took place between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. in the 18 districts of the Consolidated School district.

Will Meet Tonight

Howard Fox and Benson A. Krom, incumbent members, did not seek re-election. The third vacancy on the board came about through the resignation of Trustee Gifford Beale, who moved from the district last December. Three years of his term remains to be served.

The board of trustees will meet tonight at 8 o'clock to make an official canvass of the vote and will also hold its regular meeting at that time.

There was a scattered "write-in" in various districts but no concerted effort to oppose any of the designated candidates.

All Three Endorsed

All three trustees elected had the backing of the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee.

Richard P. Boice operates a dairy farm and resides at Lake Katrine. Harold E. Keator, also a resident of Lake Katrine, is a distribution superintendent for the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in the Kingston district, and Francis Stern-Montagny of Hurley is a senior engineer employed at the Kingston IBM plant.

Boice and Keator will fill the two five year terms and Mr. Stern-Montagby will serve out the three years of Mr. Beal's term.

Mrs. Bertha Connelly, wife of Attorney Vincent G. Connelly of Kingston, was the leading contender in the "write-in" category, receiving over half a dozen votes in scattered areas. Mrs.

Russia May Build 7-10 Atom Subs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union may be building atomic-powered submarines at a rate of seven to 10 a year, U.S. sources estimate.

This would appear to about match the American production schedule.

Available records show that in the last full year, the United States constructed nine nuclear-engined submarines, either Polaris or attack ships.

This was below the planned average of one commissioning per month. That plan was upset by new and tighter construction safety requirements, established after the loss of the Thresher a year ago.

Two or Three Years

The U.S. program carries construction through only about another two or three years, when building of 41 Polaris and 44 attack submarines will have been completed and the last of them put into fitting-out yards for final work.

The Soviet Union has given no indication of a termination date for her atomic submarine program.

As the Soviets have progressed into the atomic submarine field, they appear to have eased off on some of the supersecrecy which surrounded their effort at the outset of the attempt to catch up or surpass the United States.

In Eastern Atlantic

From time to time, Soviet nuclear-powered submarines are seen surfaced, whereas before they probably operated close to home or in arctic waters immediately north of the Soviet homeland. Those reported as sighted, up to now, have been in the eastern Atlantic region.

The estimated production rate for the Soviets is not broken down between missile-firing and attack submarines.

The British publication, "Jane's Fighting Ships," says in its latest edition that the Soviet Union had by the latter half of last year 26 atomic-powered submarines in operation. At that time, the United States had about 30 in commission.

Heritage Flags Are For Parade

Frank T. Rodell, chairman of the 1964 Memorial Day Parade, has announced that Troop 18 sponsored by St. Mary's Church Catholic Youth Organization will carry three historic flags in the parade this year.

This year the Boy Scouts of America are emphasizing "American Heritage." In observance of this, Troop 18 will have an American Heritage troop in the annual Memorial Day parade with several flags well known during Revolutionary days.

Flags being made by Mrs. Andrew Grier, Mrs. Salvatore Romano and Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald of St. Mary's Mother's Club are the Bunker Hill, Continental and Moultrie standards.

The Bunker Hill Flag, as the name implies, was a New England color standard carried by the Colonial troops who opposed the British regulars at Bunker Hill on June 17, 1775.

The Continental Flag was all red with the left quarter of the flag white and bore a green pine tree figure. It is interesting to note that the pine tree was used as a symbol of an appeal to Heaven.

First in South

The Moultrie Flag was the first distinctive American color standard to be displayed in the South. It was made famous by Colonel William Moultrie when he defended successfully against the British Navy at Sullivan's Island which guarded the channel to Charleston, S. C.

The flag is blue representing the color of the uniform worn by the garrison with the word "Liberty" printed along the bottom. In the upper left is a crescent representing another part of the garrison uniform.

"It is hoped that these flags will help keep the image of our American heritage bright and possibly give a little patriotic inspiration," Roedell said.

$12,000 Approved Toward Arterial Property Payment

A budget note for $12,000 was approved Tuesday night by the Common Council for payment, in part, of money advanced by the state in acquiring properties for construction of the Washington Avenue arterial, which included razing of the nearly half-century old viaduct.

Total cost of acquiring several properties in the area was $120,000. The city has 10 years in which to pay its half share.

The council recessed subject to call of Alderman-at-Large Joseph F. Carroll Jr., to consider consolidation of bond issues prior to sale, and possibly to act on urban renewal, which is due for public hearing May 13.

Left with the railroad and bus committee was an application of Statewide Airport Transit Inc., of Port Chester, for permission to use certain city streets for operation of bus service between Kingston and the LaGuardia and John F. Kennedy airports in New York.

The local terminal is to be at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Statewide was recently granted permission to operate the service by the Public Service Commission.

Among several local organizations asking favorable action on the Broadway East urban renewal project were the Building Trades Council and Ulster Chapter, New York State Society of Professional Engineers. Other organizations previously went on record in favor of the project.

Alderman-at-Large Carroll and Majority Leader John Machione (R) 12th Ward, were hopeful of an impressive attendance at the hearing, which is due to start at 7:30 p. m. May 13 in the Common Council Chamber, City Hall.

Machione emphasized that the hearing provides final opportunity for the aldermen and others to express their opinions on ur-

Wallace Stirs Up Problems in Defeat

Taft, Bud, Barry Win In Confusing Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once again voters have proved how much they like a famous name—and George C. Wallace, Alabama's states' rights governor, has proved he can stir up problems for Democrats even while losing.

Seven widely scattered primaries were held Tuesday in which:

—Robert Taft Jr. and Bud Wilkinson scored landslide victories;

Glenn Does Well

—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. ran well in a race from which he had withdrawn;

—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona picked up Indiana's 32 convention votes in his chase after the Republican presidential nomination;

—Wallace lost to President Johnson's man in Indiana, Gov. Matthew E. Welsh, but with around 30 per cent of the votes he claimed victory.

"We shook the eye teeth of the liberals in Washington," Wallace said.

"Wishful thinking," Welsh said.

It was a big primary day, and often a thoroughly confusing one.

Take Indiana. While Democrats were trying to figure out how many of Wallace's votes were really votes against Johnson, the Republicans were having their difficulties, too.

Fourth for Stassen

Goldwater had been expected to breeze in, with Harold E. Stassen supplying minimum opposition. But the former governor of Minnesota picked up around a fourth of the votes cast for his finest showing in years.

Write-ins are illegal in Indiana, and Stassen collected the windfall. In New Hampshire, where Henry Cabot Lodge won with write-ins, Stassen ran a bad sixth and last, with a trifle over one per cent of the vote.

Or take Ohio. Here Rep. Robert Taft Jr. made his first move toward taking over the Senate seat held by his late father, the "Mr. Republican" of his party. Taft won the GOP nomination with a knockout victory over Secretary of State Ted Brown.

But Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young, a bouncy 75-year-old who wants to keep his job, found the voters like John H. Glenn Jr. even though a bathroom fall had taken him out of the race. Glenn's name stayed on the ballot, and about one-third of the Democrats voted for him anyway.

Other Developments

Elsewhere around the country there were these developments:

OKLAHOMA — Former football coach Bud Wilkinson was an easy winner in his try for the GOP senatorial nomination. His opponent was to be decided in a runoff between the incumbent Sen. J. Howard Edmondson and State Sen. Fred Harris.

ALABAMA — No question about a Wallace victory here.

Hodge Scores Small School Vote, Apathy of Negroes

In assessing the results of the school board election Everette Hodge said today that he felt the showing in the community as a whole was very fair.

"I would have been surprised if I had won and am not sorry that I lost," he said. However, he scored the lack of interest in the community as a whole and the Negro community in particular.

The voting gave him an opportunity to observe both the Negro community and the white community and he found it most significant that the vote was 6 to 1 in the white community while the Negro community showed absolutely no interest.

Hodge, a Negro, said this lack of interest accounts for much of the Negro situation in economic and educational areas.

He considered the showing at the polls "extremely good" in view of the fact that he ran as an independent, and feels that he has gained a great deal. If in running he had served as "a catalyst to motivation and stimulation" strides have been made, he said.

An advocate of trade school programs to eliminate drop-outs, Hodge expressed appreciation to The Freeman for its fair coverage of his candidacy.

Tariff Talks Get Green Light; U. S., Common Market Agree on 50PC Basis

GENEVA (AP) — The drive that President John F. Kennedy started to free world trade got a green light today from the chief negotiators at the 75-nation Kennedy Round talks.

The world's trading giants—the United States, Britain and the European Common Market—agreed to negotiate on the basis of a 50 per cent, across-the-board reduction in tariffs. But that is only a goal, and the final cuts won't average that much.

When negotiations are concluded, in 1965 or 1966, the result should be more business for all and a brake on rising prices. This is the purpose of the Kennedy Round of trade negotiations, which the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade—GATT—opened in Geneva this week.

Even some Communist countries will go along in this attempt to improve trade. Czechoslovakia already is a member of GATT. Poland is working hard for greater participation.

American officials were pleased to pin down the 50 per cent figure, even as only a basis for work. President Charles de Gaulle's government, fearful of toughter foreign competition for France's growing industry, had opposed setting this reduction, the maximum allowed by American law, as the official aim of the talks.

U.S. tariffs, though twice cut in half over the last 30 years, still are in many cases much higher than the tariffs of other countries.

A rule is to be worked out that will cut these higher American tariffs by the full 50 per cent and reduce the corresponding European tariffs by a lower margin, perhaps 25 per cent.

Each country involved also will submit lists of exceptions for items which must be dealt with separately. A deadline of Sept. 10 was set for these lists. That is when the tough bargaining will start.

The New York Times reported today that the Soviet Union, which has repeatedly denounced the Common Market, has put out tentative feelers about establishing relations with the West European economic bloc.

A Times dispatch from Geneva said Western diplomats are speculating that the Russians soon will accredit a mission to the Brussels headquarters of the Common Market.

"The Russian interest appears to be an application of the maxim: If you can't lick them, join them," the Times said.

Will Sign Contract 11th For Ellenville Hospital

The official contract signing ceremony for the $1.49 million hospital for the greater Ellenville area will take place next Monday, May 11, at the Fallsview Hotel in Ellenville.

This announcement was made today by Benjamin Lonstein, president of Veterans Memorial Hospital, who said that special plaques will be given donors who have contributed $2,500 or more to the building fund.

Monday's contract signing is scheduled for 5:30 p. m. with a reception and smorgasbord to follow.

The 65-bed facility, scheduled for construction on the 13-acre Gleary-Resnick site on Route 209 between Ellenville and Napanoch, would replace the present 40-bed facility in Ellenville.

The Ellenville Hospital representative have been assured of federal aid under the Hill-Burton Act of $466,666. This was approved in April of 1963. A fund drive, which ended in 1963, was successful in obtaining pledges of more than $800,000 for the hospital campaign.

Thirty-seven contracting firms submitted bids for the six phases of construction for the hospital in March and the low bid aggregated $1,225,000, which reportedly was close to the estimate.

Ellsworth McDole, of the McDole Construction Co., co-chairman of the hospital's building committee, said the three low bids for general construction without alternates were: Hambley Construction Co., Middletown, $719,000; Vincent J. Smith, Ossining, $719,197; I. O. A. Slutsky of Hunter, $743,800.

Plumbing — J. & K. Plumbing and Heating, $114,000; Bank Brothers, Accord, $117,657.

Heating and ventilating—J. & K Plumbing and Heating, $189,000; M. Kramer, Albany, $190,660.

Electrical work — Economy Electric Co. of Ellenville, $165,700; Field Electric Co., $174,890.

Water distribution work — Kelly Sand and Gravel, Ellenville, $17,714; S. and S. Construction, Falisburgh, $23,104.

The bids were referred to the building committee and architect for further study.

Lonstein pointed out today that during Monday's ceremony donors of $2,500 will receive silver plaques and those who have contributed $5,000 or more will receive bronze plaques.

Hospital officials and contractors, who will handle the construction, will be present during the program to offer first-hand information concerning the building program.

Dr. John J. Bourke, of the Division of Hospital Review and Planning, New York State Department of Health, is expected to be present signalling the actual go-ahead of construction.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I just had a telephone call from Alfred P. Marquart of 72 Crane Street. He told me in looking for some clippings, he found a Freeman of Nov. 9, 1948, in which they describe the last Hudson Dayline boat to come up to Kingston Point. It said something to the effect that after 85 years of service, on Oct. 31, 1948 they would no longer stop at Kingston Point. I also had an item from the May 12, 1957 Sunday Herald Tribune in which they say that in 1948, George Sanders bought the line from descendants of the original owners, and that he discontinued service beyond Poughkeepsie, and reduced the fleet to keep it going. In 1957 there was a Jubilee trip to Albany and return, June 1 and 2 to celebrate Robert Fulton's voyage. In 1957 the season opened with the last side-wheeler, Alexander Hamilton on the river. It was one of the few in the U.S.A. at the time.

Sometime ago Tom Walsh, of 37 Boulevard, who collects books and other items on the Hudson Valley and Catskill Mountains gave me an 1872 Kingston Business Directory. I see some 92 years ago, four brickyards are listed in Kingston: J. H. Cordts and Co. at Livingston near Kingston Point; P. J. Gurnee, at the Steeple Rocks Road near Kingston Point; Nickerson and Stephens, also in that section, and Terry Bros. around that location of Steeple Rocks Road and Kingston Point. The brick industry has given many a family their livelihood, and Kingston City some of their finest and handsomest buildings, which have stood up through the years in fine and foul weather. Streets were paved with them, and driveways made, and they stood up well under the pounding of horses' hoofs, and wheels. Our good old Ulster County bricks, now they are not good enough for our public buildings. Why?

Back in 1858 and later the cooper's craftsmanship was much in demand to make barrels. In 1858, William Murphy living near The Bridge is listed, and also James F. Brodhead, Calder near Wurts Street in Rondout, and of course there were many more.

I just received The Log of Mystic Seaport of the Marine Historical Assn., Inc., Mystic, Conn. I see they are building a cooper shop at their museum. While we take down, little by little, the authentic, original stone and historic buildings in our midst, in the name of progress, in the hope that it will inspire visitors to Kingston, N. Y., Mystic is upping their admission from $2 to $2.50 for adults, and folks from all the states and foreign countries are bringing their gold there. They even have individual books for each state, and one for foreign visitors and one for children.

This little booklet tells about their new cooper shop, and the demand of the barrels and casks, which were used for flour in Philadelphia, salt pork and beef in New York and Albany, molasses and sugar in the West Indies, dried beans and dried fruits in Jersey and Delaware, fish and clams in New England, beer in the midwest, wines in the Canaries and Madeira. They further describe how the barrels and casks for the water, flour, molasses, raisins, salt, provisions, had to be made to fit in the hold of a ship. These were made in different sizes so that full use would be made of the available room. In the whaling industry, they had three basic sizes for the whale oil. The cooper's trade was considered a specialist's craft, and three basic tools were used, the draw-knife, the adze and the maul, which again were in several sizes. The cooper sat astride the horse or bench, placed the wood in a wooden clamp, held by a foot-treadle, and shaped the stave with his draw-knife, but that was only half of the work. All this will be demonstrated at Mystic.

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—Elko residents can breathe easier now that the law no longer requires them to wear flu masks when out in public. The city council passed the ordinance during the flu epidemic of 1918. Now, 46 years later, the law has been repealed.

Count Winners to See Pitfall

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is a hand from the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament that illustrates the paramount importance of counting your winners and losers and then asking yourself the question, "How can I make this contract?"

Your first count shows that you can make your four diamond tricks if the ace has to take the first or second lead. You also have two spades and a heart and will need two club tricks to make your contract.

Opening lead—♠ 3

Now you see that you will have to take the club finesse eventually.

Your next mental question is, "Can I make this hand if I can only gather in two diamond tricks?" The answer is a qualified yes. Four clubs, two diamonds two spades and one heart adds up to nine.

Now you are ready for actual play. You lead the eight of diamonds and overtake with dummy's ten. This holds the trick and since you must take a club finesse sometime you take it right now.

When the club finesse works, you lead your nine of diamonds and overtake with dummy's queen. This holds the trick also. (It wouldn't do East a bit of good to take his ace.) Now you take another club finesse, lay down the ace of clubs and lead another club.

East wins the trick and leads another spade, but you have established your last club as your ninth trick.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Casablanca, village center property holders, recently spent a week at Indian Rocks on the Gulf coast of Florida.

Francis Waters, former downtown Kingston resident who now makes his home at the Ben Van Wagenen farmhouse, Lomontville, was a local caller last Wednesday. He was well known here as a young man when with his big team of horses he was engaged in getting out railroad ties and other timber in the Shokan area.

Maureen Throneburgh was a weekend visitor at the Maurice Decker home in Mitchell Hollow, Greene County.

Birthdays May 10 include that of John Phelan who with his family resides in one of the Ruckert bungalows in the village center.

Neighboring Delaware County despite the heavy influx of summer residents who have bought many of the big farms up there, still is maintaining its reputation as one of the foremost dairying sectors of New York State. There are 1,700 families engaged in producing milk, and a large percentage of the stores and other business concerns depend largely on the dairying industry for their livelihood.

Callers in the village center Wednesday included Mr. and Mrs. John Daley. They went to school together when both resided in New York City. The World War II veteran lived for several years on the west side of the Esopus Creek at Boiceville; while in the Army he was in the same outfit in North Africa with Dr. David Barry who has a summer place on Winchell Mountain here. Daley is now employed as one of Sheriff Claude Bell's deputies in Kingston.

Local jottings of 33 years ago: Thursday, April 23, 1931—Shokan school is in a flourishing condition with 37 pupils in attendance under supervision of Prof. Harrison Gridley . . . Alva DuBois, Highland called on local friends Sunday. His father was an early resident here . . . Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carter, accompanied by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Bush, called on friends in Alligerville Sunday . . . Mrs. Benjamin Van Steenburgh was a delegate from the Ashokan Methodist Church to a recent Sunday School Conference in Newburgh . . . Mrs. Elva H. Bogart, Kingston, visited her place near Little Tonche Mountain Sunday. The view from the Bogart house, the Lemuel Winchell home of a century ago, affords a superb view of the great Ashokan Reservoir and the Shawangunk Mountains beyond . . . Sidney Van der Bent came up from New York Friday to spend a few days rusticating on the family acres in the Coons District. It was his first trip to Shokan this year . . . Wallace McDowell, formerly superintendent on the Pitcairn mansion job atop Little Tonche Mountain, drove up from Philadelphia with Charlie Price Monday. McDowell has spent a part of the winter in Ireland, his native heath, where he was sent by Raymond Pitcairn to buy certain kinds of lumber. The two were being welcomed by their numerous friends in Shokan and Ashokan.

She Wants It in Writing

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — City Editor Jim Petterson of the Topeka Capital reports in his column, "Street Sounds," of receiving a telephone call from a woman who wanted to give a club notice as a "news item." "I heard that on a radio program this morning before I came to work," Petterson told the caller, implying she should have called earlier. 'I know," she replied, "but we keep a scrap book and those radio announcers are sort of hard to clip out."

FICTITIOUS NO MORE

It is scarcely original to note that science keeps overtaking science fiction, especially in the field of space. On occassion, however, this phenomenon is brought to mind so forcefully that comment seems appropriate again.

This is the case now that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has revealed some details of its orbital space laboratory project. It was less than seven years ago that the first man-made satellite, about the size of a basketball, was placed in orbit. Now engineers in NASA are zeroing in on a variety of plans to keep a manned space laboratory aloft for periods of up to a year or more.

"Manned," in this connection, does not mean simply one or two men hunched in a whirling capsule scarcely big enough to hold them. The Air Force's projected manned orbiting laboratory is about that — a cylinder, 10 feet in diameter, in which two men would operate instruments for up to a month before returning to earth in an attached Gemini vehicle. But that is only the starting point for NASA plans.

The next step is likely to be a stripped-down Apollo craft that could keep three technicians aloft for a couple of weeks. Following that there may be a capsule in which a crew of six, changed at regular intervals by space ferries, could carry on tests for a year. Thus far the biggest dream is of a wheel-shaped laboratory with about 67,000 cubic feet of inside space.

This sort of thing is old stuff to science fiction readers. But the gap between fiction and reality is swiftly narrowing.

MOMENT OF TRUTH

A word, now, to those who intend to trim down but don't seem able to get started: The moment of truth is coming. The moment of truth will be at hand when, having ventured to the beach for the first dip of the season, one must tug on a swim suit and appear before the multitudes.

This presents no problem to lissome maids and sturdy lads; youth is on their side. To the more mature, especially those who have whiled away the winter months dining not wisely but too well, this can be a mortifying test.

Clothing provides a facade; the arts of the tailor and dressmaker gloss over signs of all but really gross indulgence. But these arts are no longer any help when one is crammed into swimwear. Then the rolls and bulges become all too apparent — are even emphasized, bespeaking more than enough food and not enough exercise.

So try on your swim suit and take the mirror test. If the mirror says, "Ten pounds of excess baggage," act accordingly. There may just be time before the moment of truth arrives.

ART COMES ON WHEELS

An interesting thing has been going on in the back hills of Arkansas. A big white and blue trailer truck, dubbed an artmobile, has since late in 1962 brought fine paintings to areas where such works had never before been seen.

The vehicle has trundled along narrow country roads, stopping for a few days to display an exhibiton of 17th century Dutch paintings at small communities in each of the state's 75 counties. The show has been seen by some 184,000 rural Arkansans. On the whole, the response has been impressively favorable.

The possibilities, in other states as well as Arkansas and Virgina(which has two artmobiles) are striking. The idea of giving all Americans some chance of contact with the glories of art appeals to all who know how such contact can enrich life and extend the horizons of the spirit.

SILLY BUT STUFFY

The silly season has taken rather an odd turn this spring. It used to be that college boys went in for such gaieties as goldfish swallowing, panty raids, phone booth packing and bedstead races. This year word has come from Edinburgh, Scotland, that the lads at St. Andrews University are being silly in an academic way.

It seems that 10 students have put in a claim for the world's record in uninterrupted play reading. They read parts of 35 drama classics, and kept it up for 48 hours and 11 minutes. Who is to dispute them? But it all seems rather stuffy, compared with the zanier goings-on of yesteryear.

Laotians ignore the government crisis and celebrate arrival of the rainy season. Over there, "Into each life a little rain must fall" is a happy saying.

American auto makers are stepping up sales campaigns in Europe. Over here we've hit the saturation point — in parking space.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

JOHNSON HAS AN INSIDE TRACK ON CUBA

The Republican Critical Issues Council, headed by Milton Eisenhower, earned its salt the other day when it issued a report urging Washington to lift its curbs on anti-Castro raiders and to recognize a free Cuban government in exile. But, knowing Lyndon Johnsons "can-do" propensities, it is exremely likely that if there is any Election Day yardage to be made by disposing of the Fidel Castro threat without risking nuclear war, the Administration will move in time to get that benefit for itself. In which case, Milton Eisenhower would probably not even be thanked for an assist on the play.

While I have no means of knowing what goes on in Lyndon Jonhson's mind when he thinks about Castro, I do know that anti-Castro forces have had easier access to "Johnson men" in the White House than they ever had to Kennedy men. Last fall, the Cuban refugees were entirely without hope; they were even talking about forming a "Cubans for Goldwater committee. But this sort of rebellion has died down. Now there are stories, no doubt leaked by CIA people, that underground activity will soon move from a clandestine phase to a more open one inside Cuba, and that the U. S. will look the other way as supplies are dropped to them from the air or smuggled in over the beaches.

This may be pure rumor, but it stands to reason. But when will anything decisive really begin to happen? The question of dealing with Castro, given Lyndon Johnson's habit of moving only after all the hazards have been counted, will certainly be one of timing. The State Department, ever timorous, worries about Khrushchev's attitude. The big fear of John F. Kennedy was that Khrushchev might counter in Berlin if anything were to be done about Castro in Cuba, and there was reason for this fear. However, since the missile crisis the Russians have had to reckon with the peasant's agricultural slow-down, the rupture of good relations with Red China, and the seething unrest in East Europe, which has forced Khrushchev's switch to "goulash" diplomacy. Khrushchev is not in a position to adventure anywhere.

It would be quite in line with Lyndon Johnson's character, then, to time a move against Castro after the evidence of the next Russian and East European harvests is in. The prospects are that these harvests will be poor. The Soviets are undertaking an agonized reappraisal of their farm policies. Debating all manner of means of getting more out of the peasants and the Kolkhoze managers short of a restoration of capitalistic farming, at the February meeting of the Soviet Central Committee on Agriculture, Khrushchev asked for drastic measures to halt a mass migration to the cities of skilled Russian farmers. This sort of thing does not betoken a problem that can be solved overnight. The opportune time for a move against Castro would thus be after the Soviets have had to appeal once more to the West for shipments of wheat, which should come sometime after next August and conveniently before the U. S. November election.

What the Republicans are up against in their efforts to use foreign policy items against Johnson is that they are dealing with a man who has uncommon strategical sense. The L.B.J. style in the Senate was to make exceedingly accurate estimates of strength and weakness before moving. Bobby Baker, Johnson's Chief of Staff in those days, may be in bad repute now, but as one of Bakers friends still insists, "at least Bobby could count." The L.B.J. predilection for advisers who can do accurate strategical arithmetic will certainly manifest itself in any dealings with Castro.

So Milton Eisenhower and the Republicans may well gnaw their nails. They are right in urging that we let the anti-Castro Cubans go to work, but L.B.J. is in a position to steal the Republicans' thunder at the precise time when it is calculated to do the Administration the most political good.

Trichinosis, Long Known, Still Takes Heavy Toll

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When the cause of a disease and effective preventive measures have been known for more than 100 years, it should come as a shock to learn that some 27 million persons in the United States have that disease. Yet this is the case with trichinosis, an infestation with a microscopic worm. Fortunately, it is so mild in most of the victims that they don't know they have it.

In man it is caused by eating raw or inadequately cooked products from hogs which are infested with trchinae.

The worm in a resting stage becomes encysted in the animal's muscles and, when the pork is eaten, the digestive juices dissolve the cysts and the worms become active in the intestinal tract. Although they do not harm directly they leave behind myriads of youngsters (larvae) that penetrate the intestinal wall and are carried in the blood or lymph stream to the muscles of the victim.

There they in turn go into a resting stage but if there are enough of them they set up an inflammatory reaction. This causes the victim to have fever, weakness, headache and soreness in the involved muscles. A massive infestation may even cause death or death may be caused by a high concentration of the parasites in the heart muscle.

Until recently there was no cure for this disease but thiabendazole, a drug that has long been used to treat a variety of infestations in animals. It has now been tried on a human subject with excellent results. The best treatment, however, is still prevention and this consists of refusing to eat any pork products that have not been thoroughly cooked. Of course, pork found on government inspection to be infested is condemned.

There are still some persons who have a decided preference for raw pork and even they can protect themselves by storing the meat in a deep freeze at 0 degrees for 24 hours or a 5 degrees for three weeks.

Q—I have been taking Orthonovum pills for 3 months and have noticed that I have to urinate frequently. Does this drug harm the kidneys?

A—Orthonovum is a synthetic steroid hormone. With the proper dosage it causes no serious side effects in normal persons but if urinalysis shows that you have a kidney disease you should discontinue its use as it may aggravate the condition.

"Maybe He'll Drop One Before November"

Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Studies by startled U.S. scientists reveal that the Soviet Union is putting 50 per cent more effort than the United States into learning how to control the energy that's in the H-bomb.

The United States now has 365 scientists on controlled thermonuclear research. The Soviet Union has 600 on this potentially tremendous source of power.

The Russians are investing heavily in new research buildings and in high-powered equipment. The Kurchatov laboratory in Moscow is the largest in the world in fusion research.

The Communist party has ordered that controlled fusion research be put on the first priority list and all monetary ceilings removed.

SOVIET SCIENTISTS ALREADY HAVE moved so fast in one crucial fusion control problem, reports a highly placed U.S. nuclear physicist, that their results have sparked a whole series of new ideas in the United States.

Until recently, U.S. scientists have been confident that we were well ahead of the Russians. That may still be true, for the big Soviet push is less than four years old. But with this new Soviet effort, U.S. superiority could disappear in less than five years. Some scientists believe the U.S.S.R. is already ahead.

If the Soviets get there first in fusion control, it would bring a bigger worldwide shock than the first Sputnik. As one scientist puts it, "In the long run it is much more important to solve (the) energy (needs of) mankind forever than just to put a satellite up."

The major problem in controlled fusion is learning how to contain large amounts of the interacting hot gas particles, bring them toward temperatures equaling those on the sun's surface and concentrate or contain these gasses (plasma) in a small enough space with sufficient stability so that fusion will take place continuously.

Scientists have been able to do this only with very small amounts of plasma for tiny periods of time.

SOME STARTLING, ABSOLUTELY NEW developments were discovered recently during a trip to the Soviet Union by a group of top-flight U.S. government thermonuclear experts. The new developments included:

1. One of the major problems in controlling thermonuclear reactions is to keep the plasma mixture stable so that the production of energy will continue.

U.S. scientists were impressed by an ingenious Soviet development "whereby as soon as the plasma begins to get unstable you reverse some of the magnetic field within about a millionth of a second, so that the conditions are reversed and it becomes stable again. Then, in another millionth of a second, you do it again."

2. Getting the plasma mixture hot enough for fusion to take place is a second major problem. At Kharkov the Americans found the Russians in a key experiment had managed to heat plasma about eight times hotter than we have.

3. Keeping the plasma mixture from escaping is a problem with gasses so hot they can "burn" through any container. One way of doing this is by means of a mirror machine, which uses a magnetic field to reflect the escaping gases (plasma) back into the mixture. A Russian mirror machine, similar to one at Livermore, Calif., produces about three times the magnetic field with much simpler apparatus.

But what impressed the U.S. scientists most was the tremendous influx of bright young scientistes and engineers into the Soviete-controlled thermonuclear research program.

Obeying Law Is Difficult In This 'Era of Confusion'

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — This period may go down in history as the "era of confusion." For many people do not seem to know from one day to another just what is the law of the land. Nor is it clear any more what laws have to be obeyed. The Methodist Church, for instance, at its General Conference has just approved a report declaring that Christians, when called upon to obey unjust or immoral laws, should instead follow their consciences and "obey God."

Similar sentiments have been voiced by two Negro preachers of prominence, Martin Luther King and Rep. Adam Clayton Powell. But when Govs. Barnett, of Mississippi, and Wallace, of Alabama, decided to ignore a court order and act according to their consciences, they were immediately denounced as "racists" or "extremists" or as "lawless" individuals.

The resolution adopted by the Methodists was offered by the Rev. Harold A. Bosley, of New York, and his committee on Christian social concerns. It reads as follows:

"In some instances, where legal recourse is unavailable or inadequate for redress of grievances from laws or their applications that, on their face, are unjust or immoral, the Christian conscience will obey God rather than man."

Resistance to law has been frequent in the racial controversy in recent months. Disobedience has been encouraged in the form of street demonstrations, sit-ins, stall-ins and lie-ins. It has been openly asserted by the leaders of various groups that an individual has a right to decide for himself what is an unjust law. He, of course, takes the consequences when he is finally punished for disorder, but even this hasn't deterred the demonstrators because the main objective has been to get publicity in their efforts to dramatize their cause.

Much of the difficulty, it has been said, will be erased if the civil rights bill is passed, because many of the points hitherto not covered by law with respect to racial discrimination will be subject to enforcement by the Federal authorities. But here, too, many difficulties present themselves, for the courts will take some time before they will pass upon the constitutionality of many of the provisions of the civil rights bill when it does become law. Meanwhile, every individual has the right to test any law as to its constitutionality. If he is wrong, he must be punished, but this doesn't deter even governors of states from taking the risks involved.

With respect to desegregation of public schools, for example, the action taken by the Supreme Court of the United States this week in a case involving racial imbalance in the public schools of Gary Ind., has produced some disappointment among the ranks of Negro leaders, because racial imbalance was not ruled to be illegal or unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court refused to review the case and thus it let stand the ruling of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals that there was no obligation to abandon the neighborhood school to attain a better racial balance. The school authorities in Gary had transferred students from overcrowded schools and in one instance there were 120 Negroes among the 140 students transferred from a predominantly Negro school to a predominantly white school. But this was not considered adequate by the Negro organizations which took the case to court.

The plaintiffs had based their case, in the words of the Circuit Court opinion, "on their fundamental theory that their right to be integrated in school is such an overriding purpose that little, if any, consideration need be given to the safety of the children, convenience of pupils and their parents, and costs of the operation of the school system."

The plaintiffs also argued that in the 1964 desegregation decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, segregated public education was held to be incompatible with the requirements of the 14th Amendment. But in the Gary case, the Circuit Court of Appeals agreed that "'there is no affirmative U. S. constitutional duty to change innocently arrived at school attendance districts by the mere fact that shifts in population either increase or decrease the percentage of either Negro or white pupils."

Many instances of racial imbalance have been noted in public schools in different parts of the North as well as in the South and the Gary case is an example of where schools were predominatly one race or the other by natural circumstances and there were no efforts made, in districting the schools, to discriminate by reason of race or color. While the Supreme Court itself has held that segregation in public schools solely on the basis of race is wrong, it has as never ruled in favor of compulsory integration to correct imbalance.

Spokesmen for the Negro organizations say that, while they have not gained their point in the Gary Case, they hope that, in some other case which they will bring before the high court, a different decision may be handed down.

That is why in this "era of confusion" it is difficult from one day to another for the citizens to know exactly what the law of the land is likely to be on racial questions, and maybe this is one reason why the street demonstrations have not been abandoned.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa—The city sits like a sardonyx stone mounted in an emerald ring. On one side is a valley so rich that the soil is like devil's food cake and the shade of the old trees softens the sparkle of the Iowa River. Here, in a place called Amana, pure Communism was tried before Karl Marx wrote Das Kapital.

A group of Germans, led by Mr. Christian Metz of Buedingen, had broken from the Lutheran Church and had come to America to seek the utmost in simple Christian life. They believed that some men are inspired by God, and they called themselves Inspirationists. Buffalo, New York, was their first stop, but it was too materialistic so they found this valley in Iowa and moved a thousand people into it.

It was called Amana, a word from the Song of Solomon, which means to "remain true." Metz and his industrious Germans desired to remain true to the simplicity of Christ, to live apart from the rest of the world in stark piety. The elders formed a group called The Amana Society, and incorporated it in 1855.

In time Amana prospered and had 25,000 acres and seven villages along the river bank, No man was paid for his work; each one labored for all. The crops were good, the cattle were fat. The trustees of the corporation gave money to a man who had to have a doctor, or a dentist, and it doled out money for clothing.

A woolen mill was built; a flowing stream was dug from the river to the mill and Amana harnessed the water at a little waterfall. They baked their own bread on hearths, built their own slaughter house opened butcher shops and general stores. Each family was ordered to live in a given village, a given house. There were no kitchens and no living rooms in these houses—just sleeping quarters.

The communal kitchens fed everyone, and everyone was well fed.

In good times and bad, Amanaites ate about five meals per day, and averaged 4,800 calories per person. The people were plump and oldfashioned. When a boy became serious about a girl, the trustees moved them as far apart as possible—seven miles. The boy was then told that if he truly loved the girl, he would not mind sweating in the fields all day, and walking seven miles to see her at night.

The elders believed that love could survive this ordeal for one year. If it did, the elders sanctioned marriage. The girl dressed in black; so did the boy, and they touched the palms of their right hands together before the elders' table in the temple. Words of marriage were pronounced over them.

Divorce is unheard of among the Amanaites. So is crime. In 109 years, there has never been a murder, a rape, a felonious assault or a holdup. Juvenile delinquency is nipped in the bud in school. Discipline is important to adults as well as children. The people never had a crucifix in their church, never listened to music except the gutteral sound of their own hymns. They worked hard, and obeyed their Elders.

The food they ate consisted of seven main dishes, one for each day of the week. They cured hams Westphalian style, and bacon too. They even made their own furniture of native cherrywood. The elders laid down 24 rules for Amana living, and everyone had to live those rules or face excommunication in church.

The community protected everyone from the cradle to the grave. The Amana cemetery, on a hillside, is screened by huge pines. The headstones are all of one size. People are buried chronologically, by date of birth. Families are not buried together. The entire plan was Christian Communism, executed perfectly.

It died a violent death in 1932. There was a depression. The neighboring city of Cedar Rapids began to flaunt its cars and radios at Amana. The young members became restive. Forty-seven of the younger men appeared before the elders and demanded a new corporation, a hybrid of socialism and capitalism. They called it "cooperative." The elders were forced to surrender. The total worth of Amana was only $2,500,000 after 77 years of work, and the population was only 1,400. Many members had left because they felt that Communism was too harsh.

I walked through an Amana village today. It was warm and the trees are in leaf again. The fields are tilled. Amana has socialized medicine, dentistry, funerals and hospitalization. The big industries are still owned by the corporation. But the people live as capitalists.

The houses are now individual family homes. The men keep what they earn. Television antennas grow from chimneys. Radios enunciate Rock 'n Roll. The young people drive roadsters. Drinking and smoking is permitted. Under capitalism, the corporation is now worth $16,400,000.

Wednesday evening was pack night with their annual inspection, Friday evening was Court of Recognition held at the Bennett School auditorium and Saturday afternoon the boys participated in a kite flying contest held on the Riseley field at Mt. Pleasant.

At the pack meeting Cubmaster Hefferan presented advancements and awards to the following boys: David Maxwell, wolf badge with gold arrow and silver arrow under wolf; Timothy Short a silver arrow under wolf; Alberto Mousset a silver arrow under lion; John Ford a two year pin, Christopher Maxwell a two year pin and Daniel Smith a three year pin. Two new Bobcats were inducted into the pack. These were Wayne Wranovics and Timothy Malloy.

Following the awards an inspection was made by Troop 60 Scoutmaster Cliff Segelken of the cubs in each den.

The Court of Recognition presents each cub in the pack who has advanced in rank during the preceding year. Pack 60's share proved to be better than average.

The real fun for the boys and their dads came on Saturday with the kit flying event. A race was held, each boy and his dad had ten minutes to get his kite up the highest after the word go. Danny Schutis won first place with Davis Maxwell second and Chris Maxwell third. Chris Maxwell, however, won first in getting a "message" up to his kite as well as first for the most original kite.

Future cub events include a movie Kings of the Sun May 19. Cubs will sell tickets. The pack will march in the Memorial Day parade.

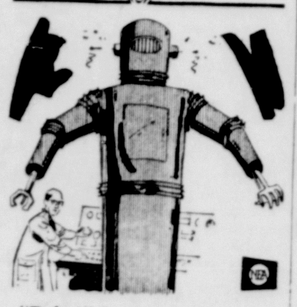
Start Train

The bride should have someone "start" her train when she goes down the asile. It should be held up at arm's length, billowed with air, then allowed to float down the asile after her.

matter of fact



"Robot" is a word long used in many languages. Derived from the Czech "robota," it came into popular use after 1923 through the play "R.U.R. (Rossure's Universal Robots)" by the Czech writer Karl Capek. In this play a society is described which depends on mechanical workers that can do physical and mental work, and then develop intelligences and revolt against their employers.

Ayer Cup Picks Newburgh News Among Winners

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Lebanon (N.H.) Valley News was named winner today of the 34th annual Ayer Cup for excellence of typography, makeup and printing.

The 1964 winner, an afternoon newspaper with a circulation of 6,911, has the smallest circulation of any daily newspaper ever to win the Ayer Cup since the competition was originated by N.W. Ayer & Sons Inc., in 1931.

A total of 815 newspapers entered the competition this year.

The Chicago Daily News won first honorable mention among newspapers of more than 50,000 circulation, with the Binghamton (N.Y.) Evening Press second and the Louisvillle (Ky.) Courier-Journal third.

The Twin City Sentinel, an evening newspaper of Winston-Salem, N.C., took first honorable mention among 387 entries for newspapers of 10,000 to 50,000 circulation, largest since classification in the judging. The Newburgh (N.Y.) Evening News won second honorable mention and the Iron Mountain (Mich.) News third honorable mention.

First honorable mention among newspapers of less than 10,000 circulation went to the Bennington (Vt.) Banner, second honorable mention to the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette, and third honorable mention to the Troy (N.Y.) Record.

Newsday, of Garden City, Long Island, N. Y., was the first honorable mention winner among tabloids, regardless of circulation. It was the seventh time Newsday has been among the winners in Ayer Cup competition and the fifth time it has taken the top award for tabloids.

Survey Shows Loss

PASCO, Wash. (AP)—Pasco city officials should have quit while they were ahead.

About a month ago they ordered a new head count hoping for a substantial increase in the per capita distribution of state liquor and gasoline taxes to cities.

The census, which cost $1,567, showed a population loss of 823 since last year, down to 15,677. As a result, Pasco stands to lose about $13,100 this year in state funds.

Charges Discrimination

Editor, The Freeman:

This is a letter that has long awaited writing but for some reason has remained unwritten.

Some months ago Mayor Schwenk wrote a letter to Washington expounding on the wonderful relations between Negro and White in the City of Kingston. I do not know where the Mayor received his information but in this writer's view he was somewhat misled.

Shortly after and even before his letter was mailed, a Negro teacher encountered a great deal of undercover resistance in moving into a home which had just undergone negotiations for purchasing.

Today a Negro was denied her right to vote for the candidates of her choice for the Board of Education. Since this denial was done by a principal of an elementary school, it appears to me that a great deal of discrimination is practiced in the City of Kingston.

It appears that the Mayor took an awful lot for granted when writing his letter to Washington. Hereafter, I suggest that he check with some authority before making such broad statements. This information can be attained by observation of the entire population only and not by conversation with a few isolated individuals.

Kingston is not as pious as many would like to pretend.

Yours truly,
PHILIP R. BROWN

19 Firms Cited For Safety, 5 Are From Ulster

Nineteen firms, including five in Ulster County, received awards at the annual safety campaign award and Ladies Night banquet of the Mid-Hudson Industrial Association at the Hellenic Center, Poughkeepsie, Monday night.

Awards engrossed with the winner's name and handsomely "pyraglassed" are given for distinguished safety performance. A grand award was presented to the Lumb Woodworking Company, Inc. for working the greatest number of manhours in its particular group and section without a lost-time accident. A ten-year award was presented to the De Laval Separator Company, light machine work dept., for accident-free participation in the campaign for 10 consecutive years. There was also one nine-Year Award, two eight-year Awards, two six-year Awards, 13 100 per cent Awards and five certificates of achievement. One-hundred per cent awards are given to participants completing the entire campaign accident-free and Certificates of Achievement to participants with less than perfect records but with an accident frequency rate lower than the average accident rate for his group and section.

Donald V. Hock, a former mayor of Allentown, Pa., was the principal speaker and presented a facetious discussion of the human race, Don't Resign From The Human Race.

The awards were made by Stephen P. Becker, president of Fargo Mfg. Company, Ind. and a former president of The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association.

Becker was assisted by Clarence W. Spangenberger, member relations director of Associated Industries of New York State, Inc. Spangenberger spoke on the year by year reduction of accidents due to the emphasis on these quarter-yearly safety campaigns. Mr. Spangenberger stated that each year there has been an increase in the number of firms who participated in the state-wide campaign and pointed out that the 1964 campaign had more than 1,500 entries across the state.

Carl E. Cummings, professional director of Texaco, Inc., and president of The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association, presided. The speakers were introduced by Henry J. Schwellenbach, vice president-production of the New York Trap Rock Corp., vice president of The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association and chairman of its Forum Committee.

Ulster County firms cited were:

Callanan Road Improvement Co,. Plant 3, Kingston, eight-year award.

New York Trap Rock Corp., Nytralite Aggregate Plant, Kingston, 100 per cent award.

Channel Master Corp., Ellenville; International Business Machines Corp., Kingston and Hercules Powder Co., Inc., Port Ewen, certificates of achievement.

Young GOP Is To Meet Tonight

The monthly meeting of the Ulster County Young Republicans will be held at the Elks Lodge in Kingston tonight at 8 o'clock. Among the items to be discussed, as announced by President John Van Steenburgh, are proposed amendments to the local club constitution, amendments to the state constitution and the presentation of slates for the upcoming year by the nominating committee.

Egypt Polishes For Nik's Visit

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

CAIRO (AP) — Ex - King Farouk's royal railway carriage has been polished up to carry Soviet Premier Khrushchev around Egypt when he arrives this weekend for a visit. A couple of gingerbread palaces have also been prepared for his stay.

Grateful to Khrush

"We are grateful to Khrushchev and we are going to show him so," a ranking member of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's inner circle told an American friend.

In Egyptian eyes, the Soviet leader helped them break the Western arms embargo in 1955, got them past post-Suez economic sanctions from the West and financed the prestigious dam at Aswan. Either of these would have earned Khrushchev a warm welcome. The three together rate much more, and Khrushchev's reception here will show it, officials say.

Hand Still Out

He is expected to stay in Egypt 20 or more days and Egyptians are hopeful nothing will mar his visit, his first to Africa. There are no major issues threatening relations between the Soviet leader and Nasser, one high-placed spokesman said, and Nasser was pictured as ready to do everything possible—except surrender his neutrality — to make Khrushchev's trip rewarding.

In return, of course, Egyptians would like to get pledges for new economic assistance toward their coming second five-year plan. As a starter, $120 million would do.

Warmth has not always existed between Nasser and Khrushchev. Despite his neutralism and occasional pro-Soviet positions, Egypt's Socialist leader has engaged in loud arguments with Khrushchev.

Training Course Held For Area Librarians

The first in a series of five training courses for area librarians is now being offered at the Middletown headquarters of the Ramapo Catskill Library System. The subject of this first course of the series, which meets during April and May is Library Management — how to manage the books and materials, the staff, student helpers and the Board of Library Trustees. Miss I. Marie Gustafson, a consultant of the New York State Library, is the instructor.

Libraries sending one or more of their staff to the current course in Library Management are: Bloomingburg, Chester, Greenwood Lake, Cragsmoor, Town of Crawford, Ellenville, Florida, Josephine Louise Public Library in Walden, Liberty, Maybrook, Monroe, Montgomery, Port Jervis and Rock Tavern.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is Hollywood Boulevard—

Looking for a copy of a song you loved years ago? Chances are you could find it at Ring's sheet music store on Cherokee Avenue just around the corner from the Boulevard.

For 20 years the shop has been operated by Stanley Ring, a man who is short of stature and long of memory. Necessarily so, in order to hunt up songs from among the 450,000 different titles he stocks.

"How many songs do I know? Goodness, I have no way to figure," he says. "But I can find most requests, once I get the title straight. Trouble is, people give me the wrong titles."

The narrow store seems Dickensian with its dim lights, water-stained walls and carton upon carton of old sheet music stacked in every corner. Ring, 64 fits the premises well; he is cheery-eyed, with cheeks that puff up when he smiles and spectacles that keep sliding down his long nose.

Born in San Francisco, he started his long career with songs as a singing newsboy in New York City. He debuted in an Elsie Janis show at 10 and spent years in vaudeville with comedy sketches. When vaudeville died, he turned to a sheet music store in Los Angeles and it did well until a fire consumed his total assets.

He wanted to open a shop in Hollywood, but his fire insurance agent had skipped. Although he had no knowledge of horses, Ring placed $2 bets on longshots with bookies all over downtown L.A. In 30 days he had made $400, enough to start the Hollywood store.

"This place has turned a profit from the day I opened on Nov. 15, 1943," said Ring. The reason appears to be that his collection of old sheet music is unique.

Sacred Concert Set Tonight at Alliance

Palmer Vaadeland of Park Rapids, Minn., will be heard in a sacred concert, at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church tonight.

Norwegian in background, Mr. Vaadeland sings with spirit and devotion. His well-trained voice has been heard in a number of foreign countries and he has sung his way across America in a series of sacred concerts. His accompanist will be the regular organist at the Alliance Church, Gilbert Cicio.

The service, open to the public, will be held 7 o'clock.

AP Business News Analys

NEW YORK (AP)—Business will go on for several months being better than a year ago. But how much better than it is right now, that's the rub.

Expectations of a leveling off are based now on a number of things that will be glossed over by the official statistics yet to come which will picture how good things were in March, April and May.

Steel Levels Off

Steel production has leveled off, for the time being at least. And the summer's normal slowdown seems as sure as anything can be in that cyclical industry. Steel's spring boom could make any summer doldrums harder to bear.

Auto production will continue strong, as dealers build up inventories prior to the wage talks due in early summer, and to the model changeovers which

Construction spending hit a may come early this time and be more noticeable than a year ago.

Retail trade is flourishing in May as Americans deck themselves out for spring and summer and refurnish their homes. But any big pickup traceable to more take-home pay from the federal tax cut has yet to show. Many retailers are reported counting on only a modest pickup from this source at best. They expect to beat year-ago figures, but chiefly because of population changes and other factors under way before the tax cut.

peak in March and held level in April. Good weather in May should keep it high. But the new confidence that business is proclaiming in announcing future expansion plans probably won't hit the brick and mortar stage before autumn or later.

But Americans who have been encouraged to expect a real spurt in the economy just around the corner may have to be patient. And those who expect all the problems to be solved quickly are likely to be disappointed.

Change on Bishops

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The general conference of the Methodist Church has changed the maximum retirement age for bishops from 74 to 72.

The conference also voted Tuesday night to allow a bishop to retire at 65. His full salary and housing allowance, however, will continue only if he agrees to be available for assignment by the Council of Bishops.

IT'S TRADE 'N' TRAVEL TIME AT YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER'S

Five different lines of cars—forty-five different models to choose from. Come early and trade great!

Now that spring's in full swing, you'll find new Chevrolets perfect for picking.

Luxury—First, there's the big Jet-smooth Chevrolet. Sumptuous and soft riding with a fat coil spring at all four wheels to smother bumps. Over 700 sound stoppers throughout the car to blot out wind and road noise. Interiors luxuriously done up in the newest and softest vinyls.

Trade what you're driving for one of these, and you won't want to trade seats with anybody else on the road.

Spirit—Next, Chevelle. The beautifully in-between size car that combines small car handling oomph with big car comfort. Order to your liking in sedan, coupe, station wagon and convertible body styles. Eleven different models that you can equip with just about any extra-cost option you can imagine. No place to go this summer? Get a new Chevelle—you'll think of something.

Economy—Chevy II—the car that takes to inexpensive vacations naturally. It just goes and goes, and where it stops nobody knows. But for all its thrift, it's anything but under-furnished. Did you know that the Super Sport Coupe has bucket seats and door-to-door carpeting? Eight models to pick from, including wagons with enough room to swallow up an eight-foot Christmas tree. (Plan ahead, we always say.)

Fun—Then there's Corvair. The fun one with the engine in the rear for unbelievable traction. Spring mud, summer sand, winter snow—nothing stops it. You'll even think they're now paving highways with adhesive tape the way Corvairs cling to them.

Corvette. The enthusiast's car. Sting Ray Sport Coupe and Convertible. Still America's only true sports cars. Pick either one and you'll find it does for your driving what holidays do for kids.

Performance—And with any new Chevrolet you choose, you can get the standard engine for all the power you need in everyday come-and-go driving. Or you can pick from a wide, wide range of extra-cost engines for maximum performance.

Either way, whether you've got some place special to go this summer or not, when you trade for one of Chevrolet's five great highway performers—you'll travel!

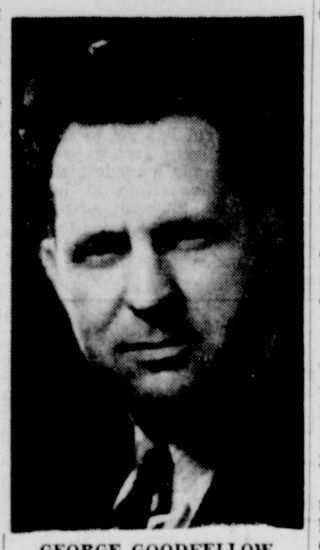
Goodfellow Retires As UNICEF Officer

George Goodfellow, who during the early 1940's served as general secretary of the Kingston YMCA, recently retired after 16-years' service as administrative officer of the United Nations International Children's Fund.

Goodfellow, who has many friends in Kingston, is still active in civic affairs assisting Governor Hughes of New Jersey with the school dropout problem and serving with the Church World Service in New York on international disasters. He also is active in the Bolivarian Society of New York.

Goodfellow resigned as local YMCA secretary to enter the armed forces. Under his administration, the local "Y" had been more of a community center than ever before in its history. He also inaugurated the Day Camp during the summer vacation months for the children of the city.



GEORGE GOODFELLOW

In addition to his duties as YMCA secretary, he found time to devote to civic affairs. In 1941 he served as a member of the executive committee of the USO and chairman of the Kingston Salvage Committee. He also served on the Board of Governors of Kingston Rotary Club, a member of A. H. Wicks Engine Company and a member of the social hygiene committee of the Ulster County TB Association. He was a member of the Mendelssohn Club and of the Masonic fraternity.

Praised by Colleague

In the United Nations Secretariat News, there apears the following commentary by a UNICEF Colleague on Goodfellow's retirement:

A good many people think that George Goodfellow, who retired at the end of Februray after more than 16 years with UNICEF, has a wider range of friendships than anyone else they are likely to meet. This was reflected in a farewell luncheon for him which included colleagues from virtually all sections of the UN and a large group of persons from the outside.

In one important way, however, the luncheon was quite unrepresentative since except for Pearl Mesta, an old friend who came to prove the hostess touch, there were no ladies invited. But this was more than made up at a UNICEF farewell party the next day which was attended by more former UNICEF secretaries than any other party in the history of UNICEF. One of them was the former Jane Wallace, whom Mr. Goodfellow married in April 1958 when she was secretary to the UNICEF Executive Director, Maurice Pate.

Served Around the World

After joining UNICEF in November 1947, Mr. Goodfellow was a field representative in Greece and later Deputy Chief of UNICEF county offices in Poland and Brazil. During the height of the Palestinian crisis in 1948, he was loaned to the mediator's staff to expedite the movement of large shipments of foodstuffs to refugee areas. Since 1954 he has been at UNICEF Headquarters as an administrative officer, with the exception of short-term assignments in Central America and Europe. Before commencing duty with the UN, he served as European director of the United Seamen's Service of War Shipping Administration and earlier he was active in YMCA work.

Combined with a deep interest in helping people is a warmth, honesty and informality which has worked wonders in breaking down the obstacles of red tape. George will be missed for these qualities not only at headquarters but by UNICEF staff in the field.

Using his new home in Brielle, N. J., as a base George expects to be active in community affairs, including working with the Governor's Committee on Youth Problems. He also will do free-lance work as a consultant to convention organizers and this summer he will be coordinator for the reception of dignitaries at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City.

Economy Pleases President, Others Show Concern

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said today he is pleased with the direction the nation's economy is headed but is concerned with some other aspects of America, including diseases, poverty and civil rights.

He urged the Advertising Council in a prepared speech to get in the front lines in the war on poverty.

Moral Challenge

"There is hardly a community in this country where poverty does not have some beachhead, and the hardest battles are going to be fought right in your home town," Johnson said.

He said the war on poverty makes good sense economically, estimating that $1,000 invested in salvaging an unemployable youth can return $40,000 or more in his lifetime.

"But it's almost insulting to urge you to enlist in this war for economic motivations. This is a moral challenge that goes to the very roots of our civilization and asks if we are willing to make personal sacrifices for the public good," Johnson said.

"I can say the same thing about the civil rights legislation now before Congress. Those who say this is a political gimmick are doing a gross injustice to the basic convictions of a democratic society: that men cannot live unto themselves alone; that the right kind of democracy is bound together by the ties of neighborliness."

Surely, he said, enlightened businessmen believe that all members of the public should have equal access to public facilities, be equally eligible for federal benefits financed by the public and should have an equal chance to vote for public officials and to send their children to good public schools and to contribute their talents to the public good

"These are the goals of this bill—and these are the moral objectives," he said.

Calling the advertising executives "the great persuaders," Johnson asked their help to communicate the urgency of these programs. "Help us to persuade the frightened, the skeptical, and the cynical that the American society is in the balance and the future of our land at stake," he said.

Johnson said that as long as business, labor, and government operate in an atmosphere of mutual trust, "I see no reason why the expansion should not continue."

He said almost every day brings good news about the economy and that many people have been surprised by what the free enterprise system is doing.

Only this morning, Johnson said, Chairman Walter W. Heller of the Council of Economic Advisers told him private nonfarm residential construction outlays rose slightly in April. The preliminary figures estimated outlays to be 10 per cent above a year ago.

Johnson spoke of "tragic, terrible diseases" such as cancer and multiple sclerosis, but told the advertisers that "the most dangerous sickness of all, especially in a democracy is public apathy."

Saugerties Man Killed at Ravena

RAVENA, N.Y. (AP) — Kenneth Young, 38, of Saugerties, was killed today in an accident at the Atlantic Cement Co. plant. State Police said Young, a driller, apparently was crushed to death under falling rocks.

Carrier, Destroyer Ram at Sea

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The aircraft carrier Lake Champlain and the destroyer Decatur collided 150 miles east of Cape Henry today during anti-submarine warfare operations.

Atlantic Fleet Headquarters reported no one was injured.

A fleet spokesman said the Decatur's superstructure was damaged heavily in the collision. There was no apparent damage below her main deck.

One airplane aboard the Lake Champlain was damaged.

The collision occurred as the destroyer was moving away from the carrier after refueling, the spokesman said. Visibility was four miles and seas were moderate.

The Decatur, accompanied by the destroyer Gearing, headed slowly toward Norfolk, where she is expected to arrive Thursday morning.

The Lake Champlain resumed operations at sea.

Linn Sentenced To Life Term As Cop Killer

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—"I do not know why I did it," said Harold P. Linn as he was sentenced today to life imprisonment for the shotgun-slaying of an Albany police sergeant last January.

Linn, 55-year-old ex - convict from Hudson, had pleaded guilty to first-degree murder in the death of Sgt. Thomas P. McAvoy. Under a new state law, the life sentence was mandatory.

Linn shot McAvoy in the kitchen of an Albany home when the 44-year-old officer arrived to investigate a telephone report of a holdup. Linn had entered the home and held the occupants at gunpoint.

In a statement read in county court today by his lawyer, Linn said:

"I do not deny this accusation. The tragedy has left not one but two broken homes. I thank the court for its indulgence."

County Judge Martin P. Schenck pronounced sentence.

Linn was arrested in a hospital in Cicero, Ill., eight days after the shooting. He had become involved in a minor accident there.

Linn, a handyman, lived in Hudson with his wife for seven years. Previously he had lived in Albany.

In 1931, he was sentenced for 30 years to life for the fatal shooting of John Conlin, of Queens, whose wife Linn had been seeing. Linn was paroled after serving 21 years and was discharged from parole in 1962.

Fund Appeal Is Made of Industry By Mental Health

Business and industrial concerns in Ulster County are being contacted by letter requesting financial support for the work of Ulster County Association for Mental Health.

Chairman of fund raising is C. Kenneth Taber, of Milton, and manager of both the Federal Land Bank Association of Kingston, and the county office of the Farm Credit Service Association of Middletown.

Taber's assistant in this campaign is William J. Mathews Jr., of Kingston, of the WGHQ staff.

The goal of the association is to raise $8,000, in order to carry out the expanded program, which includes contributing to research on a national level, promotion of local treatment facilities and in particular the Ulster County Mental Health Center in Kingston, working for improved legislation as relating to mental illness, and the conducting of an extensive and specialized educational program in the county. Two examples of the latter are the Clergymen's Seminar in Pastoral Counseling, which was recently held at the Benedictine Hospital in Kingston, and the half-day workshop set for June 24, which is being conducted in cooperation with the County Departments of Welfare, Public Health, and Probation.

The association is supported entirely by local voluntary contributions. Taber and Mathews both said they are hoping for a fine response to this appeal, and are confident that many businesses and industry in the county recognize the importance of this work, and will give accordingly.

Contributions are being received by the executive secretary of the association, Mrs. Diana M. Geiger, at the office at 27 East O'Reilly Street.

Fulbright Will Be Given Greek's Side of Dispute

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—U.S. Sen. J. W. Fulbright arrived today to hear the Greek government's side of the Cyprus crisis threatening to weaken the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's eastern flank.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he had no solution for Cyprus to offer in talks scheduled tonight with Greek Premier George Papandreou. The senator said he came to listen and learn.

Fulbright flew from London where he launched on Tuesday his fact-finding mission for President Johnson. The senator conferred with Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, other British officials and Harold Wilson, leader of the opposition Labor party.

Fulbright pays a one-day visit Thursday to Ankara, Turkey, where Premier Ismet Inonu declared Tuesday that a dangerous situation exists in NATO because of the communal violence on Cyprus and Greece's backing of the island's Greek Cypriot government.

Gunfire erupted at three widely separated parts of Cyprus today, bringing Irish and Canadian U.N. forces into action to block threatening moves by both Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Will Halt Bronx Job if Walkout Is Not Stopped

NEW YORK (AP)—The city's public works commissioner says all construction on the $25 million New York Terminal Market in the Bronx will be halted in 10 days unless a walkout of 41 white plumbers is ended.

The walkout started last Thursday when the plumbing contractor hired four non-union plumbers, three Puerto Rican and one Negro, to work at the project. The plumbers again walked off the job today.

The city's Human Rights Commission contends the dispute is racial. Officials of Plumbers Union Local 2, however, claim members left their jobs because the new workers were non-union.

Efforts to settle the dispute have broken up in disagreement.

One union man, who declined to give his name, said of the dispute: "If they were blond and blue-eyed, we still wouldn't work with them. In fact, if they were whites, they'd probably get their heads busted."

High Falls Man Succumbs

Joseph Hartman of 99 Center Road, High Falls, an employe of Hercules Powder Company, was taken ill this morning at approximately 7:10 and was conveyed from the plant to the Kingston Hospital by the A & A Ambulance Service. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital. Mr. Hartman had been under treatment for a heart ailment for some time.

The portrait of George Washington appears on the U. S. $1 bill.

Wagner Is Not Seeking, But Not Running Away

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner said today he was not seeking the Democratic vice presidential nomination, but he would not turn down an offer for the position.

The mayor, mentioned as a possible choice for the nomination, was asked by newsmen at Kennedy Airport about the prospects of his being named.

"I have no idea," he replied. "I am not doing anything about the nomination. The selection is up to the President."

He added that he would not refuse such an honor if it were offered, and "very few people" would.

Wagner, 53, now is in his 11th year and third term as mayor.

Death of Whites Blamed on Group Given to Attacks

NEW YORK (AP)—The fatal stabbing of a white woman shopkeeper in Harlem has spurred police investigation of reports that a gang of Negro youths, dedicated to crime and attacks on whites, has been formed.

The slaying of Margit Sugar, 45, in her second-hand clothing store last Wednesday, apparently was unprovoked. Coupled with the deaths of three other whites in Harlem recently it gave rise to reports of a racial vendetta.

The New York Times quoted an unidentified source today as estimating the size of the gang at 400 and saying the youths had been trained by dissident members of the Black Muslim sect. Other published reports have placed the size at 60 to 80 members.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm declined to confirm or deny that such a gang exists. He said police would have no statement "until we have something on which we can take some action, until we really know what we are talking about."

James 67X, a spokesman for the group of former Black Muslims who broke away from the parent sect with Malcolm X, professed to have no knowledge of such a gang.

Other Harlem sources said they either knew nothing about the group or had merely heard rumors about it.

Won't Affect Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new dispute over work rules ruffled the railroad labor front today, but all sides agree the situation will not affect last month's White House rail settlement.

The new ruckus involved a charge by the railroads that the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen was about to strike several railroads.

The union is one of the five train operating brotherhoods involved in the recently ended national railroad strike threat.

The railroads went into U.S. District Court Tuesday and obtained a 10-day temporary restraining order barring strikes on any individual railroad pending a hearing next Monday.

Voting on One CR Amendment May Come Late Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 49 days of talk in the civil rights debate, the Senate finally reaches the voting stage today on one of the dozens of amendments pending to the bitterly disputed bill.

Only an informal agreement has been reached for this initial test. But supporters and foes of the measure said that at least one vote would be taken, probably late in the afternoon.

The vote, on a jury trial amendment of Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., will not be especially meaningful except possibly as an ice-breaker in the marathon debate.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he was hopeful his colleagues would go ahead promptly and take all of the votes needed to dispose of the jury trial issue, finishing with it tonight or Thursday.

But he pointed out there is no assurance that this can be done.

Ordinarily when the Senate begins voting on amendments to a major bill, the leaders have obtained an iron-clad agreement fixing an hour for the roll call or limiting debate on each amendment to an hour or two.

But nothing of the kind has been possible on the House-passed civil rights bill. Thus a vote can come only when the 19 Southerners fighting it fall silent and permit the test.

Levitt Foresees $250-Million Gap

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Comptroller Arthur Levitt foresees a $250-million gap between income and spending next year in New York State.

Levitt said Tuesday that income in the current year included $216 million in accelerated taxes and $29 million in one-time revenues under a new borrowing procedure for financing expansion of the State University.

"This portends a quarter-billion gap next year, when there will be no more taxes left to accelerate," the comptroller said.

He commented in announcing the publication of his preliminary annual report for the fiscal year that ended March 31. The figures in it were announced previously.

The comptroller, a Democrat, has been a continuing critic of the fiscal policies of Gov. Rockefeller, a Republican.

150-foot Dredge Sinks at Hudson, Ships Still Pass

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — Engineers said the way was clear today for resumption of shin traffic on the Hudson River where a 150-foot-long dredge sank off this city south of Albany.

All 32 men aboard reached shore safely when the multi-ton dredge went down Tuesday.

A spokesman for the Army Corps of Engineers, which is supervising the dredging project, said the barge was not blocking the shipping channel.

The engineers scheduled a meeting today to discuss raising the barge.

Passage of large ships was held up briefly yesterday until it was determined that the dredge was not an obstruction.

The channel is clear for a width of about 240 feet at the spot where the dredge rests on the bottom, its funnels and some of the superstructure protruding above the surface, the spokesman said.

He said the sinking occurred when the large pump on the dredge was being repaired, and a suction device was raised from the bottom of the river so the pump intake could be opened.

Somehow, he said, the suction device plunged back toward river bottom, leaving the pump intake open and allowing water to flow into the barge.

Lace Is In

The use of lace in sportswear is among the big news for spring. You'll see it in swimsuits, beach jackets and casual overblouses. There are even at-home pants in stretch lace.

The compass plant of the North American prairies takes its name from the position assumed by its leaves. These turn their edges approximately north and south so as to avoid the excessive midday heat, but still receive maximum morning and evening rays.

Fordham Club

To Honor Supple At May 24 Fete In Poughkeepsie

Members of the Mid-Hudson Fordham Club, a chapter of the Fordham University Club of New York, are sponsoring a Fordham night in Poughkeepsie on Sunday, May 24, in which Supreme Court Justice Leonard J. Supple will be honored.

William J. Ciolko, acting president and Dr. Richard Kentrimas are co-chairmen of the event. Justice Supple is a Fordham graduate, Class of 1927.

Dinner is scheduled for 8 o'clock with cocktails set for 7 p. m. Dancing until midnight will follow the dinner.

Since facilities at the tennis club are limited to only 200 persons, requests for tickets must be made as soon as possible. Alumni are urged to purchase tickets before May 18.

Honorary chairmen for the dinner are Dr. James J. Toomey, Frank V. Mylod, Vincent W. Grady, Dutchess County Surrogate; Thomas D. Mahar, chairman, Dutchess County Board of Supervisors; Raymond C. Baratta, Dutchess County District Attorney.

Vice chairmen are Robert V. Frei, John B. Garrity, Robert L. Ostertag and John A. Wolf.

Justice Supple was appointed to the New York Supreme Court by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey on Sept. 10, 1954 to succeed former partner J. Gordon Flannery.

He served as Supervisor of the Town of Fishkill from 1934 to 1954 and was Chairman of the Board from 1942 to 1954.

Justice Supple is a veteran of World War 1, serving overseas with the 320th Infantry from May, 1917 to May, 1918.

He is past Post and County Commander of the American Legion; a member of the BPOE, member of the Bar Assn. of both Dutchess County and New York State.

A native of Beacon, he attended public schools in that city before graduating from Fordham Law School.

SCALED TO SIZE — Soviet sculptor Mikhail Gerasimov works on his bust of Ivan the Terrible in Moscow. He used the skull of the 16th century czar as his model. Gerasimov claims Ivan was a fat man who weighed about 209 pounds at the time of his death in 1584.

Service Changes In Post Office, Routes Outlined

The vast majority of the residents of Kingston will not be affected by the recently announced adjustment in parcel post and post office window services, Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk said today.

Newkirk explained his statement was prompted by some misunderstanding about the scope of these changes.

Saturday Service

Recapping the local postal situation, the Kingston postmaster pointed to these facts.

The following window service will be available on Saturday, at Main Office 8 a. m. to 12 noon; Rondout Station 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon. and Uptown Station 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon for stamps, register, COD, general delivery, including the mailing of parcel post.

Parcel post packages may be picked up on Saturday during window hours where notices have been left by carriers. No money orders will be issued Saturdays at Kingston Post Office including Uptown Station and Rondout Station. Money orders may be obtained at Contract Branch No. 1, Vincent Street, Kingston, and the St. Remy Rural Station.

Rural carriers will continue to take applications for money orders on Saturdays, and will also continue to give all service usually rendered postal patrons on RFD routes six days a week including the delivery of parcel post.

Delivery by Trucks

Parcel post delivery by truck adjustments in Kingston will affect 2¼ routes and on these routes no parcel post delivery will be made on Saturday. Small parcels weighing less than two pounds and not larger than a shoe box will be delivered by the foot carriers six days a week. Mounted route carriers will continue the delivery of parcel post six days a week.

At the same time, Newkirk said he has received information on the national scope of the service adjustments which indicate very little overall effect is anticipated from the order, which started Monday.

"Many of our local people who send mail to other points—many who visit other cities and transact postal business in those areas—and many others who will be in other communities at vacation time will be interested," he explained.

He released the followng national findings on the overall effect of the adjustment.

Parcel Post

1. Parcel post deliveries are not affected at all on 24,934 city routes where the carriers are "mounted" (on vehicles), on 32,299 rural delivery routes and on 7,802 contract (star) routes delivering mail. On 78,576 city delivery foot routes, parcels up to two pounds (and not bigger than a shoe box) will be delivered. About one-fourth of all parcel post packages are two pounds or less.

2. Service is affected only on parcel post routes (about 16,000 full and parttime routes) which will be in service five instead of six days a week. Postmasters will adjust service to local parcel volumes and only an estimated 6 to 8 per cent of total parcel post will be affected in any way.

3. More postal personnel are being assigned weekend duty at many post offices, and parcels will be speeded throughout the postal system for local deliveries at all points, including Kingston. This and other actions to eliminate delays will largely or entirely offset any delays that would otherwise result from the adjustment, and it is expected overall service will be improved.

4. About 28,000 smaller and medium-size post offices do not have any parcel post routes now and their service is not involved at all.

Window Service

1. The only principal service affected by the consolidation of window services into one window on Saturday mornings at some post offices (about 12,000 large offices) is domestic money order service.

2. Money order sales on Saturday will — with very few exceptions — continue in about 7,000 contract postal stations (typically located in suburban shopping center drug stores), providing domestic money order service in virtually every city where orders are not sold at the post office on Saturdays.

3. Consolidated windows will continue to provide all essential services—stamp sales, parcel post transactions, registry, COD services.

4. Post Office lobbies normally open on Saturday will not be "closed down." Lobbies will be open for lock box services, stamp dispenser service, mail deposit.

5. Postmasters at most smaller post offices will sell and rural carriers will continue to take applications for money orders on Saturdays. Postmasters can sell the orders if they can do so without change in manpower usage. Rural carriers serving out such offices will dispatch money orders received on Saturdays on the same day; otherwise if they serve out of larger city offices, their rural money order applications will be handled early Monday.

6. Window services in at least 20,000 post offices which have never had more than one window open on Saturdays are, of course, unchanged.

Kingston Library Presents Exhibit Of Watercolors

Kingston City Library will present an exhibition of the watercolors of John G. Ernst from May 6 to May 16. Ernst, a former resident of Woodstock, is now living in Kingston.

Born in Sao Paulo, Brazil of American parents, Ernst studied at the Bistram School of Fine Arts in Los Angeles, at the Art Students League in Woodstock and at the Saxon-Fells School of Art in Kingston. His works have been shown at Gallery East in New York City, in the Greenwich Village show, at Highland Park Gallery in Los Angeles and at the Artists' Association Gallery in Woodstock. His next show will be at the Shell Blick Gallery in Woodstock this summer.

"Ernst has never painted like Jackson Pollack or Robert Motherwell," said novelist-poet, Dachine Ranier, in an article in the Deer and Dachshund. "He seems impervious to the existence of Picasso. He derives as much pleasure from picture postcards and magazine covers as he does from the stuff that hangs around galleries. As a result unlike most young painters today, he is in a fair way of evolving a very personal style. His sensitivity, his imagination and his energy put him in a direct line towards becoming a major talent. His paintings soar with a most excited and unleashed imagination and a fervor and reverence for art that is boundless."

Deaths

HYATTSVILLE, Md. (AP)—Howard Zahniser, 58, executive director of the National Wilderness Society, died Tuesday. Zahniser was born in Franklin, Pa.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Herman E. Bakken, 71, a vice president of Aluminum Co. of America and general manager of the firm's refining division until his retirement in 1958, died Monday. Bakken was born in Faribault, Minn.

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Josiah J. Moore, 78, a pathologist and a member of the Chicago Board of Health since 1952, died Tuesday. Moore served as treasurer of the American Medical Association 15 years, retiring in 1958, and was a former president of the Chicago Medical Society.

Show-Off

MIAMI (AP) — A lary alligator in Everglades National Park has become a real show-off. The nine-foot 'gator wiggles to the top of a three-foot wall, pauses for the benefit of tourists, then plops into a pond. Chief naturalist Ernest Christensen said, "this little lady is delighting more people than a trained bear."

Andrew Jackson's portrait appears on the U. S. $20 bill.

Strong Armed

MIAMI (AP) — Al Kimball, pool manager of a Miami country club, was the victim of a "strong arm" robbery. Someone stole a 125-pound barbell and got away by tossing it over a fence.

Dr. Bond explained that parents must be accompanied by the child and bring with them a birth certificate and evidence of a successful vaccination. Registration will be held in rooms one and three of the Campus School from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p. m.

Church Rummage Sales

NEW PALTZ — St. Andrew's Church, 163 Main Street, New Paltz, will hold its annual spring rummage sale Thursday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., and Friday from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Available this year will be baby furniture, books, kitchen utensils, matching dishes and the usual large selection of clothing for all members of the family. There will be a separate section set aside for clothing in unusually good condition.

The Dutch Reformed Church, Huguenot Street, New Paltz will hold its annual spring sale under the auspices of the Women's Guild for Christian Service Friday and Saturday, May 15 and 16 in the church education building.

For sale will be old things, new things, furniture, toys, clothing, and articles too numerous to mention. A surprise is in the offering this year and will be made public at a later date. Anyone wishing to donate and needing transportation, may contact either Mrs. John Shand, chairman, or Mrs. Roy Upright.

$25 Worth?

IRVINE, Ky. (AP) — It cost $25 for Irvine High Senior Butch Bryant to smash Principal Joe Ohr in the face with a chocolate pie. The senior class was trying to raise money with a pie supper and the principal volunteered to become a target if anyone would contribute $25 for the pie.

Mission Speaker Slated Tonight At Willow Church

The Rev. Harold Johnson, missionary to Japan since 1952 will speak tonight 7:30 at the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Route 212, Willow.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson, who returned to the states with his family in the summer of 1963, is engaged in deputation work among the churches of the denomination.

The Johnsons, who are missionaries of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of America, have been cooperating with the Immanuel Church of Japan, an indigenous denomination with which the Wesleyan Church is federated. Their work has been in the Bible school in Tokyo and in evangelism.

He will describe the picturesque country he serves, its people and the work of the mission there. Colored slides will be shown.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson together with his wife and four children expect to return to Japan upon the completion of their furlough.

Public may attend.

Ice Cubes Sizzle

COXSACKIE, N.Y. (AP)—The ice cubes at Mrs. Marie Barus' house are cloudy white, and when you pop them into a glass of water they sizzle noisily.

The reason, confirmed by laboratory tests, is that the water in her back-yard well is naturally carbonated. Tiny bubbles in the water cause the unusual effect.

Mrs. Barus finds the water delicious—and so do her friends and neighbors. She gives them all they want, free.

Named to Park Group

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today reappointed William C. Busch Jr. of Diamond Point as a member of the Lake George Park Commission for a term ending April 1, 1973.

The post carries no salary and requires Senate confirmation.

Many Could Have Aided Girl, 18

NEW YORK (AP) — Police have unfolded details of what they term a second case of shocking indifference by New Yorkers to young women being attacked.

Drew Blank Stares

The latest instance involves an 18-year-old Bronx telephone operator. Police said she drew only blank stares from a crowd of onlookers in broad daylight as she screamed she had been raped and still was being attacked in the vestibule of an office building.

"Forty people could have helped that girl, but none of those jerks helped her," Patrolman Norman Brown said in Bronx Criminal Court Tuesday. He and another patrolman heard the screams as they passed the building.

Father of Two Held

George Coughlin, 26, married and the father of two children, was held in $7,500 bail as the alleged rapist of Miss Olga Romero Tuesday. He worked in the same building as did the slim, five-foot victim.

Coughlin denied the girl's charges. He said he found the girl naked and unconscious on the floor of the second-floor office and placed a jacket around her.

Miss Romero had blackened eyes, a bleeding mouth and neck bruises. She said the injuries were inflicted by her assailant, who stripped her and raped her.

The Bronx case recalled the fatal stabbing of Miss Catherine Genovese on March 13 in Kew Gardens, Queens. Detectives later discovered 38 persons had seen the attack on Miss Genovese during a 35-minute period without aiding her or summoning police.

March 1 is St. David's Day, the feast day of Wale's patron saint.

3 Arrests Solve Paltz Burglaries, Troopers Report

Arrest of Clayton Willie Witted, 18, of Hudson Street, Newburgh, and two juveniles Tuesday by State Trooper P. M. Luongo may have cleared up a series of recent burglaries in the New Paltz area, state police report.

Witted was arrested on a third degree burglary charge, arraigned before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly of Town of Ulster and after waiving examination was held for grand jury action and committed to jail. The two juveniles will be petitioned to Family Court.

State Police reported a series of burglaries in the New Paltz area in recent time, among them was the Benson's Men's and Boys' Clothing and Furnishings Store; Schuman's Army and Navy Store; Pine's Gift Shop and Esposito's Cleaners and Dyers Store, all on Main Street, New Paltz.

Valor Awards Go To Carrier Boys For Heroic Feats

KIAMESHA LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—The New York State Circulation Managers Association has presented valor awards to three young Buffalo Evening News carrier boys.

The awards, presented for lifesaving feats performed by the boys while they were on their routes, were announced Tuesday at the association's meeting here.

Durward Hutchinson, 15, of Akron, N.Y., was cited for saving a drowning girl who was stuck in the mud under water.

Charles Van Arsdale Jr., 14, of Castile, was named for rescuing a youth trapped under a snowdrift.

And Mark Usewitz, 16, of Buffalo, was cited for rescuing an elderly woman he found unconscious in a gas-filled house.

Capital Newspapers, publishers of the Times-Union and the Knickerbocker News in Albany, won the association's top award for Newspaper Boy Day promotion.

Wreckage Bares 10th Yank Body

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The body of a 10th American was found today in the charred wreckage of a U.S. Army transport plane which crashed while taking off Tuesday from Tan Hiep, 25 miles south of Saigon.

An Army spokesman said the Americans were two Army officers, a Marine offieer, an Army warrant officer and six soldiers. Six Vietnamese military personnel also were killed.

A military source said the crash still was being investigated. Most eyewitness accounts indicated mechanical failure, the source said, but there were some unofficial reports of ground fire in the area at the time the plane's left engine burst into flames seconds after takeoff.

Both Parties Had Their Chances

Two Sorest Points in Our Foreign Policy: Cuba, Viet

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two sorest points in American foreign policy now are the dilapidated condition of the war in South Viet Nam and Fidel Castro's continued survival in Cuba.

The Republicans will make them major talking points unless these conditions change before the presidential campaign. They're already doing it.

If the opposite happened—the Vietnamese war improved or Castro fell—President Johnson's political chances would take a great leap forward. He has a stake in both.

For this reason, while Viet Nam remains unchanged, special interest fastens on rumblings now heard that Cuban exiles are planning some action against Castro.

The Republicans didn't solve the Vietnamese war although they had a try at it. This country poured aid into South Viet Nam through President Dwight D. Eisenhower's last four years.

They had two years under Eisenhower to try their luck with Castro who took charge in Cuba at the beginning of 1959. He remained calmly unbudged.

The Democrats didn't do any better. They had more than three years under the administrations of President John F. Kennedy and Johnson to win in Asia and eliminate Castro.

But the Republicans are now in effect calling the Democrats namby-pamby on Cuba and Asia and demanding action while remaining vague on what kind.

The Democrats would escape the burden of having to explain if somehow they could find some solutions or make the Republicans share their burden.

They did manage to get Henry Cabot Lodge, who could wind up being the Republican presidential candidate, involved in Viet Nam by making him the American ambassador there. But he can't do anything by himself. He can only recommend.

It's doubtful Johnson can find a Vietnamese victory without far more direct American involvement than Democrats or Republicans have wanted to risk, since war with Red China could follow.

So the Vietnamese problem may drag on unchanged. But that's far away. Cuba and Castro, being closer, are more painful in some ways.

This government got burnt in 1961 when Kennedy backed the disastrous invasion of Cuba by Cuban exiles but wouldn't support them when they were smashed on the beaches. The whole business was a fiasco and a national embarrassment.

The United States not only hasn't tried anything similar since but even stopped the exiles from using this country as a base for raids on Cuba. It tried to content itself by trying to ruin Castro by a boycott on trade with him.

This hasn't been successful, either, because the Allies ignore the boycott and keep on selling to him.

Now come rumors that the exiles are going to use some Latin-American country as a base for trying to destroy Castro through raids or sabotage or harassments. That may take some doing, if they try it.

No matter how much the Johnson administration denied any complicity in this, the first of the world would probably be unconvinced. It almost certainly couldn't happen without the Central Intelligence Agency knowing about it.

State Department officials—according to the phrasing of diplomatic reporters — appeared unanimous in negative reactions to reports that the exiles were getting ready to move against Castro.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said, "I would not anticipate in the near future overthrow of Castro himself by the action of Cubans taken there." He said Castro's internal control measures seem solid.

But it would take some of the Republican heat off Johnson if some kind of action was taken against Castro, no matter how indirectly.

White House Reports:

President's Heart Good Despite Whirlwind Pace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite the whirlwind pace he's been keeping, President Johnson's heart—the heart that suffered an attack in 1955—is apparently still doing fine.

That was the indication from the White House today in answer to a query concerning the state of the President's health.

The query was motivated by the fact the President, ever since he took office, has maintained a fast and vigorous working schedule—ranging from sudden airplane trips to fast-paced on-the-hoof news conferences held on the quarter-mile driveway behind the White House.

At least one published report has said some of Johnson's associates have been worried about his energetic pace — in view of his history of having had one heart attack.

However, there are indications the President knows how to mix rest and relaxation with his fast-stepping work day.

The White House said Johnson's latest electrocardiograph examination—a test of his heart function—showed a normal finding. The same is true of his pulse, blood pressure and breathing rate.

Furthermore, there is "no enlargement of the heart," the White House said. It was the first technical word on Johnson's health since Dec. 4, shortly after he took office.

None of Johnson's own doctors—and he has them in various parts of the country as well as the White House—were available for interviews on the subject.

But one doctor outside the White House—who has nothing to do with President Johnson's case—told a reporter the information given out by the White House, together with the obvious fact that Johnson has been leading a fast work pace, add up to this, in his opinion:

"The fact that he has been able to maintain the pace gives reassurance that his coronary attack of 1955 was well-healed."

The doctor said the medical details given out by the White House could be interpreted this way:

1. "Normal" EKG: Means that the electrical-conducting system that makes the heart work was not damaged permanently by Johnson's coronary thrombosis in 1955.

2. "Normal" pulse: Means that Johnson's heart is responding well to its work-load—that is, it's not going too fast, or too slow.

3. "No enlargement of the heart": Means for one thing that the area of heart muscle damaged when a clot blocked Johnson's coronary artery during the 1955 attack has healed well. It also means that unaffected muscle in the heart has been able to carry the heart's work-load without becoming enlarged.

Signs that the President knows how to taper off from a hard-driving schedule include the following:

During his walkathon in the White House backyard last Saturday he told reporters he is usually in bed by 11 p.m. — and watches television or reads until about 2 a.m.

He is awake by 6:45 a.m.—automatically, and without any alarm clock, he indicated—but he stays abed a couple of hours after that, reading, or just resting.

Thus, he indicated, he rests up to 10 hours, even though he's not sleeping that long.

Moreover, he swims before lunch—and takes a nap every afternoon.

Wicks Firemen to Meet

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market inched toward new highs early this afternoon after an uncertain morning.

Most of the gains were extremely narrow. Trading was active with first hour volume at the busiest pace of the week.

Steels, utilities, chemicals and oils showed slightly higher trends. Autos, mail order-retail, aircraft-and airline and rail issues were irregular.

At noon The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was ahead .5 at 306.0, close to the all-time high of 306.7 recorded last month. The industrial component added .4, rails .6 and utilities .5. At the same hour the Dow Jones industrial average was up .44 at 827.07. The closing high was 827.33 on April 17.

Steels led the ragged advance, replacing the oils which showed the way Tuesday. Jones and Laughlin gained close to 2.

Sears Roebuck, up about 6 in the last two sessions, fell back around a point while Woolworth advanced almost 1½.

Profit taking continued in two of the market's recent leaders, Curtis Publishing and Texas Gulf Sulphur. The former fell about ½ and the latter double that.

American Stock Exchange prices edged higher.

Bond prices were mostly unchanged.

License Suspended

A 10-day suspension of the restaurant liquor license held by Sangi's Bowlero, 20 Cedar Street, was reported Tuesday by the New York State Liquor Authority. The suspension is from May 4 to 14 and the listed violation was "sale of alcoholic beverage to a minor." The authority announced disciplinary action against 17 licensees in various areas of the state. Two licenses and one permit were canceled.

Taft, Bud

His slate of unpledged electors won by a lop-sided margin over a pro-Johnson ticket. Once more Alabama Democrats are in full revolt against the national party.

In Macon County, Ala., scene of racial unrest, three out of four Negroes seeking office appeared to have won Democratic nomination.

FLORIDA—Spessard L. Holland, a senator for 18 years, won the Democratic nomination for a fourth term.

Six Democrats were running for governor. Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville and Mayor Robert King High of Miami won spots in the May 26 runoff.

NEW MEXICO—Land Commissioner E. S. Johnny Walker had a narrow lead over State Sen. Fabian Chavez in their race for the Democratic nomination as U.S. representative.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA—Purely local stuff here. The Rev. E. Franklin Jackson, former district chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, won with his slate for Democratic party offices.

Indiana Breakdown

Getting around to the scorecard on some of the major races, here's the breakdown on Indiana:

With 4,240 of 4,416 precincts counted, Welsh had 355,632 votes to Wallace's 165,437.

Goldwater led Stassen by 248,986 to 99,535.

In Ohio, with 10,637 of 13,311 precincts reporting, Taft had buried Brown, 505,551 to 139,985.

Young was ahead of Glenn, 388,131 to 169,118.

Oh, yes. Everyone knows the gist of what a candidate says when he wins and when he loses, but what of the candidate who runs well in a race from which he officially withdrew?

Down in Houston, Tex., John Glenn said his only hopes now are for improving health.

"Just plan to get better," he said. "My progress is coming along pretty good."

Firemen Avert Serious Blaze at Phoenicia Station

Excellent work by members of the Phoenicia Fire Department Monday prevented a very serious fire at the Alamo Service Station on Main Street, Phoenicia.

At approximately 6:30 p. m., while a Mobile truck from Newburgh was filling the station gas tanks, fire broke out in a vent pipe attached to the service station. The driver of the truck immediately drove his truck from the area and firemen were summoned.

Before the blaze, which is of undetermined origin, was out there had been some $500 to $600 damage done to the station. The fire apparently was started by some unknown cause in fumes from the vent pipe. The interior of the gas station, which is operated by James Gardner, was damaged considerably. Gardner was at home to dinner when the fire started. Firemen were at the scene for close to an hour before the recall was sounded. No one was injured.

Criterions Corps Announces Ties With Legion Post

Announcement this week that the Criterions have affiliated with Kingston Post 150 of the American Legion continues a long-standing interest of the local post in drum and bugle corps.

The Criterions will carry the flag of the Kingston post in all of the parades and competitions in which they will appear this season, and it will be displayed at the 10th annual Pageant of Champions, sponsored by the Hudson Valley corps at Dietz Stadium on Memorial Day at 8 p. m., it was announced today by James Gilpatric, commander of the local post.

Kingston Legionaires organized their own fife, drum and bugle corps in 1927, a 50-man unit composed entirely of members of Post 150. The corps was under the direction of Morton Finch, and appeared in its first state Legion convention competition at Schenectady in 1928. The Kingston corps captured third place.

A singular distinction was accorded the Kingston Legion unit at San Antonio, Texas in 1928 when they were selected to lead the national Legion parade. A year later they made their second appearance in a national convention when they peraded at Louisville, Ky. Subsequent national convention performances included Boston in 1930 and in New York City in 1937. They also appeared at New York State conventions during the time they were organized.

It was at the Buffalo convention that the famed Doodle Dorfer band was organized, comprised of members of the Legion corps.

During the World War II years, when both the Port Ewe and Kingston Post corps ranks were depleted, they joined forces to appear in the Memorial Day parade.

The affiliation of the Criterions with the Kingston Post was described by Commander Gilpatric "as an unanimous decision by our membership to become associated with a corps that has distinguished itself in this area and whose annual pageant at the stadium is one of the outstanding entertainment events of the year."

The Criterions on the holiday night at the stadium will present five of the leading corps from the Eastern Seaboard in competition, and a special exhibition by the Hawthorne Cabelleros, winners of the American Legion title for six straight years.

Fire at 86 B'way Blamed on Short, 2 Floors Damaged

A fire started by a short circuit in an electric line burned a pile of cotton batting and damaged a third-floor area in the four-story building housing Andy's Furniture Company, 86 Broadway, Tuesday afternoon.

Fire damage was on the floor occupied by the Dana Safety Heater Co. The furniture company occupies the first floor, the Arlene Dress Company is on the second floor, and the fourth is vacant. Slight water damage was reported on the first and second floors.

Units from Central and Cornell stations, Wicks and Rapid companies, with Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard in charge, answered a call at 2:06 p. m. Two pump streams were used.

The building is owned by Benjamin and Lena Magaldino, of 10 Schryver Court.

A coffee pot handle ignited this morning in a house at 26 Post Street occupied by Major Hardin causing a slight fire. Units from Central and Cornell stations and the Wicks Company answered a call at 10:18 a. m.

Israel Tests Project

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel has started testing its Jordan River diversion project to channel irrigation water into the Negev Desert.

Officials said if several weeks of tests are satisfactory, the project will go into operation this summer.

Leaders of the 13 Arab states have warned they will oppose the project under "the legitimate right of self-defense." They are making plans to divert headwaters of the rivers.

No License Is Charged

Leon Washington, 19, of 238 East Union Street, involved in a two-car mishap near 74 Broadway Tuesday night, was charged with driving without a license. He is due for city court hearing Thursday. The other car was driven by William Wolfeil Jr., 43, of 13 Second Avenuue. Washington was treated at Kingston Hospital for injuries of the right leg and left eye. Officers George Dougherty and Charles Diers investigated.

Corporation Counsel Harry Gold notified the council by letter that the planning board had adopted its code of sub-division regulations and he submitted it for consideration of the aldermen. It was left with the laws and rules committee.

Mayor John J. Schwenk, Corporation Counsel Gold and City Engineer Thomas J. Wickman were granted permission to attend the New York State Mayors Conference in New York City June 14 through 18.

Three members of the Kingston City Laboratory were granted permission to attend the annual meeting of the Blood Bank Association in New York May 15, and the New York State Public Health Laboratory annual meeting in Binghamton May 21. The laboratory employes due to attend the meetings were not named.

Requests by Fire Chief James M. Brett and Edmund T. Cloonan, water department superintendent, and Edwin L. Wetterhahn, water department cashier and assistant secretary to the water board, to attend meetings out of the state, were left with the finance committee.

Chief Brett asked permission to attend the annual meeting of the International Association of Fire Chiefs at Houston, Texas in October, and Cloonan and Wetterhahn, asked approval of their attendance June 1 through 5 at the annual meeting in Toronto, Canada, of the American Water Works Association.

Ask Police Action

Two aldermen, Leonard Van Dyke (D) Sixth Ward, and Anthony J. Alecca (R) Fifth Ward, asked for a police check on speeding and reckless driving in downtown areas.

VanDyke said driving appeared to be most reckless in his ward over weekends. His car, he said, was recently damaged by a hit-and-run vehicle and others were damaged over past weekends.

Alecca said he had received early morning telephone calls complaining of drag racing in the Delaware Avenue and North Street areas.

The city clerk's office was directed to inform Police Chief Robert F. Murphy by letter of the requests for special police attention.

The aldermen were invited by a letter from Frank T. Roedell, chairman, to attend the Memorial Day parade arranged by the Kingston Veterans Association.

Reject Reorganization

TOKYO (AP)—The pro-Communist Pathet Lao rejected "any reorganization or expansion of the Laotian coalition government," the New China News Agency said today.

The Red Chinese broadcast apparently was Pathet Lao Prince Souphanouvong's answer to proposals presented him by neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma at a meeting Tuesday of the two Laotian leaders.

Prince Souvanna flew to the Pathet Lao headquarters at Khanh Khay, 110 miles north of Vientiane, in another effort to get Souphanouvong to rejoin the coalition government, which the 1962 Geneva conference on Laos set up.

How Lonely Widow Can Add $300 Annual Income

Q) "I am a widow, alone, and unable to work. My only income is from my stocks which include 184 shares American Telephone; 108 Bank of America; 50 Union Oil of California. I need a little more income. Do you advise switching any of these?"—G. H.

A) I am always pleased to help some one in your lonely position.

I would suggest no switches at all, except to supply you with additional income.

In your particular circumstances, I believe you are holding too much American Telephone. Much as I like the stock, the yield is only 2.8 per cent and you can do better than that — with some sacrifice of growth.

I would sell 84 shares and place the proceeds in equal dollar amounts of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass, yielding 4.7 per cent, and Continental Can, offering a 4.6 per cent return. I would switch Union Oil into General Motors.

These changes would add over $300 annually to your income.

Q) "I am interested in exchanging my series E bonds for series H to get current income. The bonds I hold matured some years ago. What about the interest they have accrued? Also, can I cash these H Bonds whenever I need funds?" — J. C.

A) I think you are very wise to stay with savings bonds. They are the safest and most stable of all investments.

As soon as you make an exchange application, your E bonds are evaluated as to total principal and interest accruals to date. This amount is rounded off into minimum units of $500 — the lowest H bond denomination.

Income tax liability on accrued interest on all E bonds exchanged may be deferred until maturity or redemption of H bonds. These yield 2½ per cent in the first 18 months and 4 per cent thereafter to maturity.

H bonds are redeemable at par after 6 months of holding and upon one month's written notice.

Rondout Valley Elects 5, Votes $2,053,197 Budget

Five trustees for the Rondout Valley Central School were re-elected Tuesday and the voters of the district also approved a $2,053,197 budget for school operation for 1964-65.

The budget was approved by a vote of 370 in favor and 96 opposed. There were 12 blank and void ballots, for a total of 478.

The vote for the five positions on the board was:

Three-year term — George Stockin 345. Sidney Gray 127. Blank and void 3.

Three-year term — Percy Greene 290. John Phillips 176. Blank and void 10.

Three-year term — Clarence Coogan 288. Myrtle Strong 167. Blank and void 21.

One-year term—Bruce Miller 417. Blank and void 52. There were 7 write-ins. Miller fills the term left vacant by the resignation of Kevin Reynolds, a former president of the board, who moved out of the district.

Two year term. John Schoonmaker Jr., 428. Blank and void 41. There were seven write-ins. Mr. Schoonmaker fills out the term of Franklin Kelder, who was serving as president of the board when he resigned to become supervisor of the town of Marbletown and was succeeded by J. Richard Shiel as president of the board.

Marlboro Passes Propositions for Expansion Plans

Voters of the Marlboro Central School District yesterday approved two propositions submitted, one for acquiring a new site for a junior-senior high school and the second for an appropriation for an addition to the Marlboro Elementary school. Both were approved by overwhelming votes.

Marlboro Central School District will hold its annual meeting during the third week of June.

Authority to acquire a 42-acre tract of land on Plattekill Turnpike, approximately a mile west of Marlboro was voted 964 to 312. The proposition calls for acquiring the property at $1,100 an acre and not to exceed $51,000 for purchase of real property and all costs. It was the third time that the proposal to acquire property had been submitted to the voters, the first vote on the present site.

The vote on the propsal to make available $269,000 for an addition to the Marlboro elementary school was passed by a vote of 1161 to 147. Plans, which have not been finalized, call for additional class rooms and necessary facilities.

Highland Defeats $1,439,000 for School Expenses

A proposed budget of $1,439,000 was defeated by the voters of the Highland Central School District No. 3, Tuesday by 7 votes. The vote was 108 in favor of adoption and 101 against.

An official of the school district today said no plans were immediately available as to the next move for financing the school costs for the coming year. The board of education will take that matter under consideration. Whether the budget will be resubmitted or a new budget presented is not decided.

Voters in the district were voting today for two members of the board of trustees. The five-year terms of Charles Andola and Leo Rizzo expire and they do not seek re-election.

Seeking to be elected to the term of Andola is Louis Canino and Nicholas Marone. Candidates for the term of Rizzo are Joseph Alfanso and Joseph Costantino.

Late-Hour Vote In Ellenville Blow to Budget

Lateness of the hour at which a vote was taken on the matter of approval of a school budget for the Ellenville Central School District, was called by some residents the cause for defeat of the proposed $1,903,330 budget which was presented at the board meeting Tuesday night at the Maple Avenue School.

It was approximately 12:15 a. m. this morning when a vote was called for an the tentative budget was defeated by a vote of 241 to 212. It was reported that some 100 other persons who had been at the meeting had left before the vote was taken.

President Ben Miller presented the budget after it had been read. A vote was called for at approximately 10:15 p. m. but the motion for the vote was called out of order until the entire budget had been read.

The proposed $1,903,330 budget showed an increase of approximately 3 per cent over the previous budget.

No announcement as to whether the present tentative budget will be re-submitted or a revised burget prepared.

The board will meet again on May 26, at 7:30 p. m. to present the budget proposal again.

Approve $2,401,635 School Budget; Down 20-Mile Limit

A budget of $2,401,635.50 was approved 153 to 37, and a proposal to extend the transportation of pupils to non-public schools to a 20-mile limit was defeated 158 to 81 at Tuesday night's annual meeting of Saugerties Central School District taxpayers.

If estimated stat aid and total assessed valuation figures hold or are confirmed as higher, a decrease in the basic tax rate can be anticipated.

Decrease Seen

The estimated basic rate figure listed in the preliminary budget is $82.884 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. This is a decrease of $1.627 under last year's basic rate of $84.511.

The actual rate cannot be determined until the estimated income is confirmed.

The total appropriations approved last night indicates an increase over last year of $240,868.91.

The estimated revenues include state aid $1,471,658.15; estimated balance $81,827.77; teacher retirement withheld 1964-1965 $73,703.50; athletic receipts $3,000; incidental receipts $4,000, and federal aid $3,500 for a total of $1,571,080.04.

This leaves a preliminary figure of $830,555.46 to be raised by taxation. The estimated assessed valuation on which the rate is based is $10,020,608.

See 3,591 Enrollment

The budget listed an anticipated enrollment for 1964-1965 of 3,591 and a staff of 165.

The major budgetary increases include principal and teachers' salaries, including new teachers and increments, pensions, social security and retirement, $72,332; supplemental retirement $14,507.31; transportation $2,800; health insurance (changeover to state plan) $8,692; other salaries $5,276; miscellaneous operation of schools $22,396.60; bonds and interest $103,335, and grounds and building $11,530.

One of the items questioned from the floor was a $7,000 figure for the paving of the parking area at Mt. Marion School. The old parking area was ripped up for the extension being constructed. The bid for paving the parking area was $4,000. However the budget was made up prior to the bidding and the job was estimated at $7,000.

Also questioned was an increase of $8,464.10 for repairs to buildings. Business Manager Gerald L. Snyder explained that a certain number of windows in each classroom must be changed to meet new state safety regulations which become effective September 1.

President Herb and Dexter O. Arnold, superintendent of schools answered several inquires from the floor.

Presents Resolution

Perry Bunyar presented a resolution asking for the extension of transportation to non-public schools from the 10-mile limit to 20 miles. Although not stated, it had been reported that transportation is being sought for high school pupils wishing to attend St. Ursula's Academy, Kingston and St. Patrick's Academy, Catskill.

Discussion of the matter brought out that about 40 additional students are involved. About 125 are now being transported to Kingston. An estimated cost figure of from $6,000 to $7,000 was reported. An extra bus would be required for the run to Catskill.

It was assumed that the present service to Kingston could absorb the additional students coming within the 20-mile limit.

After lengthy discussion the proposal was defeated 158 to 81 with two blanks. A total of 241 persons voted.

Attorney Daniel N. Lamb was elected chairman of the meeting.

Board of Education President Robert Herb read the usual letter from Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr.

Attorney Morris Rosenblum presented the resolution moving for the adoption of the budget. The vote was 153 to 37 with one blank. Only 191 voted in comparison to the earlier vote on the 20-mile limit.

Election Is Today

Election of school board members is being held today from noon to 9 p. m. at Main Street School.

Three seats on the board will be filled by the district voters.

Henry Breitenbach of High Woods and Edwin Olsen of Katsbaan, both incumbents are running unopposed.

The contest for the seat vacated by Steve Stycos includes the following candidates:

Mrs. Carolyn C. France of Barclay Heights (former District 10), a former correspondent of the Freeman and prominent in P-TA activities; Harry C. Hoffman of Churchland Road, a former board member, and Mrs. Anna F. Karashay of Division Street, who is well-known for her CYO activities.

School Orchestra, And Band Concert Program Listed

The program for Saugerties Central Schools' band and orchestra concert Friday at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium was announced today.

The program will include a violin solo by Elizabeth Farquharson; trumpet solo by Richard Kudlacik; trombone solo by Phyllis McLaughlin, and a trumpet solo by Richard Curtis.

The senior band and orchestra will present a variety of selections.

The dance band will present some of the selections which they plan to play during their appearance at the Worlds Fair.

W. Camp Church Slates Family Day on Sunday

On the occasion of Mothers Day, a family service will be held Sunday at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp at 10 a. m. Sunday school classes will be suspended and the pupils will attend the worship service.

An exploratory meeting to determine the interest in establishing a youth fellowship in the church for young people 16 years and over, will be held Wednesday 7:30 p. m. in the parish hall.

If enough interest is shown by the young people, five members of the Church Council will serve as advisers, a name for the group will be chosen, a meeting night set and plans for election of officers will be announced.

Lutheran Church Lists Activities

Coming activities at Atonement Lutheran Church, Market Street, Saugerties, were announced this week by the Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor.

Lutheran World Action Sunday will be observed at Atonement Lutheran Church in conjunction with all Lutheran Churches of the United States and Canada to support a budget for world action and relief of some two million dollars.

Tuesday, May 12, at 8 p. m. the church council will meet at the church. The group will consider the selection of a delegate to attend the annual meeting of the New York Synod at Jamestown, June 1 to 4. There will be reports by the building, evangelism youth and stewardship committees as well as the pastor.

New Gothic style lamps have been installed in Atonement Lutheran Church in the nave, narthex and rear primary room. The lamps of sextagonal in shape, with blue and red decorative glass jewels reflect symbols of the vine and branches. The fixtures are finished in gold bronze, with white glass. They are three-phased permitting variation of volume to suit needs and purposes. They were installed as part of the Atonement improvement drive with funds contributed by the membership.

Atonement Lutheran Church Women will meet Thursday, May 14 at 8 p. m. in the church basement. Devotions will be in charge of Mrs. Edward Junker of Partition Street. The topic "From Continent to Continent" will be given by Mrs. Charles Gippert of Robinson Street. Mrs. Harry Knaust and Mrs. Raymond Kropp of Spaulding Lane, Saugerties, will be the hostesses for the evening. Mrs. William Goetz of Mt. Marion Park will preside. A report will be made on the purchase of new dishes for the church, the purchase and installation of new curtains for the basement Sunday school room. A report will be given on plans for the mother and daughter dinner to be held Thursday, May 21 at 6 p. m.

Commendation Awarded Dargan

A gold seal of commendation has been awarded by the Automobile Club of New York to James J. Dargan, Saugerties Dodge-Plymouth dealer, in recognition of its contributions to the high school driver education program during the 1963-64 school year.

In a letter to Dargan, Charles J. Murphy, the auto club's director of traffic engineering and safety, praised the dealer for its "outstanding community service" in providing a new Dodge dual-control training car for use by students enrolled in the driver education course at Saugerties Central High School. This participation, he said, will go a long way in helping reduce accidents on the highway.

This is the third consecutive year that the dealer has made a car available on loan to the school.

The high school driver education program, pioneered by the AAA since 1936, offers both behind-the-wheel and classroom instruction to teenagers. This year, more than 12,000 high schools in the country are training some 1,333,000 students.

Congregational Church Announces Activities

The Day of the Christian Family will be observed at the 11 a. m. Sunday worship service at First Congregational Church, Main Street, Saugerties.

The senior members of the congregation will be appropriately honored with loving recognition and a brief reception in the church school rooms following the service.

Mrs. Charles Walker, chairman of the dedication committee will be in charge.

The foodless food sale started in April by the Women's Fellowship is still in progress. Those wishing to participate may speak with any member of the group. The program started to secure new dishes for the church is moving slowly, it was reported.

A rummage sale will be held by the group at Johnstone's store, Main Street, May 14, 15 and 16.

FlatbushScoutingNotes

Members of Cub Pack 39 and Troop 39 of Flatbush Reformed Church have scheduled a visit to Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh on May 16 on the observance of Armed Forces Day. They will view an air show at the field.

Registration Not Needed to Vote in Saugerties Today

Several inquiries have been received from new residents in Saugerties Central School District regarding eligibility to vote in today's election of board of education members.

The polls at Main Street School, Saugerties close at 9 p. m.

It is not necessary to register prior to the election. Those voting sign a register at the school before receiving a ballot.

A voter to be eligible must be a citizen of the United States, and at least 21 years of age, a resident within the district for 30 days prior to the election and must possess one of three qualifications:

Owns or is the spouse of an owner, leases, hires, or is in possession under contract of purchase of real property in the district, excluding lodgers or boarders.

Is a parent of a child of school age, provided such a child shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks during the year.

Or has permanently residing with him a child of school age who has attended for at least eight weeks.

Centerville Vols Cover 5 Alarms During Tuesday

Cedar Grove and Centerville volunteer firemen of Centerville Fire Department responded to five alarms within 15 hours Tuesday.

In addition to those reported yesterday, both Centerville and Cedar Grove units responded to a brush fire at the old Saugerties railroad station about 5:05 p. m. No damage was reported.

At 10:42 the volunteers answered an alarm on the Fish Creek Road where they extinguished a brush pile which became ignited.

Earlier, Malden-West Camp Fire Company responded to a call near Canoe Hill in the Centerville District and were fighting the blaze when Cedar Grove volunteers responded.

Centerville and Cedar Grove units extinguished a house fire at High Woods about 8 a. m. The unoccupied two-story frame dwelling is owned by Thomas Woerthman of Saxton. The blaze was contained to the kitchen and utility room.

Shortly after returning to station the vols were called to extinguish a brush fire near the Hanser Motel on the Quarryville hill, Route 32.

Flatbush Church Notes

The youth group of Flatbush Reformed Church will serve a smorgasbord dinner June 20 in Loughran Hall at the church. The public is invited.

A meeting of the Flatbush Reformed Church congregation will be held May 17 immediately following the regular worship service. The meeting will be held in Loughran Hall.

Palatines Dinner

West Camp Palatines dartball team will hold its annual banquet Thursday, May 21 at 6:30 p. m. in Mt. Marion Inn.

Those planning to attend should make reservations for themselves and their guests with Frank Sloboda or Al Cawein by Sunday, May 17.

Town Notes

Mrs. Rita Troiano went to New York to visit some of her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton A. Jehle and their two daughters, Diane and Linda, of West Babylon, L. I. made a stop at their parents house over the weekend. On their way home they will stop at Camp Matta-Wacca in Bear Mountain. Linda expects to spend some time there with the Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Robert Compitello, Mrs. Eugene Patryk and daughters, Doreen and Judy, spent the weekend of April 25 at Avon, Genesoo.

On April 25, Mrs. Compitello and Mrs. Patryk attended a Rebekah Secretarial School, in Avon and were only 10 miles from Geneseo State University, where Andrea Patryk is a student. They spent the weekend at the girls dormitory.

Judy Patryk celebrated her birthday at this time. A surprise party was given to her by the girls at the domitory.

Concerning Methodist Conference

2 Bishops Differ on Law About Race of Membership

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Northern bishop and a Southern bishop held differing interpretations today on a new Methodist Church law saying persons of any race are eligible to worship or hold membership in any Methodist church.

Bishop John Owen Smith of Atlanta, Ga., said the key word is "eligible." He said that doesn't mean persons of any race must necessarily be admitted to any Methodist church.

Bishop James K. Mathews of Boston, said it is his feeling that Methodist churches are under a "compulsion of faith" to abide by the intent of the law and thus are obligated to throw open their doors to everyone.

The church's general conference, holding its quadrennial meeting in Pittsburgh's Civic Arena, adopted the new law Tuesday night. Approval came on a show of hands and without debate.

The law reads: "The Methodist Church is a part of the church universal. Therefore, all persons, without regard to race, color, natural origin, or economic condition, shall be eligible to attend its worship services, to participate in its programs, and to be admitted into its membership anywhere in the connection."

Bishop Smith was asked to give his interpretation of it.

He said: "All people are eligible. Eligible means they are free to go and should be admitted. I don't know if that makes it binding on them to be let in."

If a person would be kept out of a church, the bishop added, it would not be a matter of prejudice but a matter of custom, particularly in the South.

Bishop Mathews said it appeared to him it is the responsibility of pastors to see that the intent of the new law is fulfilled. But the job of enforcement would fall to bishops if disputes arose, he said.

The law was drawn up by the Committee on Membership and Evangelism. It was placed in the church's discipline (law) in a chapter entitled "Church Membership."

ChargesDismissed In Albany Case Brought by Strike

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Charges against three men accused of violating Albany's anti-strikebreaker ordinance have been dismissed because the complainant declined to press prosecution.

Police Justice Ralph S. Leonard dismissed the charges Monday. They stemmed from a strike last January at the parking lot of the Albany Medical Center Hospital.

The charges were the first brought under a city ordinance, adopted last Dec. 16, that prohibits use of professional strikebreakers.

The defendants were Charles W. Easter, 32, of Milton, Mass., president of Fitz-Inn Parking Inc., operator of the hospital lot; Charles A. Hunt, 42, of Westfield, N.J., the lot manager; and John W. Christman, 35, of Castleton.

They had been arrested on the complaint of Dean Fox, business agent of Teamsters Local 895, which picketed the parking lot in a dispute over union affiliation of lot employes.

Bonn Seeks Fugitive

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany formally asked the United Arab Republic today to extradite fugitive Nazi Hans Walter Zech - Nenntwich. But West German officials said they doubted the request would be granted.

The Bonn Foreign Ministry said the request for Zech-Nenntwich's extradition was made by the ambassador in Cairo.

The former SS lieutenant, convicted of taking part in a wartime massacre of Polish Jews, escaped April 23 from the Brunswick prison four days after he was sentenced to four years in prison. A jail warden, once his crony in the Nazi labor organization, has admitted he let Zech-Nenntwich slip out.

Library Extends Hours; Sets Fair For August 8th

At the April meeting of the Rosendale Library Association Mrs. Anna M. Auchmoedy made public the decision of the board of trustees to increase the hours the library would be open.

Starting May 5, the library will be open Monday through Friday from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. The feeling of the Board of Trustees in making this announcement was that additional service to library users should be made at least on a trial basis, a period not to exceed six months.

It was also made known at this time the provisional charter was extended for another five years, the new service would meet the requirements of this charter. George Mollenhauer, president, in his announcement said that Mrs. Thomas Burns would serve as assistant to Mrs. Auchmoedy Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Mid-Hudson Libraries recently publicized its new gift-book program whereby all libraries in the system will receive up to four gift books a month. The new gift books for Rosendale are: Hemingway, Moveable Feast; Remarque, Night in Lisbon; Packard, Naked Society; O'Connor, I was Dancing; Knebel, Convention. Mrs. Auchmoody showed the group a most unusual newspaper now being received semi-monthly of interest to antique lovers, called the "Antique Trader."

Through the efforts of the association's successful Christmas bazaar, a donation of $90 was made to the board of trustees for the purchase of a book cart and for various other expenses. It was explained here that the Library Association and the Rosendale Library operate as two separate units. The sole purpose of the association is to foster interest in the library, help as volunteers in the operation of the library and to endeavor to raise money for its various needs. The Library Board of Trustees run the library by way of its finances and policies.

Aug. 8 is the date for the annual Library Fair. General chairmen for this year are Mrs. Patrick Donnelly, Mrs. Edward Huben, and Mrs. Arthur Mulligan. Committees will be announced at a later date.

The final story hour program for this season was given on April 24 with an attendance of nearly 100 children. These programs have proved a high success and a great deal of thanks goes to the Junior League of Kingston and to those members in the league participating in this phase of community service.

Reports were given on a science workshop attended by Mrs. Auchmoedy, Mrs. Ira Ingram and Mrs. Arthur Mulligan at the Kingston Library which conveyed the importance of purchasing the right books to meet the demand of the space-age.

A summer reading incentive program is planned and further details will be announced at a later date. The program is directed to the children and is something new for this library.

Legion Meeting

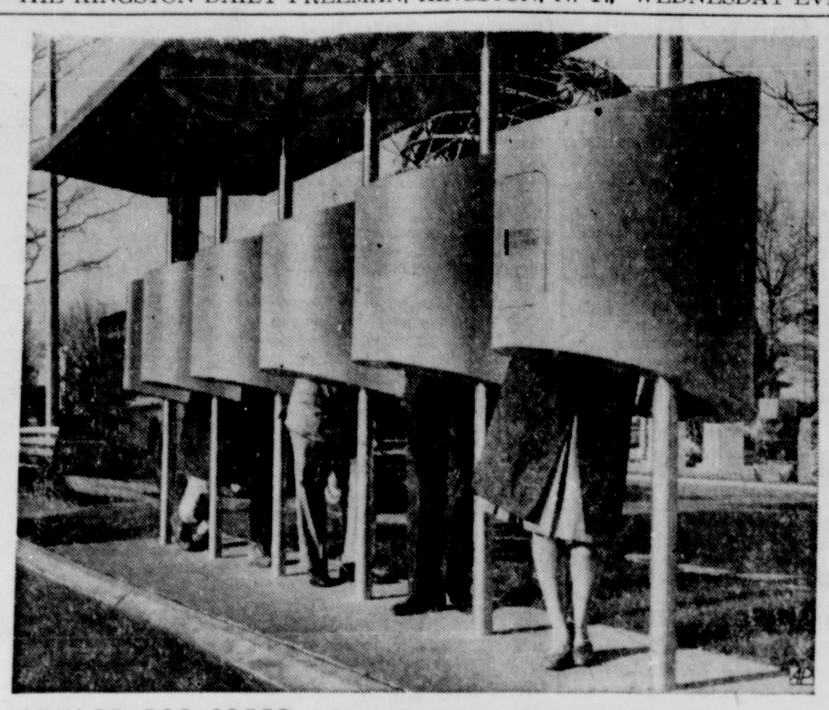
The Rosendale - Tillson Post 1219 of the American Legion will hold a meeting at the Post Home, Tillson, Thursday evening. This will be an annual meeting to nominate officers for the coming year.

CYO Car Wash

St. Peter's Church CYO will hold a car wash on the church grounds, Rosendale 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Saturday, May 16.

Why We Say--

HARMFUL: A potato is called a "spud" for an odd reason. At one time in the 19th century it was thought that potatoes were harmful in the daily menu. For this reason the Society for the Prevention of Unwholesome Diets was formed. The abbreviation was SPUD.



STYLED FOR SPEED — Among the sights within the New York World's Fair grounds are these cubicles which are a modernistic refinement of the usual telephone booths.

Area Presbytery Takes Stand on Integration Plan

A firm stand of policy on integration of church membership was taken by the Presbytery of Hudson River at its meeting in the Irvington Presbyterian Church Saturday, for the guidance of officers and Sessions of its 111 churches in seven counties.

In a series of four resolutions presented by Elder Bruce Faulkner of Bedford, chairman of the commission on religion and race, it reaffirmed the policy of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, that segregation of races is a violation of the gospel of Jesus Christ; that every minister, elder and deacon is expected to fulfill his ordination vow of sharing God's love for all men regardless of race and that "any person who seeks to leave a Church that is integrated because he is unwilling to worship with persons of another race is committing open sin; that any such person should be urged by the Session of the Church with which he seeks to unite to search his heart in the light of the Gospel, to repent of his sin and to return to his former Church; and that no Session should knowingly accept such a person into membership without first counseling with him and reminding him that all United Presbyterian Churches are committed to the same goal of a non-segregated Church in a non-segregated society. Further, that every Church in the Presbytery of Hudson River should seek to bring into its fellowship persons of all races."

Defeated by a vote of 81 to 79 was another resolution that the Presbytery officially propose to the forthcoming 176th Annual National General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church that a "Great Assembly" be convened to consider amending the Constitution of the Church regarding form of government and the catechisms in order to fit them more adequately to present demands. In opposing the resolution Dr. Merle S. Irwin of Poughkeepsie and Dr. William C. Schram of Huguenot Memorial Church, Pelham, stressed the fact that the national body of the Presbyterian Church was well aware of the human and social transitions in American life and already had as many as ten teams engaged in such studies with reports and recommendations due to be made at the General Assembly meetings later this month and in 1965 and that any such petition as the proposed one might only confuse and delay the desired results.

Health for All

'TAIN'T FUNNY, SONNY!'

Suppose, for argument's sake, that one out of every four or five people you passed on the street had some clear evidence of illness or injury. Say a swollen face, maybe a severe limp, or a marked nervous twitch. Wouldn't that give you a jolt?

Of course it would. One of man's chief graces is his ready concern for the hurts of his neighbor. He may listen nonchalantly to reports of an overseas catastrophe costing the lives of tens of thousands. But let the fellow next door slip and crack his collarbone and your ordinary citizen will be in there summoning his doctor, running his errands, cooking his prunes, even holding down his job for him if need be.

Oddly enough, there's one trouble spot where this healthy team spirit doesn't seem to operate. We show almost tearful solicitude over our friends' toothaches and falling hair, but we seldom bat an eye when confronted with a certain really serious, potentially dangerous symptoms of disease—namely, a chronic cough. Tradition requires that we dismiss this with a flip reference to "smoker's cough." And that's mostly what we do.

Symptoms of illness aren't immediately visible in one out of every four or five people you meet. But roughly that proportion of cigarette-smoking population does have a chronic cough. And medical science has nailed down the fact that chronic coughers and chronic cigarette smokers are most numerous among people who come down with chronic respiratory diseases.

Instead of whimsey about "smoker's cough," your Christmas Seal association has a different suggestion. Next time you come across one of those chronic coughers, take him on a personally conducted tour to his doctor for a look-see. The suggestion goes double if the cougher happens to be yourself.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

NEW YORK (AP) — The weather show has been developed into a curious institution. All that viewers really want to know is what to expect. That vital information can be passed along in a few concise sentences.

But television feels it must be visual. So the weather girls and boys are equipped with maps, chalk, pointers, cartoons, moving arrows and illustrations of rain, snow, sun, clouds and even hurricanes.

Television is also a commercial medium, so the weather show is dragged out to a length that will support two or three messages from the sponsor. This is accomplished by describing highs, lows, troughs, pressure systems, rain or snow patterns from coast to coast. Then, at the end like the climax of a dramatic show, come the words we've been waiting for—whether to plan on rubbers or sunshades the next day.

Jack Benny soon will be leaving CBS for NBC, but devoted fans will still be able to see him at the same number on the dials. Re-runs will be broadcast by CBS late on Sunday afternoons next fall. His new programs will be seen on NBC Friday evenings.

Raymond Burr will make one of his occasional appearances outside his "Perry Mason" show on May 12, playing a lawyer on "The Red Skelton Show."

Dear Abby . . .

Play It Straight, Lady!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We were married 14 years and I never dreamed that anything was wrong with our marriage. Suddenly my husband started to take an interest in poker. Last March he went to a poker game that lasted all week. At the end of the week, a woman called me three times in one day telling me that she and my husband were "in love" and he didn't have the nerve to ask for a divorce. I told her if my husband wanted a divorce he would have to ask me for it. He still hasn't asked me, and I am keeping my mouth shut. But he still "plays poker" all night twice a week. I am 33, she is 29 and my husband is 35. If he gets up the nerve to ask me for a divorce, it will tear up two sets of children. Ours are 5, 7, 10 and 12. Hers are 4, 3 and 10 months old. What should I do?

WAITING

DEAR ABBY: Get some counseling from either your clergyman or your family service association and try to put your marriage back on the track. Find out why it became necessary for your husband to seek female companship elsewhere. You may not like what you learn, but it could save your marriage. Good luck.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: When I had my marriage announcements printed, I had the following message placed at the bottom: PLEASE — NO GIFTS! I did it for three very good reasons: (1) I do not need anything. (2) I have no room in my small apartment to store anything. (3) I have no time to write "thank you notes." In spite of this, the gifts poured in. Why can't people be more considerate and oblige?

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Aw c'mon. Ingrained responses aren't easily changed. Surely you can find something other than your friends' generosity to "annoy" you.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: If that 16-year-old girl, whose drinking father hocked her boy friend's ring, wants to get the ring back, all she has to do is go to the pawn shop and demand it. If they do not deliver up the ring, she can get the cooperation of the police in recovering stolen property (her father DID help himself to the ring, she stated). Otherwise, she can (through a lawyer) replevy the ring by legal process. It all depends on how far the girl wants to go in making things uncomfortable for her father. In my book, anyone who hocks property he does not own is no better than a common thief.

ANONYMOUS LAWYER (HARTFORD)

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I agree with your answer to "PUNISHED ENOUGH." Twice I've had to call my parents because I was going to be home later than I said I would, and it sure helped to give them confidence in me. One night I ended up an hour and a half late, because of car trouble. But just because I called home and told them, they weren't even mad! I shudder to think of what would have happened if I hadn't called them.

Sentencing Is Due May 11 on Having Narcotic

When New York counsel for Warren Dawson again failed to appear at the 2 p. m. adjourned time Tuesday, imposition of sentence in the case was adjourned by County Judge Raymond J. Mino to May 11 at 10 a. m.

Dawson was found guilty of illegal possession of a narcotic after a trial by jury in County Court. Dawson had been charged with possession and sale but the jury was unable to agree on the charge of sale and after returning the guilty verdict on the possession charge, was dismissed.

Imposition of sentence was postponed pending receipt of a pre-sentence probation report. When the case was called on the adjourned date Attorney Findley of New York City failed to appear and the matter was adjourned to May 5 at 2 p. m. Findley failed to appear at that time and Dawson was remanded to jail and the matter adjourned to May 11.

The same disposition was made in the case of Howard Dawson, who along with Warren is charged under another indictment with conspiracy. The brothers were both remanded to jail pending disposition of the conspiracy charge.

Mahoney Appeals For More Funds On Canal Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney of the New York State Senate appealed to Congress today to provide funds to continue a survey to determine whether a new canal connecting Lakes Erie and Ontario is warranted.

Mahoney is a leading advocate of construction of an "all-America" canal in the Western New York area.

At present, the Welland Canal, in Canada, is the only link between the two lakes.

Mahoney said that the St. Lawrence Seaway "will never justify both the optimistic hope of its advocates and the enormous expenditure of funds by the United States and Canada until a new, modern, fast, efficient, toll-free canal is built...."

He commented in a statement prepared for a hearing of the public works subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee.

Mahoney said the Welland Canal was a bottleneck obstructing the natural development of the seaway and a new canal would "not only be a vital link in our national defense but also a great economic stimulus to both the Niagara Frontier and the entire Great Lakes area."

Estimated costs of a new waterway range into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Grand Union Sales Up

EAST PATERSON, N. J. — Sales of the Grand Union Company for the four-week period ended April 25, 1964 totaled $52,054,303, it was announced today by the Eastern food chain. This represents an increase of 5.5 per cent over sales of $49,342,158 in the comparable period of 1963. For the first eight weeks of the company's current fiscal year, through April 25, sales were $104,169,929, an increase of 6.9 per cent over sales of $97,449,125 in the corresponding period a year ago.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CUBA: Undersecretary of State George W. Ball says the United States policy of boycotting Cuba economically is succeeding.

Short of war, the State Department's No. 2 man told the National Advertising Council Tuesday, "most effective by far is the effort to seal off Cuba economically—a policy of economic denial."

While the economic crackdown might not topple Fidel Castro's communist regime, Ball said, it has been very effective and "the Cuban economy is in a mess."

LBJ WALKS: A day after a seven-lap strolling news conference, President Johnson held a walking business conference Tuesday with Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board.

The President and Martin hiked several laps around the chief executive's back yard as they conferred about the nation's economy.

JOHNSON-STUDENTS: President Johnson told 800 students from 71 countries Tuesday that the United States is "an unfinished society" which must do a lot to eliminate racial discrimination and poverty.

Observing that the great strength of the United States is that it has never observed "a single, rigid ideology," the President said no man or nation is wise enough to prescribe a single economic dogma or system of government for all of the peoples of the world.

The students, who will soon complete a year of study in the United States, had been invited to a White House garden party by Mrs. Johnson.

Sailor Shot to Death

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—An American sailor was found shot to death today aboard the U.S. destroyer Gridley, docked here on a goodwill visit.

The Gridley's public information officer said the sailor died of a self-inflicted wound. An investigation was under way to determine whether the death was accidental or suicide.

NEW YORK

Mrs. Mary Harrison, 85 Prospect St., Binghamton. "For St. Mary's Church, we saved for a refrigerator and a stereo which took several hundred books of Blue Stamps. I myself would like to save for a trip to Bermuda."

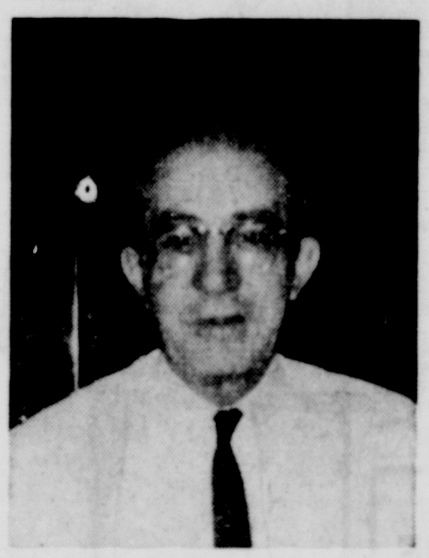
NEW YORK

Mrs. Beverly Rosenberg, 30 Columbus Circle, Eastchester. "I usually look through the latest catalog to decide what to save for. I've redeemed Blue Stamps for a hassock, bedspreads, linens, a dictionary for my children and all sorts of things. This time I came for a 40-cup Cory Percolator. It's 14¾ books."

CONNECTICUT

Mrs. Leonard Zwack, 83 N. Union Ave., West Haven. "The selection of gifts at the Triple-S Redemption Center is out of this world. You couldn't ask for better quality. Last year I did all my Christmas shopping with Blue Stamps. It saves a lot of money."

NEW YORK



Mr. Charles Mancuso, 642 Main St., Poughkeepsie. "I like to shop only where the Triple-S Blue Stamps are given. When redeeming my stamps, you have such a wide selection of gifts. I have no difficulty finding my needs. I do not receive this kind of service at your competitor's stores."

NEW JERSEY

Mrs. Dorothea Patterson, 4 No. Christie St., Bergenfield. "What I prefer most about Triple-S Blue Stamps is the quality of the premiums. I think it's much better than any other stamps. I think I'm more careful of my Blue Stamps than I am of my money."

NEW YORK

Miss Laura Alexander, 65 Allen Drive, Great Neck. "I've been saving Triple-S Blue Stamps about 5 or 6 years with my sister and my mother. We've got blankets, sheets, spreads, silverware, glassware, quite a few things. They're very nice quality. It's very interesting what you get with just one-half book, too."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Cathryn Boni, 2 Leach Ave., Albany. "I've gotten snack tables and a stroller and hampers and sheets and, mainly, my Corning Ware. I try to make a point of getting things I wouldn't go out and buy."

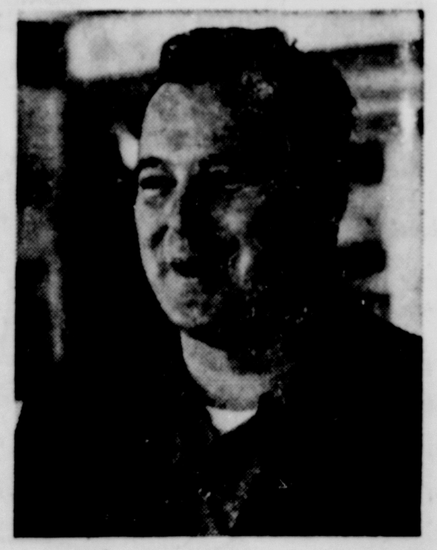
NEW JERSEY

Mrs. Katherine Trach, 59 Bayshore Mobile Manor, Highway 36, Keyport. "I am now an enthusiastic Triple-S Blue Stamp saver. Realized what I was missing when shown one of your beautiful catalogs with the wide selection of unusual gifts, many for as little as ½ to 3 books."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Kay Keough, 145 Hazelhurst Ave., Syracuse. "Our church has a bazaar once a year and each parishoner is asked to donate a book of Blue Stamps to fill a hope chest which is raffled off. I also saved to help furnish my son's apartment at college."

NEW YORK



Mr. Francis Law, 1064 Woodycrest Ave., Bronx. "I like the value we get out of Blue Stamps. I think the quality of the merchandise is good, there's a good variety to pick from, and the stores that carry Triple-S Blue Stamps are the stores that my wife and I like to trade in."

CONNECTICUT

Mrs. Aurora C. Pelletier, 35 Main St., South Windsor. "I like Triple-S Blue Stamps because you get more courteous and friendly redemption service. I like the outstandingly beautiful catalog. And I like the way you get so many more gifts so much faster if you save only Triple-S Blue Stamps."

CONNECTICUT

Mr. Milton N. Ives, 53 Mohigan Ave., Waterbury. "I believe the Blue Stamps saving system benefits the everyday shopper because of the simple way of saving for something you need above your budget. The redemption centers are very conveniently located and display attractive looking merchandise."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Ve Lane Bookhaut, R.D. 1, Maryland. "I like to save Triple-S Stamps because the Speedy Large stamps take so little effort, and when you redeem them you get 'the best for less"—that is the best merchandise for less stamps."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Clara Tischer, 106 W. Central Ave., Spring Valley. "I save Triple-S Stamps exclusively, since I have found them to be easier to redeem for the items I want. The salespeople are more courteous and the gifts more attractively displayed than at some other redemption centers."

NEW YORK

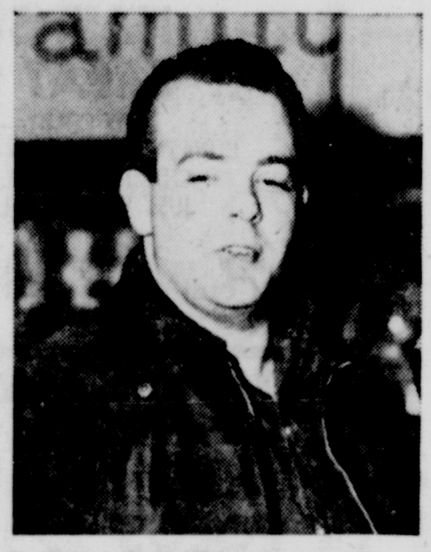
Mrs. John Van Duzer, 11 Noel Dr., Newburgh. "I have a complete nursery full of Blue Stamp items. And usually we get our entire Christmas gifts through Blue Stamps. That saves tremendously, believe me."

THAN TRIPLE-S?

MASSACHUSETTS

Mrs. Nancy D. Cross, 37 Metcalf St., Worcester. "I like Triple-S Blue Stamps because it means getting something for nothing, so to speak. Our home has many little extras that it ordinarily wouldn't have. The catalog provides a wonderful selection of all kinds of household needs, as well as tickets for the World's Fair!"

NEW YORK



Mr. Vincent La Paglia, 408 Eagle St., Utica. "We've got quite a few things for the house. I like the courteous service I get at the Redemption Center. Right now we're saving to go to New York for the World's Fair and we want to stop at Mama Leone's."

MASSACHUSETTS

Mrs. Frances A. Chiz, 167 Woodcrest Rd., Springfield. "To me, the merchandise I receive from Triple-S Blue Stamps is far superior than any other stamp plan. There is a greater selection and 'the price is right'! I enjoy looking through the beautiful catalog. I seem to find something different in it each time I pick it up."

NEW JERSEY

Mrs. Dolores Greene, 314 Franklin Ave., Wyckoff. "We saved 168 books of Triple-S Blue Stamps and took our trip to Nassau. It was just glorious. Since then, I've saved for another trip, and next January we plan to go to Puerto Rico."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Lillian Bennett, 210 W. 230th St., Bronx. "I've saved Triple-S Blue Stamps at least 7 years. I have blankets, lamps, kitchenware of all kinds. I've compared and I find that the value is much greater with Triple-S Blue Stamps."

NEW JERSEY

Mrs. Ruth Wentink, 282 Lincoln Ave., Hawthorne. "The Muchachos' Auxiliary has been very happy in its association with Triple-S Blue Stamps. This is the second experience with group saving. They have been most courteous and very helpful with our problem."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Anna Papadakis, 35 Chester Ave., Brooklyn. "It's like a year 'round Christmas with expensive gifts. Like getting a bonus every time. I must commend Triple-S on its most colorful, descriptive magazine. Imagine dreams coming true, with all the presents given away cordially."

NEW JERSEY

Mrs. Jean Harris, 689 Walsh Ave., Orange. "I feel you get better value by saving Triple-S Blue Stamps instead of many of the others. I particularly like the idea of getting a greater number of gifts with only ½ to 3 books of Blue Stamps."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Betty Stephans, 1314 Hicks St., Bronx: "Blue Stamps are the only stamps I save. I've gotten numerous baby articles—bouncing chairs, bottles, diapers, playthings for the children. I also get a lot of things for the house—pots and pans and name brand articles."

NEW YORK

Mrs. Kay La Velle, 404 Baty St., Elmira. "I've been saving Triple-S Blue Stamps since my marriage 8 years ago, and consider them money in the bank for rainy day needs. Blue Stamps premiums are the finest in well known brand names and in quality."

CONNECTICUT

Mrs. Shirley C. Fletcher, 9 Saddle Rock Rd., Danbury. "I enjoy going to the Triple-S Redemption Center in Danbury—it's like visiting old friends. The staff is most courteous, and all ready to help in your selection. I have redeemed my Blue Stamps for many, many things and have always been completely satisfied with everything."

Mrs. Dominic Ferraro, 6 Alta Terrace, Rutland. "Shopping the Triple-S Blue Stamp way is not only time-saving, but thrifty. It's more enjoyable, too, in the convenience of your own home through the lovely Triple-S Blue Stamp Catalog, which offers an endless variety of beautiful gifts."

CONNECTICUT

Mrs. Shirley Pelletier, Ridge Road, Bethel. "Shopping with Triple-S Blue Stamps is fun—no hustle, no bustle, just stop and shop. They are reliable with everything from A to Z. Fill your books with Blue Stamps and your home with elegant gifts. Do as I do—Stop, Shop and Save."

MARYLAND

Mrs. Wanda Toms, 219 Roessner Ave., Hagerstown. "I like saving Blue Stamps and obtaining so many valuable gifts. I spend hours looking through the catalog. It helps me stay within my budget. These stamps have been very helpful for our church and school organizations."

NEW YORK

Mrs. George Hanley, 68 Kenwood Rd., Garden City. "I save only Triple-S Blue Stamps. I have a teen-age daughter and I usually save for her. Her room has been furnished through Blue Stamps, and I would say the things I put in it would have cost at least one hundred dollars."

FLORIDA

Mrs. James Duan, 2919 W. Acapulco Drive, Miramar. "I prefer Triple-S Blue Stamps because they're so much easier to save. It's only twelve-hundred stamps to a book, and an excellent selection of gifts. And I've never wanted anything that they didn't have in stock at the Redemption Center."

Indication in Warm Words Between Thant and French

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and President Charles de Gaulle of France seem to be having what the one would call a reconciliation and the other a rapprochement.

So it appears from the warm words Thant exchanged with French officials on a four-day visit to Paris last week.

The words haven't always been so warm. For years, France has been standoffish toward the United Nations while in the minority here on such questions as independence for Algeria, France's base in Bizerte, Tunisia, and U.N. intervention in the Congo.

France refused financial support to the U.N. force in the Congo. French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville boycotted the General Assembly. The French delegation, while attending, remained silent during debate.

On April 11, 1961, De Gaulle announced that France would not contribute men or money to future undertakings of the "disunited nations." He called the United Nations "riotous and scandalous" and said its officers had "the ambition to intervene in all kinds of matters."

The late Dag Hammarskjold was still secretary-general then. But Thant managed to offend the French after he succeeded Hammarskjold in November 1961.

Thant blandly commented last September that "French foreign policy is based on the conviction that there is no danger of the Soviet Union launching a nuclear attack on Western Europe." He said France felt the North Atlantic Treaty Organization might not be needed and, if NATO was needed, U.S. participation might not be.

In Paris, French sources replied that Thant had no business commenting on a member government's policy.

But when De Gaulle learned Thant was coming to Paris for a coordination meeting with executives of U.N. - affiliated agencies, he invited him to lunch. De Gaulle's prostate operation kept them from meeting, but they exchanged warm notes.

Thant lunched with Premier Georges Pompidou and dined with Foreign Minister Couve de Murville. In a toast, Couve de Murville credited Thant with "a sense of reality" and said France "is gratified at the cooperation that has been established between you and us."

Thant replied that French policy was based on humanity and realism.

Two days later, Thant told French diplomatic correspondents that he wasn't worried about France's Congo bill because France was showing confidence in the United Nations.

On troubled Southeast Asia, Thant sounded like De Gaulle himself, explaining that a military solution had failed and political means were needed.

When Thant was Burma's U.N. ambassador, he advocated a neutralized Viet Nam. Now De Gaulle is proposing the same idea.

Council Votes Amsterdam Tax On 3 Utilities

AMSTERDAM, N.Y. (AP)— The Amsterdam City Council voted Tuesday night to impose a three per cent consumer utility tax on telephone, telegraph and electric services.

The council estimated the tax would bring an additional $50,000 to $60,000 annually into the city's treasury.

The measure was approved by a 6-2 vote. All five Republicans and one Democrat voted in favor of the bill and two Democrats voted against it.

Industrial firms are exempted from the tax on electric services but must pay a use tax on telephone and telegraph service.

To become effective, the bill requires a public hearing and the mayor's signature. The mayor, a Republican, is expected to sign the measure.

Resume on Ocean Cable

TOKYO (AP)—The American cable ship Long Lines has resumed laying the last link of the U.S.-Japan telephone circuit after fishing up and repairing a deep-sea cable which broke Monday.

Japanese officials said they received word the ship found the broken cable 68 miles east of Japan and lowered an anchor-like device to retrieve it from a depth of 4,000 feet.

The accident is not expected to delay the opening of the Japan-Hawaii circuit scheduled for June 19.

Heart Institute For Nurses Will Meet Here Friday

The third session of the Heart Institute for Nurses dealing with the subject of "Stroke" will be held Friday, May 8th at 7:45 p. m. at the Brigham School Auditorium, O'Neil Street and Smith Avenue.

To present the phase of "aphasia" will be John K. Duffy, Ph.D. Dr. Duffy is Associate Professor at Brooklyn College of the City University of New York and chief audiologist and speech pathologist of the Speech and Hearing Center of the Lenox Hill Hospital, New York City.

He is also the consultant in audiology, speech pathology and speech and hearing therapy to the United Cerebral Palsy Associations of Orange, Ulster, Sullivan and Rockland Counties.

His past experience has been associated with the Borden General Hospital, Oklahoma and University of Wisconsin.

He is the author of many articles dealing with hearing and speech problems.

Mrs. Dorothy Quick, R.N., president of the Registered Professional Nurses Association of Greene County, will preside.

Sister Mary Charles and Miss Helen Geneis, co-chairmen of the Institute's Planning Committee, urges all nurses to attend as this session promises to be very informative and worthwhile.

The Heart Institute for Nurses is being sponsored by the Ulster and Greene Counties Heart Associations with the cooperation of the New York State Nurses Association, District 11.

Any nurse desiring further information regarding the Institute, please contact Miss Katherine A. Bower, Executive Director of the Ulster County Heart Association, which is located at 268 Fair Street, Kingston.

Today in History

Today is Wednesday, May 6, the 127th day of 1964. There are 239 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1942, Gen. Jonathan Wainwright surrendered Corregidor, marking the end of major resistance to the Japanese conquest of the Philippines. For 150 days, American troops had withstood assault by crack enemy forces, heavy artillery and wave after wave of bombers. Defeat was inevitable and Wainwright concluded nothing could be gained by continued resistance.

On this date

In 1777, General Burgoyne took command of the British army at Quebec.

In 1840, the first postage stamp was issued in England.

In 1937, 36 persons were killed when the dirigible Hindenburg crashed in flames at Lakehurst, N.J.

In 1941, Joseph Stalin became premier of the Soviet Union.

In 1944, American bombers were attacking transportation centers in Romania.

Ten years ago—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) led an attack by Democratic leaders on administration foreign policy, indicating an end of bipartisanship.

Five years ago — President Eisenhower took his White House guest, Sir Winston Churchill, on a tour of the Gettysburg battlefield and the nearby Eisenhower farm.

One year ago—The military junta in South Korea agreed to hold an election for a civil government in the fall.

$130 Million Hydro Project

Area Labor Leaders Back Con Ed's Cornwall Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven labor leaders from New York's Hudson Valley have endorsed the Consolidated Edison Company's proposal to build a $130-million hydroelectric project near Cornwall, N.Y.

Conservation groups and some local governments oppose the firm's plan to string overhead transmission lines down the valley to carry power from the project to New York City.

Would Provide Jobs

But the labor leaders said the project would provide full employment in a chronically depressed area, promote economic development and provide Cornwall with a good water supply.

In testimony at a Federal Power Commission hearing on Consolidated Edison's application, Edward R. Sager of Newburgh said the project would have little or no lasting effect on the scenic beauty of the Hudson highlands. Sager represented local 631 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

William P. Mims of Newburgh, business agent and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers, also said his union supports Con Edison.

Other labor leaders who supported the project:

Other Supporters

Larrio Diorio, Kingston, business representative of the Hod Carriers Union Local 17; James Hopkins, Liberty, president of Local 445, International Brotherhood of Teamsters; George Shafer, Middletown, president of the Orange County Building and Construction Trades Council;

Bernard H. Murray, Newburgh, business representative of the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters and Henry P. McArdle, business representative of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 825.

A resolution from the Newburgh Chamber of Commerce endorsing the project also was submitted for the record.

The transmission lines would be strung down the east side of the valley.

Byrd Named to Head Area Fresh Air Fund

Robert Byrd has been appointed chairman of the Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund in the Ellenville area. The fund, which is sponsored by B'nai B'rith in the community, places deprived city children with families in country homes, for two weeks or more during the summer. The children are selected on a nonsectarian basis, without regard to race or creed.

Those interested should contact Robert Byrd, Ellenville, or Evelyn Greenberg, Kerhonkson.

Name N.Y. Cop To Head State Crime Data Unit

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A veteran New York City police official has been named to supervise the establishment of a system designed to provide instantaneous information to crime fighters.

Robert R. J. Gallati, an assistant chief inspector on the city's force, was named head of the Identification and Intelligence System Tuesday by Gov. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller told the 1964 Legislature he envisioned the criminal-intelligence system as "a most vital tool of criminal law enforcement."

Data from law enforcement agencies throughout the state will be stored in computers, and each contributing agency will have access to the information.

The current state budget contains a $500,000 appropriation for establishment of the system.

Gallati will take a leave-of-absence from the New York city force, which he has served since 1940.

The new position pays $21,000 annually.

Attack Fatal to Hutson

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—John B. Hutson, 73, former U.S. undersecretary of agriculture, die of a heart attack on the way to a hospital, the U.S. Embassy reported.

Hutson entered the U.S. Department of Agriculture in 1921 and retired in 1946. He then served for nearly a year as U.N. assistant secretary general in charge of administrative and financial services.

Names Three to Board

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today appointed Miss Ruth Weaver Auert of Utica, to a four-year term as a member of the Board of Commissioners of the Herkimer Home.

The governor also reappointed Mrs. Muriel C. Zoller of Herkimer and Dr. Fred C. Sabin of Little Falls to the board.

Theatre Group Lists Opening Plays of Season

The Performing Arts of Woodstock group announces that its initial presentation will be given in the Woodstock Guild Gallery, Tinker Street, on May 29-30 at 8:30 p. m.

First program offered under the banner of the newly-formed non-profit organization will be a pair of one-act plays, Aria Da Capo by Edna St. Vincent Millay and The Audience, an original drama by local playwright, Daniel Klein.

A Performing Arts spokesman also announced that new personnel associated with the program include Eileen Haberstroh, who has joined the cast of the Klein drama, and sculptor John Berg, set designer for both plays.

Performing Arts plans to follow its initial offering with a series of plays, lectures, dance programs and concerts, to be given at intervals the year round. The group will continue to draw from area talent for future schedulings.

Christian Science Services on Sunday

"Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potter's clay." This verse from Isaiah (29-16) will be a major theme at Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Adam and Fallen Man," and the responsive reading opens with Genesis (1:27): "God created man in his own image." The lesson will conclude with these lines from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible; for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright and Godlike" (p. 200).

Sunday services in Woodstock begin at 11 a. m. The Christian Science Reading Room is open to the public Tuesdays and Saturdays from 2 to 4 and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9.

Program Listed For Bell Ringers

The program for the Berlin Bell Ringer concert scheduled Saturday, May 9, at 7:30 in the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church has been announced by Mrs. Muriel Davis, conductor of the group.

The program follows:

Group I—hymns and carols—Vesper Hymn, Rejoice, Ye Pure in Heart; Good King Wenceslaus; There Is a Green Hill and Jesus Christ Is Ris'n Today.

Group II—original bell music composed for Berlin Bell Ringers: Allegro, Campabile, Variations and Chorals, Tintinabula, and Trilogy—1. Matins, 2. Carillon and 3. Evensong; and Variations on a Nursery Tune.

Group III—Bells, voice (soprano soloist, Linda Knapp) and organ: Bell Symphony, Purcell; I Wonder as I Wander, Appalachian carol; and the following Bach chorales: Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring, God My Shepherd Walks Before Me, Come All Christians, Praise the Lord, I Call to Three; My Heart Is Filled with Longing and In Thee Is Great Joy.

Craft Executive Final Lecturer In Guild Series

William J. Barrett, president of the American Craftsmen's Council (ACC) will give the concluding lecture - discussion Sunday, May 10, at 3 p. m. in the Kleinert Gallery in Woodstock. This program is the last in the series sponsored by the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen and the Festival Committee. His topic will be "Crafts, the Contemporary Scene."

Shortly before accepting appointment in 1963 as ACC president, Barrett retired from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company with the rank of vice president. He had served with the Metrpolitan since 1923.

Barrett received his Master's Degree in business administration from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. He also holds a B. S. from M.I.T. On loan from the Metropolitan he has participated, at the request of the federal government, in the Industrial Advisory Board, NRA; the organization of the War Resources Board in 1938; and in 1940, the Raw Materials Division of the Advisory Commission to the Council for National Defense.

With Foundation

His other activities include: trusteeship in the American Heritage Foundation, American House, and Old Sturbridge Village; a member, personnel committee, National Council, Boy Scouts of America; personnel committee, Commerce and Industry Association; and the Life Insurance Association of America.

Other speakers in this series have been: Bartlett Hayes, director of the Addison Gallery, Andover, Mass.; Miss Irene Brynner, sculptor-jeweler, New York City; Joe Rothstein, president, New York Mineralogical Club; and Miss Berta Frey, nationally known weaver of Bearsville who will conduct classes under Guild sponsorship at Woodstock this summer.

The lecture series has been part of a guild effort to supplement existing educational facilities in the area, which includes the highly successful painting classes for young children given during the winter set up for this summer by Miss Berta Frey.

Another Major Prize Awarded Helen Gerardia

Helen Gerardia, painter and printmaker, has been awarded the Medal of Honor in Graphics and the Isabella Banks Markell Prize in the Annual of the National Association of Women Artists at the National Academy Galleries, 1083 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

The exhibition opens to the public on Thursday, May 7, and continues daily and Sundays through Sunday, May 24, from 1 to 6 p. m. (closed Saturday, May 16).

This is the second time Miss Gerardia received the award. The previous time was in 1961. An oil painting is on exhibition in the main gallery on the second floor also.

The artist is giving a demonstration on the techniques of lithography on May 17 at 2 p.m. in the print room of the exhibition, where Another Planet, the award winning print is being shown for the first time.

During the month of May two sections of Miss Gerardia's prints are being shown at the University of Kansas in Kansas City, Mo. and the Jacksonville University in Fla. Group shows during the month include Western State College, Gunnison, Colo.; St. Vincents, Latrobe, Pa.; and Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, Calif.

Test Pupils in O.C.S. District

Students of the Onteora Central Schools were tuberculin tested last week under the program sponsored and administered by the Ulster County Department of Health, the Ulster County TB and Health Association, and the Ulster County TB Hospital. More than 800 children were tested in the last annual test of a five-year testing program.

The program was developed and testing scheduled by E. Robert Johnson, executive director of the TB and Health Association, program coordinator. The effectiveness of the total testing project was implemented by the close consultation and cooperation of Onteora School Nurse-Teachers Mrs. Hazel Osborne, Mrs. Ruth Bark, Mrs. Elizabeth Rose and Mrs. Elizabeth Korzendorfer; and Miss Helen Geneis, director of Public Health Nurses, and Mrs. Helen Hildebrandt, Supervisor of Public Health Nurses of the county Department of Health.

Use Two Teams

Two teams administered the tests to the students of the first, fifth, sixth and twelfth grades on two testing days. Members of Tuberculin Testing Team 1 included Dr. L. S. Arany of the TB Hospital and Dr. Paul LePaige, school physician at Woodstock, Mrs. Nancy Jenson, Public Health Nurse and Miss Carey Jordon, training Public Health Nurse of the Department of Health, Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Korzendorfer, School Nurse-Teachers; Miss Almena Porter, R.N., Miss Mabel Robinson, R.N., and Mrs. Marie V. D. Johnson, all volunteer members of the TB and Health Association. The group tested children at the West Hurley school, morning and afternoon sessions and all scheduled groups at the Woodstock school.

The second Tuberculin Testing Team was composed of Dr. Charles A. Quinn and Dr. Norman N. Burg; Mrs. Maria Broekema and Mrs. Doris Arneson, Public Health Nurses of the Department of Health, Mrs. Hazel Osborne, Mrs. Ruth Bark, and Mrs. Elizabeth Korzendorfer, School Nurse-Teachers; Miss Almena Porter, R.N. and Miss Mabel Robinson, R.N., and Mrs. Marie V. D. Johnson, volunteer members of the TB and Health Association. The team completed the scheduled Tuberculin Testing at the Onteora High School and the Bennett School morning and afternoon sessions. Serving with both day's testing programs also were Mrs. Helen Hildebrandt, Supervisor of Public Health Nurses and Mr. Johnson, Program Coordinator.

A similar Tuberculin Testing Program was conducted last week in the schools of the Saugerties Central System.

Buffalo Wowan in Post

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Miss Lillian C. Milanoff of Buffalo has been appointed by Gov. Rockefeller to the Advisory Council on Farm and Food Processing Labor.

Miss Milanoff, a social worker, succeeds Mrs. Frank Montero, who resigned. She will serve a term at the pleasure of the governor.

The job carries no salary.

No Theatre Smoking

LONDON (AP)—The London County Council voted 77-37 Tuesday night to ban smoking in the British capital's 154 movie theaters.

The ban was proposed by a Conservative, Lady Petrie. She confessed later she usually smokes cigars.

A new species of primitive man has been discovered in Tanganyika and named Homo habilis, meaning "able" or "having ability."

Miss Florence M. Bruneau, David Lovgren Are Wed at Port Ewen Church on April 26

Miss Florence May Bruneau, daughter of Ethel W. Reilly of Albany Avenue Extension, this city and Albert J. Bruneau of Sanford, Fla. exchanged vows with David Francis Lovgren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murel Lovgren of 160 Second Avenue Sunday, April 26 at the Port Ewen Methodist Church.

The Rev. Cecil L. McFarland, pastor, officiated and John Bates was organist. Soloist was Thomas Tierney.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Francis P. DeNault of Salem, N. H. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta in floor length. The lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt was of lace with a full marquisette ruffle at the hemline. Her veil of wide English illusion was shirred to a crown of tiny seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white pompons.

The matron of honor was Barbara Lovgren, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. She wore a gown of white lace over blue taffeta with three-quarter length sleeves and bell shaped cocktail length skirt. She wore a matching stylized headpiece with veil and carried white carnations tipped with blue.

Bridesmaid was Betty Van Valkenburgh of 12 Lincoln Street. She wore a gown of white lace over yellow taffeta, with matching headpiece and carried white carnations tipped with yellow.

Rick Lovgren of 160 Second Street was best man for his brother. Usher was Murel Lovgren of 150 Third Avenue, brother of the bridegroom.

A niece of the bridegroom, Cynthia Lovgren was flower girl. She wore a blue nylon dress with headpiece to match and carried white carnations tipped in yellow and blue.

Approximately 50 guests were received at the Ulster Hose No. 5 Hall after the ceremony.

For traveling the bride wore a yellow nylon dress with matching accessories. Upon their return the couple will reside at 21 East Road, High Falls.

The bride attended Kingston High School and is now employed at Shoe-Giant.

Mr. Lovgren is a graduate of Kingston High School Class of 1961 and is employed at Shop-Rite in Kingston.

Edwards-Whittaker Wedding

Margaret Edwards and John Whittaker were married April 27, 1964 by Robert Stedge, justice of the peace. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rappleyea.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker now reside at 16 Stahlman Place, Kingston.

Language Teacher Wins Scholarship; Will Study Russian

Richard Cowin, currently teaching Latin and Russian at the Kingston High School, has been awarded a second level NDEA Summer Student Scholarship at Indiana University and in the Soviet Union.

With the support of the National Defense Education Act of 1958, Indiana University will conduct a ten week advance institute for 60 secondary school teachers of Russian from June 19 to August 28, 1964. The participants will spend five weeks of study at Indiana University and five weeks of intensive Russian language practice in the Soviet Union. The program of the institute is designed to assist the participants in acquiring a command of the Russian language, to develop further their skills in the use of new methods and materials for the teaching of Russian, and increase their understanding of Russian culture and of Soviet reality. All participants will live in the Russian language house at Indiana University and during the five weeks on campus they will attend classes, eat, study, and enjoy recreation together in a Russian language atmosphere. During the evenings there will be Russian folk singing, Russian movies, and a series of lectures in Russian by distinguished scholars.

After five weeks of study at Indiana University, all the participants will fly by chartered plane from Indianapolis direct to the Soviet Union. The second part of the Institute will be conducted in two groups, each with three Institute staff members in charge. The five-week program will be designed to make the most intensive use possible of the Soviet Union as a living language laboratory. The two groups will use tourist-class accommodations in hotels managed by the government travel agency Intourist. The daily program will include a Russian language class, a group sightseeing tour, and as much free time as possible in which each member of the Institute will be expected to practice his Russian through contacts with native Russians in stores, in parks, on the streets, and elsewhere. The daily language class will provide explanations of language difficulties, corrective drills, vocabulary preparation for each day's group activities, and lectures by the Institute leaders on the cultural, historical, and political significance of the places to be visited each day.

Mr. Cowin has been a language teacher at the local high school for the past eight years.

Purpose of Vatican Council Is Outlined At Catholic Daughters Annual Breakfast

Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America held its annual communion breakfast Sunday at the Governor Clinton Hotel following Mass at St. Peter's Church.

The welcome was extended by Miss Helen M. Barry, grand regent of the Court.

An almost record attendance heard the informative talk which was given by the Rev. Conrad Goulet, SSS of the Blessed Sacrament Fathers, Eymard Preparatory Seminary at Hyde Park who was introduced by Mrs. Frank Herd, breakfast chairman. He spoke on the Vatican Council, why it was called, what it has achieved and the hopes for the future. Father Goulet had spoken on this subject at a meeting of Lutheran pastors and remarked about the "atmosphere of friendship" which is steadily developing between Catholics and non-Catholics. Within the last several months it has not been uncommon to hear priests as guest speakers at Jewish and Protestant gatherings and likewise, non-Catholic clergy speaking at Catholic functions. There is even a trend towards combining communion breakfasts of Catholics and non-Catholics following separate religious services of each group.

Actually, the Council's purpose has been and will continue to be the Christian Unity of all religious people, as well as the "updating" of the Catholic faith, he said.

Following his talk Father Goulet led the members in the prayer of Grace after meals

Mrs. Thomas D. Brocco sang, Ave Maria, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robert Liscom.

Miss Barry, grand regent, announced that a scrapbook containing pictures and writeups of past social and charitable accomplishments of the Court was ready for viewing by the membership.

She requested the members to complete a spiritual bouquet which would be extended to the State Regent and State Chaplain at the convention.

Miss Barry reminded the members that Saturday was Mary's Day and all the members were requested to attend Mass, wear the Miraculous Medal on that special day.

A 50-year pin was presented to Miss Margaret Howard.

Mrs. Herd extended a thank you to her co-chairman, Miss Jane Madden and the members of her committee which included Mrs. Daniel Halloran, Veronica Hanley and Joan Woinoski, and to all the prospective members who attended the breakfast.

All those attending received a Holy Infant Jesus of Prague memorial as souvenir. Decorations included a centerpiece of giant daisies and white gladioli with a large robed statue of the Infant of Prague in the center.

The breakfast closed with the group singing, Holy God We Praise Thy Name.

The centerpiece was then placed on the Blessed Mother's altar at St. Peter's' in memory of all the living and deceased members of the Court.

Art Display Set In Conjunction With Annual Horse Show

An art exhibit will be held at the Lowlands Ranch Clubs annual horse show June 7. The exhibit will be of original oils done by Mrs. Lois Williams of Tillson.

Mrs. Williams specializes in pony and horse painting, her oils hang in many homes here in the valley as well as her home state of New Jersey. She was born and educated in Bergenfield, N. J. At the age of 12 she had saved enough money to buy a horse of her own. This horse was more then a riding companion, it was a model for her sketches and painting. Upon completion of high school, she entered State Teachers College at New Paltz, majoring in art. While at college she painted the realistic rather then the modern.

Mrs. Williams is married to Jesse Williams and is the mother of two daughters Norleen and Laureen.

BELATED CHURCH WEDDING

Q: In February the firm my fiance works for sent him to Paris. He was told that it might take six months to a year to complete the job. Because we did not want to be separated from each other for so long, we were married quietly at home by a judge and immediately after the ceremony we left for Paris. He completed the job sooner than expected and we arrived back in the states last week. I would like now to have the church wedding and reception I had planned on having before this unexpected turn of events. Officials of my church said it will be all right. What do you think about this?

A: Since you did not have a religious ceremony the first time, it would be quite all right to have a second ceremony now in church but it should be very simple. To have a large church wedding with all trimmings after having been married for several months would be in very bad taste. There are, however, no restrictions concerning the size of the reception. Your parents may give as large a reception as they wish in honor of your marriage.

• • •

The Feminine of 'Dear Sirs'

Q: When writing to an organization run by women, how does one address them? "Mesdames" seems absurd but so does "Dear Sirs" and "Dear Ladies" certainly isn't correct. Is there an acceptable salutation?

A: "Mesdames" is French and not correct when writing in English. "Dear Madams" is the correct solution when addressing an organization run by women.

• • •

Inviting Priest to the Reception

Q: I am going to be married shortly and would like to invite the priest who performs the ceremony to the reception. Should I send him an engraved invitation such as the other guests will receive or should I invite him personally.

A: Invite him personally.

Chekhov Production Scheduled by Bard College Drama Group

As its second production of the spring season, Bard College Drama Department will present Chekhov's The Three Sisters in the college theatre from Saturday, May 9 through Tuesday, May 12. Admission is free, all seats being reservable by mail to Box 284, Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson. Performances begin at 8:30 p. m.

The Three Sisters is one of the three great plays of Chekov's maturity and is, of course, a classic of the modern theatre. A family of three sisters and a brother wander through their ordinary lives in a Russian provincial garrison town, feeding on false dreams of Moscow and all that it might bring them in fulfilment, and entertaining the officers of artillery stationed there, as a diversion from frustration or boredom. a deliberately drab life seen through the sharply objective and sympathetically ironic eyes of the author; a funny, touching slice of the comedy of the human race.

Subscription Campaign Now in Progress For Community Concerts Series Here

Among the artists to appear in Kingston for the Community Concert Association series next season will be Rosalind Elias, talented young Metropolitan Opera mezzo.

ROSALIND ELIAS

Of Lebanese ancestry, Miss Elias was born and grew up in Lowell, Mass. While still in her teens, her vocal ability caused teachers to predict early success for her. She soon entered the New England Conservatory and later performed with the New England Opera as well as the Boston Symphony. She won three scholarships to Tanglewood.

Hoping to further her career, she entered the Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air. Long before the finals were scheduled, she was the proud possessor of a Metropolitan contract.

Only in her eighth season at the Metropolitan, she is one of its youngest stars having made her debut in 1954. She is a favorite soloist with leading orchestras such as the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Chicago Symphony and at the important European music festivals as well as in opera. She has attracted such critical attention for her remarkable voice and outstanding stage presence, she was chosen to sing the pivotal role of Ericka in the American opera "Vanessa," by Samuel Barber and Gian Carlo Menotti at the world premiere in 1958 at the Metropolitan, for which she received rave notices.

Among Miss Elias' engagements last season were appearances with the Youngstown, El Paso and Tri-City Symphonies. With the Philadelphia Orchestra she sang the Bach B-Minor Mass both in New York and Philadelphia. She was also a favorite with audiences on the Metropolitan Opera's seven city spring tour.

The annual membership campaign is now in progress for the Community Concerts Series. Detailed information may be obtained from Mrs. Bernard Forst, Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, or by calling the Community Concerts desk at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Vassar College Art Exhibit Features Avant-Garde Works

The opening of the exhibition of contemporary art, Directions, 1964, took place in the Art Gallery of Taylor Hall, Vassar College, Monday afternoon.

The exhibition, which consists mainly of works done during the year 1963-64, represents the two main currents of avant-garde art now being produced in the United States and Europe: so-called New Realism, a broad term which includes pop art; and what is generally termed hard-edge abstraction, canvasses containing simple areas of color in purified shapes.

The artists represented range in fame and experience from Robert Rauschenberg, already—in his mid-thirties—an "older master," to a young painter, Robert Huot, whose first one-man show in New York will coincide with the Vassar Exhibition.

Among the artists represented are Robert Indiana, who combines geometric sign-forms with terse American phrases; Eleanor Mikus, whose white gesso tablets suggest geographic or biomorphic surfaces; George Segal, plaster casts of real people in real situations were recently shown at the Sidney Janis Gallery in the exhibition. Four Environments by Four New Realists and Jules Olitski, whose latest works emphasize pure color fields and large scale.

Also included are works by the French Neo-realiste, Arman, who constructs his pictorial statements from rubbish, waste and scrapped manufactured goods; Spoerri, another member of the same group, who tries to fasten down chance occurrences to a fixed surface in his "trap'pictures;" Wayne Thiebaud, best known for his paintings of cakes and pies; and Andy Warhol, creator of serial images of American objects and events. A lyrical and breezy abstraction by Robert Goodnough and a tenser and more angular one by Lukin will also be shown.

Most of the works included in the exhibition have been lent by New York art dealers and are for sale.

Two Local Nurses Attend Workshop On State Membership

ALBANY — Miss Eileen Reis, RN, and Miss Collette McCullough, RN, both of Kingston, attended a New York State Nurses Association workshop here Tuesday, May 5 to preview a statewide NYSNA membership drive to be launched this fall.

The campaign will be aimed at recruiting 20 per cent more registered professional nurses for the district and state associations of the American Nurses' Association. There are more than 88,000 RNs in the state who may be eligible for membership.

Miss Reis and Miss McCullough are on the Membership Committee of NYSNA's District 11 Nurses Association, which encompasses Greene and Ulster Counties. There are more than 1,100 nurses in this area.

The feature speaker at the Albany workshop was Mrs. Judith G. Whitaker, RN, executive director of ANA. She told representatives from the 18 districts of NYSNA that "all registered professional nurses have a professional responsibility to belong to their three-for-one association."

"Her "three-for-one" reference was to the district, state, and national levels of ANA. The powerful 170,000-member ANA is a federation of 54 constituent associations from the 54 states and territories. These, in turn, encompass 817 district associations.

Mrs. Whitaker told the group that nurses should form a strong front to meet the challenges facing their profession, and that this could be best done through their one profession association.

Other speakers at the workshop included Miss Cora E. Pike, RN, president of NYSNA; Miss Eileen Bonner, RN, campaign chairman; and Sister M. Damian, CSJ, vice chairman of the campaign.

ROSARY SOCIETY HAS BREAKFAST—In attendance at the annual communion breakfast of St. Peter's Altar Society of Rosendale Sunday are (seated l-r) Miss Florence Buckley, co-chairman; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Vincent dePaul Mulry, pastor, and Mrs. Arthur O'Leary, president of the society; (second row) Mrs. Joyce Crawford, secretary; Mrs. Arthur Newmann, vice president and Mrs. Mary Duffy, treasurer and co-chairman. The event was held at Williams Lake Hotel with the Rev. James Quinn of St. Peter's Parish, Poughkeepsie, as guest speaker. (Freeman photo)

Breakfast Speaker Scores Public for 'Non-Involvement'

Approximately 160 women attended the annual communion breakfast of St. Peter's Rosary Altar Society of Rosendale Sunday morning and heard the guest speaker score the apathy of American people concerning the suffering in the world.

The Rev. James Quinn of St. Peter's Parish, Poughkeepsie, reminded his listeners of a recent murder on Long Island where 38 people witnessed the tragedy from their homes and not one went to the aid of the victim or called the police because "they did not wish to become involved."

He also cited the reaction of a group of wealthy Los Angeles girls who when told that three quarters of the world's population goes to bed hungry replied "oh they are used to it — they do not know any better."

Father Quinn explained that a human being never gets used to suffering no matter how long he suffers. In speaking of the cruelties of the Communists, he said he was not trying to show the evils of the system but rather what can happen when people "do not wish to become involved."

The breakfast was held at the Williams Lake Hotel after Mass at St. Peter's Church, Rosendale.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Vincent de Paul Mulry, pastor, the Rev Joseph Irwin, assistant pastor and Mrs. Arthur O'Leary, president of the society spoke briefly. Miss Florence R. Buckley, co-chairman of the breakfast was toastmaster.

Major May Greens

Escarole, endive, spinich, and 17 other dark leafy green vegetables arrive for market throughout the year. Among the 17, those available during May are broccoli rabe, collards, dandelion greens, kale, mustard greens, and turnip tops. The season for most of these wanes during the summer. Spinach is in full season during both May and June, while endive and escarole are available in fairly steady amount the year around.

Fresh greens are quite perishable thus a fast, short trip to market helps assure quality. The local season for escarole and endive from nearby New Jersey and Long Island begins in volume in June; that for spinach and other greens has already arrived.

Prices for fresh spinach vary greatly in and out of season with lows for the year coming in May and June when local supplies are large. Less spinach is available during July and August when prices usually rise to their annual peak. Spinach has two seasons a year. The second occurs in the fall when prices once again decline.

Either the popular 10-ounce package of fresh spinach of the 10-ounce frozen package yields 3 servings per unit. To judge cost differences, shoppers may note the original prices of these units, or compare the cost per serving by dividing the price of each by the number of servings expected.

In a local market surveyed recently, fresh spinach cost more per serving than frozen spinach. This cost difference will probably narrow as the season for fresh spinach progresses. Fresh spinach in the large 1-pound-4 ounce package was somewhat less expensive than that in the smaller 10-ounce package.

Our shift toward eating greens in frozen form relates to the downward trend in the local supply of fresh greens. For the country as a whole, our use of frozen spinach increased somewhat between 1953 and 1962, and our use of other frozen greens tripled. Consumption of fresh and canned spinach and of other greens decreased during the same period.

Accord Couple Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelder of Accord, were entertained at an open house reception by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelder and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelder at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelder on April 26 in observance of their Golden Anniversary. The couple were married on April 28, 1914 at Accord.

Approximately 75 guests attended. In the center of the table was a tiered wedding cake, baked for the occasion by Mrs. Edsel Osterhoudt. The couple were presented a money tree by relatives and friends, along with many other gifts.

In addition to their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Kelder have two grandchildren.

Local Girl Scouts Hold Arbor Day

April 24, Arbor Day, was observed in traditional fashion by the Junior Girl Scouts of the West Hurley School. The girls, members of Troops 176 and 79, conducted two programs, one for the morning and one for the afternoon sessions of the school. Each group presented and planted a forsythia bush on the school grounds.

The girls who participated in the morning program as members of troop 79 were Jill Behringer, Jackie Coleman, Linda Crosby, Janet Deeds, June Garrison, Michele McGrane, Deborah Mayer, Patricia Rose, Donna Schmidt, Linda Shultis, Carol Stapleburg, Linda Yeaple. The leaders of Troop 79 are Mrs. David Fox and Mrs. G. Holzman.

The girls taking part in the afternoon program from Troop 79 were Cheryl Bird, Ann Coleman Kathleen Finke, Jane Garrison, Lorraine Holzman, Katheryn Lyle, Barbara Lowe, Janet Rion, Deborah Robbins, Maureen Ryan. Those in Troop 176 were Kathy Kerby, Kathy Vilas, Alison Heermans, Corinne Hutchinson, Judy Hevesi, Pierette Williams, Ann Dutcher, Maureen Waters, Mardi Klinger, Janice Bilsback, Bonnie Baker. Leaders of Troop 176 are Mrs. M. Hutchinson, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Dutcher.

Troop Notes

In preparation for the May 2, Day at Camp Wendy, Troop 176 has lately learned to make foil dinners, handle jack knives and build fires. On April 15, Mrs. Fisher, neighborhood chairman, visited the group to teach the girls to make Kaper Charts which they will use on their work day at Camp Wendy.

LBJ Schedules Family Day for His Press Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson adds a new dimension today to his reputation for doing the unexpected. He has invited reporters to bring their families to a late afternoon news conference on the White House lawn.

The affair, at 4:30 p.m. EDT, was to be carried live by major radio and television networks.

More than 1,000 reporters holding White House credentials were eligible to attend, and bring their children, wives or husbands.

Close Watch Kept On Woodlands Still Smoldering

PETERSBURG, N.Y. (AP)—Firefighters kept close watch today on smoldering woodlands near the New York-Massachusetts line, where a major forest fire burned for more than six hours before being brought under control.

A Conservation Department spokesman said Tuesday night the flames had raged over 100 acres, about 50 in New York State and 50 in Massachusetts.

Firemen used a double-chair lift at the Petersburg Pass ski area to send men and water-filled fire extinguishers to the top of the mountain ridge where the fire was concentrated.

No one was reported injured, and no buildings were burned.

About 200 persons, from five fire companies and from Williams College in nearby Williamstown, Mass., fought the flames.

The Conservation Department spokesman said the fire apparently broke out in an area where a logging operation was under way on the Massachusetts side of the mountains. The flames spread up the steep slope into New York State.

Woods and fields throughout the area are considered unusually dry for early spring because of lack of rain.

TROOP 18 RECEIVES FLAG—Kingston Post 150, American Legion this week presented an American flag to Boy Scout Troop 18, sponsored by St. Mary's CYO. The post is indebted to Troop 18 for the many years of service of the troop which places American flags at the graves of veterans at St. Mary's Cemetery prior to Memorial Day. At the presentation ceremonies at the Legion Home are (l-r) Commander James F. Gilpatric, Joseph Conger and Gerard Grier of the troop, and Scoutmaster Edward Conger. (Freeman photo)

Lead Cut to 3,001

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno has picked up a net 149 votes to cut Genevieve Blatt's lead to 3,001 in their race for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Official returns from six counties show Musmanno gaining 164 votes in Lackawanna County and 64 in Bucks County. Miss Blatt, who lists 20 votes in Union on the official count, added 99 in Cambria. Northumberland and Snyder had the same official figures as the unofficial returns.

Unofficial returns have been tabulated in all but 10 of the state's 9,261 precincts.

Pack 9 Inspection

The April Pack meeting was held at Redeemer Lutheran Church, sponsors of Pack 9. Lion cubs presented colors and led the audience in the Pledge Allegiance. Participating were Jeffrey Huth, Wayne Freer, David McDonough and Charles Schoonmaker.

Cubmaster Blankschan presented a candle light opening ceremony with Den Chief Stephen Ryan assisting.

The theme for April was Naturalist and Charles Beehler from the Conservation Department was to give a talk on conservation and seedlings. Due to illness he was unable to appear but sent seedlings which were handed out to each club.

The following announcements were made: A trip to Stewart Air Force Base during May, a field trip in June. Family picnic during July and Cub Day at Tri-Mount in August. An appeal for new committee men was responded to by Joseph Fay, John Hoskin, Jolin, James Freer, Joseph Berryann and Chester Fox.

Cubmaster Blankschan introduced new cubs and families. Mr. and Mrs. Newton Madison with son, Gary and daughter, Brenda; Mrs. Constance Glaser with sons, Kevin and Kirk; also Mrs. Glaser's father, Percy Krom; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bittner Jr. and son, Danny III. Mrs. Bernard Donnelly and sons, Bernard, Patrick and Thomas. Mrs. Frank Matthews with sons Timothy and James. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fox and son Edward.

Assistant Cubmaster Harold Burger read a Nature story with sound effects by the audience.

Richard Waltman, district commissioner, presented the new Pack Charter to Committee Chairman Frank Mayer. New cards were issued to Cubmaster, two assistant cubmasters, five Den Mothers, four Committeemen, and 35 Cub Scouts. The cubs were inspected by Mr. Waltman and the pack received a 96 average.

Seven new bobcats were admitted into the Pack 9 Circle with a branding ceremony at which each cub was branded on the ankle "Pack 9 brand B.S.A.". The new bobcats are Gary Madison, Kevin and Kirk Glaser, Danny Bittner III, Bernard Donnelly, Timothy Matthews and Edward Fox.

Webelos Leader Harold Burger as Akela welcomed eight Lion Cub Scouts into the Webelos Den, with an impressive ceremony held around an artificial campfire, with lion cubs smoking Akela's Peace pipe. Den Chief Lawrence Wonderly assisted. The new Webelos are Glenn Stoutenburg, Wayne Fatum, Richard Wells, Richard Rockwell, Douglas Aho, David McDonough, Charles Schoonmaker and Frank Hoppe.

Pack 9 welcomed a new Den into their circle. Mrs. Jeanne Bittner is the new Den mother of Den 5 with Danny Bittner III, Bernard Donnelly, Timothy Matthews, and Edward Fox the new Cubs.

The following advancements were made Den 1, Den Mother Mrs. Lillian Cameron, Joseph Berryann received a one-year pin and a gold arrow under Wolf. Richard Wells a silver arrow under Lion, Richard Rockwell a silver arrow under Lion, Joseph Fay Jr. a silver arrow under Wolf, Robert Burhans a silver arrow under Wolf, Douglas Rockwell a Wolf Badge, and gold arrow under Wolf. James Cameron a silver arrow under Wolf.

Den 2, Den Mother Mrs. Marion Blankschan has Glenn Stoutenburg receiving a gold and two silver arrows under Lion. Drew Wonderly receiving a Bear Badge and a gold arrow under Bear, Wayne Fatum a Lion Badge, gold and two silver arrows under Lion, Alan Lenza a Wolf Badge and a gold arrow under Wolf. Den 3, Den Mother Mrs. Doris Herring has David McDonough receiving a Bear Badge and a gold arrow under Bear. Lion Badges to David McDonough, Douglas Aho and Charles Schoonmaker, Donald Herring Jr. advanced to Wolf with a gold and silver arrow under Wolf. Den 4, Den Mother Mrs. Betty Huth received a two year pin, David Barger a silver arrow under Wolf, Wayne Freer a silver arrow under Bear.

A nature closing was held by Den 1 with James Cameron, Robert Burhans, Joseph Fay Jr., Richard Rockwell, Douglas Rockwell, Gary Madison, Richard Wells and Joseph Berryann participating.

Refreshments were served by Den 3.

Pack 26 Cubs

Indians and their handicrafts carried the theme First Americans into the Port Ewen School, April 29 as Pack 26 Cub Scouts held their monthly pack meeting.

Parents, Cubs and friends were welcomed by Cubmaster Fred Kirk, who announced that Assistant Cubmaster - Webelos Leader Ronald Latz Sr. had been hurt in an auto accident that afternoon. The Pack as a whole wished him a speedy recovery.

Announcements were as follows: Six leaders from the pack attended leader training sessions held in April by the Rip Van Winkle Council.

Saturday, May 2, Pack 26 took part in a conservation project planting seedling trees at the 4-H camp, Rifton.

May 18 — Roundtable at Bethany Hall, Old Dutch Church, Kingston, 7:45 p. m. Pack 26 has closing ceremonies and it is hoped many from the pack will attend.

May 6, Pack leaders meeting at Regina Sass Home, 170 Main Sreet, Port Ewen, at 7:30 p. m.

May 30, Cubs will meet at the Grand Union in uniform to march in the Port Ewen Memorial Day Parade.

June 3, Pack meeting at the Port Ewen School, 7 p. m. All are to appear in Mardi Gras costume.

June 13, Pack 26 trip by chartered bus to Scout Museum in New Brunswick, N. J.

Cubmaster Kirk led those assembled in the pledge of allegience to the flag, followed by opening ceremonies by Den 2 — Wilma Lemister, Denmother, Regina Sass, Asst. Denmother. The ceremonies carried on the "First American" theme.

Commissioner Robert Tremper gave the Cubs uniform inspection by Dens while the movie Achievement Plan was shown to parents by Cubmaster Kirk and Committee Chairman Sylvester Brown.

Kirk then led those assembled in the singing of Cub Scout songs and gave those assembled a tree test which the cubs enjoyed. The poem Cause My Paw Said So by Edgar A. Guest was read and made a hit with the boys.

Den 4 — Frances Giles, Denmother and Doris West, Asst. Denmother gave an impressive Indian skit on Little Bears' initiation to become a medicine man. Cubs were dressed in full Indian dress.

Award ceremony was conducted by Cubmaster Kirk: Bobcats inducted into the pack were Robert Thomas and Larry Mac Farland whose parents were welcomed into the group. Wolf Badges went to Gary Galewaller, Burt Ellis Jr., Edward Ellsworth, Douglass Bell, and Brian Shelightner. Bear Badge went to Thomas Farrell. Lion Badges went to Michael Scura, and Kevin Rathjen. Gold Arrow under Wolf went to Burt Ellis Jr. Two silver arrows under Wolf went to Martin Jordan. Denner stripes to Thomas Farrell. Assistant Denner stripes to Burt Ellis Jr. One-year service stars went to Henry Modeen, Keith Rathjen, Edward Ellsworth, Michael Provenzano.

The parent attendance flag went for the third time to Den 4 —Frances Giles, Denmother and Doris West, Assistant Denmother.

Closing ceremonies were by Den 3 — Louise Cornish, Denmother and were on the Cubbing Uniform. All Cubs sang Good-Night Cub Scouts and Dens 6 and 7 served refreshments.

Commissioner Robert Tremper announced that the pack received a 95.8 per cent on their uniform inspection.

Tommies Break Out of Village, Pinned 12 Hours

THUMAIR, South Arabian Federation (AP)—British paratroopers broke out of a desert village Tuesday night after being pinned down for 12 hours by Bedouin rebels. Two Britons and at least six tribesmen were killed.

The British struck at nightfall and seized hills where Bedouins armed with rifles, machine guns and mortars had been sniping at them all day under the broiling 110-degree sun.

Ten other members of the 120-man British company were wounded in the fierce fighting with the tribesmen. The casualties were flown to the British Middle East base at Aden, 50 miles to the south.

The paratroopers are part of a British force trying to clear about 600 rebels from the road between Aden and Khala, 60 miles to the north. Britain has about 2,000 men battling dissident tribes in the South Arabian Federation of British-protected sheikhdoms stretching across the southern end of the Arabian Peninsula.

The British have accused neighboring Yemen and the United Arab Republic of supplying weapons to the rebels. There were unconfirmed reports that Yemen was trying to infiltrate 300 soldiers to help the Bedouins.

McKinney Sets Record

Ellenville Trackmen Top New Paltz, 64-53

New Paltz High trackmen captured eight of 14 events and set one new school record Tuesday, but the final tally showed Ellenville High, 64½, and New Paltz, 53½.

The Huguenots dominated the running and the Ellies showed their greatest strength in the field events.

Bruce McKinney of New Paltz, a double winner in the high jump and shotput, raised his own school record in the 12-pound shot event with a toss of 44 feet, 11 inches. It was eight inches longer than the 44', 3" record he set a week ago.

The summaries:

180 Low Hurdles—1. David Slutsky, 2. Rampe, 3. Tenedini, NP; time: 23.6 seconds.

100 Yards—1. Bob Zaccheo, NP; 2. Skeens, E; 3. Savago, NP; time: 10.8.

Triple Jump—1. Winkler, E, 2. Myers, E; 3. O'Neil, NP; distance: 41 feet ,5 inches.

Pole Vault—1. Pittelli, E; only entrant: 7 feet, 9 in.

Discus—1. Brian Ranici, E; 2. Mostransky, NP; 3. Hunter, NP; distance: 112 feet, 6 inches.

Broad Jump—1. Nissenbaum, E; 2. Winkler, E; 3. Zaccheo, NP; distance: 20 ft., 7¾ inches.

Shotput—1. Bruce McKinney, NP; 2. Tanich, E; Mostransky, NP; distance: 44 feet, 11 in.

High Jump—1. Bruce McKinney, NP; 2. O'Neil, NP; 3. Maddex, E; height: 5 feet, 2 inches.

Mile Run—1. Art Stegen, NP; 2. Pittelli, E; 3. Fredenburgh, E; time: 5.04.

880 Yards—1. George Williams, NP; 2. Boxer, E; 3. Krum, E; time: 2:18.

Ferraro Posts .460 Average After 12 Games

Mike Ferraro and his Fort Lauderdale teammates are off to red hot starts in the Florida State League.

The Kingston resident is banging the ball at a .460 clip over the first 12 games, having 23 hits in 50 trips to the dish. Included are half a dozen doubles and four stolen bases.

Fort Lauderdale is perched on top of the circuit with a 9-3 record, which includes games to last Saturday.

The former Kingston High athlete, signed two years ago as a bonus player, is playing third base and hitting in the cleanup spot for the Yankee farm team.

Roosevelt Wins, 6-5, Over SHS

Though they scored five runs in the sixth inning, the Saugerties High Sawyers still fell a run short and lost a 6-5 DCSL decision yesterday at Roosevelt.

In other circuit action, Beacon was whitewashed, 6-0, by Our Lady of Lourdes and Wappingers trimmed Arlington, 7-5.

Standings

Team	W.	L.
Wappingers	3	0
Lourdes	2	1
Beacon	2	1

Arlington	0	3

Some loose play on the part of the Sawyer infield combined with timely hitting on the part of Roosevelt, combined to give the home side a 6-0 lead starting the sixth.

Earl Martin began the rally by reaching base on an error. On a fielders choice play, Martin was out and John Luchkowec reached second base. Then starter Pete Ferenz lost his control, walking the next four batters.

A sacrifice fly by Bob Gilmore, a passed ball and relief pitcher Andy Wood's triple accounted for the other runs. Wood remained on third, thus thwarting the final SHS chance to knot the score.

The visitors put the tying run on third base in the seventh but again failed to bring him home.

The defending DCSL champions will meet Lourdes Friday at the SHS diamond. They need a win to stay in the pennant chase.

Saugerties LL Adds Two Teams

Two teams have been added to the Saugerties Little league, making a total of 14 set to play in the circuit.

Action will begin on May 18 at 6:30 p. m. at the Saugerties Lions Club Little league field. Beginning May 30, games will begin at 7:30 and will be played under the lights.

More than 200 boys registered for play this year and the league is appealing to Saugerties residents to donate at least $1 in an effort to help buy equipment for the league.

Raymond Woods' Bridge Winners

Mrs. Raymond Wood of Woodstock posted a 59 per cent game to capture first place in the Esopus Valley Bridge Club's Fractional point game at Deanie's in Woodstock.

Tied for second place with 52½ per cent scores were the teams of Mr. and Mrs. DuBois of Woodstock and Miss Dorothy Maroon and Edward Jordan of Saugerties. Fourth place went to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Korol of Hurley with 50 per cent.

The club has a Fractional point game scheduled tonight at 8 o'clock at Deanie's.

Hawks Beaten For 6th Time In 7 Contests

Playing the part of perfect hosts, the Hawks of State University at New Paltz made nine errors and had their hurlers give up 13 base hits while dropping a 13-3 decision to visiting Oneonta State yesterday.

The upstaters started the day with a six run surge in the first inning and then coasted as the Hawks dropped their sixth game in seven outing.

Coach Al Miller used three hurlers and they were all hit hard as the winners collected two doubles and a homer in their array.

New Paltz had six safeties with Dick Mandia stroking a double and Richie Lotze a pair of singles.

The Ulster County school hits the road Saturday, playing at Albany State.

Argentine Rocca Will Head Wrestling Program May 16

ARGENTINE ROCCA

Sport's Biggest Draw to Battle Killer Sttile

The greatest wrestling box-office attraction in history—Antonio (Argentine) Rocca—headlines the next wrestling program, May 16, at the municipal auditorium.

Rocca, who is an international favorite and holds attendance records for every major city in the world — will take on Killer Attile in a bout to the finish.

Fred Davi of Glasco, recent winner of the VFW Citizen of the Year award, is promoting the show in conjunction with the World Booking Agency of New York.

Rocca is head of the wrestling syndicate which is distinct and separate from the organization which brought Bruno Sammartino and Prof. Jerry Graham to Kingston last week, when 1700 fans stormed the municipal auditorium.

Tag-Team Event

The semi-final event will be a tag-team affair between the Von Hess brothers of Germany and the Texan Brothers from you know where.

Several other supporting bouts will be announced later, Promoter Davi said.

Rocca, the only millionaire wrestler in history, has invariably attracted SRO crowds to the municipal auditorium. His return to Kingston after an absence of many years is expected to draw another sellout.

Reservations may be made at the Tommy Maines Sports Shop in Kingston.

Highland Wins, 9-0, Over OCS

Tom Gruner was almost a one-man show as Highland blanked Onteora, 9-0, in a UCAL contest yesterday at the Southern Ulster diamond.

The big right hander, headed for St. Lawrence this September, hurled a two-hitter. He banged out twice as many safeties himself, going 4 for 4. Included were a pair of singles, a double and a 350-foot home run in the sixth inning.

Highland knocked out starter Linden Frasier in the second inning and continued the assault on relief hurler George Loveless. The winners had at least one run in every frame.

Gruner surrendered singles to Hugh Spoljaric and Frasier. He walked only one batter and set down nine via the strikeout route.

Coach Lem Atkins' club is slated to host Roosevelt this afternoon and will oppose visiting Pine Bush Friday in a UCAL contest.

Marlboro Nips Wallkill, 2-1

Marlboro's defending UCAL champions are having their troubles getting runs. Yesterday, the Dukes were forced to go nine innings before getting the winning marker on a wild pitch as they nipped visiting Wallkill, 2-1, in a UCAL thriller.

The victory keeps coach Jack Kroh's club in a tie for first place with Rondout Valley.

Lefty Vince Caserto did his usual masterful job for the winners. He hurled a two-hitter, walked three and fanned 11. Dennis Mullen was almost as good for the visitors, pitching a nine-hitter and striking out five.

The winners broke the 1-1 deadlock when Neil Fino and Jim Fino singled. After a fielders choice, Neil Fino came scampering home on a wild pitch.

Marlboro plays a pair of non-league games this week, hosting Cornwall today and Monroe-Woodbury on Friday.

Saugerties Bird Pigeon Winner

A bird owned by Charles Doyle of Saugerties won first place in the Kingston-Ulster Racing Pigeon Club's race from Washington, D.C.

The winning time was 937-193 yards per minute.

The runnersup were: George Caddy bird, Kingston, 930-426 average; 3. J. Keller bird, Rosendale, 022-820; 4. Philip Iorio bird, Highland, 916-573.

The field included 170 birds from 19 lofts. The weather was cloudy and the birds were buffeted by northeast winds and the tail end of the Carolina hurricane.

A race is scheduled this weekend from Charlottesville, Va.

Next Knight First In Roosevelt Race

Next Knight raced to his third straight triumph of the season, capturing the $4,000 Class A Pace Tuesday night at Roosevelt Raceway.

The 5-year-old horse covered the mile in 2:04 and returned $5.10, $3.10 and $2.20.

Nancy Adios was second and Garson Hanover third.

At Buffalo Raceway, Mr. Allerton Key scored a wire-to-wire win in the $1,800 Trot.

Dewey Dygert drove the 7-year-old stallion to victory in 2:07 1-5 for payoffs of $7.10, $6.00 and $5.50.

Joey Belwin was second and Grace Frost third.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Wally Bunker, Orioles, pitched a one-hitter in his first start of the year, allowing only a third-inning single by Chuck Hinton in Baltimore's 2-1 victory over Washington.

BATTING — Frank Robinson, Reds, collected a single and two homers, the second homer tying the game in the ninth before Cincinnati pulled out a 5-4 decision over Pittsburgh.

Bird Bonus Baby Wins 1st Game

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Wally Bunker nodded his okay to eager Baltimore Oriole scouts last summer and signed a $70,000 bonus contract with the Orioles, he probably never dreamed that he'd be deceived into stardom.

But that's just what happened to the 19-year-old pitching prodigy Tuesday when Manager Hank Bauer sent him out to the mound against the Washington Senators.

The youngster hadn't worked since the Orioles' final exhibition game and Bauer told him he'd go just four or five innings against the Senators. After five innings Bunker had allowed just one hit and Bauer was about as far away from the bullpen phone as a manager could be.

Four innings later Bunker had his first major league victory 2-1 on a brilliant one-hitter and Bauer another starter for his pitching rotation.

Chuck Hinton managed Washington's only hit off the young right-hander in the fourth inning when the Senators scored their run.

Yankees Win

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees blew a lead in the ninth inning but came back to nip the Detroit Tigers 4-3 in 10 innings; Los Angeles stole some of Kansas City's home run thunder and whacked the Athletics 8-1 and Boston blanked Cleveland 4-0, Minnesota and Chicago were not scheduled.

Whitey Ford was coasting with a 2-0 lead through seven innings when Dick McAuliffe's eighth-inning homer closed the gap for Detroit. Four straight hits put the Tigers on top in the ninth and knocked out Ford.

But New York rallied to tie it in their half and then won it in the 10th on Tony Kubek's triple and a first-pitch single by Bobby Richardson.

Joe Adcock slammed two home runs and Bobby Knoop hit one as the Angels ripped Kansas City. It snapped the Athletics' winning streak at three.

Dean Chance saved it for Barry Latman who won his first game for Los Angeles.

Eddie Bressoud stretched his hitting streak to 16 straight games in Boston's victory over Cleveland. The Indians made it easy for the Red Sox, committing five errors, three of them by Woodie Held.

Dave Morehead picked up the victory with a five-hitter, fanning 10.

JIM SCOTT was No. 1 shooter in the Kingston Booster league with 164, 190 and 229 for 583. Jim Scism Sr. hit 205-550, George Williams 202-527, Gene McSpirit 202-533, Frank Parkes 204-564, Walt Dougherty 222-550, Bud Kiernan 200-544, Bill Thomas 534, Herm Sickler 542, Bob Tierney 533. Jaycees Set June 28-29 Dates For Annual Golf Tournament

Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce has set the dates of Sunday, June 28 and Monday, June 29, for its annual New York State Jaycee qualification rounds at Wiltwyck Country Club.

As in the past, the golf program will consist of series of clinics, a driving contest and the 36-hole qualifier. Play starts at 2 p. m. both days.

The driving contest is slated for the evening of Friday, June 26. There is no activity scheduled for Saturday.

In 19th Year

The Jaycee golf program is now in its 19th year. It is estimated that 535,000 youngsters have reached the local and state level through clinics and tournaments. Perhaps the best known golfer in this group is Jack Niclaus, who won the National Jaycee title in 1957.

Any young man who has not reached his 18th birthday on August 16 is eligible to compete. Application forms may be obtained starting May 11 from any of the local sport shops and high schools.

The Jaycee tournament committee is headed by Ed Baldyga and Bob Gholson as co-chairmen; assisted by Bob Brown, Emil Buhler, Pat Jordan, Bob Kelder, Jim Marone and Gustaf Jingleheimer.

Tegeler's 1-Hitter Stops PB

Sophomore Tom Tegeler came within one out of a no-hitter in hurling Rondout Valley to a 10-0 whitewashing of Pine Bush yesterday at the Stone Ridge field.

A bloop single by Gene Arthur with two outs in the top of the seventh deprived Tegeler of his no-hit performance. He then retired the next batter to complete the shutout and keep the Ganders deadlocked for first place in the hectic league chase.

Coach Hal Ross' Ganders peppered starter Larry Weed and brother Dean for 10 safeties. Chip Schoonmaker had a double, Pete Green stroked a triple and two singles and John Blanchard and Jerry Craig rapped a pair of singles each.

Tegeler had some control trouble, walking six batters. He fanned seven.

Rondout will host Ellenville this afternoon and has a pivotal UCAL clash Friday against visiting Wallkill.

Washburn Debuts in Good Style

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We couldn't want him much better," said St. Louis Manager Johnny Keane. "It means an awful lot to us to have him back."

Keane was talking about pitcher Ray Washburn, who Tuesday night made his first start since returning from the minors and scattered seven Philadelphia hits before needing ninth-inning relief help in the Cardinals' 2-1 victory over the Phillies.

Washburn has purposely been brought along slowly by Keane, who feels the young right-hander figures heavily in the Cardinals' National League pennant chances. A healthy Washburn would give St. Louis a starting staff that also includes Ernie Broglio, Bob Gibson, Curt Simmons and Roger Craig.

Patience Rewarded

Apparently, Keane's patience is going to be rewarded.

Washburn had a two-hit shutout for six innings, but seemed to tire in the eighth when Tony Gonzalez homered, and Ron Taylor came on in the ninth to finish up.

At San Francisco, meanwhile, Giants' Manager Al Dark took an extra precaution with Willie Mays, pulled him out of the line-up because of the cold weather and let the Alou brothers, Matty and Jesus, lead the way to a 2-1 decision over Houston.

Elsewhere in the National League, Milwaukee's Warren Spahn stopped the New York Mets 6-0 with a four-hitter for the 63rd shutout of his career and Frank Robinson hit two homers in Cincinnati's 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh. The Los Angeles Dodgers and Chicago Cubs were not scheduled.

The Cardinals jumped on Phillies starter Jim Bunning for four hits and both their runs in the fifth inning. Johnny Lewis' leadoff double and a single by Phil Gagliano produced one run. Singles by Curt Flood and Bill White then brought in the clincher. The loss was the fourth straight for the Phillies.

With Dark protecting Mays' pulled leg muscle in the cold weather, Matty Alou played center field and came up with three hits. His brother, Jesus, collected two. Together they produced the decisive run in the fifth when Jesus singled, stole second and scored on Matty's single. Jack Sanford was the winner with Bob Shaw's relief help.

Good Sign

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(NEA)—If the 41st National Collegiate Swimming Championship meet, held in the Yale pool, is any indication, the United States should fare very well in the Olympic swimming competition in Tokyo next October.

A check of records shows that for the first time in the history of the sport, every NCAA mark was broken in one meet. Not only was the record book rewritten, but a total of 41 individuals and teams turned in performances that bettered previous records.

In one event, the 100-yard breast stroke, each of the six point winners broke the former meet record. The first five finishers in the 200-yard individual medley also bettered the old record while four performers in the 200-yard freestyle and the 1,650-yard freestyle blitzed the old mark.

The cony or coney is a name originally applied to the rabbit, and still sometimes used for it, notably in the fur trade. The cony of the old world and of the Bible is a different animal altogether, a hoofed mammal better named the hyrax.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Most employes engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and at least one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for hours worked after a maximum workweek of 40 hours, unless specifically exempt. Also, most employes in certain large retail, service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce, who have been entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.00 an hour since September 3, 1961, must be paid overtime pay of not less than one and one-half times their regular rates for all hours worked after a maximum workweek of 44 hours, unless specifically exempt. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. 10452 WYandotte 2-1235.

Argentina Mulls Envoy Expulsion, Leaving Sunday

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A resolution is before the Argentine Senate requesting the government to expel U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock because of a comment he made about the cancellation of Argentime contracts with U.S. oil companies.

The resolution, submitted Tuesday night by five leading senators from President Artur Illia's Peoples Radical Civic Union, accused the ambassador of interfering in Argentina's internal affairs.

McClintock had planned to leave Argentina Sunday. He is being replaced by Edwin Martin, former U.S. assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs.

The senators were irate over an article Saturday in the newspaper El Territorio, of Posadas, which quoted McClintock as saying U.S. investments in Argentina would end because of the oil contract cancellations.

The U.S. Embassy on Monday corrected the statement to read that "the climate for North American investments in Argentina has been adversely affected by the annulment of the oil contracts."

Cooler Air Is Due Next Week

2 Killed, 40 Injured

Tornadoes Rake Midwest Sectors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A rash of tornadoes and severe thunderstorms struck areas in six Midwestern states Tuesday killing two persons, injuring more than 40 and causing extensive property damage.

Heavy rain, hail and tornadic winds swept secctions of Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Kansas. The severe spring storms struck after temperatures had climbed to summer levels—mostly in the 70s and 80s.

Nebraska Takes Brunt

Nebraska appeared the hardest hit. A series of tornadoes struck several small communities and farm areas in the central part of the state. Two persons were killed and 12 others injured when a tornado ripped through a farm area between Bradshaw and Benedict in the south-central region. At least 24 persons in Nebraska suffered injuries.

A twister which slammed into Wolbach's main street, damaging about 90 per cent of the business establishments in the town of nearly 400 and 70 per cent of the homes. Eight persons were hospitalized. Other tornadoes caused property damage in Tilden, St. Edward and near Petersburg.

More than a dozen persons were injured and between 25 and 30 homes damaged as a tornado and strong winds swept across Fairmount, N.D., a town of about 700. Property damage also was reported at nearby Breckenridge, Minn., where five persons were hospitalized. Tornadic winds lashed the Pelican Rapids, Minn., area about 50 miles northeast of Fairmount, injuring seven persons.

Tornadoes, High Winds

Tornadoes and high winds skipped across a wide section of northwest Iowa, injuring at least five persons and damaging scores of farm buildings. Considerable property damage also was reported from twisters which swept along a 2-3 mile-wide path east of St. John in Stafford County, Kan. No injuries were reported. Strong winds buffeted eastern South Dakota and southern Minnesota during the night with wind gusts up to 72 miles an hour in some areas.

Lodge Decision May Hinge on 2 Primary Results

ROME, N.Y. (AP)—The possibility of Henry Cabot Lodge announcing his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination before the GOP national convention in July could hinge on the outcome of the Oregon and California primaries, Lodge's brother says.

John D. Lodge, brother of the ambassador to South Viet Nam, told reporters Monday night that "we'll know more (about such an announcement) after the Oregon and California primaries."

Lodge was in Rome for the seventh annual meeting of the Rome Junior Achievement Inc.

At a news conference, he also reminded reporters that the ambassador had said through his son, George, that, if nominated, he would accept "humbly, greatfully and enthusiastically."

Lodge said he did not know if his brother would consider running again as a vice presidential candidate.

In his speech, Lodge warned that the federal government had become so large that it was "virtually beyond the control of the Congress."

Names In The News

LIVERPOOL, England (AP)—Quadruplets were born Tuesday night to Mrs. Tom McKeown, 36, wife of a Liverpool dockworker, but only one still lived today.

The three boys and a girl were two months premature. Each weighed only two pounds.

ATLANTA (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman has accepted an invitation to speak at the Democratic party's annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Atlanta May 28.

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle, 73, who underwent prostate surgery April 17, still plans to make an extensive tour of South America next autumn, well - informed French sources said today.

NEW YORK (AP)—Frederick O'Neal, 58, a character actor, has been elected president of Actors Equity Association, the 11,000 member union of stage performers. He is the first Negro to hold the position.

Call on Catskill Officials to Hire Negro Teachers

The Catskill-Coxsackie Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has called on the Catskill public school officials to hire Negro teachers.

Myrtice Goree, NAACP branch president, reported the local chapter unanimously directed that a letter be sent to the Catskill superintendent of schools urging employment of Negro teachers. The letter expressed willingness to meet with the superintendent of schools and board members.

Goree said, "If we are to equalize educational opportunities for all children, there must be the provision of an active democracy in our educational systems. Without this provision, not only do children of the minority group receive damage from not having adequate motivations to develop them culturally, guide them professionally and adjust them normally for their environment, but the white child also is denied his right of not seeing in his community an active democracy whereby he might learn the true meaning of democracy which will help him adjust normally in the changing community."

Paltz Youth Is Held for Jury On Auto Charge

Robert Anthony Stegen, 16, of New Paltz, who was arrested early Tuesday by Trooper Craig Bremer of the Lake Katrine substation on Route 28 on a first degree grand larceny charge, was later arraigned before Justice Robert Harp of New Paltz and held for grand jury action. Stegen was picked up by Trooper Bremer and turned over to Senior Investigator Frank Staincamp on a charge of taking a 1961 For car which was reported stolen April 30 by Winton Morrison of 106 Main Street, New Paltz.

Before Justice Harp, Stegen waived examination and was committed to jail to await grand jury action.

Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTION: We have a guest cottage in the rear of our summer home. Should this be insured by a separate fire policy or is it covered with the main building?

ANSWER: Since the guest cottage probably has considerable value it would normally be insured separately but yours is a problem that should be discussed with a good agent.

Fish Kills May Force Choice on Farmer or River

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Huge fish kills on the lower Mississippi by potent insecticides may force a choice between the farmer and the river.

Scientists from the U.S. Public Health Service told a pollution investigating committee Tuesday that Endrin and similar pesticides are the villains.

The kills, involving millions of fish, have hit the lower Mississippi and the Atchafalaya River, which branches off the Mississippi through Louisiana.

The problem is: Banning the pesticides would make life more difficult for farmers, who use them to destroy pests that prey on crops.

Some scientists, and spokesmen for manufacturers of the insecticide, deny charges that the chemicals are responsible for the river damage.

The PHS, scientists testified before representatives of pollution control agencies from Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee.
